Students keep every minute memorable with a quick...

Kodak Moment

The student life in our school is varied by age and gender. It also is very limited due to the fact that we live in a very small town, filled with lots of elders who get disturbed easily. Our fellow students have gone to extremes to keep themselves entertained. From just hangin' out at Wal-Mart to spending time with friends at the games, students manage to squeeze in time for work.

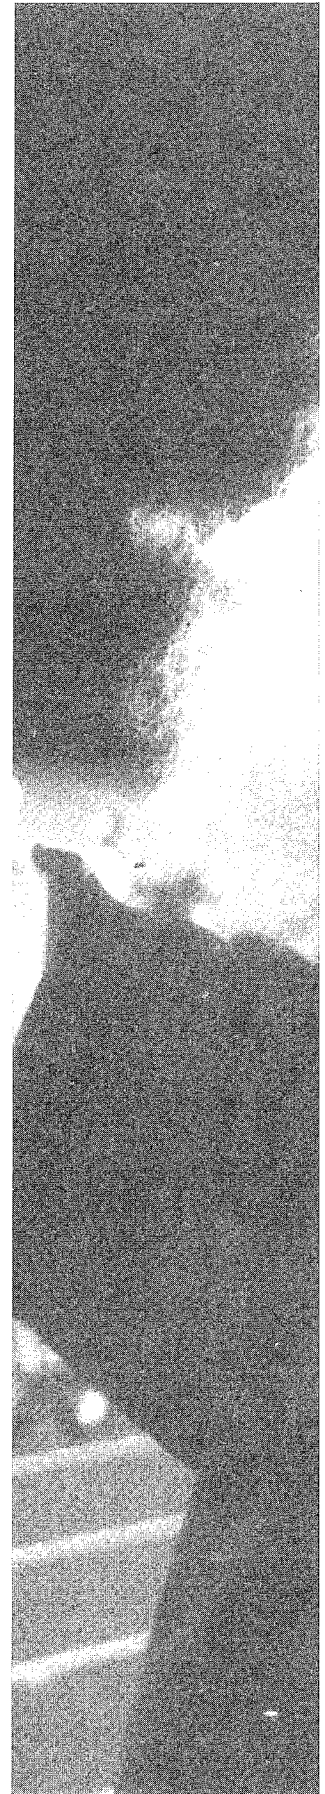

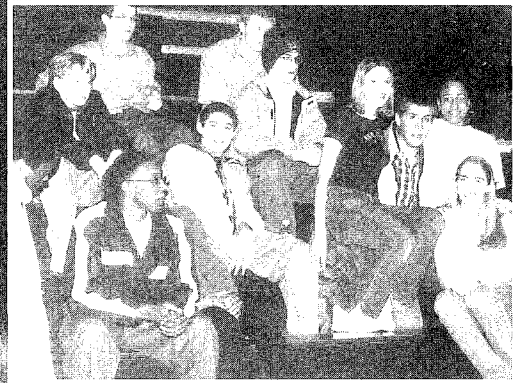

Workin' It

Stocking the shelves, senior Carmen Reese puts away toys. "Working at Wal-Mart is really fun, especially when Kim hands me lovely boxes to stack on the shelves," Reese said.

Vogue

Modeling, junior Teresa Lo vogues. "I like to try on lingerie at Wal-Mart but I'm too embarrassed to go into the dressing room," Lo said.

School Spirit

Keeping the crowd excited, junior Brittanie Graham stops to pose. "Sometimes the games are not so exciting so I have to lightin' things up with entertainment," Graham said.

Summer Fun

Some students travel, some work and some just hang out

Ropes Course

This summer, the Native American club went to a ropes course in Oklahoma for fun. "Climbing through the trees like George of the Jungle was fun", senior Tony Eck said.

Football Camp

The football team had a hard 5 day football camp during the summer. "I thought it helped us alot and it was the hardest 5 days of my life and I don't want to hear 'walking in 10' again," said senior Paul LaPota.

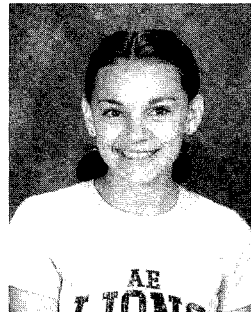

How did you spend your summer?

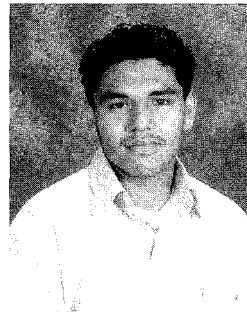

Stephanie Hobby

• I went to band camp and hung out with friends at the Fair and Rodeo.

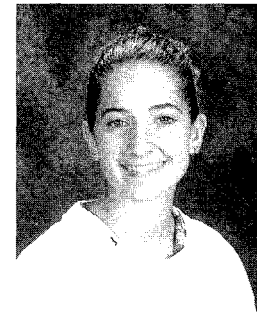

Jessie Hobbs

• I went to Texas to visit my aunt and uncle, I was a lifeguard for the country club and I swam when I wasn't working.

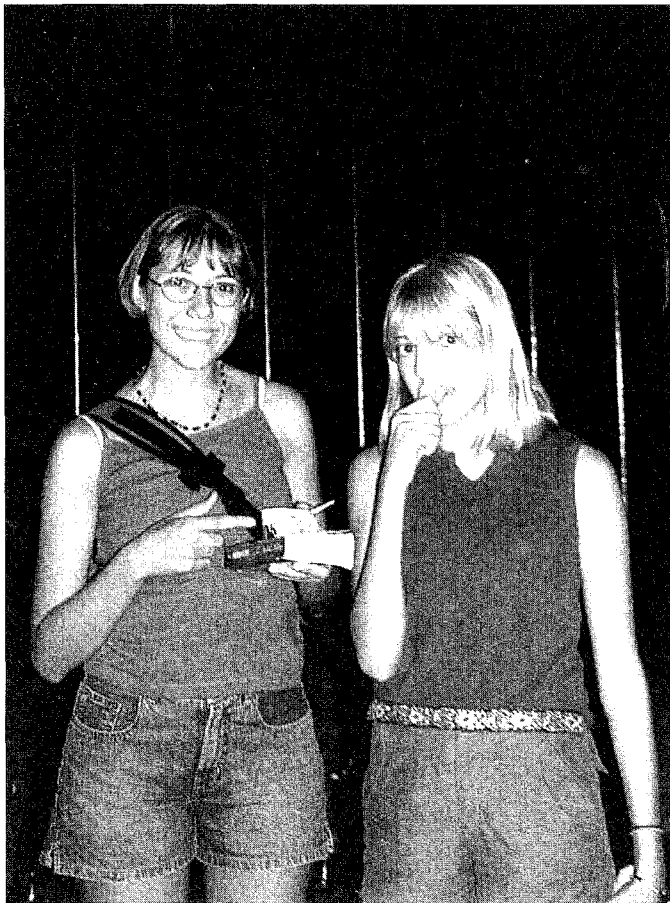

Ivan Mortoro

• I went to Alcapulco, Mexico played soccer and had fun with my friends. I went to Mexico City to see Mexico play USA.

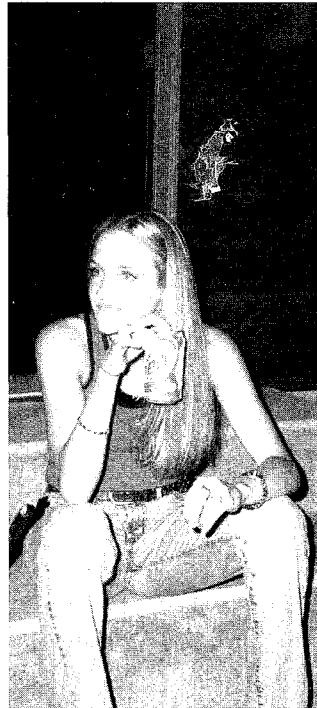

Lisa Thompson

• I hung out with Kasey Neal and Summer Ott. We all had a lot of fun partying and swimming at the pool.

The Italians

Posing on the streets of Italy junior Rachel Barone and her sister freshman Mileana enjoy their summer vacation. "Going to Europe for a vacation with my family was fun," Barone said.

Summer Parties

Waiting for the party to start, senior Summer Ott chills on Jake and Luke Logan's back porch. "I was just sippin' on some Dew, waiting on you know who," Ott said.

Monkeyin' Around

Traveling north, junior Teresa Lo and senior Nithin Chillal go to the Independence zoo. "I love going to Independence with my hot potato Nith-Chilly," Lo said.

Freshman Volleyball

This summer the volleyball team had camp at the Field Kindley High School. "I learned a lot and I had tons of fun," said Katherine Lynn.

Senior Dancers

Dancing away from home, the dance team traveled to Baker University for camp. "I think my senior year at camp was the most exciting year of all 4 years," said Kasey Neal.

Canadian Adventures

Traveling for two weeks, the Boy Scouts of America went to Canada this summer. "It was a real exciting trip and I had a lot of memorable moments," said Kyle Thurman.

Some Things Never Change

Remembering changes in the community, school and the Nation

Name tags

Flashing their name tags, a freshman science class shows one of the many changes that took place this year. "The name tags are for our own safety, so I don't think it's a bad idea," freshman Lauren Neifing said.

New Teachers

Joyce Cox was one of the many new teachers at F.K.H.S. this year. She educated students in subjects of Geometry and Algebra. This was another small change that took place in the school.

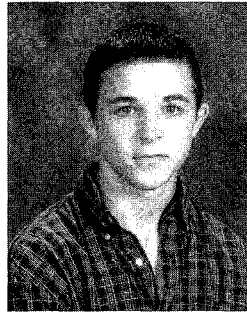

Name Tags??

Riva Jeter

• "At times they seem useless, but they teach responsibility."

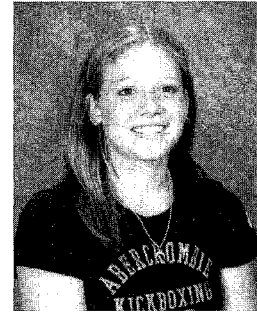

Brandon Tracy

• "They are not too bad, but they get annoying sometimes."

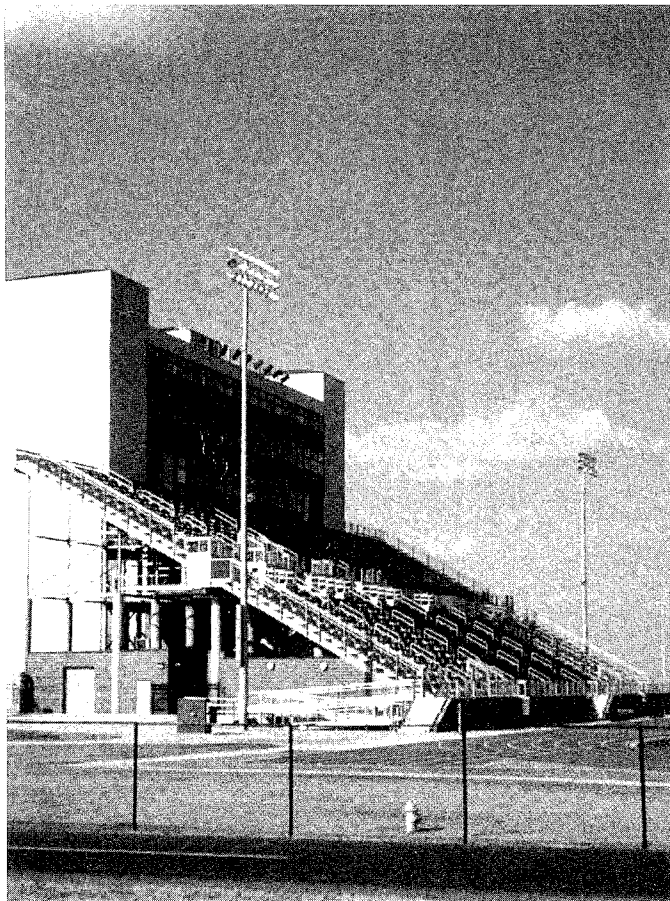

Alicia Neal

• "They are alright I guess, but I sometimes forget to wear it."

Callie Hurlbutt

• "They are not too bad, but I hate having to pay for a ticket if I forget it."

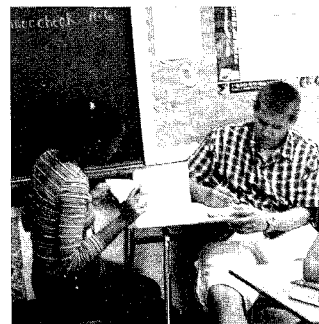

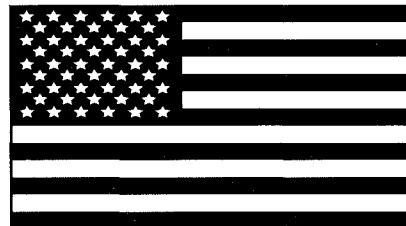

American Patriotism

The terrorism attacks that took place on September 11th caused a major change throughout our country. Not only did this one event affect all of our lives, it affected the way we see ourselves as Americans. Even though this tragic event occurred far away from Coffeyville, FKHS students still felt the effects. "It hurt me a lot as an American to see this terrible thing happening to us," senior Rachel Rollings said.

On the day of the attacks, many students had no idea what was happening until teachers got word and started to turn on the T.V.'s. "When my seminar teacher turned on the T.V., I couldn't believe what I was seeing. I never imagined it possible for something as terrible as this to be happening on American soil," senior Chris York said.

For the first time in many years, we witnessed a true love for our country in American citizens. The horrible act has actually brought out the best in many who never realized the depth of concern they had for their country in the first place. People volunteered time, money, and effort to the victims or families of the victims who were in desperate need.

This is a tribute to the people who lost their lives in the rubble and to the people who volunteered their time. Thank you for keeping the American dream and faith alive.

Congratulations! Giving one another a thumbs up, the soccer team plays tough against Independence. This was the school's first year to sponsor soccer as a varsity sport.

Freshman Focus This year freshman were required to take a special course designed to help them with organizational and study skills.

Busted! Giving a ticket to a student violating a rule dealing with the lockers, Travis Stalford performs one of his many new duties concerning the changes this year.

Fall and Spring Play

Bye, Bye Birdie and Little Women

Little Women

Bye, Bye Birdie

During the play, juniors Jamie McCabe, Ashley Hall, and sophomore Lizzie Bernhart are caught in action during the fall play.

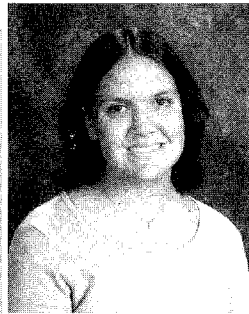

What do you like most about acting?

Logan Loffer

"I like acting because you don't have to act like yourself, you get to be someone else."

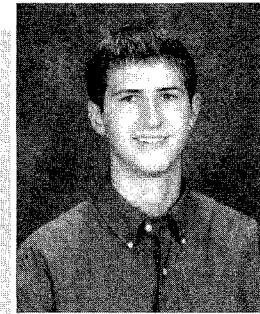

Alison Frihart

"I like that it is fun because you can act stupid and no one will make fun of you."

Kara Thiele

"I like that the time you are in the play you can be someone else and not just yourself."

Danny Funk

"I like acting because it gives you a chance to be someone else and express yourself."

Getting Ready

Preparing for the play, junior Kara Thiele gets one of her cast members ready to perform. "I enjoy acting because it gives me a chance to be someone else," Thiele said. photo by bobbi herring

The Performance

Playing their roles, junior Kara Thiele and sophomore Ben Chappell act out their parts. "I like acting because it's fun playing a different person," Chappell said.

Accepting Applause

Posing for a picture, the cast members accept recognition for doing a good job in the play.

Say Cheese!

Showing off their talents, the actors stand in the spotlight and pose for a picture. "I enjoy showing off my talent," Shald said.

Preparing

Getting ready, senior Vidhya Reddy lets Mr. White put her makeup on. "I got more compliments on my makeup than I did on the play," Reddy said. photo by bobbi herring

Smile!

Posing for a picture, the crew members of Little Women take time away from performing to smile for the camera.

Foreign Exchange

Students travel abroad to get a taste of the American lifestyle.

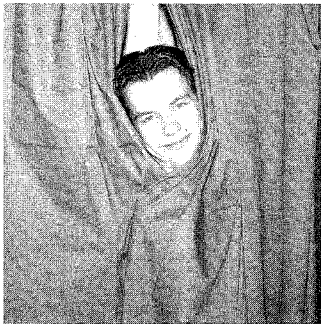

Chillin'

Posing for a picture, juniors Franka Baldauf and Ranna Amaral, and senior Jonas Sommer hang out with a friend from the college.

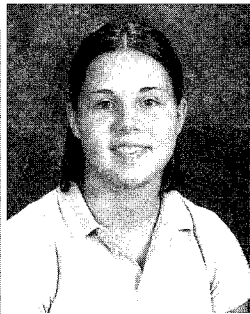

Hidin' Out

Cheesing for the camera, senior Jonas Sommer peeks out from behind the curtains. "I didn't want to get my picture taken, but I finally just gave in," Sommer said.

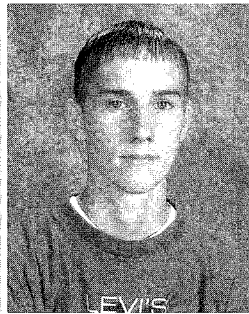

How do you feel about foreign exchange?

Janel Logan

"I like the exchange program because it gives people from other countries a chance to see what America is all about."

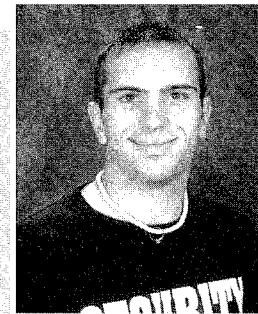

Mark Bell

"It's cool because it lets us see what people from other countries are like."

Bobbi Herring

"I think it's great because it lets us experience other peoples cultures while they experience ours."

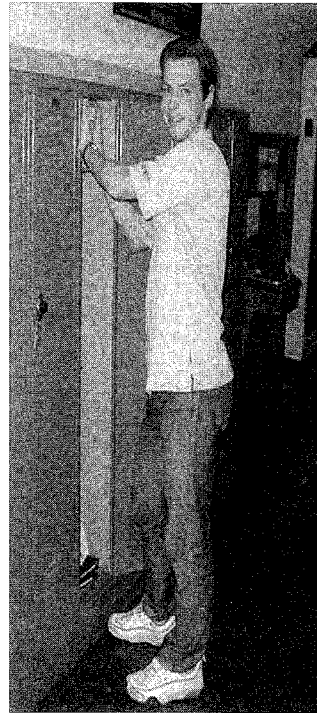

Tony Eck

"I think it's a good program. It allows us to share our culture and gives us a better understanding of the world around us."

Friends Forever

Sharing a moment together, junior Ranna Amaral and junior Josh Shald enjoy the moment. "Every moment I got to spend with Ranna was a treasured one," Shald said.

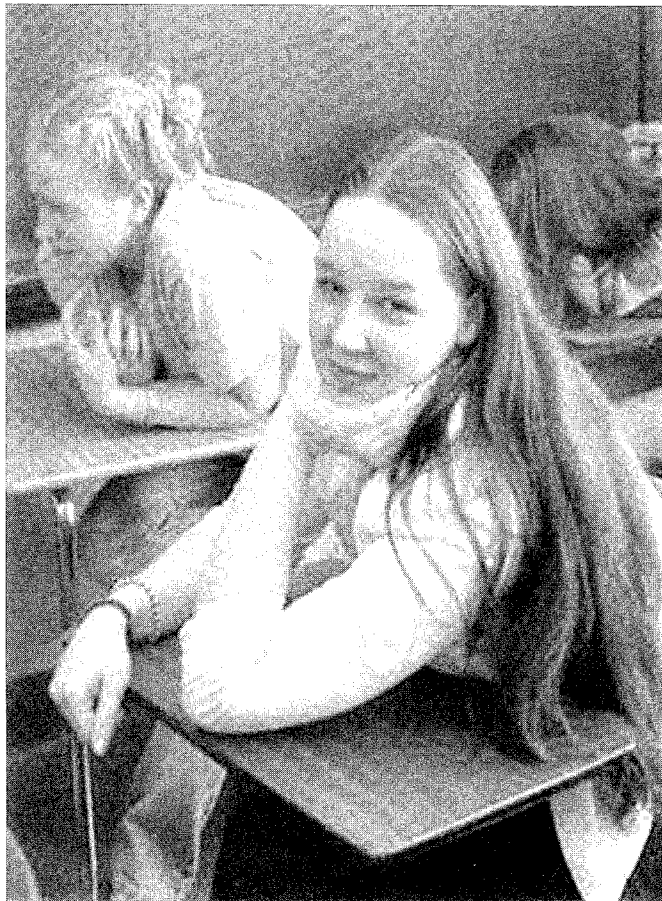

Late for Class

Making a last minute stop by his locker, senior Jonas Sommer scrambles to make it to class on time. "School here is alright, but four minutes between each class just isn't enough," Sommer said.

Partying Till the End

Taking a break, everyone stops to take one last picture during junior Ranna Amaral's going away party. "She became one of our best friends in the little time she was here," said junior Bobbi Herring.

Food for Thought

Eating some french cuisine, junior Franka Baldauf chills with her friends on foods day in french class. Franka came from Germany to experiance the American way.

Sitting Out

Relaxing during a party, juniors Ranna Amaral and Starla Shufeldt sit back and enjoy the atmosphere. Ranna traveled here from Brazil to see America and meet new people.

Workin' Hard

Waiting for the bell to ring, junior Franka Baldauf just tries to pass the time. "School here is alot easier than in Germany. I've got so much spare time I don't know what to do with it all." Baldauf said.

All work and no play

What Coffeyville students do to occupy their time

Sittin' on some 20's

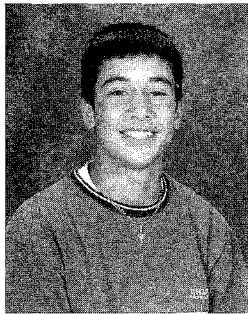

Kneeling by his 69' Chevy Camaro, junior Kurt Sjolander shows off his pride and joy. "I really like the older cars and then fixing them up a bit," Sjolander said.

It's a dirty job

Fixing his truck, sophomore Bobby Larimore checks out some problems with his engine. "I ended up saving a lot of money after I learned how to work on engines myself," Larimore said.

What do you do to pass the time in Coffeyville?—

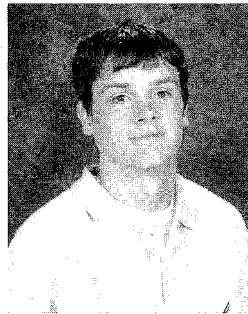

Chris Nowrouzi

"I plan on getting a job next year but right now I usually have basketball practice after school."

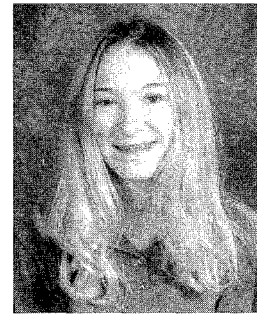

Analecia Alvidrez

"I don't have a job until the summer but for now I just finish my homework and work on softball during the season."

Lance Morris

"I did work at Country Mart but now I just have basketball after school and then I usually hang out with Shelli and my friends."

Kim Halliburton

"I hardly have any free time because I'm working at Wal-Mart and am getting pretty good hours."

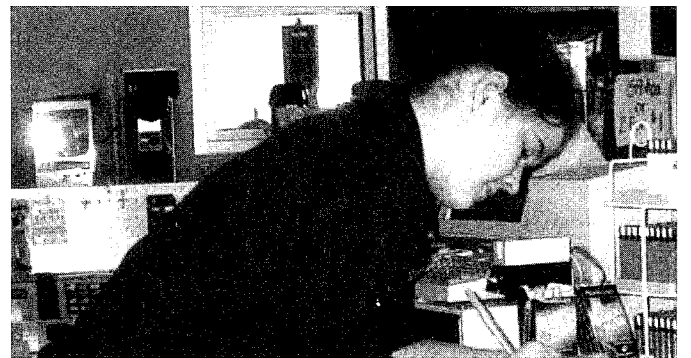

Twist with a lemon please
Cutting some lemons, junior Josh Shald works on his daily tasks. "Working at Sirloin is fun," Shald said.

That's high quality H2O
Pouring some water, junior Richard Parker makes sure not to spill a drop. "I like being the ice cream man," Parker said.

Fresh out of the oven
Serving up some rolls, senior Ashley White pulls some rolls from the oven. "I've always worked in the bakery part at Sirloin and now it's always the same thing," White said.

Paper or Plastic?
Helping a customer out, senior Anastasia Lowrance fills out a receipt. "Learning how to work the register was easy but it gets boring after awhile," Lowrance said.

Coming right up
Frying up his best piece of meat, junior Clinton Bobek tries to leave the customers satisfied. "I never really liked cooking but it has gotten better since I've learned how to," Bobek said.

Burn Rubber
Checking on a tire, senior Mike O'Connell prepares to fix a flat. "Working at Amoco is alright but it gets pretty cold in the winter," O'Connell said.

Stomp and Shake It!

Fellow classmates show different kinds of school spirit

Here We Go!

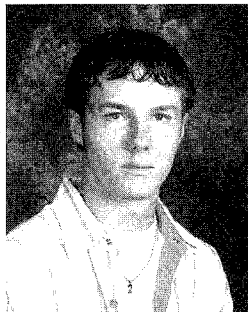

Taking a quick pose for a picture, the Golden Gale Dance Team show some teeth. The school was involved in a caravan during football season which followed the football team.

Smile!

How are you involved in school spirit?

Chance Myatt

"I'm involved in running the flag and yelling as loud as I can without getting kicked out of the game".

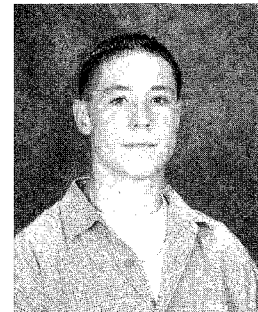

Ariel Scott

"I was involved in stage band and I performed at every home basketball game".

Chelsey Kriebel

"I appreciate my Field Kindley athletes, so I try to support them in any way".

Fielding Brenner

"I try to show up to all of the games that I can and cheer them on the best that I can".

Pay Attention!

Concentrating on the game, Nado fans watch the team as they play. "I enjoy going to the games with the cru and cheering as loud as I can for the girls," senior Michelle Smith said.

