Volume 35

1976! Our nation's 200th birthday. It is a time for looking back and remembering, a time for reviewing growth and progress. Everywhere people are celebrating and paying tributes to our nation's history.

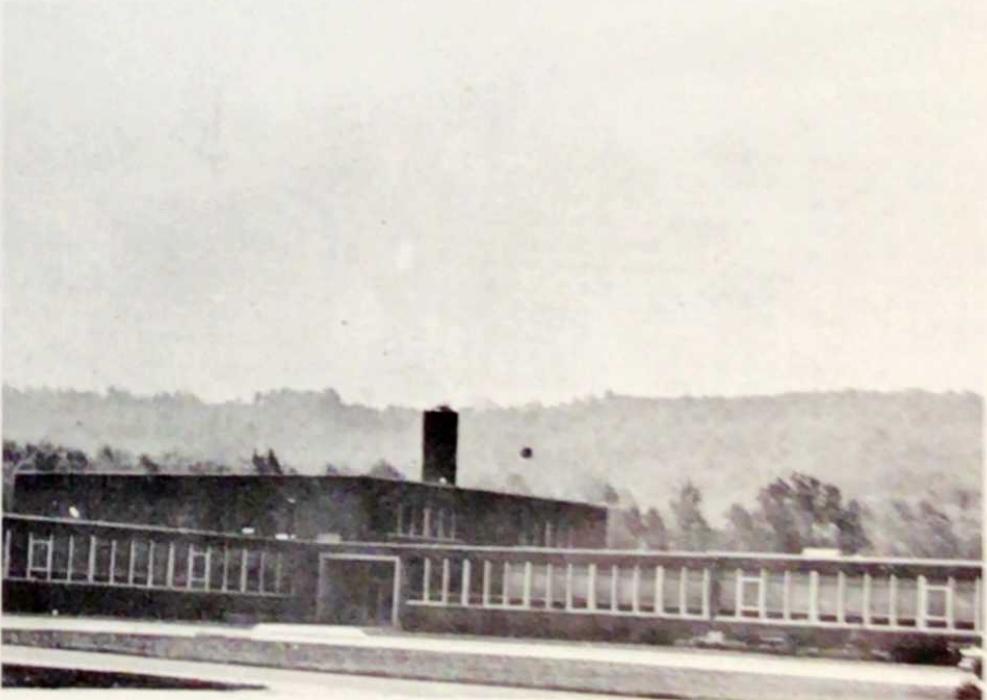

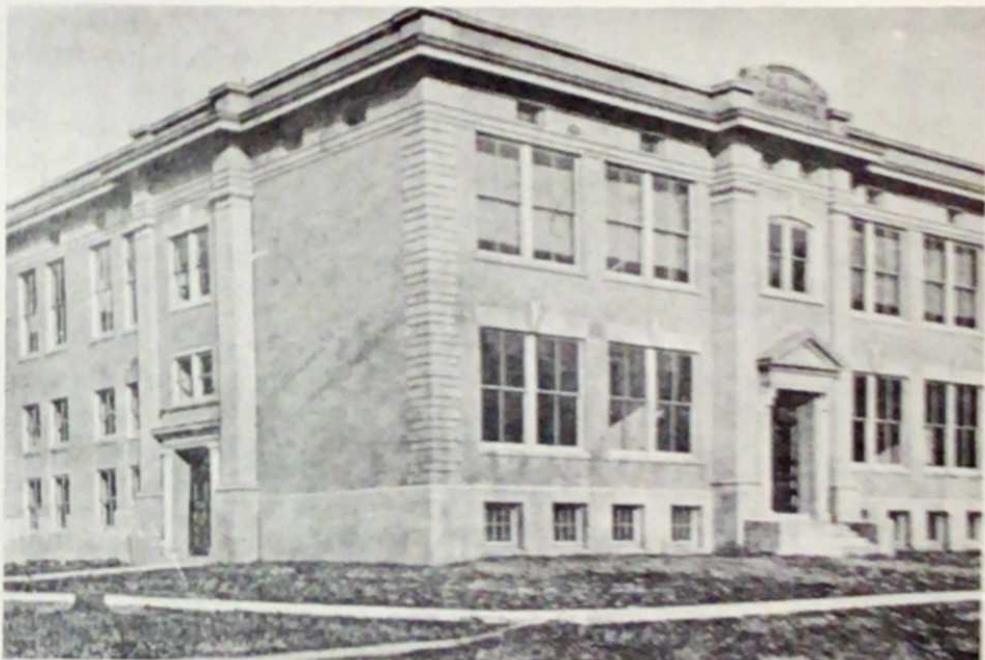

It seems appropriate that at this time we should also recognize and honor our own local history.

These few pages don't begin to tell the whole story, but we hope they will spark your interest in your local history.

"Let us all, during the coming months, study carefully the character, study the qualities of the men who founded this Nation. Let us try to grasp the stuff that was inside of each of them and all of them collectively. And then, let us release, if we can, the same spirit within ourselves. We have the same capacity for unity, discipline, and sacrifice. Let us show the world that the character and quality of the American people has not changed in 200 years."

This edition of the Echo is dedicated to an unselfish and understanding person, and thus, to a terrific teacher.

Her classroom is never a dull place. With her wittiness and ability to bring characters to life, she makes dusty, old novels, enjoyable to her students.

She is known for expressive eyes, which can change from an evil glare, to a mischievous twinkle in an instant.

Even though she is nicknamed "the World's Meanest Teacher," we, her students, have come to realize that her "meanness" is out of concern for our futures. She is a fun-loving person but knows that life is not a game. Because of this, she is willing to sacrifice her popularity with her students in order to make them better prepared for life as adults.

We realize the motives behind your actions, however, and we would like to take this opportunity to extend to you, Mrs. Sylvia Shear, our heart-felt thanks.

The girl's volleyball team finished the season with a 3-6 record. It may not be a very impressive record to some, but considering this was the team's first year of competition, it's really pretty good. The games the team did win were important in the final standings.

With the experience the team has gained this year, it is looking forward to a successful season next year.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is made up of a select group of students meeting high standards of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

