STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

President .....	Mary Ellen Murray
Vice President .....	Susan Kyle
Secretary - Treasurer .....	Michael Francis
Advisor .....	Mr. Anthony Moshano

During the past year, the Student Council has sponsored several activities.

On January 21, the Student Council held a Sock Hop in the school gym. Over 75 students attended.

A contest was held for students in grades 8-12 to design a school emblem. The winner was Don Kyle. This emblem will be put on pennants, jackets, pens, etc. Besides the emblem, the Student Council sold pens with the school insignia.

The Student Council held a Talent Show following a "Courtesy Week" later in the year. Many students competed for prizes. A dime dance followed the Talent Show.

ACTIVITIES

GRADE NEWS

KINDERGARTEN

Miss Mary Disparti's kindergarten has completed the year with an average of 43 pupils. They have enjoyed working and playing together and have tried to remember courtesy and sharing with their friends. They have had a great deal of fun getting acquainted with school as kindergarteners but look forward to being first graders.

FIRST GRADE

Mrs. Mary Hosmer's first grade has been a small class of about 20 all year. They have been very busy with special units on Thanksgiving, Eskimos, and animals, as well as their regular studies. They also enjoyed the extra activities when Dr. Edward Schwert visited them during Dental Health Week, when they participated in the gym demonstration, and when they had class parties celebrating holidays.

With all of this in the past, at the school year closing, they are anxious to become second graders.

FIRST GRADE

Mrs. Virginia Horner's first grade composed of 14 boys and 8 girls, has had an interesting year. They have covered many units on animals, Eskimos, Dental Health, and science.

All of these units have contributed to the growth of each child in developing good work habits, skills, and attitudes which has prepared them for second grade.

SECOND GRADE

Mrs. Jean Francis' second graders moved through the year reading three new books and taking side paths into science of the outdoors. They discovered the habits of the raccoons, woodchucks and winter birds.

The children learned about firemen, policemen, and other civic helpers. In connection with their harvest unit they made their own bread.

Throughout the year the various social and art activities have helped them become a happy group, working together.

SECOND GRADE

Mrs. Helen Steenrod's second graders believe that the progress they made this year was due to their pleasant room. It has lots of blackboard space and few outside distractions.

Their favorite unit was on trains. They saw a very good movie of someone taking a train trip. The movie showed a turntable and roundhouse. In art class they made a long freight train for their bulletin board.

They have enjoyed being second graders and are looking forward to third grade.

THIRD GRADE

Mrs. Bernice Hall's third graders spent a great deal of time on reading and phonics. Most of them went to remedial reading class and improved greatly.

The children made many simple experiments they could do at home. They read stories on science as well as the science story in their Weekly Reader. They also learned how to read a thermometer and keep a record of the weather.

They have enjoyed being third graders and are looking forward to becoming fourth graders.

FOURTH GRADE

Miss Ruth Rossney's fourth grade has spent a great deal of time on reading this year. Many members of the class won prizes for reading and reporting on fifteen library books. Darrell Caldwell, Judy Coon, and John Tucker received additional prizes for reading thirty or more books.

Among the projects the class enjoyed working out were the keeping of a March Weather Calendar, the building of a miniature fort to represent Jamestown, Virginia, the making of a large Santa Claus, and the several borders to represent the regions studied in Geography.

They have also tried to learn good study habits so they can become good fifth graders.

GRADE NEWS

THIRD GRADE

Mrs. Helen Kane's third grade learned many new things this year. One was learning to take a shower quickly and opening their lockers.

Many things seemed strange to the students first entering third grade, such as, the textbooks and workbooks which were larger and meant lots more work during the year.

The first poem they learned was entitled "September". They prepared a bulletin board in connection with the poem.

As the months passed, the work of a third grader became easier.

The Halloween party brought fun to everyone. They all enjoyed the movie and refreshments.

They have been trying to write but have not found it very easy as of yet.

The third grade has been studying what Belmont has for us in connection with what they are studying in Social Studies.

FOURTH GRADE

Mrs. Gertrude Cline's fourth grade has better knowledge of the effects of rain, drainage, and sunlight on growth of plants and seeds. They planted some cotton seeds and found out that poor drainage and too much water made a failure of the project. They planted them over for better results.

The units of geography have been interesting related to their Art class. Using the bulletin boards, they have made actual scenes of each homeland. Everyone enjoyed working together during the whole year.