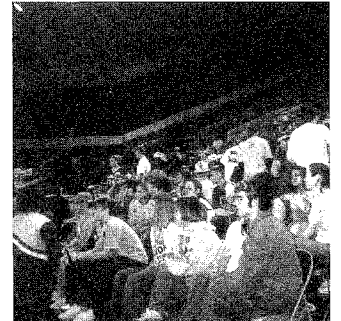

Get In Line

Making a tunnel before one of the varsity football games against the Chanute Comets, the cheerleaders, dance team members, and band wait for the football players and coaches to enter the field.

Let's Get Involved!

Arriving at the game, many students drove four hours to Salina on bus or in car to show some school spirit and cheer on the guys as they played Kingman. photo by kasey neal

State Bound!

Enjoying themselves at the state basketball tournament in Salina, a group of girls stay the night after the boys loss to Kingman.

It's Hot!

During a football game, students take a break from cheering during a time out. "I try to attend all sporting events," senior Lisa Thompson said.

Hey, Look At Me!

Posing for a picture, freshman Chelsea Noel takes pride in cheering for her fellow classmates during a football game. "I showed alot of school spirit by cheering at every football game," Noel said.

Homecoming

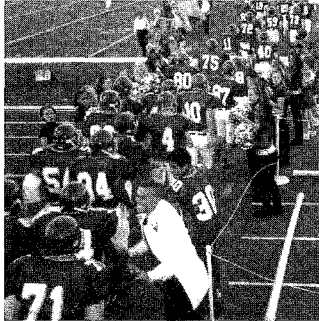

A special time once a year....

Homecoming Candidates

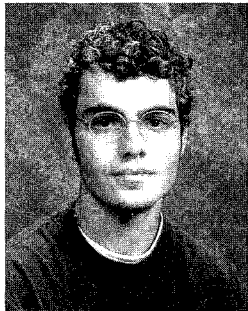

Alicia Dumm, Heather Hugo, Ashley Lawyer, Kasey Neal, Summer Ott, Dirk Andrews, Dustin Bromley, Jesse Brown, Colton Bustos, T.J. Covington, Rachel Rollings, Christina Shufeldt, Shelli Stanley, Holly Staudt, Lisa Thompson, Jordon Gullick, Matt Hurlbutt, Adam Keller, Jesse Logan, Luke Logan.

Prepare to Battle

Running onto the field, players are greeted by the dancers, cheerleaders, and band members. "Homecoming was exciting but we should've gotten the victory," senior Dirk Andrews said.

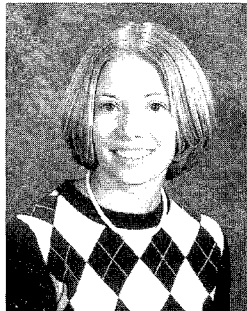

How did you feel when you were nominated?

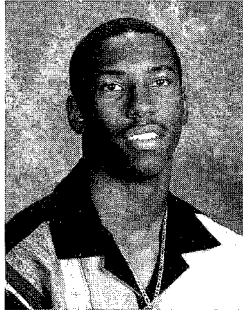

Jesse Brown

"I was just worried about who I had to escort," Brown said.

Alicia Dumm

"Homecoming was a lot of fun. I enjoyed getting out of class to hang with my friends," Dumm said.

T.J. Covington

"I was surprised because I didn't think I would be nominated," Covington said.

Christina Shufeldt

"At first I didn't want to be up, then I realized it was a lot of fun. Especially the after-game party," Shufeldt said.

King and Queen

Posing for a picture, seniors Holly Staudt and Adam Keller accept their royalty as this year's Homecoming king and queen. "Being a candidate was a lot of fun and exciting," Keller said.

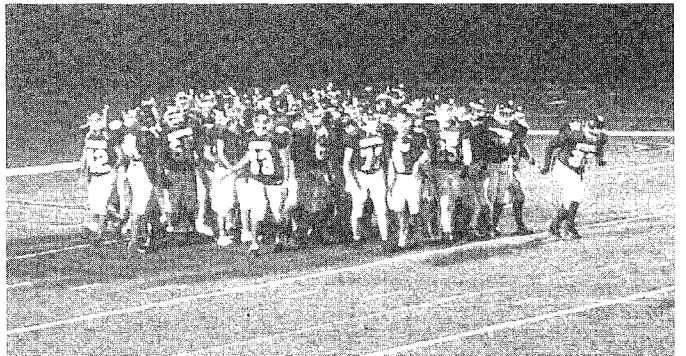

Stomp and Shake It

Trying to win a spirit stick, senior Holly Staudt stomps and shakes it to show her pride. "I almost dirtied my pants, but afterwards we had a lot of fun celebrating," Staudt said. photo by shelli stanley

Nado Pride

Breaking from the Huddle

Pumping up for the Pittsburg game teammates scatter on the field. "Homecoming was like a battlefield because people kept getting hurt, including our star T.J. Covington," junior Desmond Lay said. photo by shelli stanley

Excited for Coronation

Congratulations

Rejoicing over her victory, senior candidates Holly Staudt and Heather Hugo embrace after the coronation. "Homecoming was a lot of fun, it went too fast and we had the most fun dressed up at the game," Hugo said. photo by shelli stanley

Keepin' it Real

Get Your Lifejackets

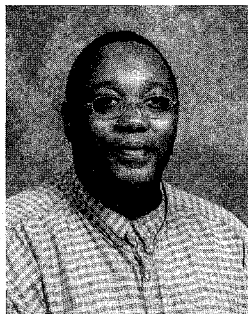

Preparing for what's in store, a group of seniors get ready to go out on a boat while staying at the Lake of the Ozarks. "The lake was really fun because I got to leave the 'ville and it brought us all a little closer," Shufeldt said.

Break it Down

Getting his jam on, junior Sam Wilson entertains everyone by showing his dance skills. "When I'm at the "traylor" all I wanna do is bust a move," Wilson said.

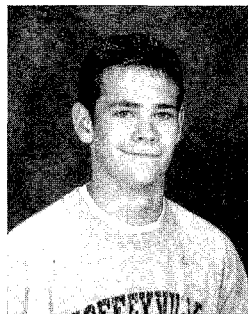

What did you do over spring break?

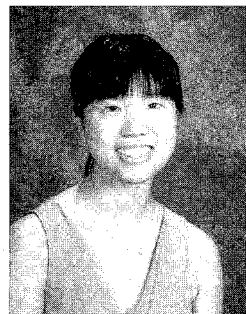

Jordan Williams

"I think Key Club Convention was the most fun I had over spring break, because I got to leave the 'ville for a little while.

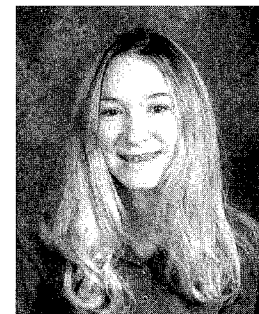

John DeVore

"Chillin' with my friends was all I really did over spring break.

Teresa Lo

"During spring break, I had a lot of fun razor scooting in the park with my friend, Rebecca Bumgarner. It was fun, except for the time when I fell off.

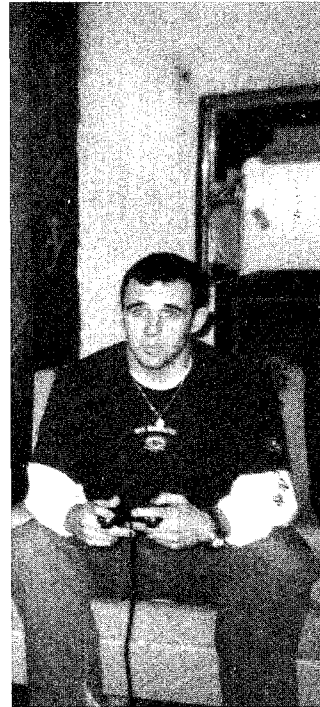

Kim Halliburton

"My spring break consisted of very little. All I did was go shopping and sleep in. It wasn't anything special.

Here I Come Guys

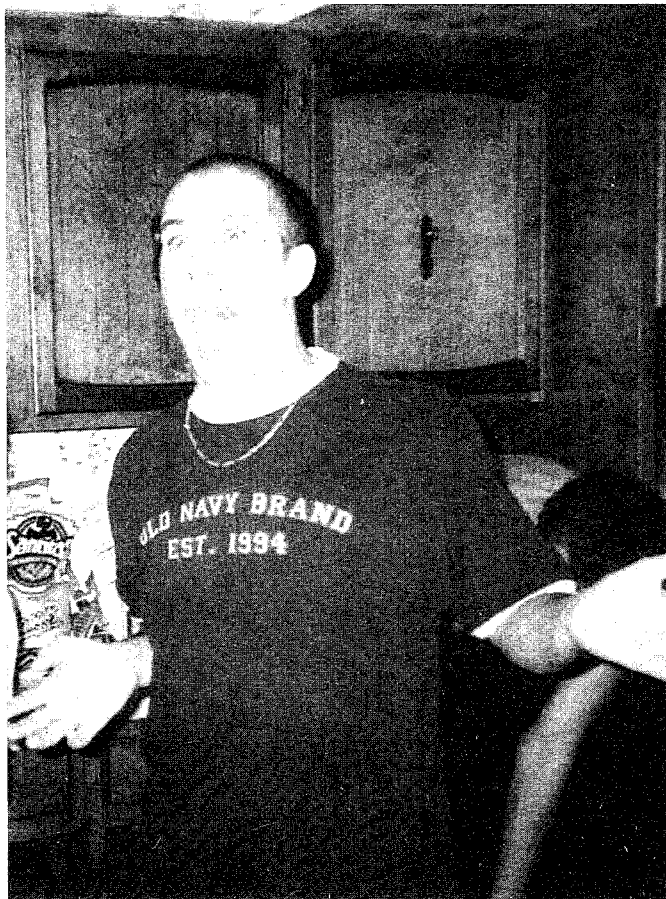

Heading downstairs, senior Matt Hurlbutt takes a ride on a baby mattress. "Spring Break was awesome, one of the best parts was the ride down the stairs," Hurlbutt said.

Got Kool-Aid

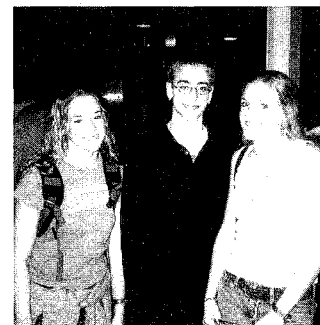

Paying very close attention to the t.v., senior Dustin Bromley gets a little confused about what's going on. "When I'm not drinking Kool-Aid, I like to play the playstation," Bromley said.

Something Smells Funny
Making sure it's spread from root to tip, senior Amber Long studies Veronica Alvidrez's hair very closely while highlighting it. "I liked the turnout of my hair, but it took forever," Alvidrez said.

The Masssk

Tightening their pores, seniors Ashley Alvidrez, Michelle Smith, Amber Long, and Veronica Alvidrez rub a lil' green stuff on.

Taking Off

Leaving the airport, seniors Ashley Lawyer, Chad Lawyer, and Summer Ott say goodbye before heading off to Arizona.

O My Gosh

Losing his mind, senior Jesse Logan goes crazy, because he can't find Jordon. "My spring break consisted of a lot of face making and hand motions," Logan said.

On the edge of a dream

A night filled with dinner, dancing, and dazzling decorations

Surprise!!!!

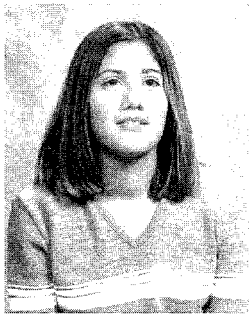

Posing for a picture, seniors Jonas Sommer and Bandy Lay show how excited they are to be announced Prom King and Queen. "I was very surprised that I actually got elected, of course, I was happy about it," Sommer said.

Hold ON!!!!

Waiting on the rest of the people to get out of the way, junior Ariel Scott, and Alex Covick go to prom on a four wheeler.

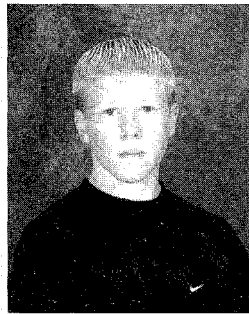

What did you think about Prom?

Rachel Azuara

"I thought it was fun, but there wasn't as many people there as I thought there would be."

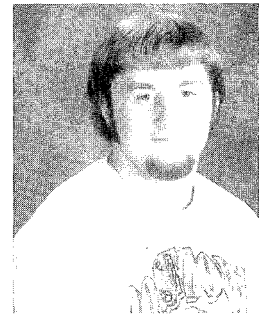

Preston Hills

"I thought that prom was fun, but I also thought that it was very overrated."

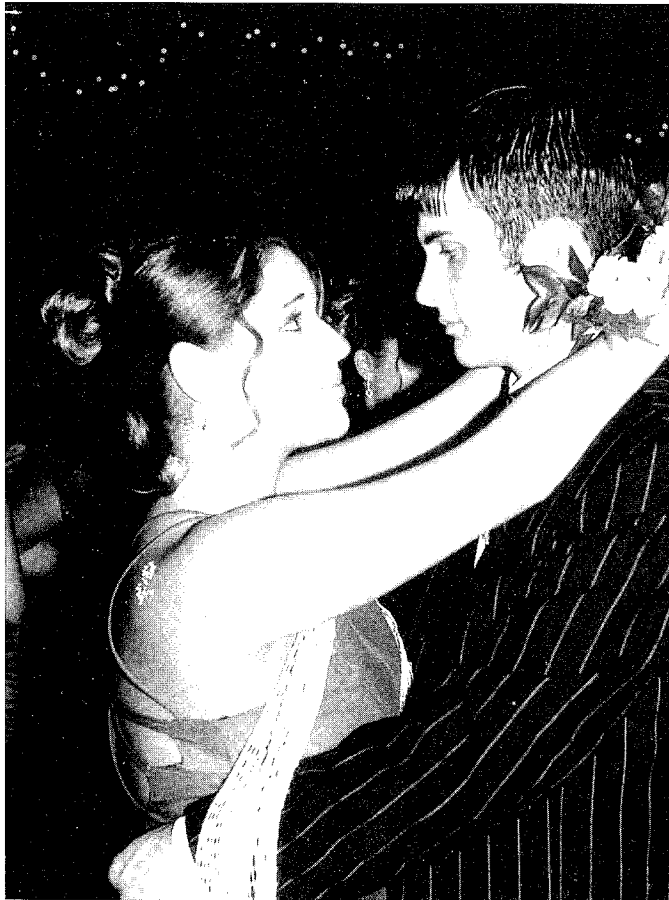

Sarah Dean

"I thought that prom was a lot better than last year, and I had a lot of fun."

David Oldham

"I enjoyed getting to dance with all the fine ladies."

Ohhhhh Baby!!!

Dancing the night away, senior Jennie Anderson and junior Ben Johnston show everyone how it is done. "My favorite part of prom was dancing with Jennie," Johnston said.

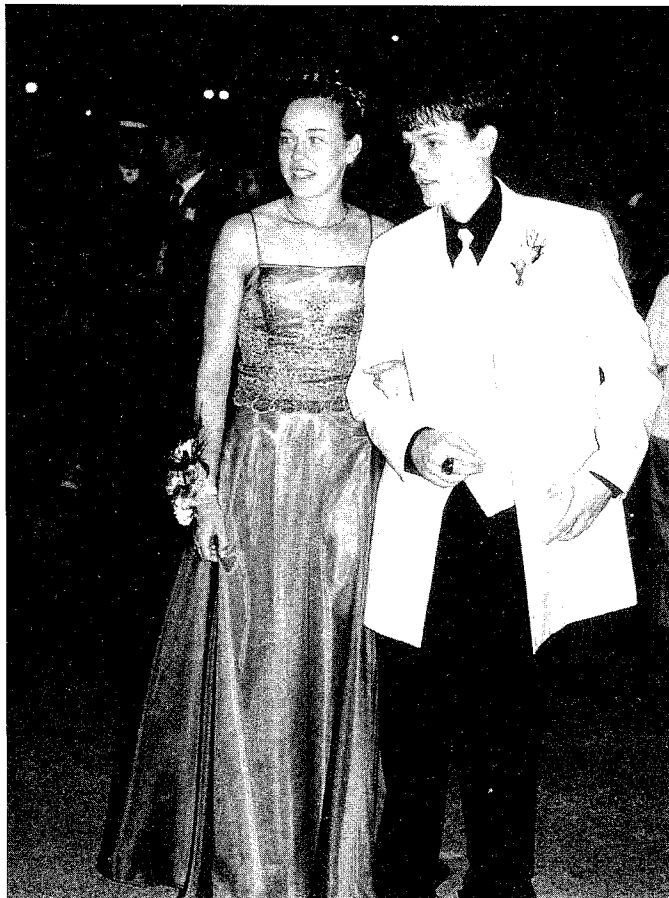

Check Em Out!!!

Showing off how different her man is from everyone else seniors Holly Staudt and Chris York walk into prom. "Thanks to my man "in shorts" all the attention was brought my way," Staudt said.

Horse and Buggy

Standing in front of their transportation, senior Dustin Robson and his date arrive to prom on a horse and carriage ride.

Camo all the way

Arriving a little out of the ordinary, senior Tiffanie Graham and her date appear for prom in a fashion that most might not ever consider.

Smile Big

Pulling up to prom in fashion, junior Chad Pugh and sophomore Julie Jones get ready for a night of fun.

Styling!!!!

Showing off his date, junior Lance Morris waits for people to take pictures. "I liked chillin with the fellas, and escorting my date to prom the most out of the night," Morris said.

Hangouts

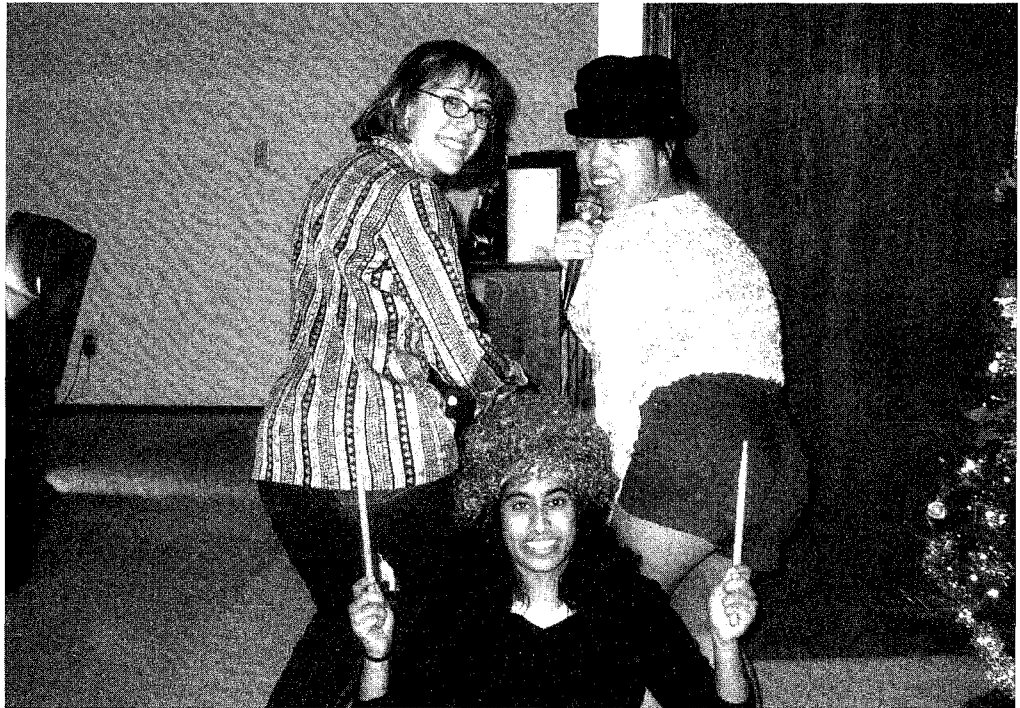

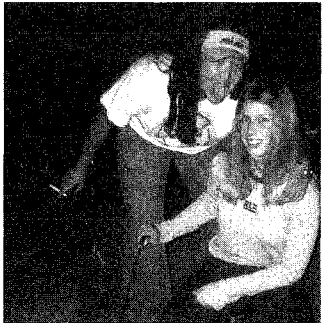

Places students enjoy spending time with their friends at.

Lets Jam

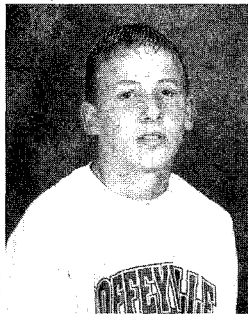

Breakin' it down, seniors Rachel Barone, Siri Reddy and junior Teresa Lo show their crazy side. "My dream is to be a drummer and this is good practice," Reddy said. photo by rachel barone

Kodak Moment

After roasting their hot dogs, seniors Michelle Smith and Holly Staudt pose for a picture. "Roasting weenies is one of the thing I like to do on the weekends," Smith said. photo by amber long

Where is your favorite hangout?

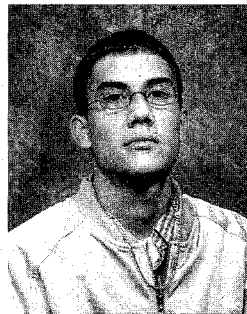

Brad Yeubanks

"My favorite hangout is chicks because I like to beat people in pool."

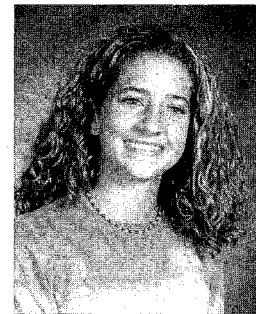

Hannah Stallsmith

"I usually go to Darci's with my friends or Scrubway when Earl is working."

Richard Parker

"I spend most of my time at the basement because we like to crank up the music and get down."

Lisa Thompson

"There really isn't anything to do in this town but when there is I hang out where the party is."

Say Cheese

Taking time to relax, senior Kasey Neal poses for a picture. "I enjoyed spending time with my friends," Neal said.

Lets Box

Looking for some action, senior Christina Shufeldt is ready to throw down. "I just felt like getting a little rowdy," Shufeldt said.

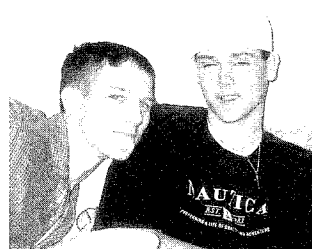

Ouch!

Getting their hair dyed, seniors Veronica Alvidrez and Holly Staudt go for a new look. "They poked my head pretty hard, but the outcome was good," Staudt said.

Candy Craze

Posing for a picture, freshmen Abby Wilson, Maria Barnes, Kathryn Lynn, and Emily Relph pig out on candy.

Dazed and Confused

Cheesing for the camera, senior Chris York and junior Lance Morris look a little spaced out. "These are two faces to remember," Morris said.

Big Hugs

Sharing some quality time, seniors Jesse Brown and Veronica Alvidrez give each other a big hug. "Got deodorant," Alvidrez said.

Dancin' the night away

FKHS students enjoy the dances sponsored by various groups

Just Kickin' It

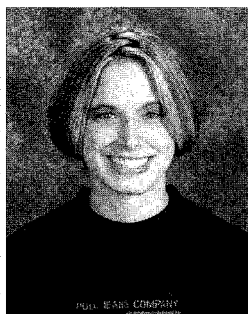

Clowning around, sophomores Kyle Thurman, Allison Chapman, and freshman Jeremy Thompson enjoy their crazy dance trio. "I felt I was on Broadway," Thompson said.

Royal Court

Showing off their crowns, sophomore Julie Jones and freshman Jeremy Thompson take out some time to cheese for a picture. "I felt special to be queen for that dance," Jones said.

Did you enjoy the dances?_____

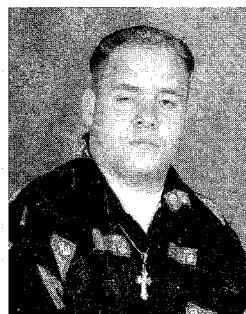

Alex Davis

"I really enjoy shakin' it on the dance floor. I had to be careful so I didn't mess up my hair."

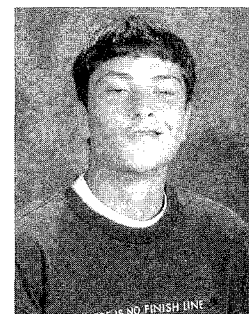

Shannon Patterson

"I had fun dancing once more people started showing up."

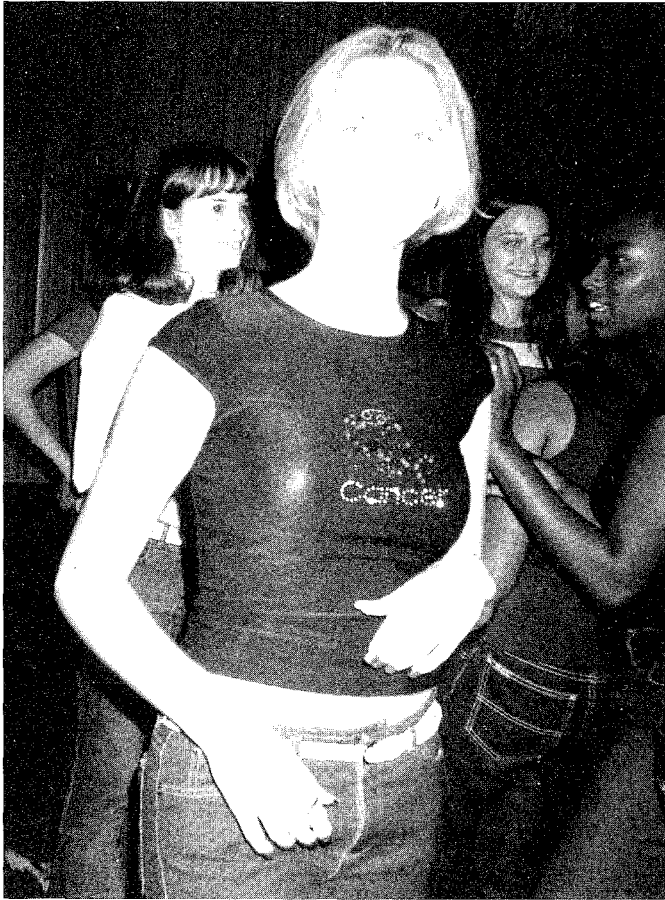

Carlos Chavez

"I thought the dances were alright, even though they had strict rules."

Dirk Andrews

"The dances were neat, and my b-boppin' skills are off the charts."

Say Cheese

Posing for the camera, senior Angi Green takes a breather from the dance floor. "I was dancing really hard and it was about time for a break," Green said.

