A copy of this record must be forwarded to the Superintendent of Schools of the town or city in which the applicant resides.

The receipt of a copy of a school record by the Superintendent of Schools constitutes a notice that the minor named thereon has left school. The Superintendent of Schools, or school attendance officers, should ascertain that said child is regularly and lawfully employed, or that he or she returns to school.

The copy of the record received directly from the school by the Superintendent of Schools is to be returned, signed as directed below, to the principal or teacher in charge of that school upon the issuance of an employment certificate. This constitutes notice to the principal that the minor has entered employment and may be discharged to enter employment until this notice has been received back by the principal. The original application, including the original school record, presented by the minor is to be retained in the files of the office from which the employment certificate is issued until the minor reaches the age of 16.