FIFTH GRADE

Miss Grace Hammond's fifth grade started the year off with twenty eight pupils and ended with twenty six.

Four of the students have received an honor for the best attendance.

FIFTH GRADE (continued)

They enjoyed making maps of the United States and especially participating in a hobby show.

As the year comes to an end, the pupils feel that this was one of their most enjoyable and memorable years.

FIFTH GRADE

Mrs. Freda Tower's fifth grade has had a very pleasant and profitable year. The class has adjusted very well to the departmental arrangement. This experience prepares them for Junior High School.

The class learned how to write business and friendly letters. They especially enjoyed writing letters to friends.

The students feel that they have learned to work together, and are looking forward to next year with great anticipation.

SIXTH GRADE

Mr. Bernard McClure's sixth grade has enjoyed making projects. During the year they made an ant farm, an aquarium, and a scale model of the WilMac Park. Science has been introduced, and many experiments have been performed.

The class has decided that hard work and cooperation will be their key to success.

SIXTH GRADE

Mr. Jack Snell began the year, but due to illness, he has been absent several months. Mrs. Geneva Creets from Wellsville, has been teaching in Mr. Snell's place.

The following were elected officers by the class: president, Stanley Speta; vice president, Susan Murray; secretary, Sandra Brown; treasurer, Onalee Middaugh.

The class has undergone a "growing up process" this year. They have reached the half way point and are ready to begin the last climb toward graduation.

Second Row — Mavis Magee, Joan Winterhalter, Ida Patterson, Joyce Middaugh, Verna Bigelow, Sharon Jordan, Patricia Quinn, Ruth Preston, Linda Perry.

Treasurer .....	Hal Crowther
Secretary .....	Lynn Fleischman

R. Keenan, H. Crowther, B. Caldwell, L. Fleischman

This year the eighth grade participated in various activities and course of study which were enjoyed very much by the pupils.

A number of boys from the eighth grade participated in Junior High soccer and basketball. Although all the soccer games were canceled because of the Asian Flu epidemic, the basketball team enjoyed a winning season (6 wins, 3 losses) and the boys gained valuable experience for high school athletics.

In December, both grades enjoyed Christmas parties and exchanged gifts. We are planning to have another party at the end of the year.

Seventh Grade Officers

President .....	John Shuttleworth
Vice President .....	Gerald Decker
Secretary .....	Woodrow Moody
Treasurer .....	Donald Hall

G. Decker, W. Moody, J. Shuttleworth, D. Hall

This year three seventh grade boys were allowed to play basketball for the seventh and eighth grade teams. They are: Woodrow Moody, John Shuttleworth, and Dick VanCampen.

Also there were three seventh grade girls chosen as cheerleaders for the team. They were: Norma Biancuzzo, Judy Cooper and Pat Shelley.

Seven members of the class were chosen to sing in the All-County Junior Choir.

The girls had an introduction to Home Economics which gave them an opportunity to study good grooming, cooking candies, and table manners.

The boys in their first shop courses have made pin-up lamps, cookie cutters, hot-dog roasters, and did work in ceramics.

Elaine Benjamin bequeaths her ability to count time in band to Cynthia Hanson.

Sheila Matteson bequeaths her Shorthand book to Catherine Scott.

Don Kyle bequeaths his "unused" blue card to Decker Doggett, his dancing ability and his next clam-bake ticket to Doug Walldorff.

Roger Gowdy bequeaths a pair of size 12 shoes to Dave Siefer as a preventive to falling through the cracks in the gym floor.

John Winterhalter bequeaths his chair in science class to Linda Keenan.

Marian Shuttleworth bequeaths her ability to make a basket in basketball to her brother Bob, her ability to stay slim to Jean Smith, and her ability to snap gum to Felecia Biancuzzo.

Joyce Dundon bequeaths her unusual hair style to Peggy Beabout and her extra poundage to Joyce Perry.

Carol Mead bequeaths her ability to play the trombone to David Schwert and her ability to sit still in study hall to Bob Jones.

Peggy Perry bequeaths her ability in math to Vince Evans and her typewriter in the business room to her sister, Linda.

Ann Biancuzzo bequeaths her position on the Reflector Staff to Susan Kyle and her good marks and ambitious nature to Jon Manning.

Alvin Brooks bequeaths Beverly Starr to Dick Hall.