The Society believes that nothing, so much as an earnest effort to learn, opens the way so well to the knowledge and wisdom of others. Excellence in scholarship reveals not only that one's store of knowledge has been increased, but also that the individual has made most of the opportunities at hand. This knowledge can be acquired in only one way, and that is through diligent effort.

Leadership requires constant demand of self, a genuine effort for mankind, and an abiding trust in God. Humility is also a requisite, for the success of any cause is endangered when the leader thinks himself greater than the cause. A true leader is marked by self confidence and poise.

Character is the product of three areas: nature, habits, and environment. Man, we are told by many authorities, is basically good by nature. Thus, everyone fills the first requirement. It has also been said that we, as individuals, have very little control over our environment. However true this may be, our habits remain as the deep rooted source of our character. Therefore, the greatness of poorness of our habits determines our real actions, thus making us what we are.

Good scholarship, fine character, and inspiring leadership may be found lacking in some way if to itself is not added service. To serve is to work, to help, to use one's talents, not for himself alone, but for others as well. One who serves gives much of himself and gives it willingly.

Compliments of Cheri's Mom

"... with liberty and justice for all."

"... When my eyes shall be turned to behold for the last time the sun in heaven, may I not see him shining on the broken and dishonored fragments of a once glorious Union; on States dissevered, discordant, belligerent; on a land rent with civil feuds, or drenched, it may be, in fraternal blood! Let their last feeble and lingering glance rather behold the gorgeous ensign of the republic, now known and honored throughout the earth, still full high advanced, ... bearing for its motto, no such miserable interrogatory as 'What is all this worth?' nor those other words of delusion and folly, 'Liberty first and Union afterwards'; but . . . , that other sentiment, dear to every true American heart, — Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable!"

Daniel Webster