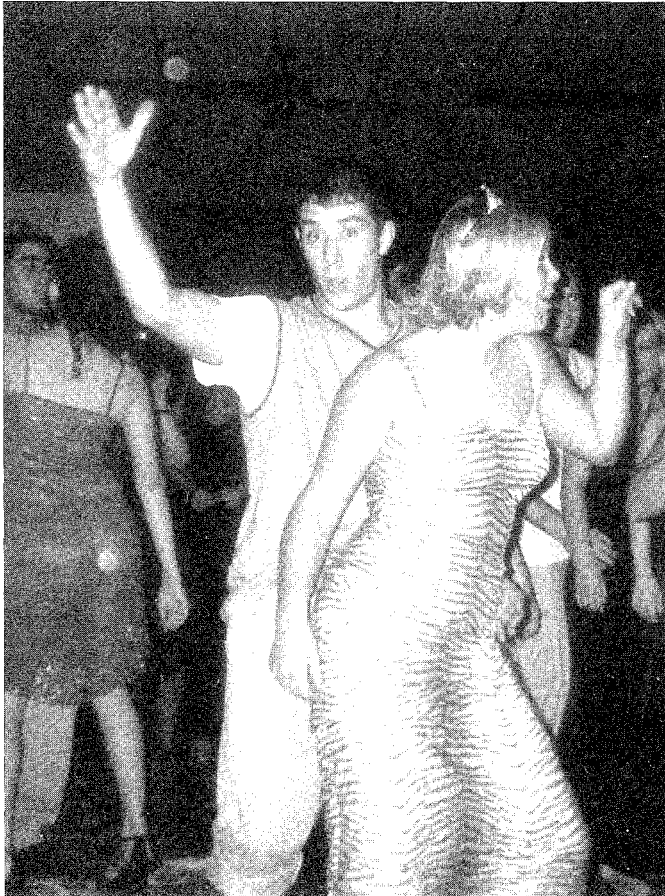

Karaoke Time

Bustin' a move, senior Rachel Barone sings her favorite jam. "I love trying to rap at the school dances. People say my free-style is tight," Barone said.

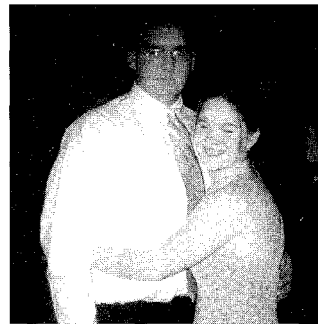

Slow Jam

Taking the pace down a notch, senior Lisa Thompson and junior Chris McDaniel dance to their favorite slow song. "I really enjoy the school dances," Thompson said.

Big Pimpin'

Workin' his mojo, senior Nithin Chillal, struts in with his two fine ladies, senior Pamela Hardimon and junior Rebecca Bumgarner.

Pleasant Moments

Striking a pose, seniors Stacy Lowrance and Michael O'Connell show how pleasant the snowball dance really was. "Mike is my big teddy bear," Lowrance said.

Freak Dancin'

Showing their wild side, senior Jesse Logan and junior Erin Sortore demonstrate what freak dancin' is all about. "We drank a lot of pepsi before the dance," Logan said.

Expressions

A way of expressing peoples emotions

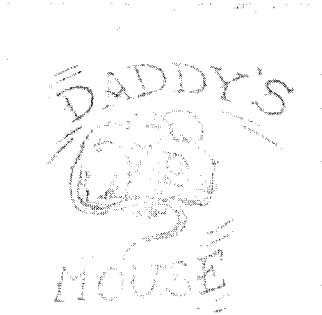

Angi Green

Letting everyone know her name, senior Angi Green shows off her tattoo. "I got my tattoo because I've always wanted one," Green said.

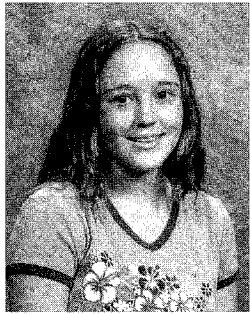

Mandi Heath

Holding up her sleeve, senior Mandi Heath shows her mouse tattoo.

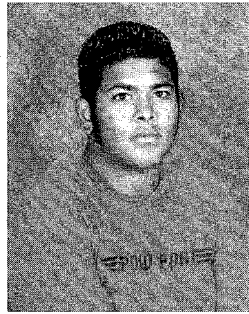

What do you think about the way people express themselves?—

Chelsea Gilfillan

"Some people find strange ways to express themselves."

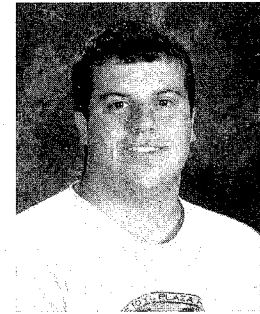

Arjun Reddy

"There are a few people who could find different ways of expressing themselves."

Amanda DeRaad

"I got my belly button pierced to express myself."

Jack Barnes

"I express myself by wearing whatever's clean."

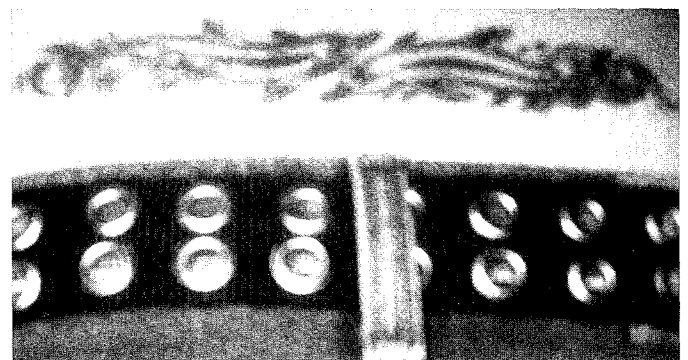

Unique sense of style?
Stopping for a quick picture before Snowball, juniors Rebecca Bumgarner and Stephen Hardimon show off their unusual dance attire.

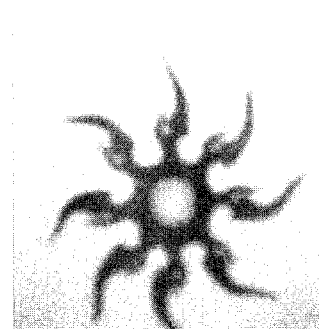

Ashley Hall
Posing for a quick shot, junior Ashley Hall shows her unique sense of style. "If you have confidence in what you wear, you can wear anything," Hall said.

Kasey Neal
Flashing her belly button, senior Kasey Neal shows off her belly button ring. "I got my belly button pierced because I thought it would be cute," Neal said.

Carmen Reese
Expressing her love for swimming, senior Carmen Reese shows off her dolphin tattoo.

Ashley Lawyer
Exposing her back, senior Ashley Lawyer shows her sun tattoo.

Adrienne Jones
Holding up her pants, senior Adrienne Jones shows off the tattoo she has of her name.

Seniors Wrap It Up

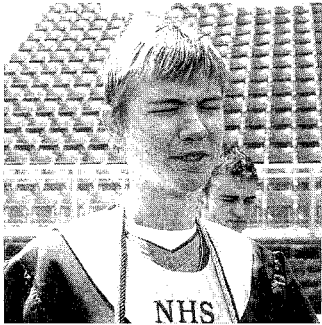

With food, fun, and practice seniors finish their last day of school

Final Photos

Stopping for a last shot, seniors Stephanie Sykes and Jonas Sommer cheese one up. "I know I'll miss Jonas when he goes back to Germany," Sykes said.

Wind Goes Wild

Squinting his eyes, senior Brandon Neal gets caught in a picture. "I'm glad that practice was short but it was really windy out," Neal said.

Senior Assembly

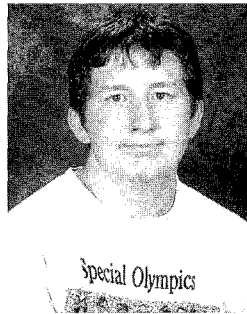

Randy Coons

"I thought it was funny that I got the most likely to die a virgin award because I am already with child."

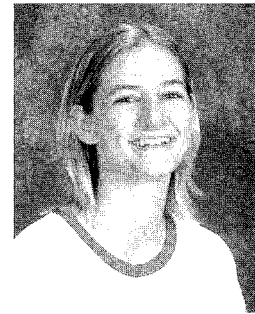

Michelle Smith

"I was surprised to get the best booty award; there are some pretty great butts in our school."

Dustin Robson

"I wasn't really surprised to receive the most likely to become a preacher award since that is my major for college and all."

Angi Green

"When they announced I had won most likely to become a hooker I couldn't have been any more proud."

Food Is Fun

Grubbing on their food, a group of seniors stop to take a picture. "The senior cookout was fun, but I wish it could have been outside," senior Sarah Mecom said.

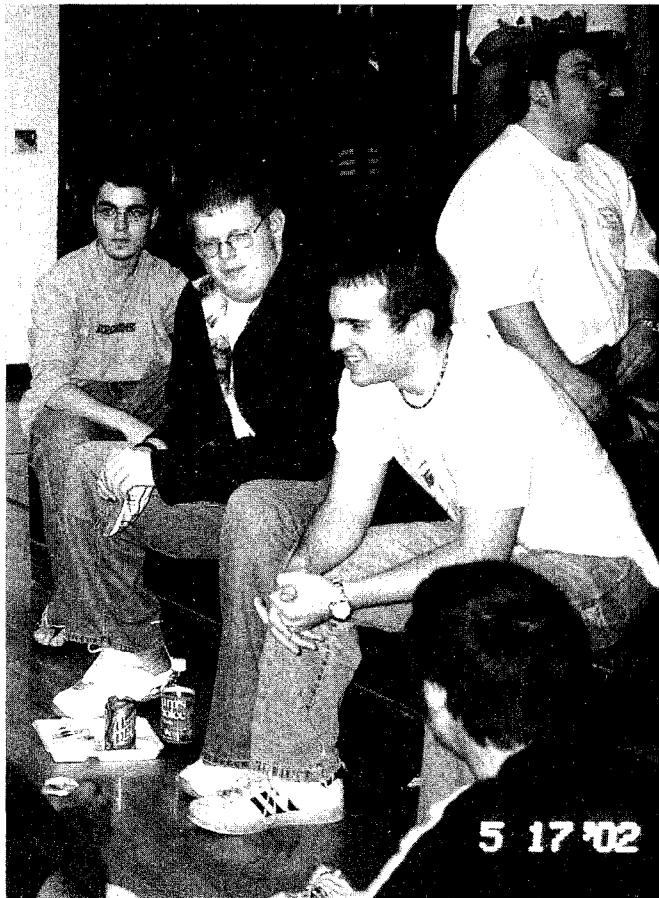

Walk This Way

Practicing his walk, senior Jordon Gullick tries to find his seat. "It was too windy to really focus on the task at hand, but I was able to do it," Gullick said.

Double Take

Posing for a picture, a group of seniors get caught in a double shot. "It was a lot of fun hanging out with the seniors one last time," senior Melissa Thompson said.

Got Wind?

Goofing off during rehearsal, seniors Jessica Orms and Heather Zimmer come together. "It's hard to believe it is all coming to an end," Orms said.

Where Do I Sit?

Sitting through the windy practice, seniors Tiffany Wells and Kerri Voelzke try to keep their attention on the rehearsal so they know where to go.

Bunches Of Lunches

Scarfig down their food, some of the senior boys eat at the cookout. The cookout consisted of hotdogs, chips, and soda pop.

Christmas Time In The Ville

Students swap gifts or take family vacations

Family Love

Posing for a picture in St.Croix senior Summer Ott and her family take a family vacation. "We had fun in Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands. The cruise was awesome,"Ott said.

Snowball

Getting her hair done for snowball, senior Stephanie Sykes holds still. "I thought since Katelyn was home visiting that she should do my hair,"Sykes said.

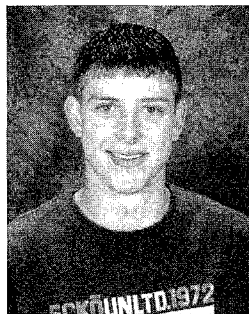

What did you do on your christmas break? —————

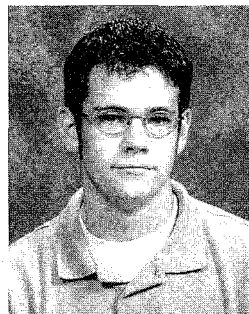

Heather Hugo

"I got some R&R with my closest buds, and we also took a few "so called" road trips to places," Hugo said.

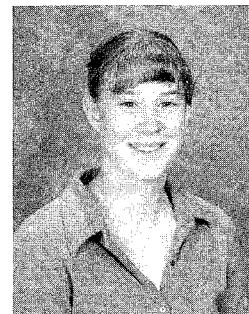

Desmond Lay

"I stayed with my G's and my gals in the basement," Lay said.

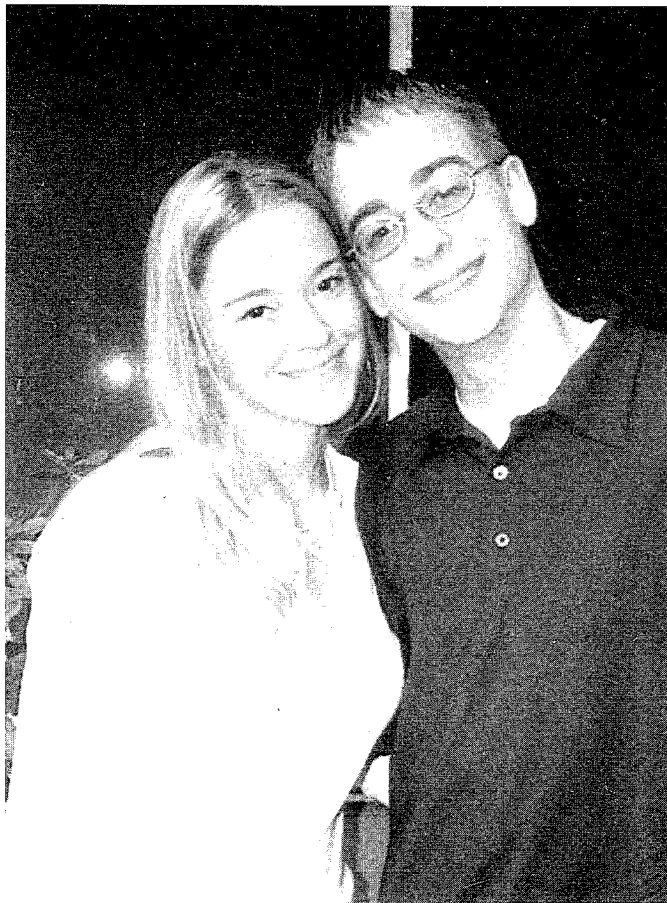

John DeVore

"Besides opening my gifts I spent most of my time with Lindsay," DeVore said.

Abigail Wilson

"I sat around the house chillin with Jake,"Wilson said.

Strike A Pose

Taking a vacation to Arizona seniors Chad and Ashley Lawyer enjoy spending their christmas vacation with their mother. "It was warm and cozy in the Arizona sunlight," Chad Lawyer said.

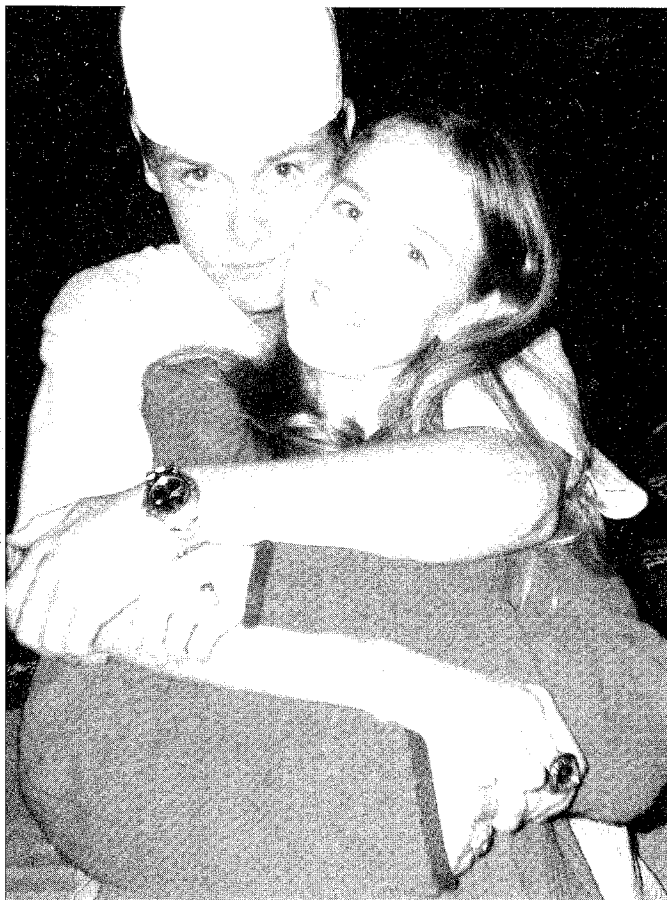

Hanging Out

Talking on the phone junior Teresa Lo strolls along the aisles chatting with one of her fellow classmates. She spent most of her time trying on flowers in the crafts department.

Saying Good-bye

Having one last party with the girls and guys senior Ranna Amaral says her last and final good byes. Amaral moved to Texas during the christmas break.

Friends Forever

Getting crazy for the camera some senior girls show their love by spending a day exchanging gifts. "It was alot of fun getting everyone together for a group picture.

The Worm

Getting crazy at the Snowball dance, senior Jesse Logan shows off his moves. The Snowball dance is held every year over Christmas Break

Christmas Love

Posing for the camera senior Shelli Stanley and junior Lance Morris spend their vacation together. "Besides spending time with Shelli, I stayed at home and chilled with my Uncle Buck," Morris said.

Pomp and Circumstance

The moment the seniors have been waiting for all year.

Good Boy

Shaking hands with Mr. Speer, senior Terry Gregory receives his award. Gregory was awarded the Good Citizen Award for being a great person.

School Service

Giving back to the school, senior Rachel Rollings puts her name tag on Mr. Owen. Each member of "Tha Cru" returned their ID back to the school administration.

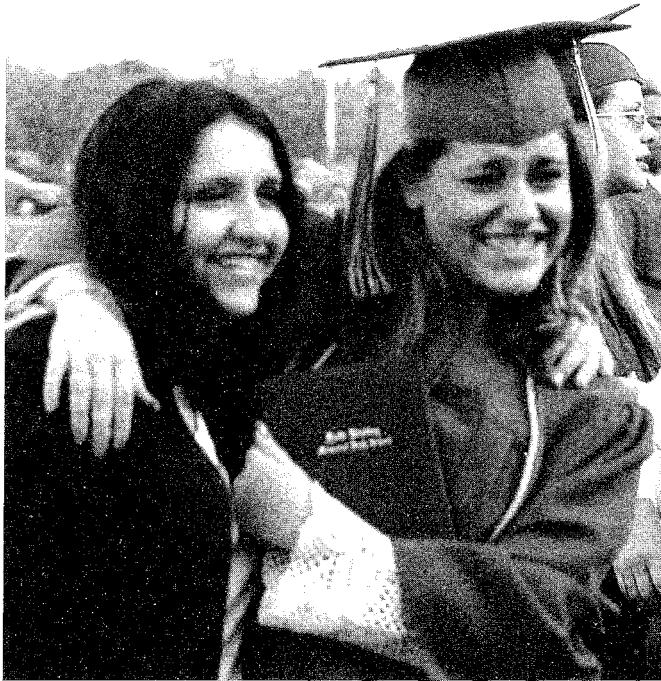

The End Is Only The Beginning

Graduation, to some, is considered to be like the ending of a beautiful friendship. Some consider high school to be the highlight of their lives, and there are no memories that will exceed the joy and excitement they received from these four cherished years. To others it is only the beginning of the rest of their lives. They can't wait to leave, because they are so willing to see what else lies outside of high school for them. Neither experience is better than the other, the only thing that matters is the fact that out of four years of high school each graduate understands that high school was not only the beginning or the end, but both. High school is just a part of each and every person's life, and after it is over, it is up to that person to decide what the rest of their future will become. In conclusion, the end is only the beginning.

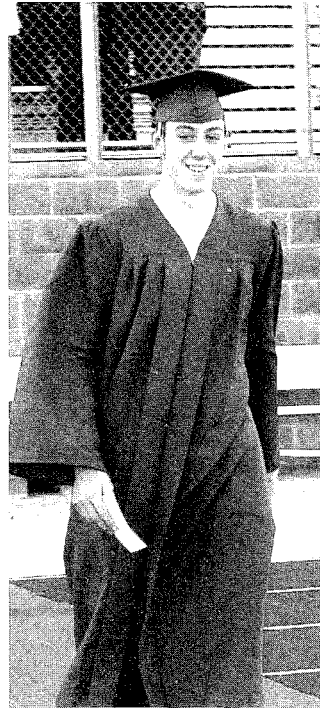

Family Affair

Showing off her diploma, senior Jennie Anderson stops from all the commotion to take a picture with her sister. "People wouldn't quit taking pictures, and I had to go to the bathroom," Anderson said.

Walk This Way

Strutting his stuff, senior T.J. Hearson marches to his place at graduation. "I had a fun year. I'm glad it's over, but I'm kind of sad to see it go," Hearson said.

Vehicle

Holding her place, senior Katie Tipton gives a graduation speech to her class. "I decided to give my speech "Vehicle" because Mr. Harbaugh has been a great mentor to me throughout high school," Tipton said.

Smile!

Smiling for the camera, senior Dirk Andrews shakes hands with school board president, Cathy Shald. "I was glad to receive my diploma from Mrs. Shald," Andrews said.

Follow the Leader

Working together, junior members of NHS continue the tradition of making a line for the senior class to walk through.

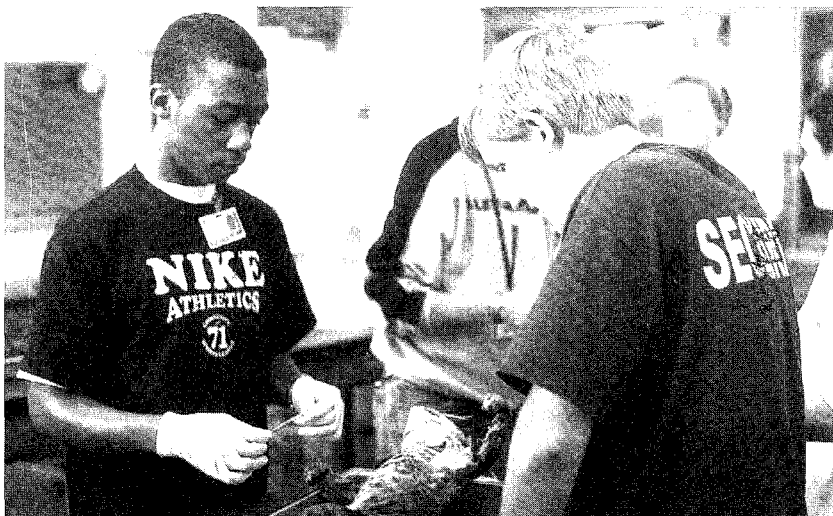

Bubbles Away

Keeping herself entertained, senior Lisa Thompson blows bubbles to liven up graduation. "I blew bubbles throughout the ceremony and threw balloons in the air every once in a while," Thompson said.

F.K.H.S consists of a wide variety of different courses and electives that provide us with a reason to get to school everyday to make the...

Roll Call

Sometimes we forget the real reason why we go to school. It's not to see our friends or make plans for the weekend. It's not to show off in the hallways or gossip about others. It is to learn. Our education is the most important thing in our lives, especially during our high school years. And without academics school would be pointless.

