In Memoriam

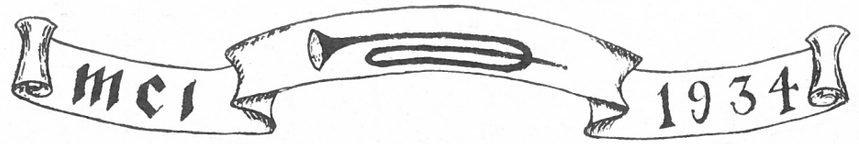

CEDRIC CHAFFIN

Great sorrow fell upon our class when Death with its grim shadow blotted out the life of our classmate.

"His sun was just beginning to shine and the pale shadow of Death eclipsed it at noon."

He was dear to us all for Cedric was loyal to the best he knew.

Reality or dream
Singly or with the team
He ran the race and fought the fight
Until the goal was seen.

CLASS OFFICERS AND ADVISER

RALPH SMITH

MEREDITH THOMPSON

AVON HERSEY

ZENA LEE

MYRTLE M. SHERMAN

RALPH SMITH "Smitty"
Exeter, Maine

Football (2), (3), (4); Captain (4); Track (2), (3), (4); Captain (3), (4); "M" Club (2), (3), (4); Class President (4); Manson Prize Speaking (3)

Although "Smitty" has spent much of his time for our class and athletics, he spent some with that little brunette from Thorndike. Best of luck "Smitty."

MEREDITH THOMPSON "Red"
Pittsfield, Maine

Honor Roll (2), (3); Vice President (4)

"Red" has won her place in the hearts of many, for it is her cheery smile and pleasant voice that dissolves others' tears. Here's wishing you the best of luck in nursing school.

AVON HERSEY "Avon"
Pittsfield, Maine

Football; "M" Club; Honor Roll; Class President (1); Class Treasurer (4); National Honor Society

Avon is one of the most popular boys in school. His readiness to help everyone, and his dependability will stamp him as a valuable member in any society with which he comes in contact. Best of luck, Avon.

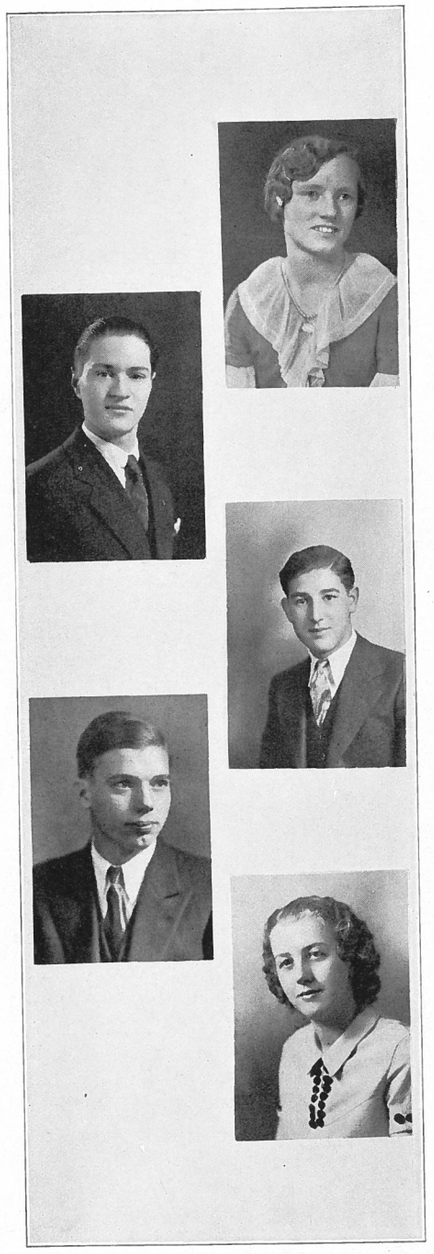

ZENA LEE
Pittsfield, Maine

Class Secretary (4); Honor Roll; Manson Prize Speaking (3)

Zena is a quiet, efficient girl who has always worked faithfully for M. C. I. If all rumors are true, she is domestic as well as studious. Just keep on working, Zena, and you'll achieve success!

MYRTLE M. SHERMAN

As a class we wish to extend to you our sincere appreciation for your ever-faithfulness, for your untiring efforts to make successful all our undertakings, and above all for your kindly friendship and thoughtful counsel to each member of the Class of 1934.

AFTON AMES "Afton"
Pittsfield, Maine

There is one thing that we know about Afton: her favorite study is bookkeeping. Wherever you see her, you will see her bookkeeping book. We do not know what you are planning to do, but whatever it is, we wish you luck.

ALTON AMES
Pittsfield, Maine

Alton is a quiet, calm, earnest worker. He has been with us four years, and during that time has made many friends.

BERNARD ARNO "Bernie"
Newport, Maine

Football (4); "M" Club (4)

We who have played with "Bernie" on the football field can appreciate his fighting qualities. We feel sure that he will fight his way through life and gain his goal.