Signed, Sealed and delivered on this first day of June in the year 1958, in the Village of Belmont, State of New York.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1945, Miss Mary Dispart was greeted by 44 little, noisy, excited children. Some of us were eager beavers on that first day while others held their mother's skirt and sobbed. We finally got settled and had a year of hard, tedious play.

Probably one of the happiest days of poor Miss Dispart's life came when we were all promoted to first grade. Some of us were really worried about passing, but we all made it.

In first grade Mrs. Virginia Horner remembers quite well the time that Marilyn Ballard and Marian Shuttlesworth scrubbed the lavatory. It was also in this grade that Joyce Mitchell, Beverly Francisco, Paul Casterline, and Jerry Mayo joined the class.

In second grade, Donna Bunnell, who had the longest braids we ever saw, became a member of the class.

Miss Grace Marriner's third grade was a wonderful group of listeners. We could hardly wait to finish our work so that we could be read to.

In fourth grade we looked forward to our birthdays with great enthusiasm. Miss Ruth Rossney was very kind. She bought us all a present on our birthday. Joyce Dundon became a member of our class that year.

In fifth grade Miss Grace Hammond always let the girls who had their work done correct papers. Naturally, our work was always done. We had a jolly time during our noon hours learning how to knit and make afghans for our friends.

In sixth grade, we had our first male teacher. We'll probably never forget Mr. David Orr. In this grade we had a court and jury. Jerry Mayo was fined a penny everytime he said "pit" instead of "put". It paid off, today Jerry says "put".

It was also in sixth grade that most of us enjoyed a picnic up at Joyce Dundon's house in Feathers Creek. Donald Kyle was a "sight" wearing Joyce's slightly too big slacks. (Feathers Creek was deep that day!) David Cuna was in our class then and he gave us quite a scare with all those snakes he was finding.

In seventh grade we became journalists. We published a "Health Paper" and gave the profits to the March of Dimes.

In eighth grade we suffered through "Evangeline," but as we look back the poem wasn't so bad after all. Keith Sortore joined us this year.

Miss Alice Birkholz and Mrs. June Dundon tried their hand at directing while we attempted to pantomime the nation's top singers. This, being our first experience at performing in front of the whole school, caused us to be somewhat nervous. Some of us also remember about having our library privileges taken away due to sloppy writing. Don't we, Bill Leilous?

At last we finally made our way into high school. Initiation wasn't too bad, but we did feel awfully silly, dressing and acting like babies. It was also in ninth grade that Nancy Lewis and Sheila Matteson joined us.

We spent our sophomore year studying real hard since most of us were carrying five subjects. Alvin Brooks became our new classmate.

Our year as Juniors proved very exciting. Mary Ellen Murray became a member of the class. We decided to be different and selected an oval shaped class ring. We held our Junior Prom and had the theme "Outerspace". Jerry Mayo and Mary Ellen Murray were crowned king and queen.

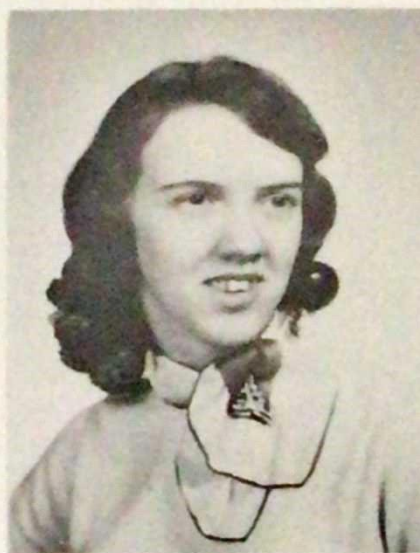

At last we've reached our senior year and will soon be ready to make our way into the world. Jeanne Gilliam, with her southern accent, joined us this year. We had a marvelous time on our senior trip and worked hard to finance it. Our "Sweetheart Ball" proved a big success as well as our bake sales. Practicing for the senior play, "The Little Dog Laughed" holds a place in reminiscing the happy past.

We started as a large class of 21 girls and 23 boys. Today there are only eight girls and five boys left from the original class. They are Barbara Babcock, Elaine Benjamin, Ann Biancuzzo, Josephine Biancuzzo, Roger Gowdy, Donald Kyle, William Leilous, Carol Mead, Peggy Perry, Shirley Shawl, Marian Shuttlesworth, Steven Thomas, and John Winterhalter.