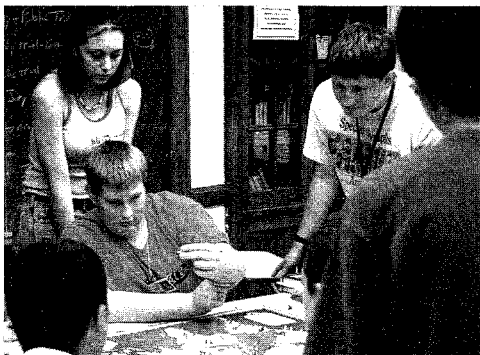

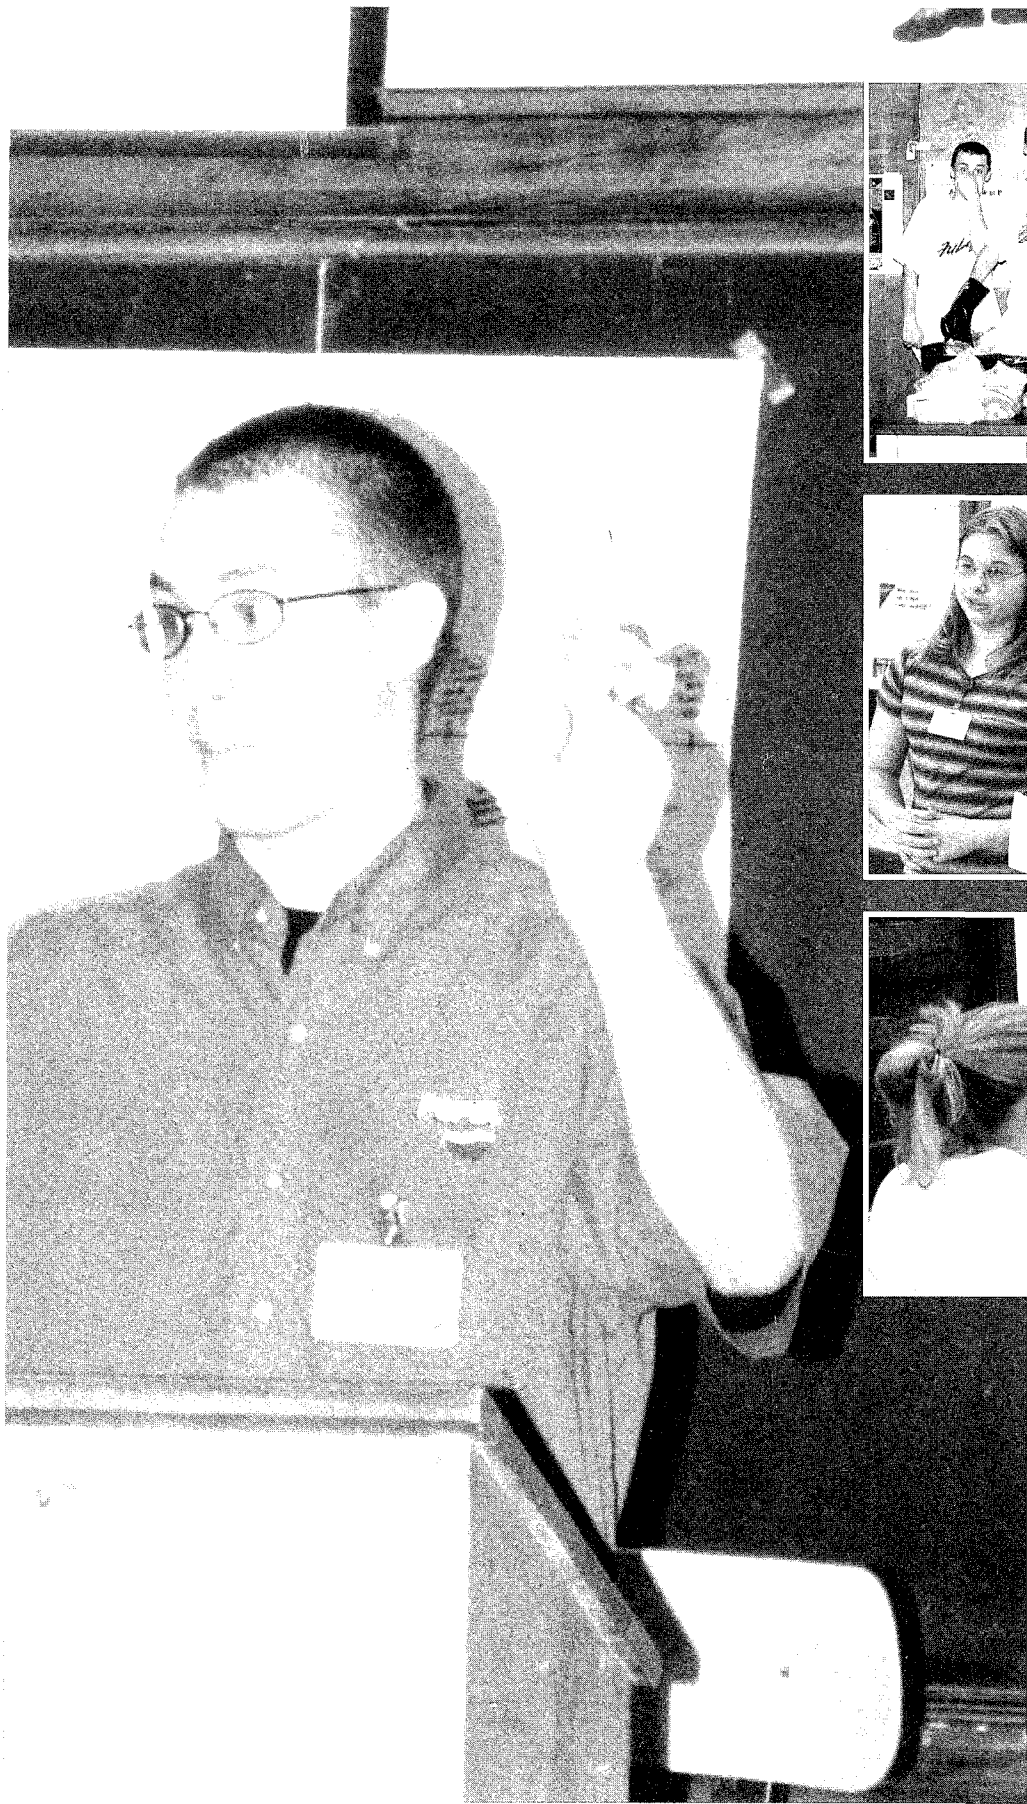

Scalpel Please!

Preparing to dissect their cat, Senior Erik Davis and Junior Jamie McCabe adjust their scalpels. "The smell of the cat made me sick to my stomach," Davis said.

All Fun and Games

Playing a game, Senior Dustin Thurman concentrates on what he wants to risk. "Risk is a game that helps the kids understand the strategy and geography of different wars," Instructor Troy McChristian said.

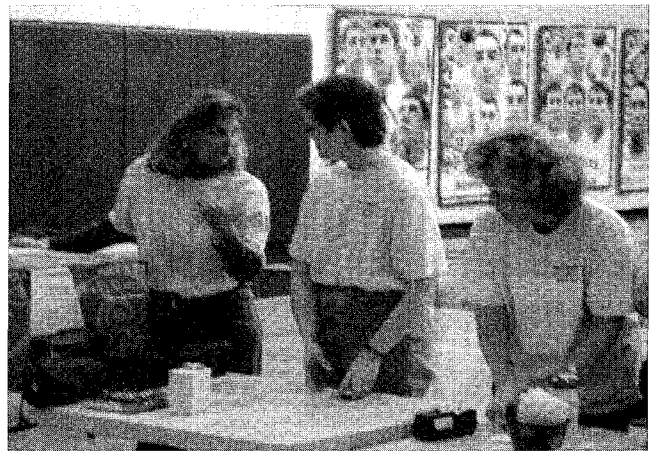

Rackin up the Points
Presenting his project, Junior Blake Underwood quotes Joe McCarthy. "I liked doing this project because it was interesting and it got me a lot of points," Underwood said.

Which One?

Talking it over, sponsors Mrs. Hurlbutt, Mrs. Bumgarner, and Mrs. Shald discuss what goes to who. These three ladies have been doing Renaissance over the years.

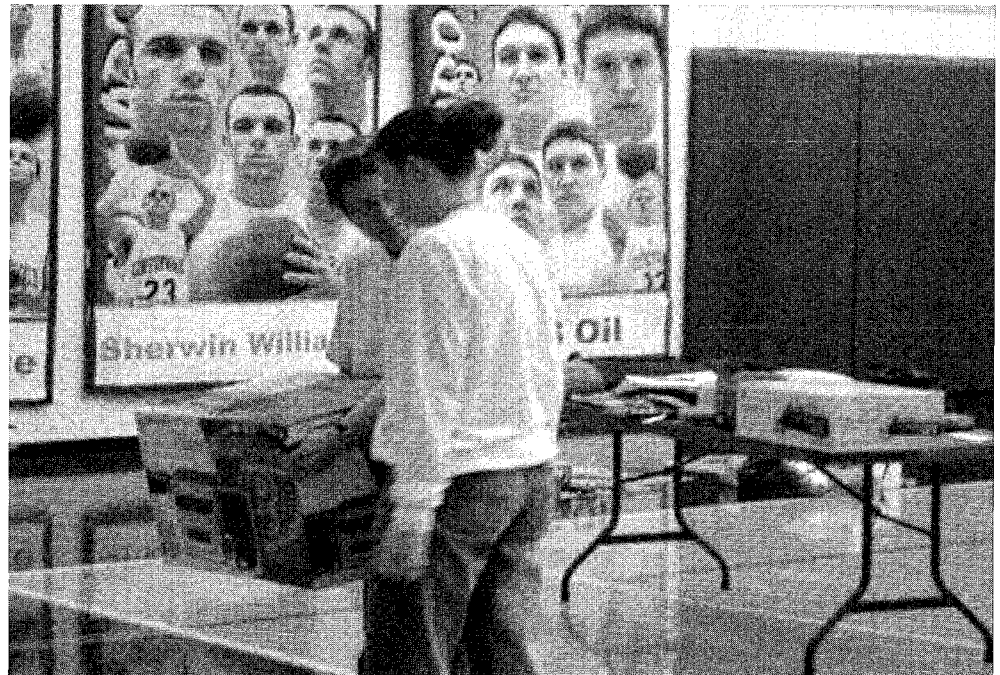

Do I Stand Here?

Standing in line, senior Bobby Washington makes sure he is in the right line. "Everyone was just standing around so I just grabbed a bag," Washington said.

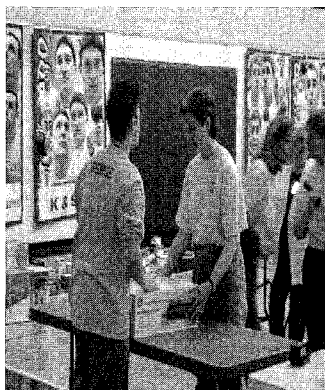

Groovy

Strutting her stuff freshman Abby Wilson collects her prize. "I was real excited that I won a stereo because I really needed one," Wilson said.

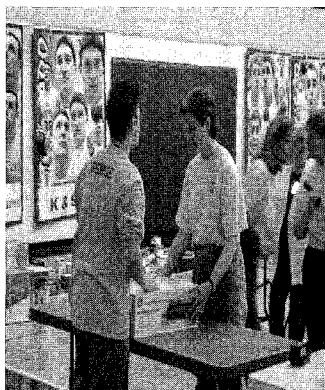

What Is This?

Wondering what he won, sophomore Sean Coen debates on whether or not to sell his prize. "I wasn't quite sure what I just won," Coen said.

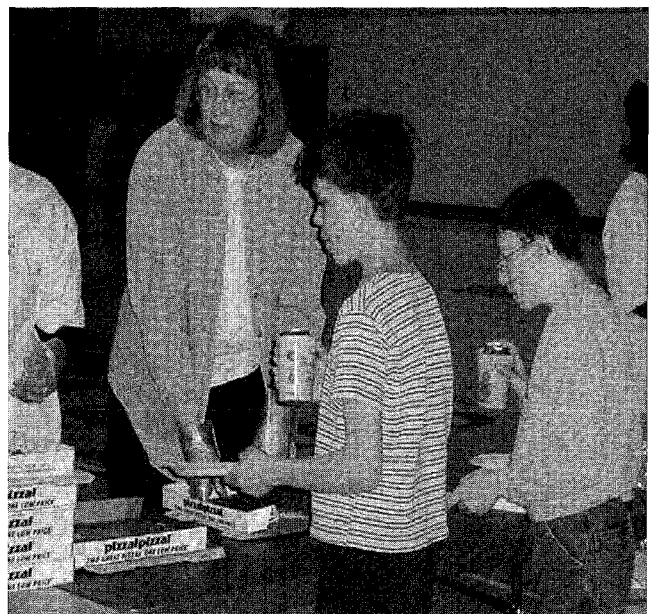

Hurry Up

Waiting for his prize, freshman Jason George graciously accepts his award. "I like DVD players better than VHS," George said.

Yummmmy!

Waiting for their slice of pizza, senior Ryan Wilson and freshman Derek Robson look forward to filling their hungry stomachs. "I like when renaissance comes along because we get to eat pizza sometimes," Robson said.

Are They Me?

Sporting his gloves, senior Paul Lapota show off his gloves that he won. "I was really glad and excited at the same time when I won the gloves," Lapota said.

Balloons

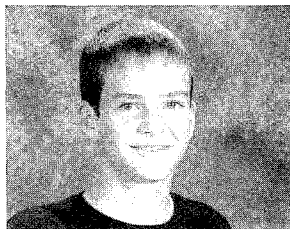

Grabbing for balloons, gold plus students fight for money. "The most exciting thing about renaissance is getting money," Smith said.

Do You Like My Frame?

Showing off his picture frame, senior Thomas Freddle does it Vanna style. "I liked my pretty colorful picture frame," Freddle said.

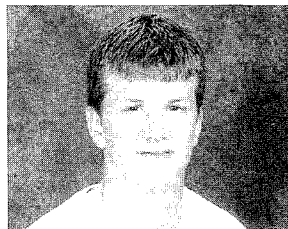

What Do You Enjoy About Renaissance?

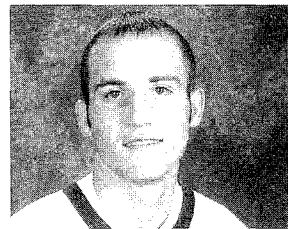

"I like the cool prizes that you can win."

Jeremy Thompson

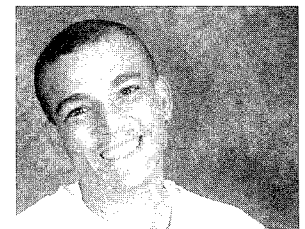

"I like the free food and the cool prizes that you can win."

Wade Bryant

"I like getting out of seminar and getting free food."

Brandon White

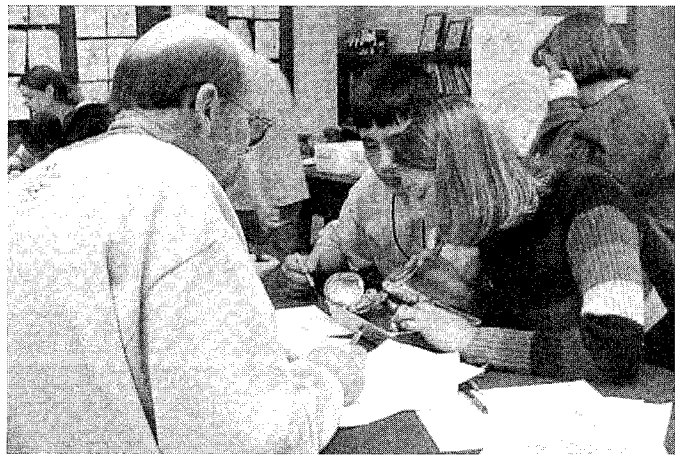

"I like getting out of seminar."

Working Hard

Trying to understand the clam, freshmen Chris Nowrouzi and Randilyn Nash work hard to finish their dissection. "I learned a lot in Biology but the dissections are really nasty," Nowrouzi said.

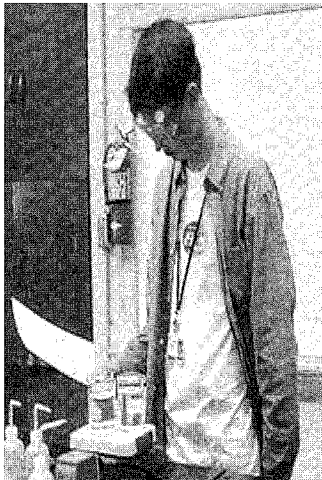

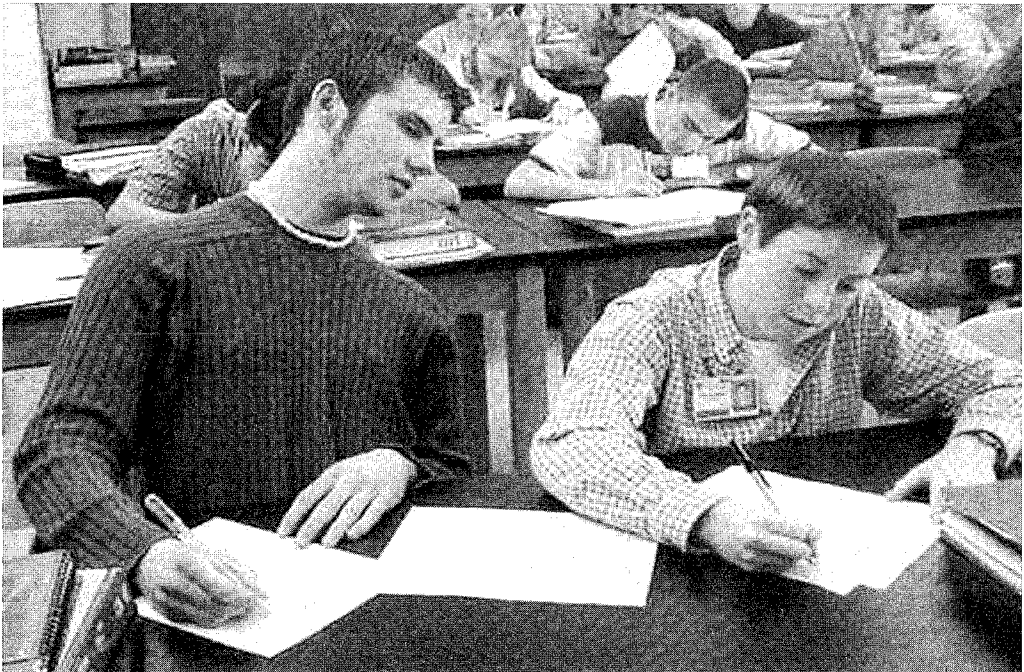

Concentration

Concentrating deeply on their dissections, sophomores Erin Sullivan and Terriecce Warren name off the parts to get a grade from Mr. Staudt. "I liked Biology this year. Mr. Staudt is a good teacher and he made Biology fun," Sullivan said.

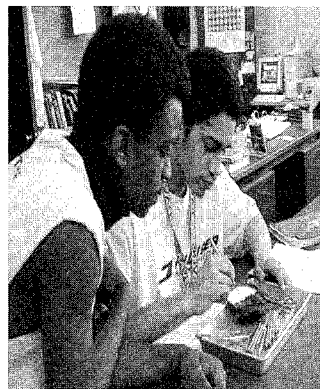

Daily Science Work

Working quietly, freshman Chris Carr begins his daily science work. "Its pretty interesting and I like Stalford because he is a good and interesting teacher," Carr said.

Measuring Chemicals

Measuring the chemicals, sophomore Danny Funk starts his lab in chemistry. "I think I have learned a lot this year and it will help me in the future," Funk said.

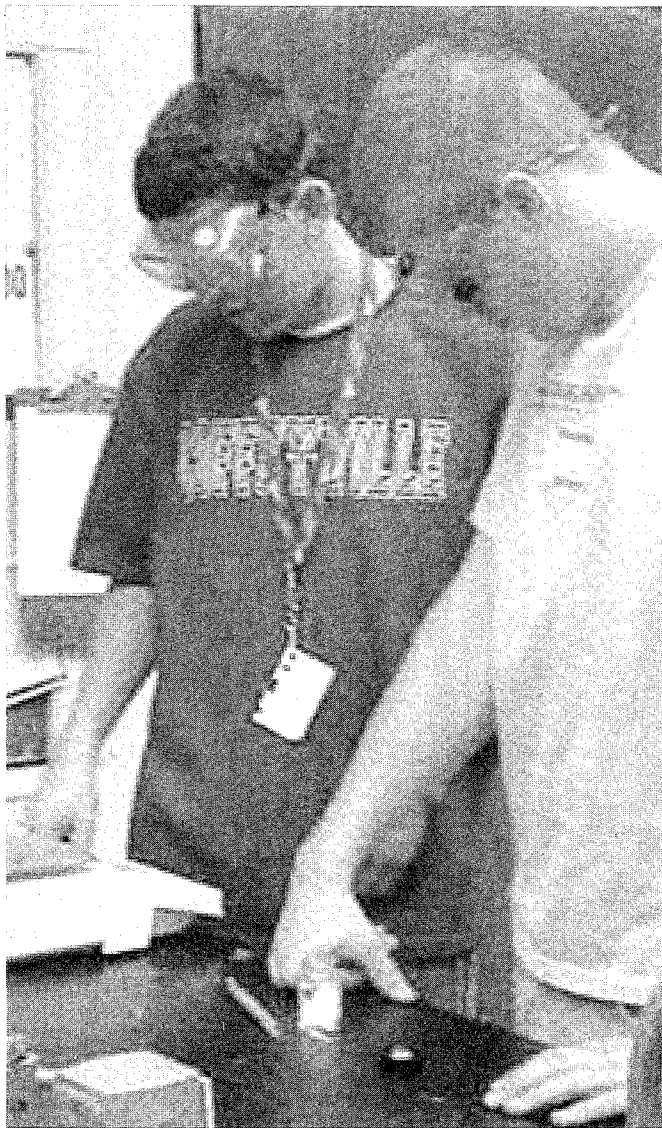

Future Career

Studying in Mr. Staudt's class, sophomores Mark Crawford and Aaron Irving work on their clam dissection. "I think Science is going to be a valuable asset to my future career," Crawford said.

Dissecting a Cat

Making a cut, seniors Thomas Freedle and Colten Bustos perform a dissection. "Everyone should dissect a cat. It helps you understand how your body works," Freedle said.

Chemistry Lab

Weighing the beaker, sophomores Sean Coen and Bobby Larimore make easy points on their lab. "The good part about chemistry is labs and to watch Mr. Bobek blow things up," said Bobby Larimore.

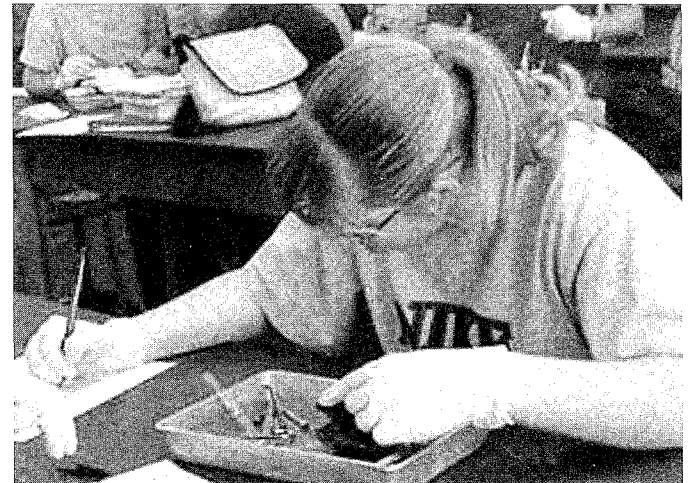

Making Corrections

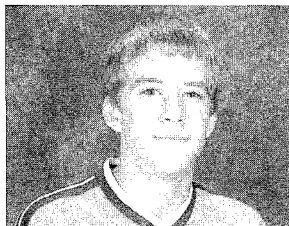

Concentrating sophomore Jeff Stevenson and Travis Walker look over their lab paper for any mistakes. "I like chemistry because I think Mr. Bobek will help me out in my future career," Walker said.

Dissecting A Clam

Thinking hard sophomore Darci Eveleigh jots down the names of the clam parts. "I like dissections, because it is interesting and it is fun to play with the parts when you are done," Eveleigh said.

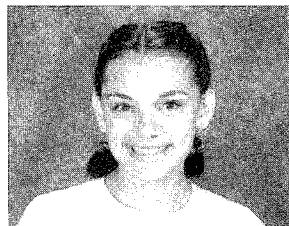

How do you feel about science?

"My science teachers are decent. I am glad I had the chance to experience two different teachers."

Keith Wilson

"Chemistry is kind of hard but I'm learning a lot and I hope I can raise my grade to an A."

Jessie Hobbs

"The most interesting thing about science is learning how to mix chemicals and make new elements."

Carlos Chavez

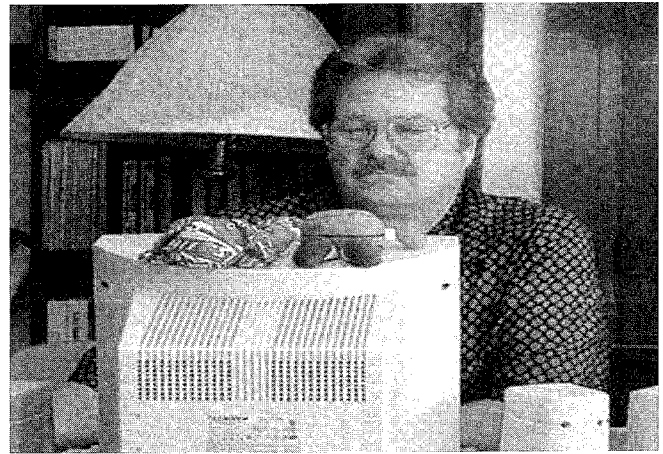

"I really like taking science classes because its fun and you learn about all sorts of great stuff."

Rachel Barone

Grading Time

Looking over his students grades and attendance records, Dan Wall makes sure that all of his students are accounted for. Wall is not only a sociology teacher, but the boys' basketball coach, as well.

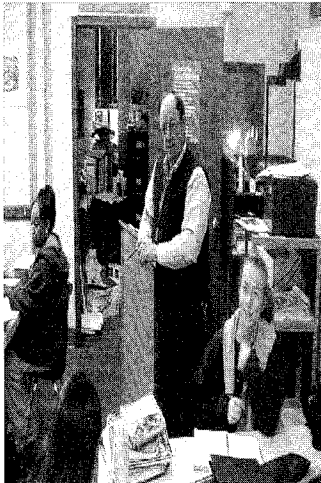

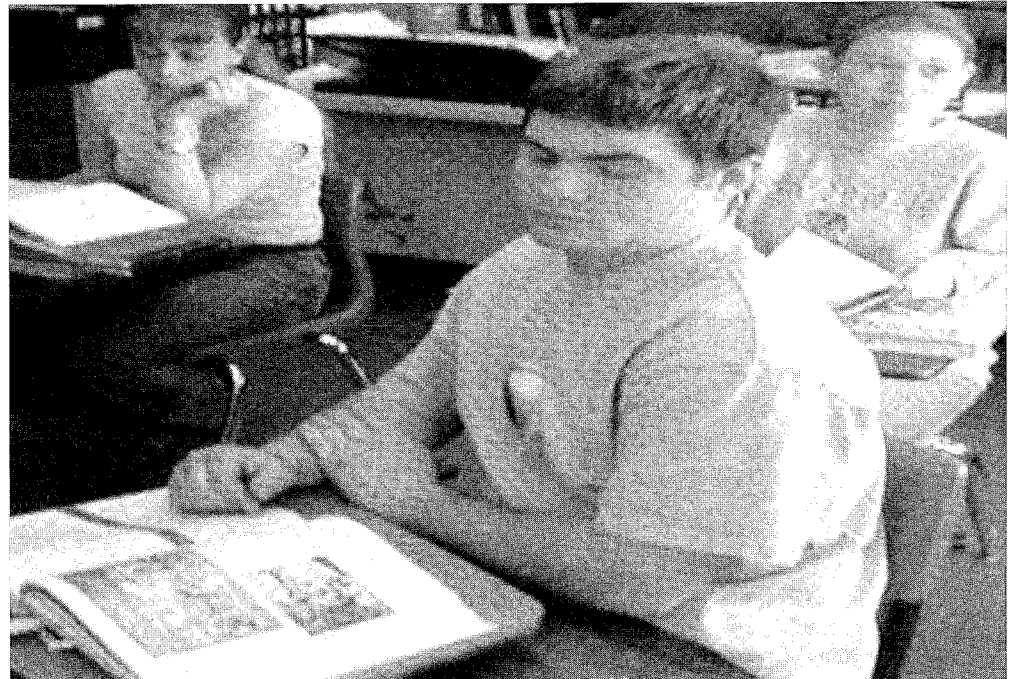

World History

Paying close attention, freshmen Lauren Neifing and Chelsea Hunt get deep into the lesson for the day, while junior Jacob Erne tries his best to stay awake.

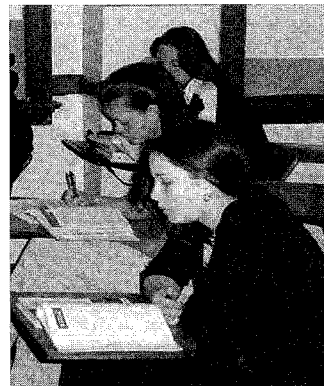

Sociology

Studying, senior Ryan Robson tries to take in as much of Dan Wall's lesson for the day as possible. "Coach Wall's class has been interesting and fun for me at the same time," Robson said.

