Curricular Program Changes

BPS Curricular Program change recommendations that include but are not limited to new course additions, changes with implications for increased staffing, changes that have data sharing implications, and changes with implications for increased resource costs must be submitted by using the district new resource, new course, course change, or new pilot request processes. These processes ensure consistency with state and federal laws as well as the district's mission, values, and goals. These processes also provide an avenue through which staff may propose experimental, pilot, and creative programs and projects.

The Superintendent, Assistant Superintendents, and committees may suggest improvements and changes to the curricular program, and such changes may be implemented administratively by the Superintendent and or designee(s) as the Superintendent deems necessary and educationally sound. The Superintendent shall report to the Board prior to implementing such changes.