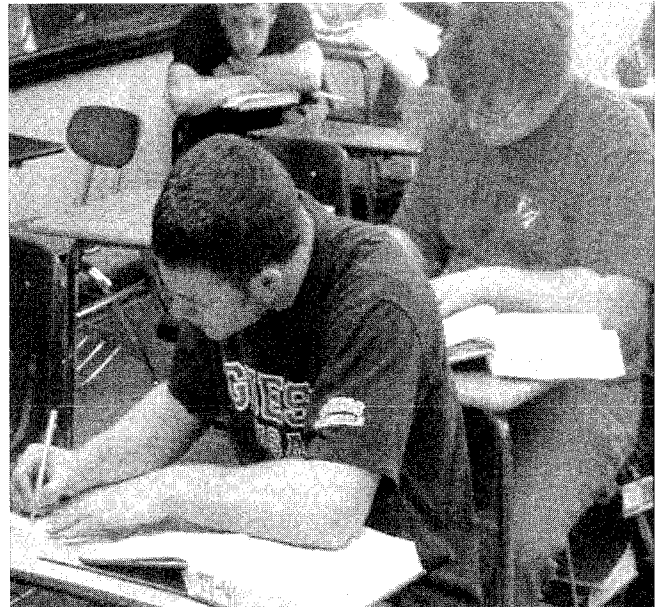

History Lesson

Teaching one of his many favorite subjects, C. C. Law tries to involve his students in the knowledge he has gained over his many years of experience.

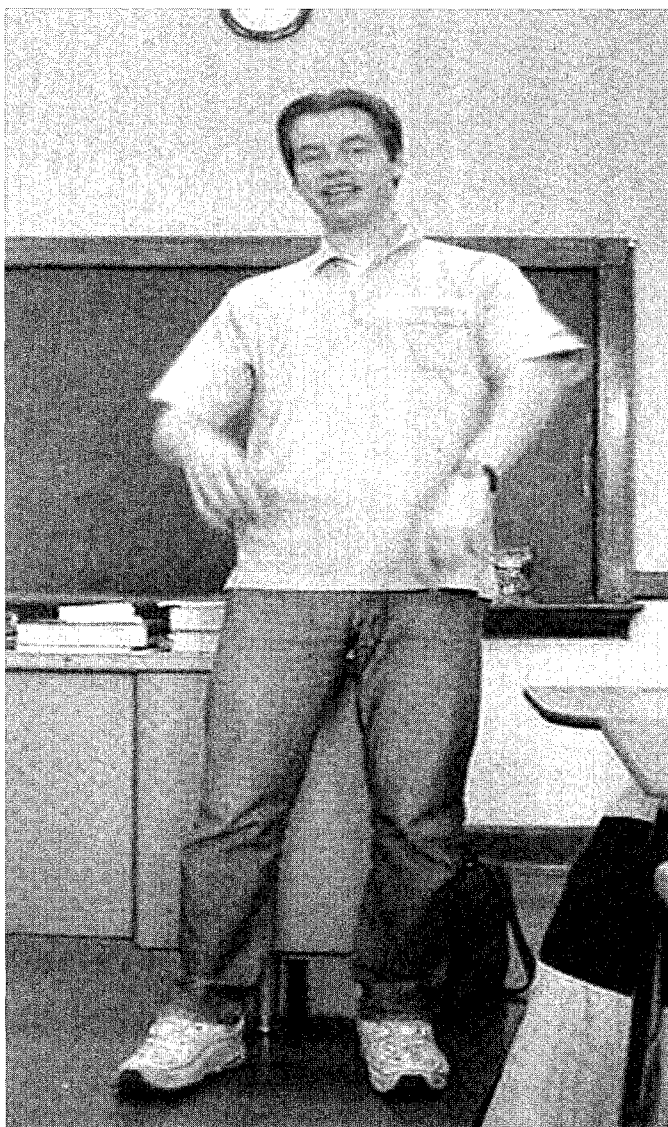

Reading Lesson

Reading the lesson of the day, sociology students prove their class to be one of the most interesting and fulfilling forms of education for each and every student who participates.

Class Work

Working attentively, senior Luke Logan does his best to finish his American Government before the bell rings. Troy McChristian took over and taught American Government as well as Native American History this year.

History Rap

Entertaining the class, senior Jonas Sommer spits a mad flow during his American History class. Sommer came to Field Kindley this year as a foreign exchange student.

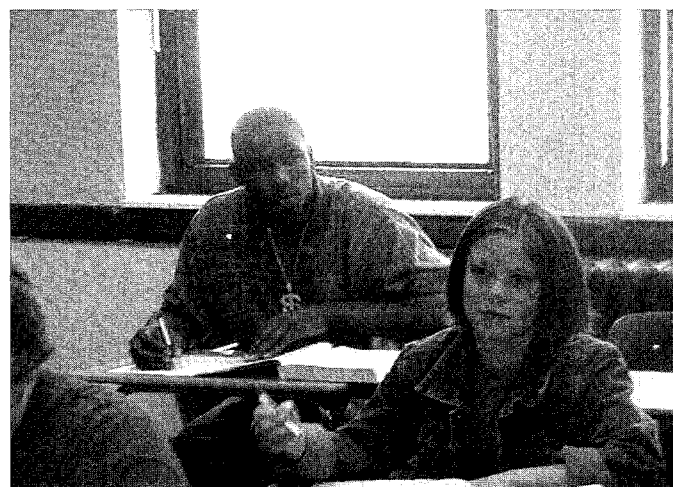

Social Studies

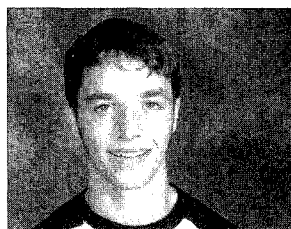

Trying very hard to concentrate on her assignment, senior Ashley Lee studies during Coach Wall's sociology class. "Coach Wall is one of my favorite teachers," Lee said.

American Government

Concentrating intently, senior Sarah Mitts follows along with the lesson as senior T.J. Covington becomes sidetracked with other thoughts.

What is your opinion of Social Science classes?

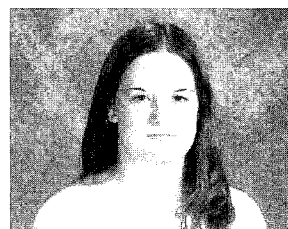

"Sociology class was fun and we got to watch movies in our spare time."

Ric Brown

"As far as Native American history goes, I think it's vital to study and grasp that we were here before U.S."

Troy McChristian

I liked Mr. Henry's in-depth sex discussions during Psychology class.

Ashley Ketchum

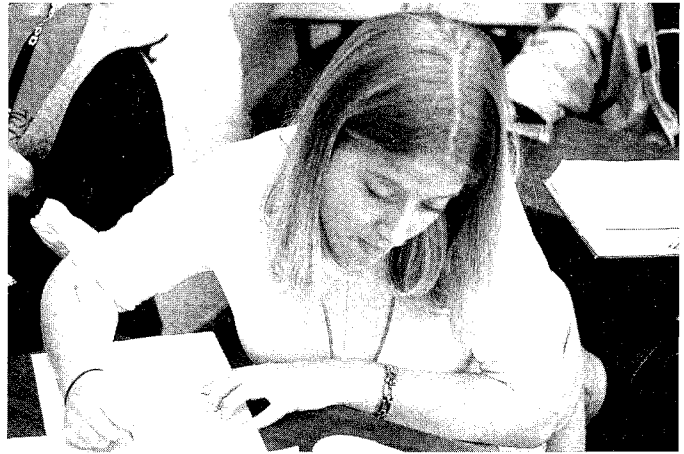

"If you don't understand the past and the present, how can you possibly prepare for the future?"

Mary Kengle

Working Hard

Trying hard to understand the assignment, sophomore Julie Jones works hard on her geometry. "I hate geometry because it is hard and no one can explain it," Jones said. photo by mark bowman

Daily Assignment

Working quietly, sophomore Wade Bryant begins his geometry. "Geometry is really hard, especially when the teacher doesn't explain things," Bryant said. photo by mark bowman

Finishing Touches

Concentrating deeply on his algebra, freshman Dominick Granville strives to finish his assignment on time. "If you listen, pay attention, and do your work, you'll go far in life," Granville said. photo by shelli stanley

Math Skills

Studying in Mr. Smith's class, freshman Emily Relph works on her algebra homework. "This is my second year of algebra and I'm finally making an A," Relph said.

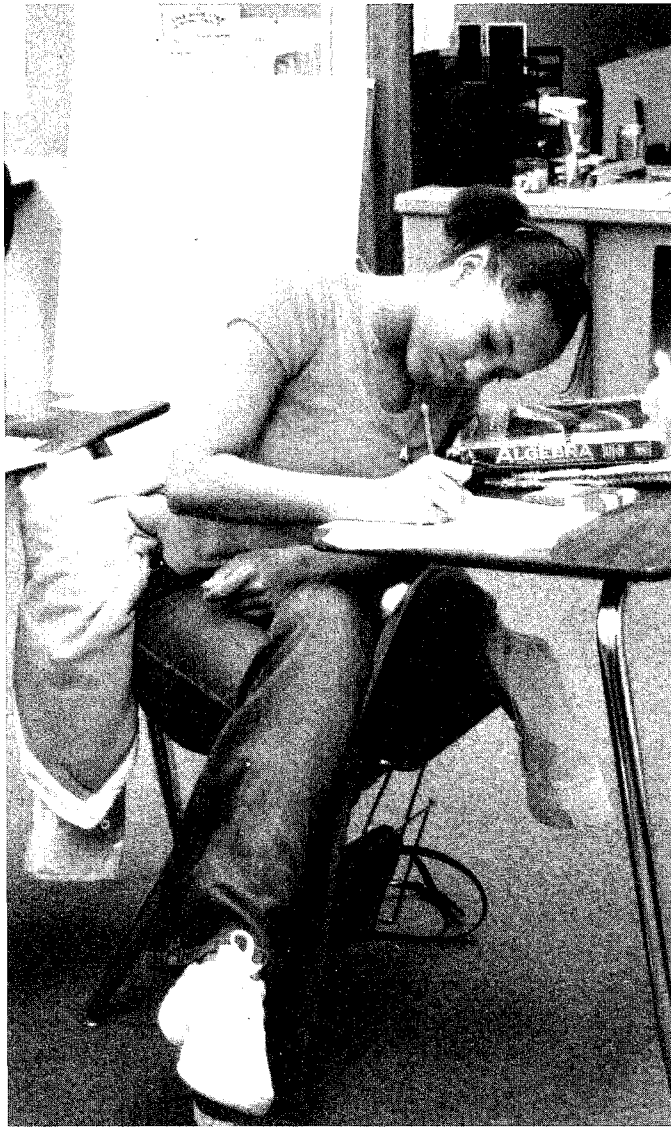

It Takes Concentration

Completing an assignment, junior Lindsey Campbell concentrates on her algebra II. "Algebra II is a hard class, but I have a lot of fun in there," Campbell said. photo by mark bowman

Hard Thinker

Thinking hard, junior Lauren Peterman finishes a geometry quiz. "Geometry can be hard, but I'm sure I'll need it in the future," Peterman said. photo by mark bowman

Do Your Best

Showing her skills on paper, freshman Riva Jeter tries to impress her instructor. "Algebra is confusing; hopefully geometry is easier," Jeter said. photo by shelli stanley

Writing it Down

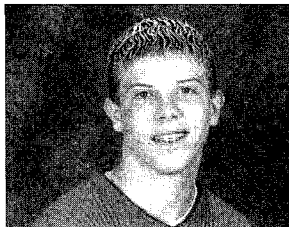

Looking over the material, junior Lance Morris concentrates on his algebra II assignment. "I don't enjoy algebra II, but I learn to deal with it anyway," Morris said. photo by mark bowman

Staying Awake

Doing her assignment, freshman Kerri Davis tries to finish her algebra before the end of class. "Algebra is a pretty easy class, but you just have to pay attention," Davis said. photo by mark bowman

What do you think is the hardest part of math?

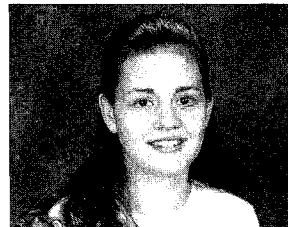

•"To me the hardest part of math is fractions."

Nathan Morris
freshmen

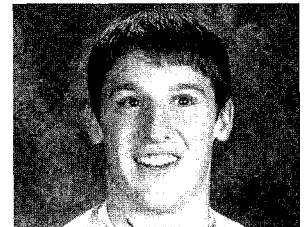

•"Proofs are the hardest because there are so many answers to choose from."

Taylor Gullick
sophomore

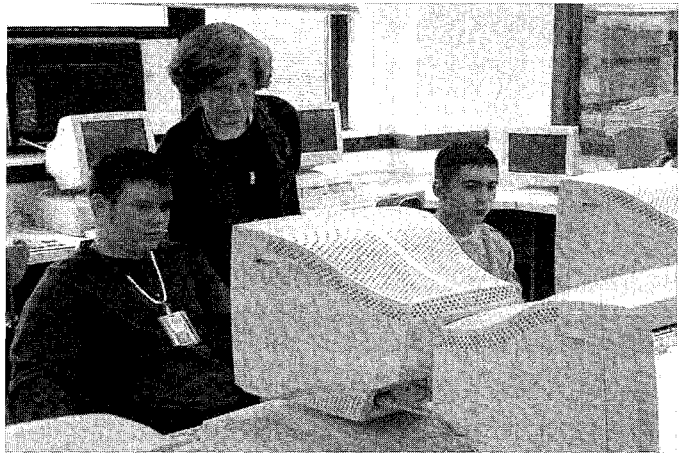

•"The hardest part is getting all my homework done on time."

Rachel Simmons
junior

•"Pre-calc is easier than it looks if you know what your doing."

Heather Hugo

"I had fun working with my friends and I'm glad to know that I can always look back at my yearbook."

Summer Ott

"The best part was getting to leave when I graduated at semester but I still came back to finish my pages."

Tiffanie Graham

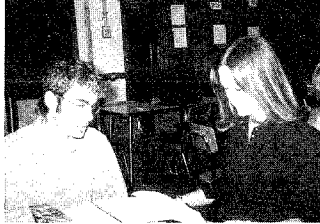

Paper Cut

Working together, seniors Dirk Andrews and Brandon Neal layout the newspaper. "Many long hours were spent laying out the newspaper, but it was all well worth it," Andrews said.

Working Hard

Editing a story, senior Rachel Rollings helps out a fellow classmate. "I like being an editor because I like to tell people what they do wrong," Rollings said.

Snack Time

Almost Done

Finishing an editorial, seniors Rachel Barone and Ashley Lawyer add the final touch. "I enjoy being on newspaper because it's fun to write editorials every other week," Barone said.

Picture Perfect

Developing pictures, senior T.J. Hearson concentrates on what he's doing. Having the pictures available was important to the newspaper staff this year.

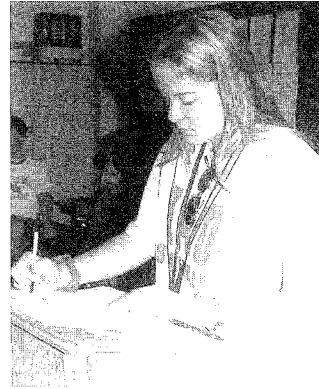

We're Done!

Typing away, seniors Dirk Andrews and Chris York finish their stories. Even with the lack of computers the staff always puts out a newspaper every two weeks.

Say Cheese

Setting up his camera, sophomore Mark Bowman prepares to take pictures. Bowman was one of the photographers for The Tornado Times.

Time to Edit

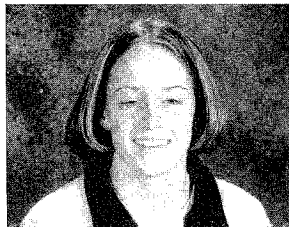

Concentrating hard, senior Ashley Lawyer edits a story. "Editing stories isn't easy because you have to look over everyone's work and sometimes it gets frustrating," Lawyer said.

Which one should I use?

Looking at negatives, seniors Alicia Dumm decides which pictures to use in the newspaper. "I love pictures, that's why I got a job in the Wal-Mart photo lab," Dumm said.

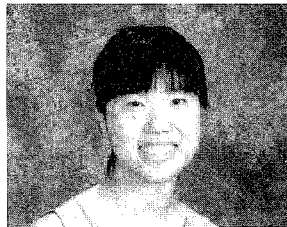

What do you like most about Journalism?

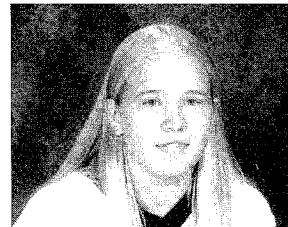

"I like journalism because we can express our opinions."

Addie Allen

Master Debater

Working on her debate topic, senior Sarah Mecom takes some notes. "Debate is a great class because, I like to argue," Mecom said.

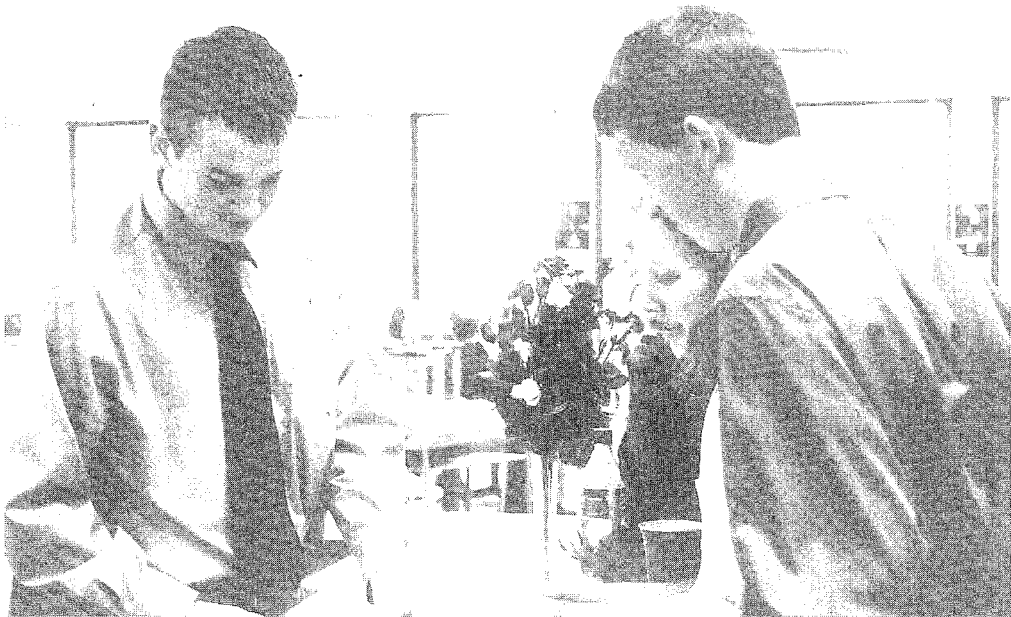

Copy Cat

Making a copy of her files, sophomore Julie Jones gets ready to go over her arguments. "Debate and forensics are two great classes to participate in," Jones said.

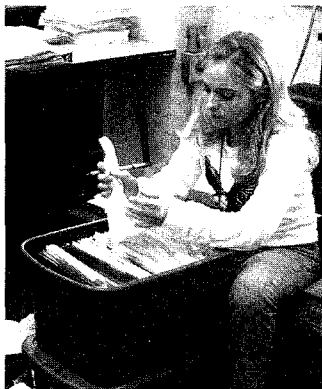

And the Winner is?

Sorting through the ballots, seniors Katie Tipton and Matt White, and junior Kyle Law count through each school's ballots. During debate, the FKHS library is known as the "tab room."

Learning the Ropes

Taking some notes, freshman Alex Alcox works very hard on her argument. Alcox and other new debaters compete in the Novice division.

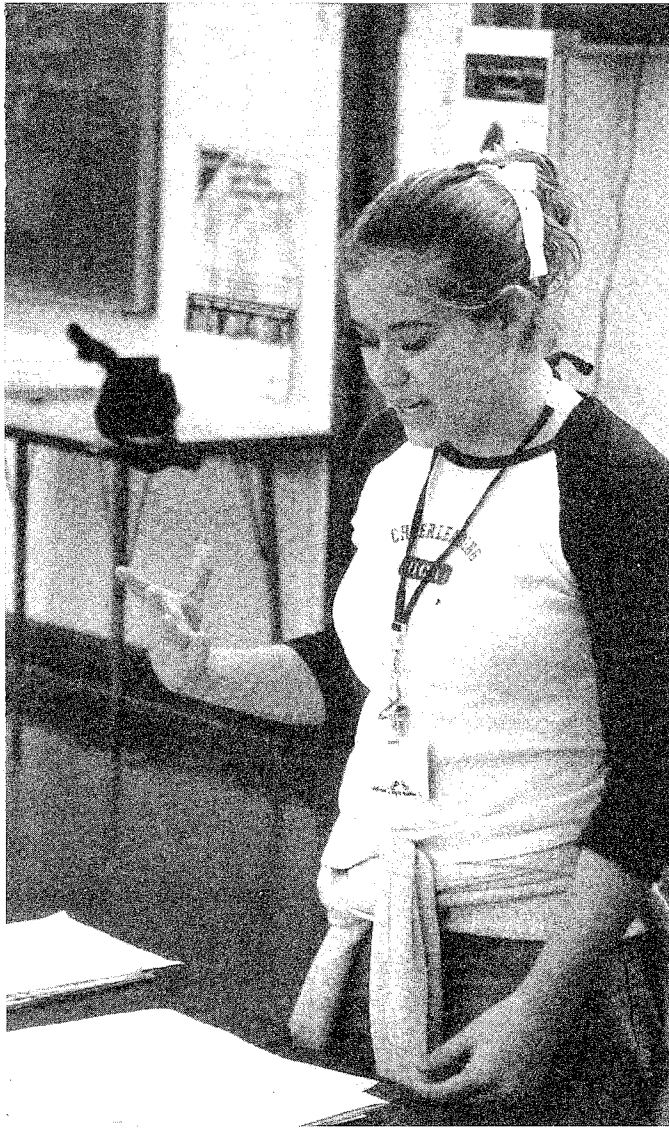

Sorting

Going through her files, junior Jenny White works on getting her best argument. "I love debating, especially when you debate with someone good," White said.

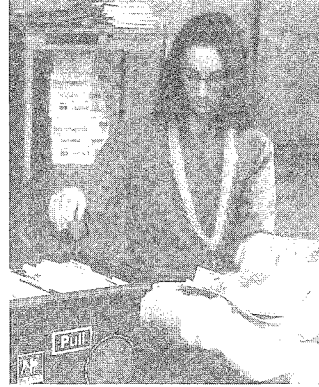

I Don't Understand

Listening closely, freshman Katie Clough is very interested in what senior Vidhya Reddy has to say. "I really enjoy having the seniors around because, they are more experienced," Clough said.

Practice Makes Perfect

Practicing her new forensics piece, sophomore Erin Walterscheid entertains Mr. Harbaugh's seminar. "I love forensics because I get to compete against other students and have fun while I'm doing it," Walterscheid said.

Organization is Key

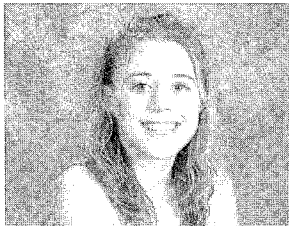

Searching for the perfect piece, junior Rebecca Bumgarner decides what she should do for her duo. There are many different things that students can participate in such as Humerous Interpretation, Duo and Dramatic Interpretation.

Workin' Hard

Organizing her files, sophomore Alison Frihart gets everything in order. "It's very important to be organized so that you can find everything," Frihart said.

What is your favorite part about Debate/Forensics?

Cover Your Eyes!!!!

Participating in the day's lesson, Vo-Tech students weld for a grade. This is a rather dangerous task, but with the help of trained advisers, the students not only learn this difficult function, but acquire the skills to maneuver it well.

Load 'Em Up

Putting aboard a car from the vocational area, students take part in one of their many tasks associated with the Vo-Tech school.

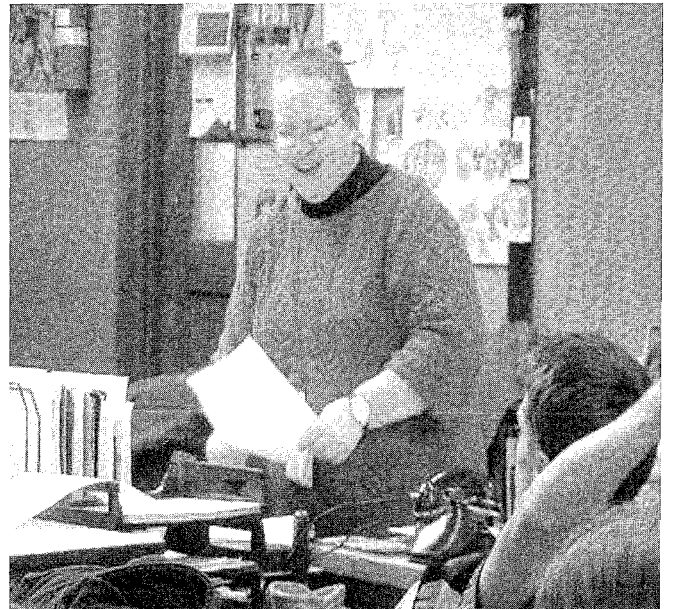

Surprise! Surprise!

Catching her breath from being caught off guard by the photographer, junior Lynn Rexwinkle is distracted from her work.

Candid Camera

Pausing for a picture, senior Tyler Bryant takes time out of his grueling everyday tasks that he performs at the Vo-Tech.

The Art of Teaching

Explaining her lesson, Dianne Humphrey goes into great detail about the drill for the day. Humphrey not only teaches art, but also is director for the prom committee.

Hang Time

Waiting patiently, senior Justin Hanigan gives the photography student an ever so pleasant smile while showing his pride in the Vo-Tech.

“What’s Goin’ On?”

Feeling a bit awkward, senior Tiffany Wells makes her best attempt at smiling for the camera. Tiffany is an active member of the FFA and has been since her freshman year.

Deep in Concentration

Paying close attention to their art work, sophomore Andrea White and freshman Jessica Martin work on their projects for the day.

Vocational/Technical Studies

The Vocational and Technical area has many different, as well as interesting, components to it that FKHS itself does not come across on an everyday basis. The courses offer students with a more hands-on experience as far as the grueling tasks of “job searching” goes. Some instances of this are classes like auto-body and vocational agriculture. Not only do these classes broaden the horizons for students who are looking for an area of interest after high school, but they also offer students another way, besides academics or sports, of finding a talent that they may truly decide to label as their own. The “Vo-Tech”, as it is well known, also offers classes such as two and three dimensional art for students who like to explore their more creative side with drawing and clay figures. Although some might not consider these classes to be as important as the required curriculum, the Vo-Tech classes offer students a chance to be more creative and active in their search for the right career, and that is just as essential as the “required curriculum” when it comes to looking for a college or a job.

Workin' It

Typing their reports in honors English class, juniors Stephen Hardimon and Teresa Lo work to make the deadline. "Honors is one of my favorite classes because it challenges me," Hardimon said.

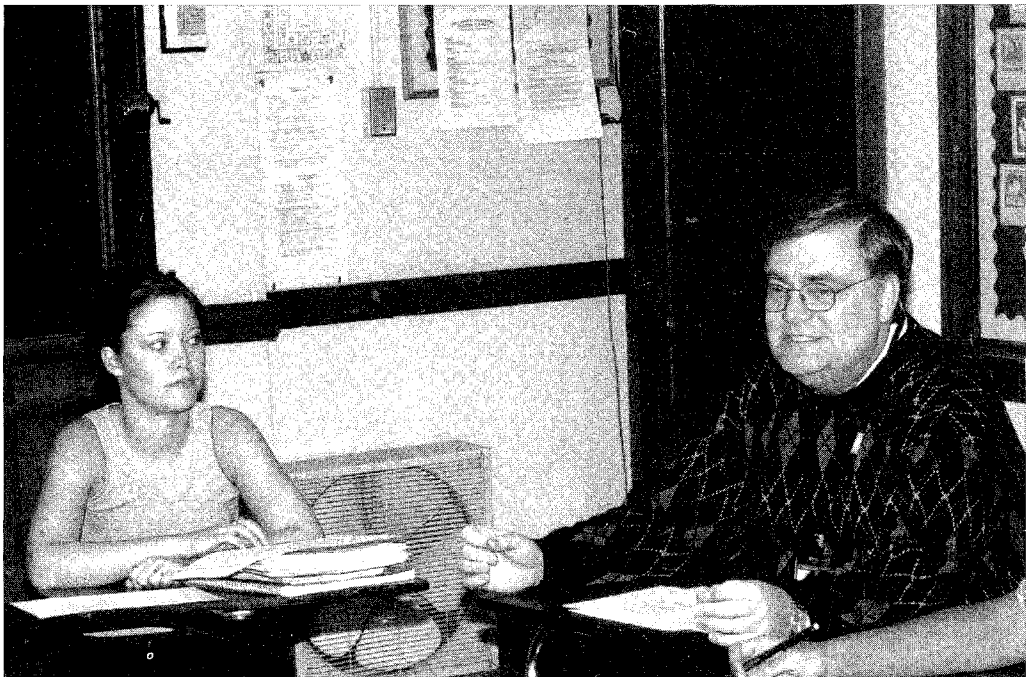

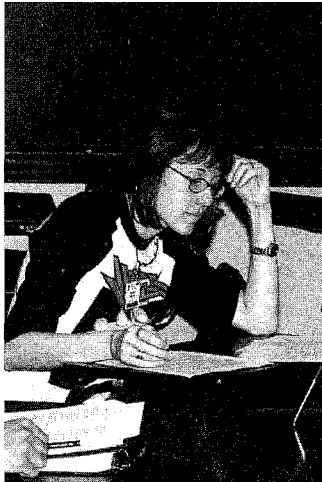

Proofreading

Looking over his work, junior Clinton Bobek revises and edits his English paper. "I like having my mom as a teacher because she makes learning fun," Bobek said.

Listen Up

Listening closely to Mr. White, senior Sarah Mitts participates in a class discussion. "I really enjoy our class discussions because everyone gets to share his or her own view on the topic," Mitts said.

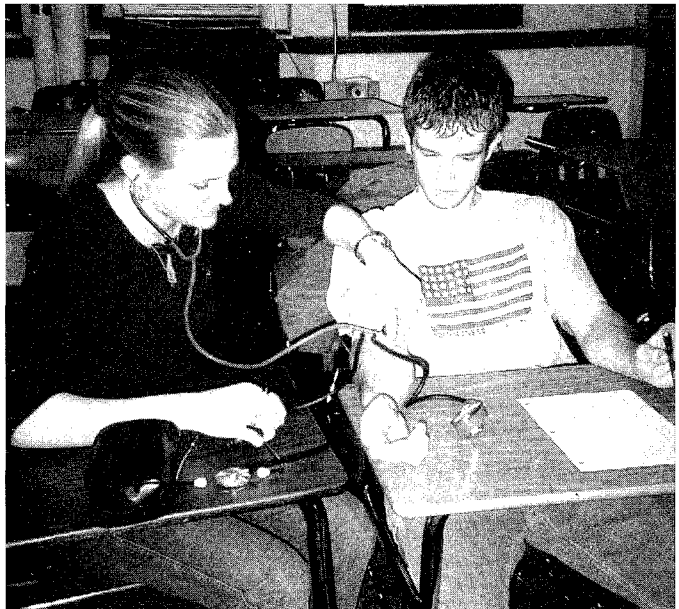

Thinkin'

Working intently on her English assignment, senior Rachel Barone thinks about what topic she should write on. "Mr. White makes our AP English class very interesting," Barone said.

Concentration

Concentrating on his paper, senior Nithin Chillal works hard while Mr. White lectures the class. "I try to keep focused on the topic but sometimes my mind wanders," Chillal said.

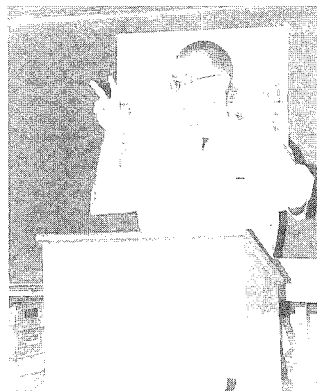

Dead or Alive?

Taking blood pressure during Seminar in Biology, seniors Summer Ott and Thomas Freedle practice playing doctor. "Taking blood pressure was fun and interesting," Freedle said.

Pay Attention

Preparing to give a presentation, junior Addie Allen gets the classes' attention. "I like honors English because it is more challenging than regular English," Allen said.

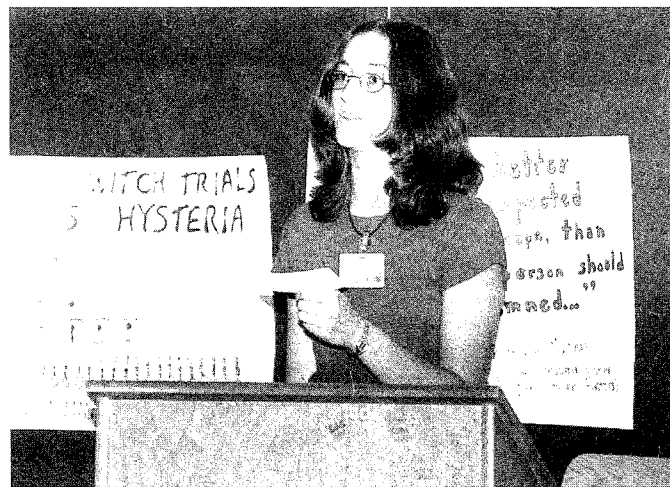

Sign Language

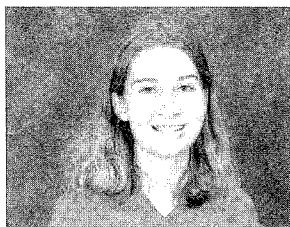

Using his hands to make a point, junior Blake Underwood keeps the class on edge. "I like giving speeches because I always get the center of attention," Underwood said.

Make a Statement

Emphasizing her point, junior Rebecca Bumgarner gives her presentation. "The Salem Witch Trials was my favorite section in Mrs. Handshumaker's class," Bumgarner said.

Why are you taking your current honors class?

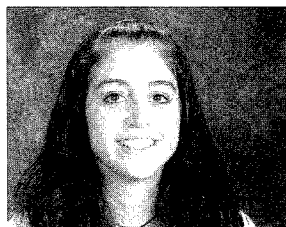

"I feel like I'm challenged more in an honors class."

Amanda Martin

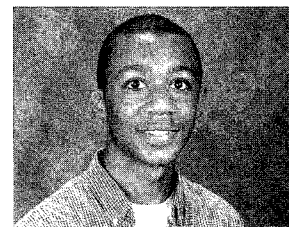

"I thought that Seminar in Biology would be a fun class, and it is."

Josh Shald

"I am taking Seminar in Biology because Mr. Staudt makes learning more fun than any other teacher."

Carmen Reese

"I'm taking Seminar in Biology because I like advanced science classes."

Many club goers think what they do with their clubs will be kept secret, but we have them....

Caught on Camera

Field Kindley has a variety of clubs. Ranging from animals to foreign countries, and even camp outs, there is a club for everyone. Some of the clubs are volunteer clubs that help the community, while others are for enjoyment and social activity. One thing almost every club has in common is fund raisers. Each club has to survive on their own.

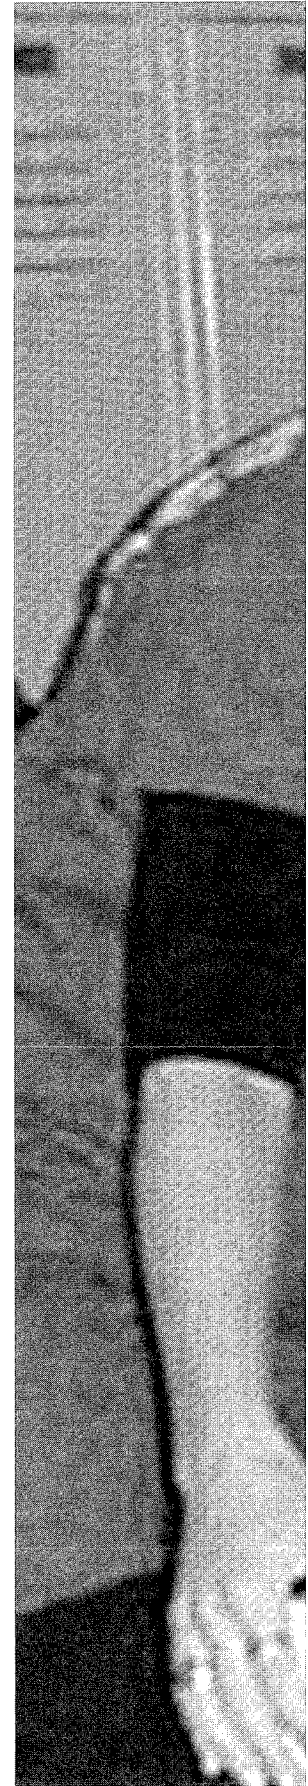

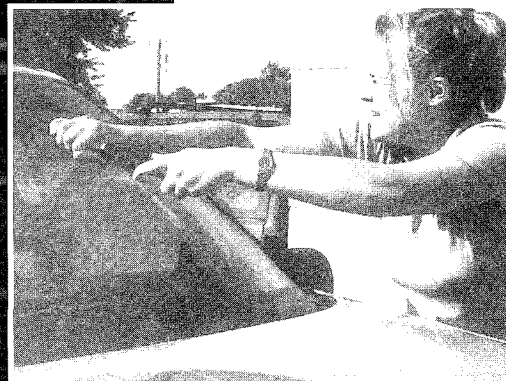

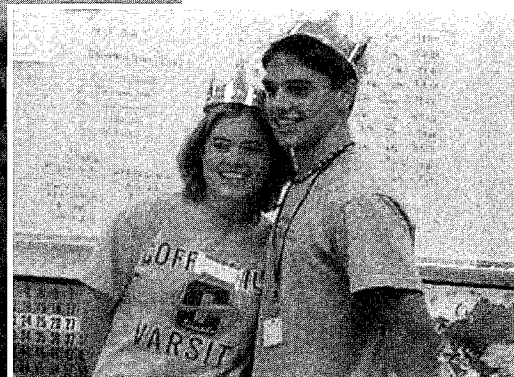

Doughnuts

Dishin' out the dough, senior Rachel Barone hands back change at one of the many infamous "donut breaks."

Helping out

Attention Please

Conducting the meeting, sponsor, Greg White grabs the attention of the club members. This is White's second year as Drama Club sponsor. Jenny Hutchins is the president of Drama Club this year.

Drama Club Meeting

Listening to their sponsor the Drama Club members go over the weekly agenda.

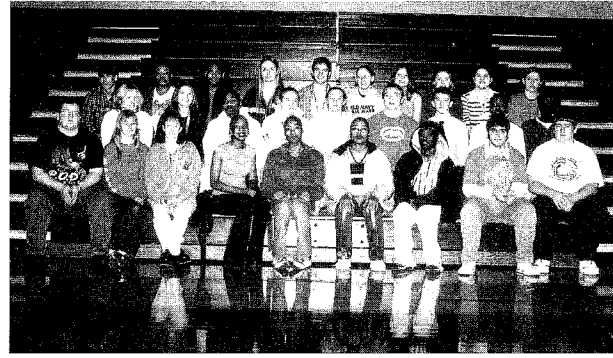

Hand in Hand

Performing in the spring play, senior Jennie Anderson and freshman Logan Loffer prepare for their big scene. "The most interesting part of drama club is being able to find your talent," Loffer said.

Lights, Camera, Action

Preparing for the spring play, senior Vidhya Reddy gets ready to perform. "More people complimented me on the makeup than they did on my acting and the play itself," Reddy said.

Just Chillin'

Saying cheese the members of the Drama Club pose for a picture at convention. "Convention was interesting because everybody had their own style and I didn't feel like a freak," Barone said.

Say Cheese!

Showing off for the camera, senior Siri Reddy and junior Rebecca Bumgarner pose for a picture. "We had a lot of fun at Drama Club convention," Reddy said.

Candid Camera

Taking a break, senior Richard Bell stops for a picture. "I enjoyed the trip because I seen a lot of different kinds of Art I've never encountered before," Bell said.

Little Brick Road

Walking down a trail, junior Tina Bishop and sophomore Jenna Powell enjoy their field trip. "The best part of the trip was when we almost got into the wreck in front of McDonalds," Bishop said.

Sittin' and Relaxin'

Cooling down, chaperone Shantele Taylor and sponsor Diane Humphrey relax by the pond. "The trip was very relaxing for me, it was nice to get away," Taylor said.

Say Cheese

Taking a minute to show his pearly whites, junior Sean Coen cheeses for the camera. "Art club is pretty cool, but the trip was boring," Coen said.

ART TRIP

While traveling to Tulsa to the Philbrook Museum, the Art Club took two separate vehicles to experience the nature of this beautiful place of exhibition. In touring this picture gallery, the Art Club came across many different types of work. This extended from children's art to professional representation. After this, the Art Club took a break and ate at Casa Bonita. Next stop was the Gilcrease Museum. This cultural institution consisted of mainly minority art work. Ranging from Native American forms to Mexican sculptures, Gilcrease gave the students a chance to take a look at what American's minority figures are capable of doing. These are the type of projects that the Art Club took on all year. Not only does Mrs. Humphrey try to teach the technicalities of art, but also show them the history and culture as well.

ART CLUB

An activity developed to help students use their creative side through expression of hands on work and an understanding of history.

Kodak Moment

Pausing for a pose, instructor Diane Humphrey and freshmen Rachel MacKenzie and Sierra Menzer smile for the camera. "I think the students learn a lot from our field trip," Humphrey said.

Breath of Fresh Air

Enjoying the view, freshmen Jenna Powell and Kara Males smell the fresh air. "The trip was very interesting and we had lots of fun, especially posing for pictures," Powell said.

Group Shot

Standing in a gazebo, the Art Club tries to capture the moment. "Art Club was a lot of fun," sophomore Sierra Menzer said.

This year, the athletes worked hard and played well, showing that they were nothing less than...

Hot Shots

As the year came to a close, not one student at FKHS could look back and say that the athletes and coaches of each sport did not give it their all to perform their best for the crowd and the school. There were heroes and heroines, replacements and substitutes, but the sports of Field Kindley were well represented by the players as well as the fans attending them.

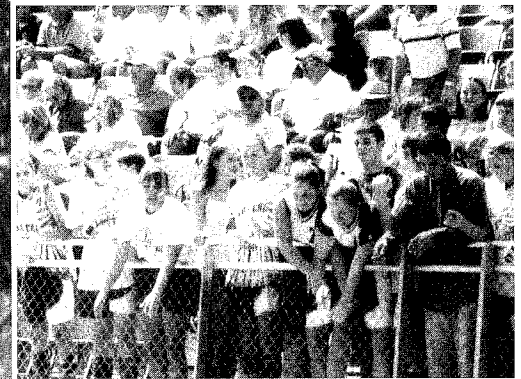

Taking Control

Speeding past the defenders, senior Jake McCullough looks for an opening. "There were some tough teams, but we were tough also," McCullough said.

Football Talk

Having a discussion with the referee, football Coach Rich Giesen watches his team perform. Giesen and the team had a successful year as a threat in the 4A division.

Take a Swing...
Showing her speed and strength, sophomore Callie Hurlbutt manages to catch up to the ball to send it back to her opponent. Hurlbutt's agility and her will to win led her to many victories throughout the year.

Need For Speed

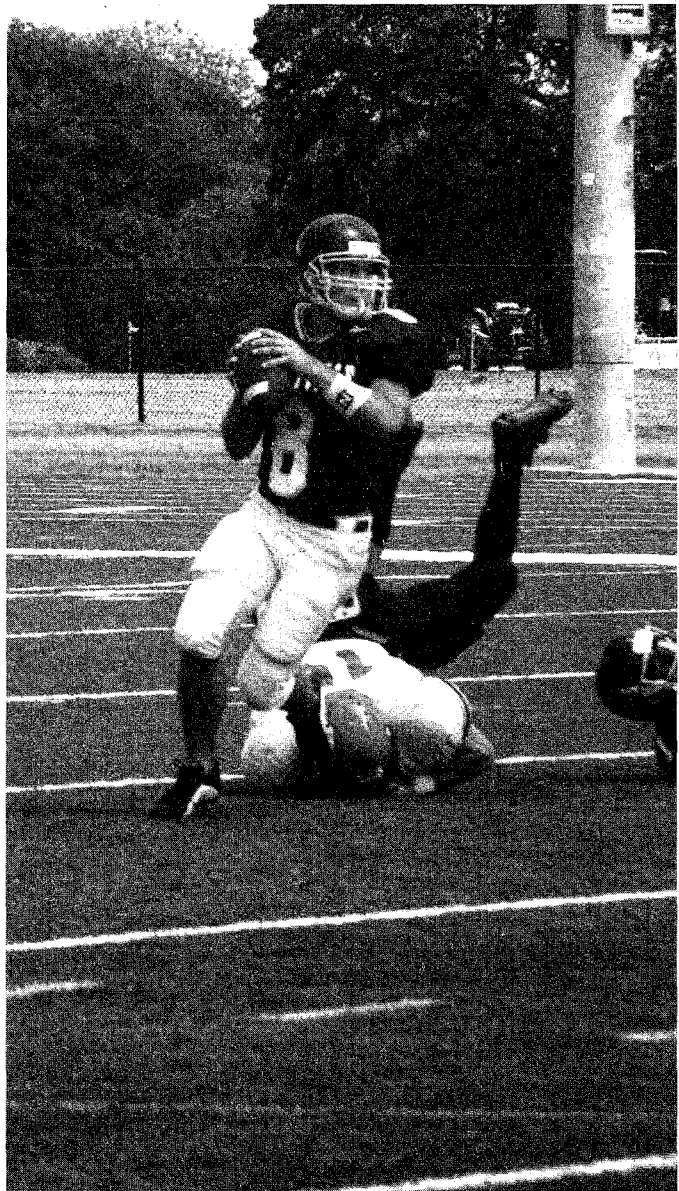

Scrambling from the defense, senior Luke Logan uses his speed to earn more time to make a completion. The Nado finished the season 8-3.

It's Good!

Kicking the ball, senior Jesse Logan attempts a field goal as senior Luke Logan assists him. "The seniors stepped up to lead the team to a winning season," Logan said.

Young Superstar

Focusing on the game, sophomore E.J. Stephenson looks on as time winds down. Stephenson replaced the injured Covington as running back during mid-season.

Walking It Off

Heading toward the sideline, junior Lance Morris walks away after a turnover. The Golden Tornado team defeated 5A Pittsburg 41-19 in the fifth game of the season. photo by Shelli Stanley

No Gain!

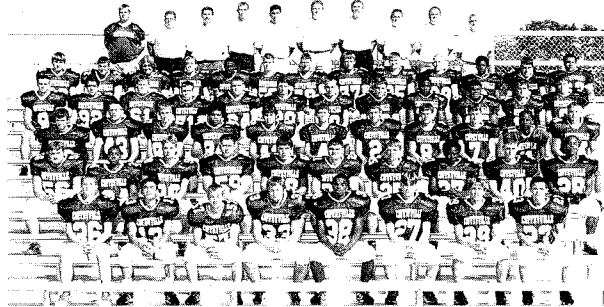

Stopping the running back, sophomore Mike Schmidt and senior Bobby Washington prevent the attempt for more yardage. "He ran into a brick wall," Schmidt said.

Huddle Up

Strutting after a play, senior Paul LaPota looks around before joining the huddle. "I was taking my time after hitting someone really hard," LaPota said.

First Down!

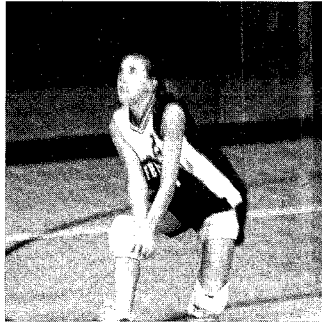

Taking a break, senior Dustin Bromley walks away after making a crucial first down catch. "Although we didn't win state, we had a great year," Bromley said.

Making The Play

Running strong, senior T.J. Covington dashes past the defense while senior Dirk Andrews helps with a block. "This year, it was much easier to find openings because the defense played well," Covington said.

Set It Up Staudt!

Setting the ball, senior Holly Staudt makes a good come back from last year. "It was a good feeling getting back on the court to set, since last year I was injured and wasn't able to," Staudt said.

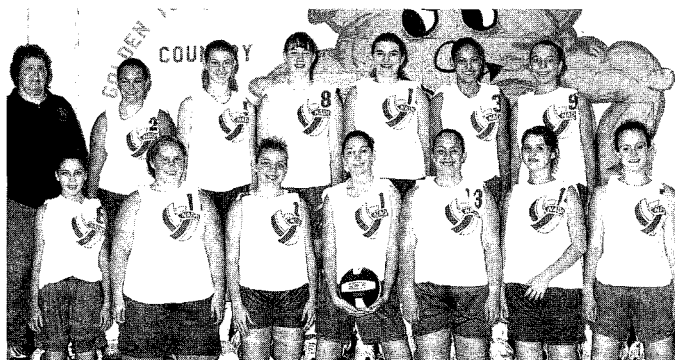

Diggin' It

Looking up, senior Shelli Stanley digs for the ball during a game against Labette. "We didn't have much success, but we all had a lot of fun," Stanley said.

Time Out

During a time out, Coach Rollings tells the girls to get in there and play tough. "We challenged every team and represented FKHS in a positive way," Rollings said.

Preparing to go out onto the field, senior David Oldham puts on the catcher's gear. "I think that catching is one of the harder positions to play," Oldham said.

Working up a sweat

Running around the bases, senior Chance Myatt slows down to catch his breath. "I have had fun playing with these people and I will miss them," Myatt said.

Grand Slam

Swinging hard, senior Chance Myatt tries to knock the ball out of the park. Myatt has played on the team for three years.

Doubles

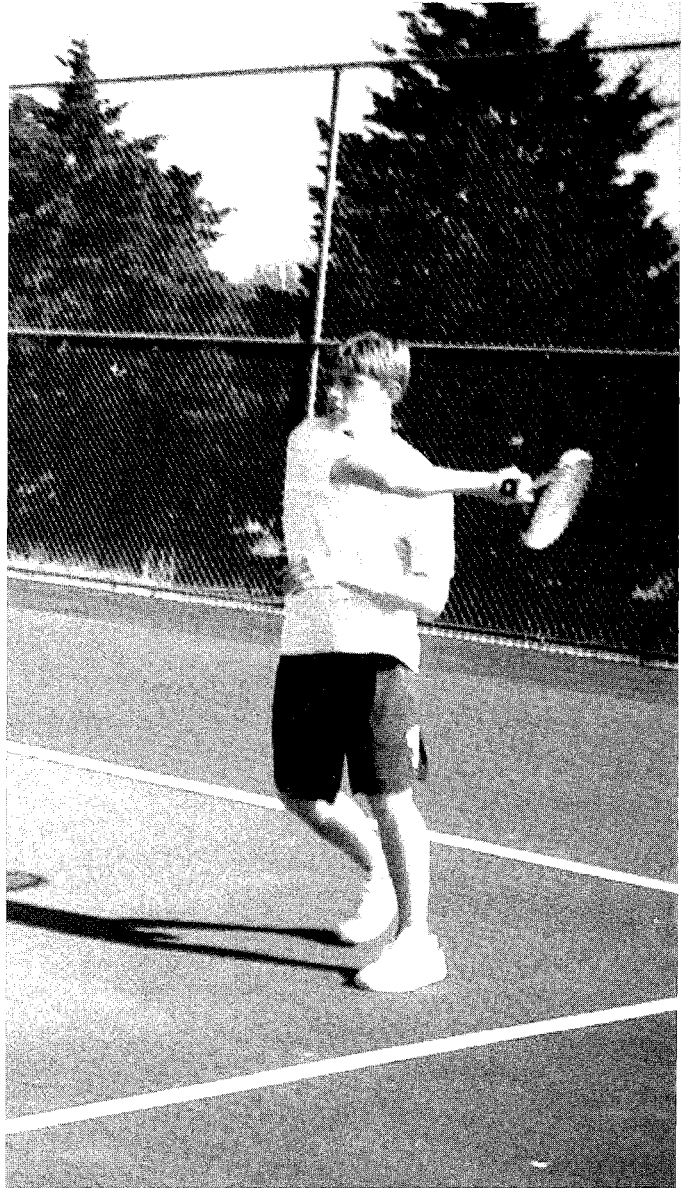

Hitting the ball, junior Chad Pugh slams it back across the net. "Arjun is a great doubles partner," Pugh said.

"Keith and I play tennis a lot at his house so we both decided to play at FKHS."

Bobby Larimore
•sophomore

Racquet

Serving the ball, sophomore Arjun Reddy knocks it over the net. "I had a great time playing this season," Reddy said.

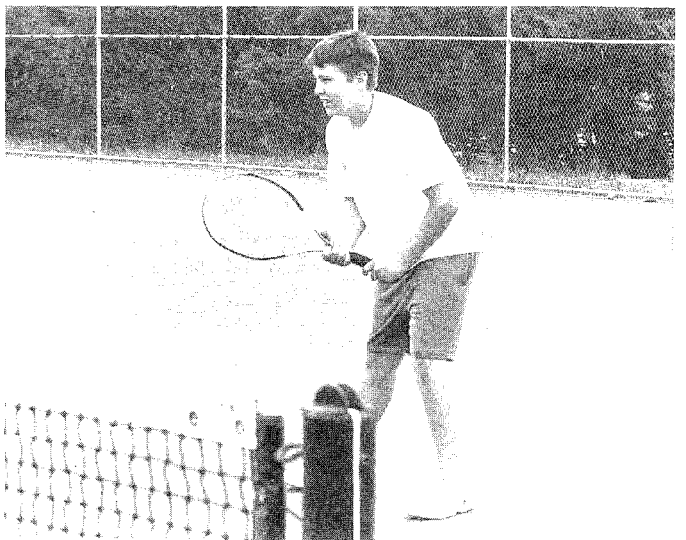

Hey Guys!

Relaxing after his match, senior Jonas Sommer sits back with some of his friends to watch the rest of the team compete. Sommer had a lot supporters rooting him on.

Defense

Waiting for the ball, freshman Shane Roeder gets set to receive the serve. "I can't wait until next season, hopefully I will have learned a few things," Roeder said.

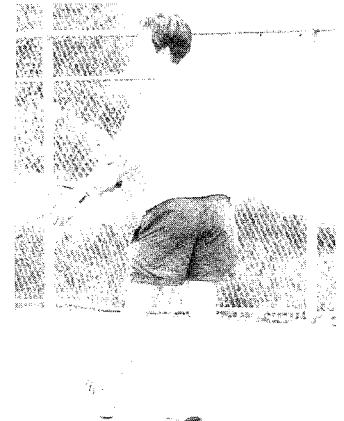

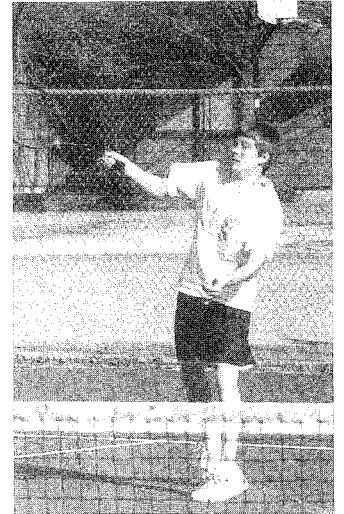

Boys' Tennis

Great form

Swinging his racquet, freshman Keith Wilson hits the ball. "I have tennis courts at home, so I play a lot," Wilson said.

Serve it up

Getting ready to serve, senior Jonas Sommer takes a deep breath before hitting the ball.

What do I do coach?

Getting some help from the coach, senior Jonas Sommer takes a little advice about the upcoming match. This was John Osborn's first year as head coach.

Finish it

Sprinting for the finish line, freshman Cory Hensley gives it all he's got. "We had a very successful season," Hensley said.

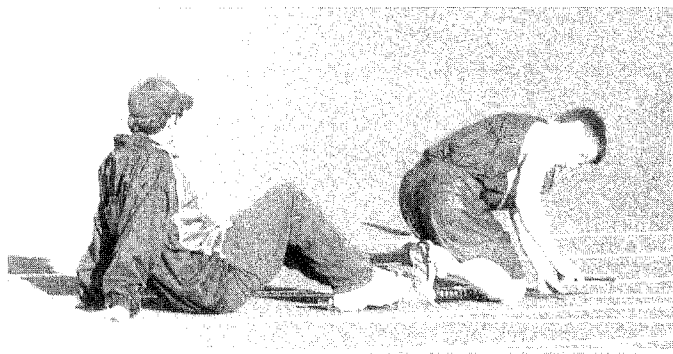

Resting

Taking a breather, freshman Fielding Brenner rests after his race. "I really enjoyed track this year, and can't wait until next season," Brenner said.

Faster

Rounding the last turn, senior Maurice Phenix and freshman Charles McFarland push to the finish.

Ready, Set, Go!

Getting ready to run, seniors Chance Myatt and Thomas Freedle set up the starting blocks. Even though Freedle was a senior, it was his first year to compete for the track team.

Field of Dreams

Resting between races, members of the track team relax before the next big race. "I really wish my injury had not happened so I could have been more of a help," junior Logan Moody said.

Boys' Track

Front row: Jake Gilfillan, Chris Eck, Ivan Mortero, Lalo Gomez, Lee Orms, Maurice Phenix., Second row: David Oldham, Nathan Morris, Alex Covickm Cory Hensley, Michael Horn, Mark Bell, Phillip Horn, Richard Bell, Chance Myatt, Chris Nowrouzi, Third row: Tramel Richardson, Logan Moody, Fielding Brenner, Jeremy Moore, Adam Rigdon, Dustin Thurman, Floyd Johnson, Dustin Jones, Levi McIntire, Matt Hurlbutt, Back row: Justin Jones, Matt Mitchell, Ronald Davis, Sean Coen, Troy Briggans, Ryan Schlofelt, T.J. Covington, Charles McFarland, Michael O'Connell, Paul Tracey

Showing off their award, seniors Chance Myatt, Maurice Phenix and freshman Fielding Brenner take pride in one of their many accomplishments.

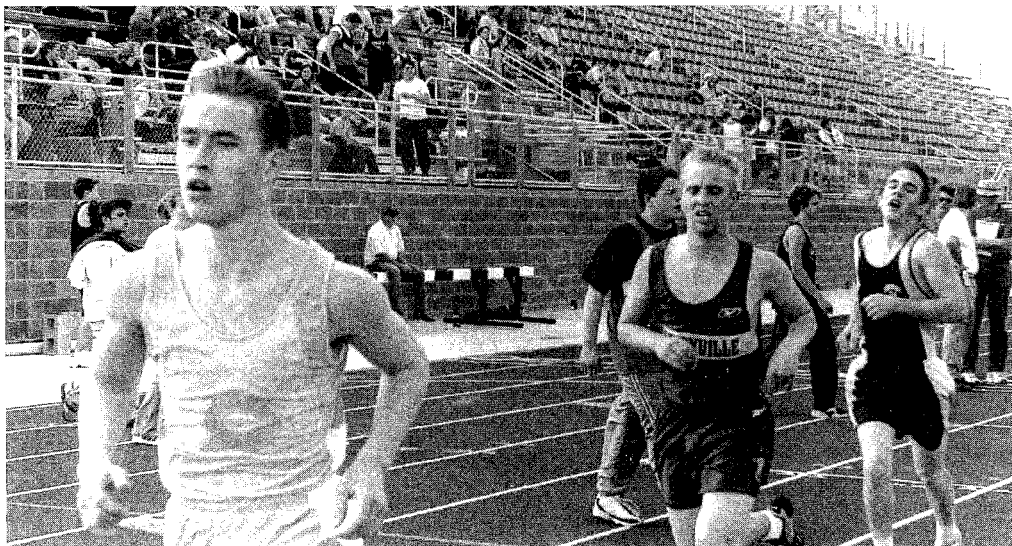

Go 'Til the Finish

Sprinting, freshman Troy Briggans goes full force to the finish line. Briggans was just one of the many freshman that gave their all for the boys' track team this season.

I am #1!!!

Breaking away from the other runners, freshman Ronald Davis runs the straight away for the victory. This is Davis' first year running for the F.K.H.S. track team.

Determination

Running, sophomore Chris Eck puts his heart and soul into the race. Eck was one of the many who competed on the J.V. track team this year.

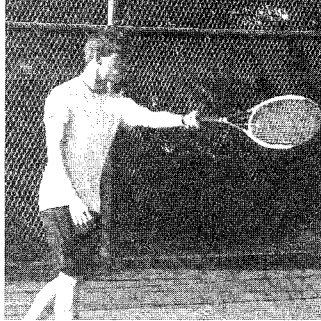

There She Goes

Running her heart out, sophomore Whitney Davis sprints to be the first one done during practice. "I like running track because you get in shape," Davis said.

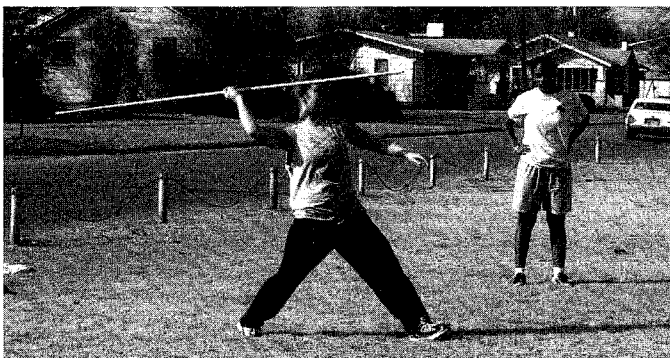

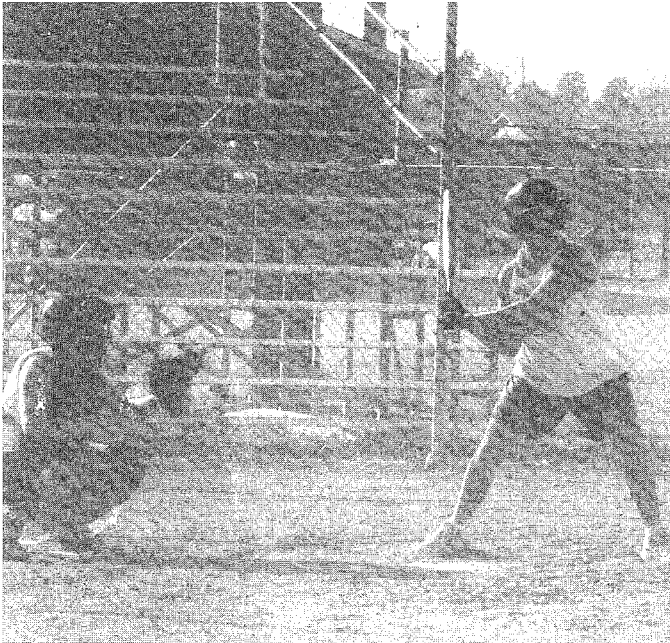

That Way

Working on his forehand during practice, junior Chad Pugh works up a sweat. "Tennis is very fun, and I enjoy it a lot," Pugh said.

Batter Up

Anticipating the ball, senior Amber Long waits for the right pitch. "I like playing softball because all my friends play softball too," Long said.

Muscle Woman

Preparing to throw the javelin, sophomore Janel Logan stands back and gets ready. "I like throwing the javelin because I don't have to run," Logan said.

Huddle Up

Getting ready to scrimmage, the soccer team has their pep talk before they begin to practice. This year was the first that F.K.H.S. has ever sponsored a soccer team.

Practice Makes Perfect

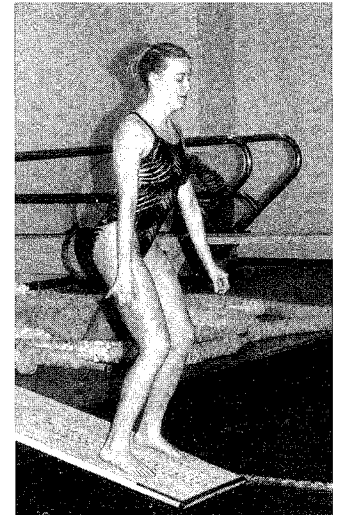

Some people may not be aware of just how much practice is essential to each and every sport. Whether you are the star quarterback, or the alternate for the 4 x 4 on the track team, practice is still the only way that every athlete can better themselves. Sports are a big part of F.K.H.S., and there are many participants who have earned themselves a name by partaking in the sport they have excelled in the most. However, none of the perks that come along with being a sports star would ever be possible, had these athletes not been through the obstacles, such as practice, that allow them to surpass the norm of athletic ability.

With this, we congratulate the contenders who gave their all and did not allow the pressures, trials, and tribulations that come along with each individual sport to slow down their path to success. Athletic ability is a component that not all human beings are born with. However, the ones who were granted this special characteristic, could not have improved without this repetitive action, that is otherwise known as....

PRACTICE.

Boing

Concentrating, senior Ashley Lawyer prepares for a dive. This is Lawyer's fourth year on the swim team.

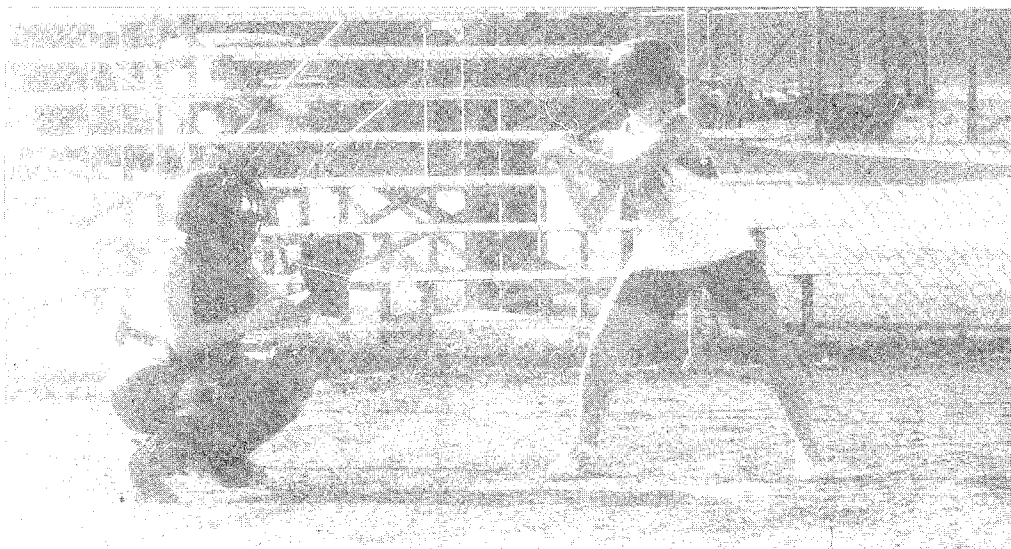

How High

Throwing the shotput, freshman Troy Briggans launches the ball into the air. "I enjoy track because it is fun," Briggans said.

Swing Away

Waiting patiently to hit the ball, freshman Trista Espe sits back and waits for the pitch during practice. "Softball is really fun but I am nervous because I am a freshman on varsity," Espe said.

Serve It Up

Concentrating immensely, freshman Shane Roeder practices his serve. "I like tennis because everybody gets the chance to be on Varsity and letter, and it is a very active sport," Roeder said.

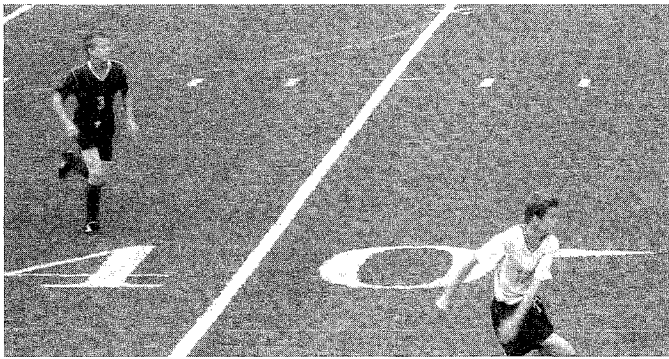

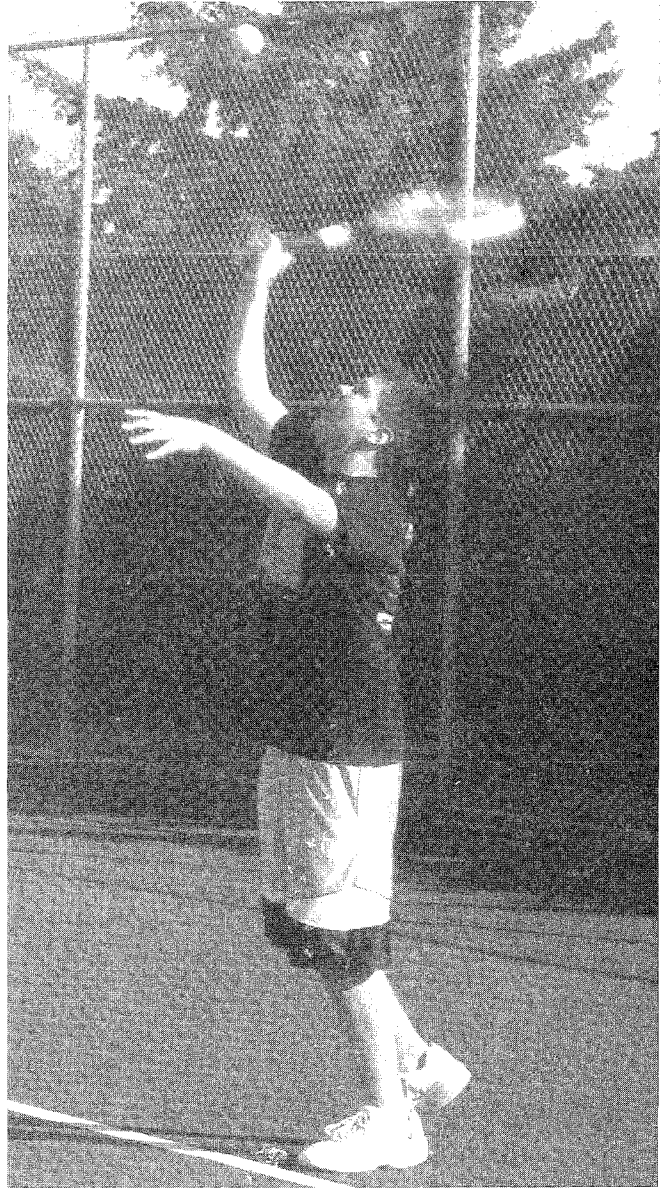

"Playing JV Volleyball was a great thing because it helped me learn a lot of mechanics, by practicing with the Varsity."

• Analeicia Alvidrez

Sophomore

Supporting the Team

Arriving after a JV Volleyball meet, Janel Logan and Jessica Sanders support the Nado Football team at the Stadium. "I like to go to all the Nado games," Logan said.

Kickin' It

Kicking the ball, freshman Jeremy Thompson catches his balance. "The season didn't get off to that great of a start, but by the end of the season it was worth it," Thompson said. photo by Tammy Thompson

No Hands Allowed

During purple and gold game, freshman Trevor Hensley blocks a kick from his opponent. "I was happy that I was able to play soccer during the school year," Hensley said.

TOUGH BEING NEW

Hanging Out

JV Basketball players, sophomores Jessica Sanders, Janel Logan, Michal Coffman, Andrea White, Darci Eveleigh, and Milissa Schmidt, take the time to hang out with each other the night before a big game. "Eventhough JV didn't have the BEST record, the team was a blast to hang out with," Eveleigh said.

Going All Out

The JV cheerleaders perform during halftime on the second night of the Interstate Classics. Their performance consisted of cheers, stunts, and dance, all with the help of the Varsity squad. Their performance lasted approximately five minutes.

First Year Initiation

Initiating the first year softball players, the seniors tape their lockers shut. "I was really late for school that day, and it took a long time to get open!" freshman Randilyn Nash said. photo by Sykes

Striking A Pose

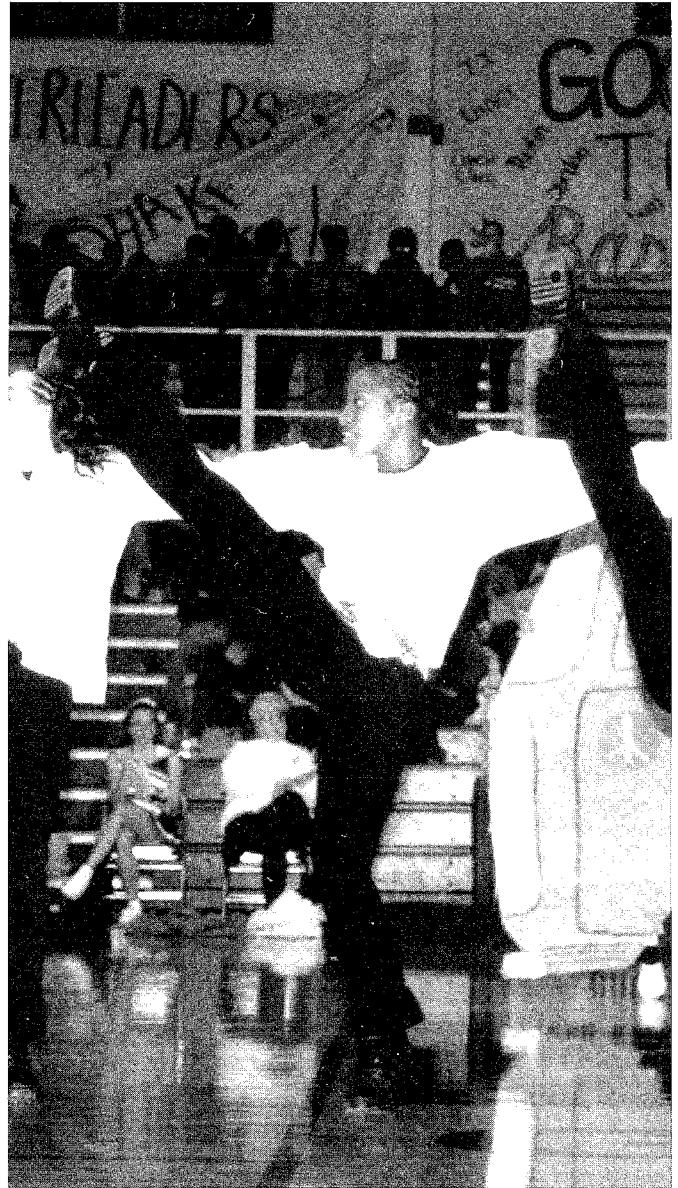

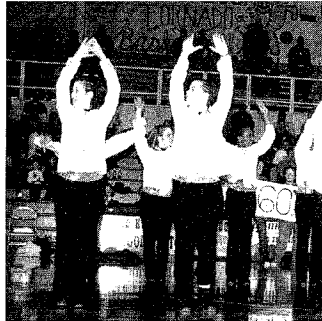

Showing off her '80s dancing skills, freshman Kathryn Lynn is caught busting a move. "I had a lot of fun during Interstate this year because I thought it was a lot of fun going through the decades," Lynn said.

Strike Three

During softball practice, freshman Trista Espe swings and whiffs during batting practice. "It takes hard work and dedication to make Varsity," Espe said.

Stretchin' It

Kickin' as high as her leg will go, freshman Kayla De La Cruz entertains the crowd. The girls used a decade theme.

Get 'Em Up

Raisin' the roof, seniors Jenny Hutchins and Stacy Lowrance throw their hands up during an Interstate routine.

Boogie Down

Shaking her tush, senior Ashley Lawyer leads the way at a basketball performance. Lawyer has been dancing for four years.

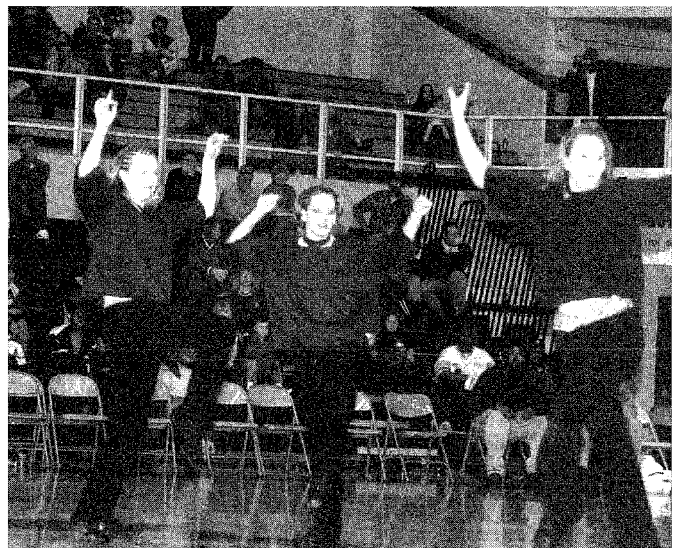

Line Dancing

Performing at Interstate, seniors Stacy Lowrance, Lisa Thompson, Kasey Neal, and junior Sarah Dean do an imitation of Riverdance. "Interstate was more fun than it was stressful this year," Thompson said.

Shakin' It Off

Struttin' their moves, sophomore Hannah Stallsmith, and freshmen Maria Barnes and Alex Davis do their part. "I thought Interstate was a lot of fun, but it took practice and hardwork," Barnes said.

Dance Team

Front Row: Jenny Hutchins, Ashley Lawyer, Lisa Thompson
 Second Row: Nicole Shobe, Sarah Dean
 Third Row: Stacy Lowrance, Kasey Neal
 Fourth Row: Maria Barnes, Andrea Ferguson, Hannah Stallsmith, Riva Jeter, Megan Hatridge, Brittney McCullough, Kathryn Lynn
 Fifth Row: Kayla De La Cruz, Alex Davis

Da Hook Up

Preparing for a kick, senior Kasey Neal and sophomore Hannah Stallsmith lock arms. "I feel we accomplished a lot more than we have in the past," Neal said.

"What happened?"

Looking stunned and worn out, freshman Alex Davis pauses after a long and stressful routine. This was Davis's first Interstate performance.

Swaying To The Music

Dancing into a tight knit formation, the girls get ready to shake it in their finale. "The worst part about Interstate was all of the early morning practices, but I had a lot of fun getting ready," said sophomore Kathryn Lynn.

Fill 'Er Up

Filling up the bottles, senior Rachel Barone makes sure the athletes stay hydrated. "I don't mind being a manager. "I don't mind being a manager, it's not all that hard," Barone said.

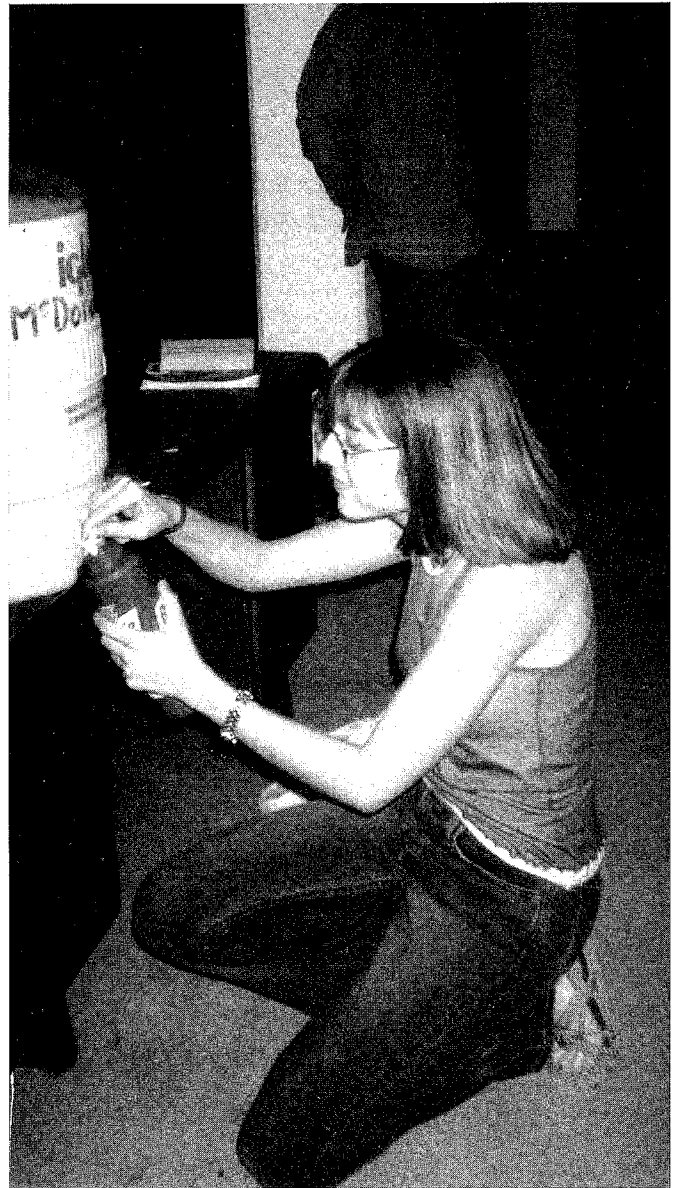

The Water Boy

Waiting in anticipation, senior Dustin Robson keeps a close eye on the players. "You have to take this job seriously and be ready for anything," Robson said.

Hold Still

Taping up, senior Billy Fletcher's ankle, sophomore Chris Eck pays close attention to the athletes. "Being a manager is fun because the guys depend on us," Eck said.

Don't Drown

Talking to the swimmers, senior Siri Reddy discusses the tactics of managing swimming. "I like swim season but I look forward to helping the guys also," Reddy said.

WOW!

Sitting in awe, senior Michelle Smith cheers her girls on. "I liked being a manager for the volleyball team, because I was around a lot of my friends," Smith said.

Behind the Scenes!!!

In every sport, there are people who are just as valuable off the court as the people who actually participate in the game. These people are the trainers and managers. Without the trainers, there would be no one to wrap ankles or help work out a cramped muscle. Without the managers, there would be no one to keep the score book or tape that winning game. With this, the Yearbook group would like to give a thanks to all the trainers and managers who have dedicated their time as well as effort to helping make the F.K.H.S. sports department a better place for everyone.

"I don't mind being a manager at all. It's something to do after school and I get to watch all the games for free."

• Senior
Dustin Robson

"It's not really as hard as it may seem. It does get hot outside during the football games but other than that, just keep water in the bottles and that's about it."

• Senior
Kelly Shue

"I like being a manager because I like being around sports. It gets boring at times but in the long run, it's all worth it."

• Sophomore
Chris Eck

Cuff and a Crease

Looking like bodyguards, head trainer Brent Henderson and sophomore Chris Eck watch from the floor. At almost all sporting events you can find these two making sure everything goes smoothly.

SSSSwing

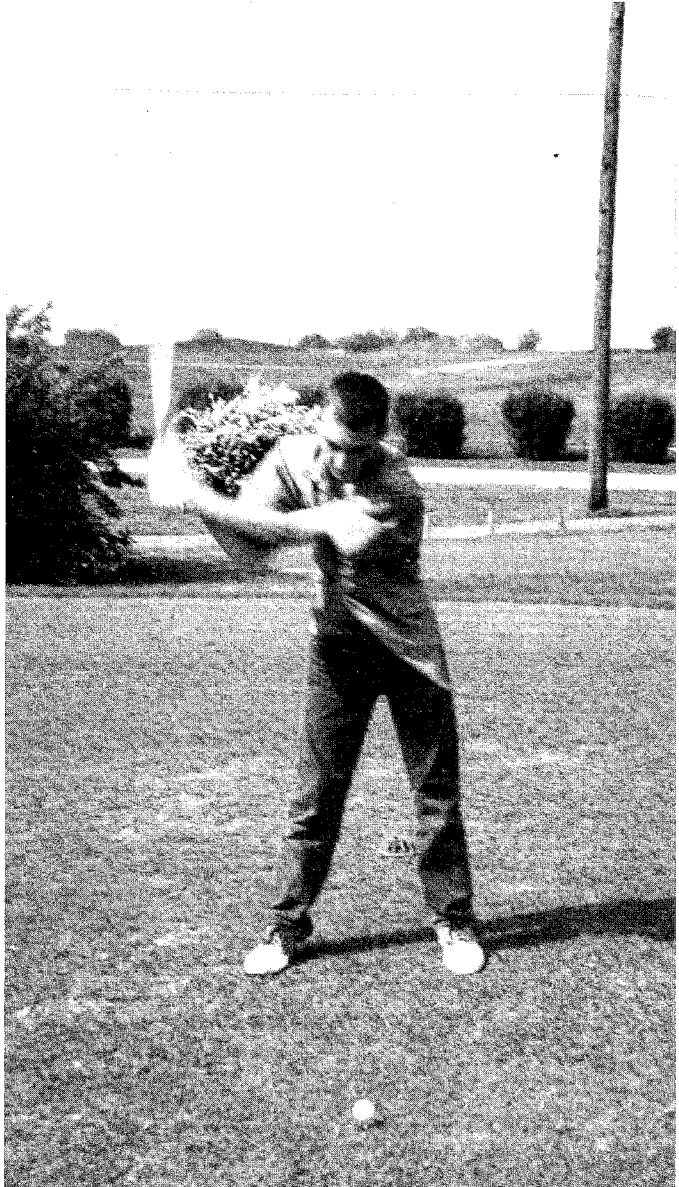

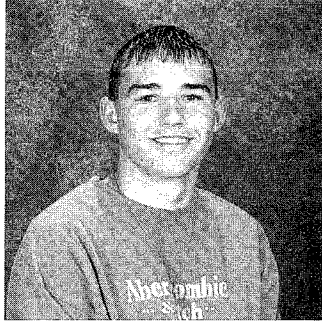

Working his way through the course, sophomore Tyler Northup plays on to the next hole. "I learned a lot about golf that I didn't know before," Northup said.

"It was a lot of fun having a coach that actually knew what he was doing."

Jaryd McCullough
•freshman

Four!!!!

Golfing it up, senior Jake McCullough keeps in shape. This has been his fourth year on the team as well as state bound.

Sssshhhh
Swinging his club, freshman Logan Bustos perfects his stride and follow through. Bustos is one of the three freshmen on the team this year.

Concentration
Teeing off, sophomore Justin Watts plays his par. "We should have gone to state this year," Watts said.

~~~~~Golf~~~~~

To some golf is a sport that is considered to be of low craft. It seems as if it is easy enough to be played at anyone's leisure. However, ask any of the participants who joined the golf team this year, and they will tell you differently. Consisting of seven male players and one female player, the F.K.H.S. golf team has overcome many obstacles over the years, and although it is not a sport of huge popularity in the Coffeyville High School, to those who partake in the sport think it is one of high merit. Ask sophomore Darci Eveleigh, who has been the only girl to join the team for the past two years, how she prides her team. All the same, one could ask senior Jake McCullough, who has been the only one to take part in the golf team for all four years of his high school career at Field Kindley. To these people golf is more than just an afternoon activity, instead it is a possible goal for the future.

"I had a lot of fun during golf season this year. I was the only girl on the team again but it's fine I kinda like hanging out with all of the guys."

Like a Pretzel

Wrestling a teammate from Chanute, junior Bobby Tracy gets ready to throw the smack down on the mat. "I can't wait until next year when we really show them what we're made of," Tracy said.

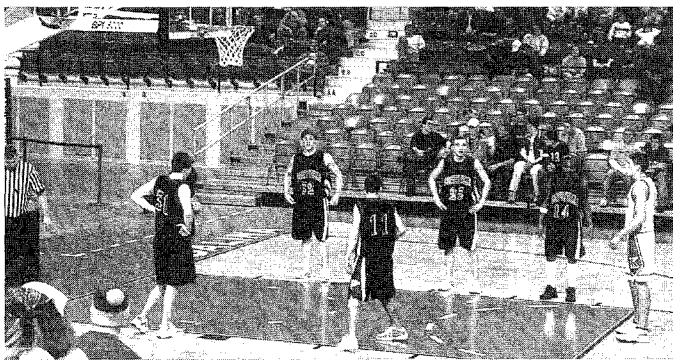

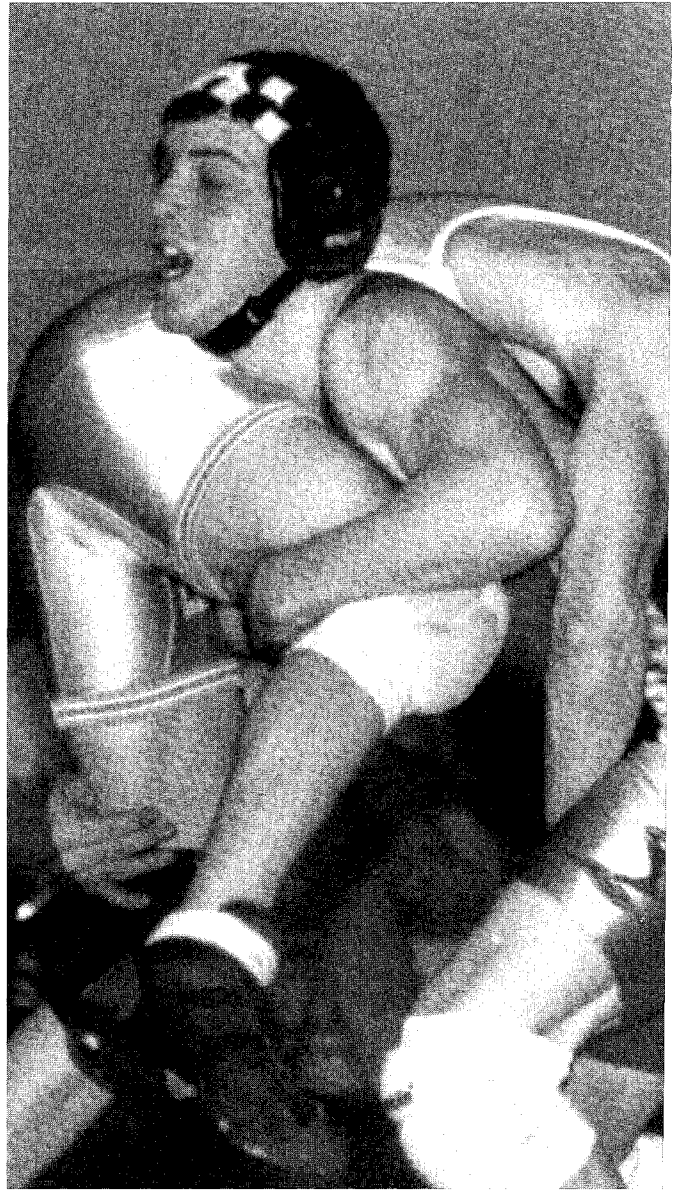

Great Form

Looking for an open man in the Pittsburg game, senior Jesse Logan says, "I was really proud of how we played as a team this year. We had lots of fun."

On the Winner's Block!

Standing on the winner's blocks, junior Earl Jones represents FKHS. "I will never forget how hard we worked these last few years," Jones said.

Rebound Boys

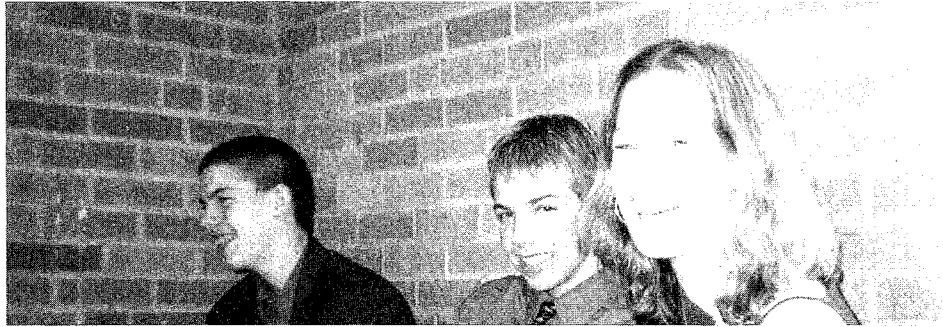

Standing on the court at Salina, the basketball team waits to catch the rebound. The boys played a good game this year and will miss their outgoing seniors.

Game Time

Getting ready to take on Hickman at Salina for a state championship, the FKHS boys basketball team huddles around coach Wall.

STATE!!!!!!!

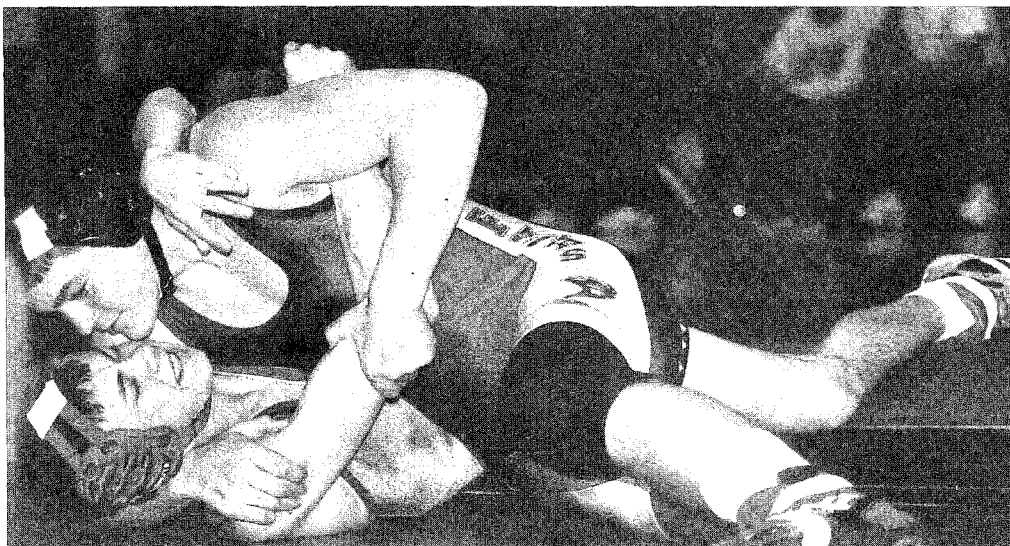

Having Fun

Showing how much fun they are having, junior Josh Shald and senior Katie Tipton smile for the camera. "I had a lot of fun at State Debate my senior year, Josh and I had fun hanging out," Tipton said.

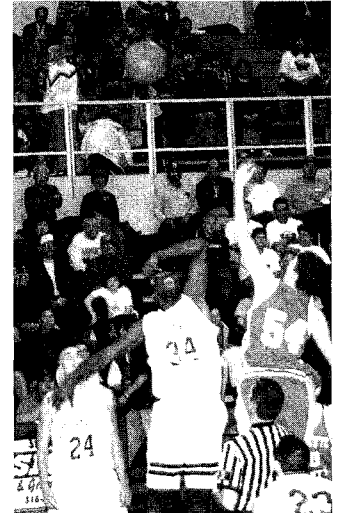

Number One!!

Showing their excitement at the State Wrestling Tournament, juniors Earl Jones and Bobby Tracy show the camera what number they really are. "We were really pumped up at state, but afterwards we were very tired. Working so hard to do good at something so important is hard on your body. We did a good job of coming mentally prepared. The rest of the team and I are excited to compete for the rest of high school years," Tracy said.

Get the Ball

Jumping for the ball at the beginning of the Labette game, senior T.J. Covington tries to pass to his teammates. "Sub state was fun, especially since we beat everyone," Covington said.

Smile for the Camera

Holding the plaque they won from the State Debate Tournament, seniors Vidhya Reddy and Siri Reddy smile for the camera. "We were so excited to win State our Senior year," Siri Reddy said.

Go Earl!!

Working his heart out, junior Earl Jones wrestles at the State Championship. "I was so happy to win State again, but there is always room for improvement," Jones said.

Faculty & Staff

What can we say about our F.K.H.S. faculty?! Some of you will be missed, some thought fondly of, and some, you know who you are, won't be thought of at all. You have done your jobs well, you have helped mold us into fine young adults, and because of this, some of us will be leaving, and some, preparing for the next level of high school. By far, the F.K.H.S. faculty are a blue ribbon group of educators. Some of you have left lasting impressions on our lives, and we will hold all these memories near and dear to us.

Talking It Out

Art is Fun!!!

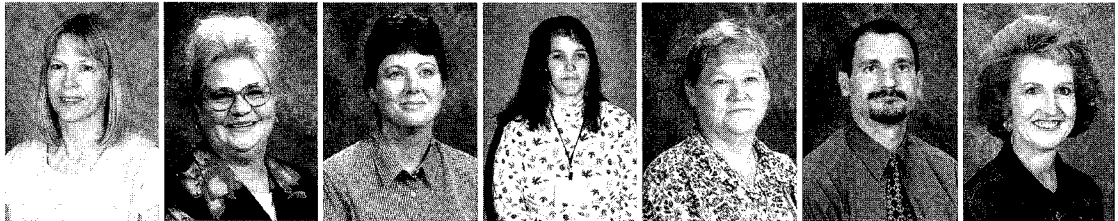

Teaching her class a new art method, Diane Humphrey shows them just how to do it.

The freshmen have arrived as virgins to F.K.H.S. Some come with fears and others anticipation. Through high school they watch themselves as well as friends mature and grow up. They start out as freshmen but will end up young adults. In the beginning they hear that they are not ready for the real world, but in time will find themselves asking if the world is ready for them.

Congratulations sophomores, you have survived your second year of high school. You are now considered upper classmen. Those two years went by so fast, and so will the next two. The more you grow up and the further you go in life, you will start to have more priorities. Kids want to grow up so fast, but adults want to be young again, so have fun while you can. High school is suppose to be the time of your life, so make sure it is. However, remember that first things first.

Class of 2004

C lass of 2003

You are finally at the top of the food chain. Now you can officially say you help run this school. By turning into a senior, there are some important things to think about. Setting a good example, picking a college, and most importantly, hitting the books. Your senior year should sum up all the years you've spent at E.K.H.S, but it should also be a memorable one. Don't just be another face in the hall. Accomplish your goals and be somebody.

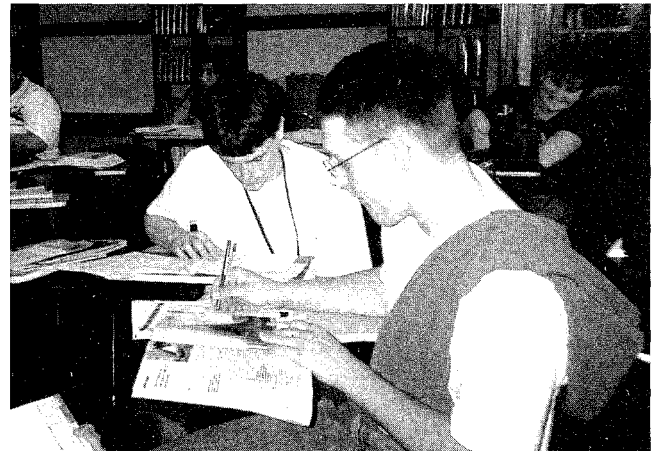

Chilln'

Graduation Time

It seems like only yesterday, you we're born to mom and me.
Two had already come, but I was still proud as I could be.
As I held you in my arms, and rocked you in the chair.
You were to be our youngest, of the three our lives would share.
You were pretty like your sister, when you wanted to be. Yet a tom boy like your brother, was more like Ashley Lee.
You've always loved the animals, God has shared with you. Especially a horse called Barndoor, I think he loves you too.
Round the barrels you go, to State four times you've went. And school you've done quite well, Madam President.
School is almost over, Graduation is almost here. Hold on to all your memories, as those days disappear.
Always let Jesus guide you, and direct the way you go. And remember how much we love you, this you already know.

Love You,
Mom, Dad, Travis and Rickenia

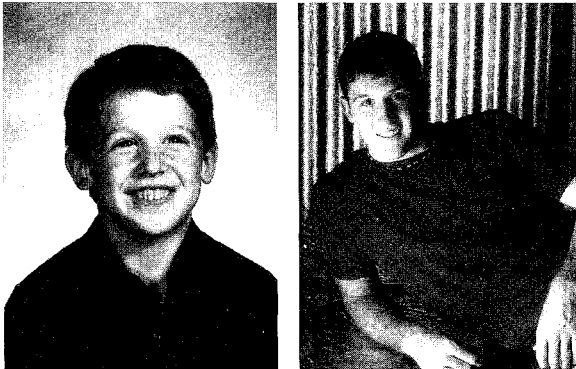

Ashley Lee

Discipline is the whole key to being successful. We all get 24 hours each day. That's the only fair thing; it's the only thing that's equal. What we do with those hours is up to us.

We know you'll be successful in life!
We love you - Dad, Mother & Callie

CONGRATULATIONS!

Empty nest

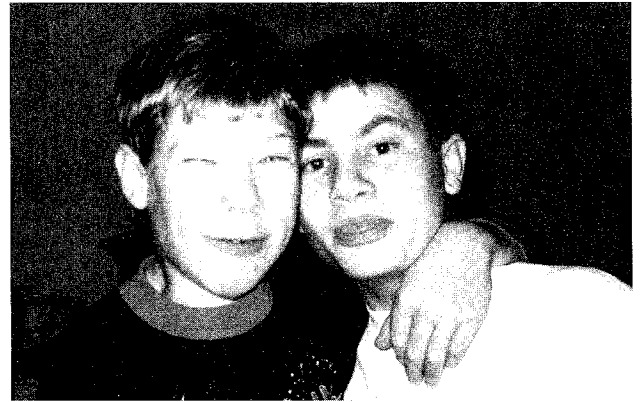

It was a day I knew would come, my little boy, a man, my son. It's not something I can escape, holding back what I helped shape. The hands of time have moved too fast, Seeds of adulthood have been cast. And yet, this is the way that it should be, Growing, learning, leaving home...and me. I wouldn't want it any other way, But just a little longer, let him stay! Here I sit surrounded on the floor, Photos, momentos and so much more. A bag of little blond curls, This photograph with you and your favorite girl. Here is the baseball card you worked so hard to get and the autograph you will never forget. The teddy bear sits lonely in the corner, no more stories like little Jack Horner. Well now, here you are ready to go, Remember how much I love you so. Good luck in the ensuing journey. Embrace the new things you will be learning. I will eagerly await your visit, you will talk and I will listen. You'll tell me of your very own place, How you need furniture to fill the space. And, without even taking a single pause, Describe bachelorhood as your new cause. Here on the table is your favorite meal, sure beats that McDonald's deal! Now, backing out of the driveway, that was the extent of our visit today. I am so proud of what you've become, My little boy, a man, my son.

From dirty face to dirty butt, crawling to walking, babbling to conversation, crying to laughing, we have watched in awe the miracle of you achieving adulthood. We have watched in fear, frustration, love, and pride, as you have become a fine young man. We wait with bated breath the continuation of the miracle of the rest of your life.

Love,

Stephanie,

Once upon a time you were our funny peanut butter & Jelly face...

The angel-girl we fell in love with, who we could've held and hugged forever, who grew up much too fast...

Little miss do-your-own-thing, who sort of just knew what you wanted the day you were born...

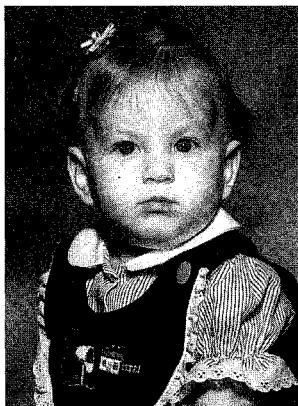

Our beautiful, dreamer, daughter, always wise beyond your years, who worries us one day & inspires us the next...

It's never been ordinary, but it's always been wonderful, & today and always we're so proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Stephanie Sykes

To a daughter who grows more graceful and beautiful with each passing day. We love you and are so proud of you. Live each day to the fullest and always reach for the stars.

Some People

Some people come into our lives and quickly go, like waves briefly touching the shore. Some people stay for awhile, and give us a deeper understanding of what is truly important in this life. They touch our souls. We gain strength from the footprints they have left on our hearts and we will never ever be the same.

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Jennifer Hutchins

May you always have faith to believe in yourself-
 To continue each journey you start,
 To face each new pathway determined to travel with courage and hope in your heart.
 To believe in the dreams that are special to you,
 in your courage to follow wherever they lead.
 To believe in the strength of love and in all that is yet to be.
 But most of all, believe in your power to make them all come true!
 I'm so proud of you and all that you have accomplished.

Love Mom and Family

Jennifer,

I want to congratulate you on your graduation! You have always been very determined. May you continue to succeed in all of your endeavors. I could not be more proud of you and I love you very much!

Your Dad

Senior Mosts...

Each year, the Yearbook class asks the entire school to participate in a poll for Senior Mosts. This page voices the opinions of the F.K.H.S. students on who they thought were the best dressed to who they voted for most athletic. Congratulations to all the seniors who earned their title as a Senior Mosts candidate.

First I knew the love of my mother and father, it is so good.

Second I knew the love of God, It is so good.

Third I knew the love of my husband, It is so good.

Then I knew the most incredible love that is so not worthy of words, the love of a child.

Jason Halliburton was the baby, the child, young man, and now growing into a great man. I am so proud of our son in every way, Now not only the grandest love of our son, also the cherished love of mine for my son. I can not only love him as a son, but now as wonderful friend to trust and depend on. I love my son Jason. He is the greatest.

Your family who loves you,
Mary, Gary and Brandi Halliburton

Take a picture, it'll last longer

Details:

The 65th volume of Field Kindley High School's Twister yearbook was printed by Jostens Publishing and Printing Divisions in Topeka, Ks. The Take a picture, it'll last longer theme was chosen by the Twister staff. The litho cover was designed by staff along with Jostens representatives. Body copy and headlines varied with each section, while all captions were eight point Palatino with caption titles in ten point Palatino. The 2001-2002 Twister was designed in the FKHS journalism room using Pagemaker 5.0. Photographs were taken by staff photographers and developed in the school darkroom. All team photos were taken by Doyal's Studio, and mug shots were provided by Lifetouch. Each Twister yearbook was sold for $35. The cost of the book was paid for by book sales and advertising.