NORMAN BICKFORD "Norm"
Pittsfield, Maine

Alumni Prize Speaking (2)
Munson Prize Speaking (3); Honor Roll (2)

Here's to the chief property-man for the Senior Play, the Big Business Man of the Depression Year, who operates a profitable, free taxi-service (?). Best o' luck from '34.

PEARL BLAKE "Puddle"
Pittsfield, Maine

Pearl is quiet and remains a mystery to many of us. We hear that she has studied Home Economics quite thoroughly, but we know that a certain saxaphone will not help her to keep house. Our wishes for "good luck" go with you.

NORMA BOSTON "Norm"
Palmyra, Maine

Girl Reserves (2)

Norma is a hard-working student, and always ready for the next difficult task. It is safe to say that when opportunity comes her way she will make the best of it.

MARGARET BROWN "Mag"
Vassalboro, Maine

Girl Reserves (1), (2), (3), (4); Junior Class Treasurer

Although you have been quite reserved all four years, you surely have proved a sincere friend to many. Vassalboro is a nice town when "Mag" is hostess. Best of luck, in future years, even though you may live on an island.

MARION BURSE "Grammie"
Pittsfield, Maine

Marion has been with us for four years, and has proved to be a credit to herself and M. C. I. She spoke for Freshman prize-speaking and what would we do without her in our plays? Keep it up, Marion, and some day you'll be taking Marie Dressler's place, but don't forget to cheer for M. C. I.

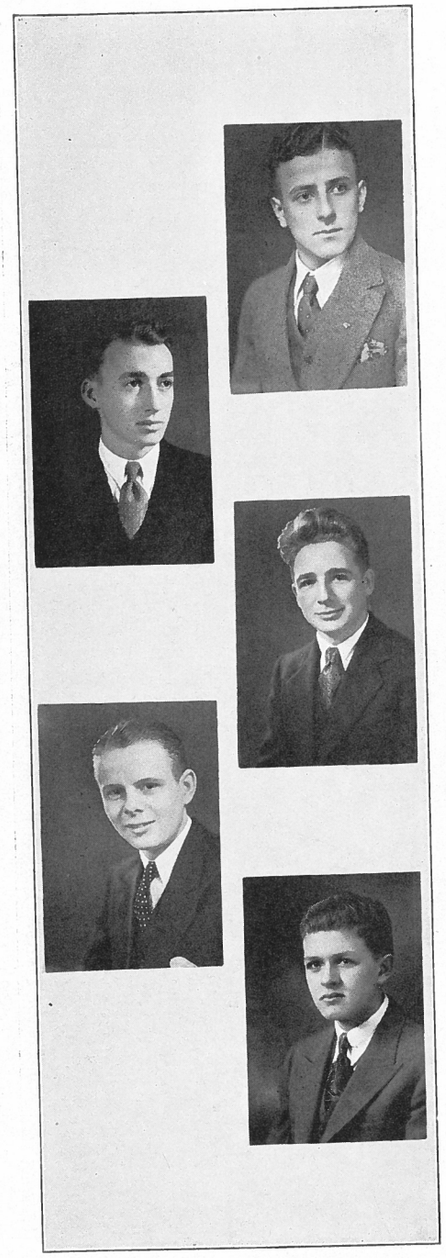

HELEN CARVELL "Pat"
Pittsfield, Maine

We have enjoyed having you as our classmate and we think by the friends you have made that you must have enjoyed being with us. We'll always remember your sunny smile. Sincere wishes from the class of '34.

SELWYN CHAFFIN "Red"
Pittsfield, Maine

"Red" always was a hilarious fellow during study hours, but we think some day he will turn over a new leaf and settle down. May that sunny smile and good disposition follow you through life!

DOMINICK CIANCHETTE "Domino"
Pittsfield, Maine

Honor Roll

67-34-26-52. No, that's not the Hebron-M. C. I. game. That is Dominick Cianchette barking signals during a campus football game. Dominick is a great sport, and we all know that he will succeed in everything he undertakes.

EDWARD COOKSON
Plymouth, Maine

Because Edward came to see us as a Junior he is not so well known. He is quiet, usually speaking only when spoken to, and then he does not waste words.

EDWARD DAVIS "Eddie"
Burnham, Maine

Senior Play (4); "Trumpet" Board (4)

We cannot help feeling that the success of the Senior Play was due in a great measure to the versatile acting of Edward Davis. Dans has won the esteem of his fellow classmates not only by being a good actor on the stage but by being a prominent actor in the affairs of M. C. I.

HUGH DICKINSON "Hughie"
Vanceboro, Maine

Mgr. Basketball (2); "M" Club (2), (3), (4); Sec.-Treas. of "M" Club (3), (4); Alumni Prize Speaking (2); "M. C. I." Board (3); Senior Play (4) "Trumpet" Board (4)

"Hughie's" outside activities show what happened to a shy Freshman who came to look on but landed in the midst of everything.

ALVAH FORD "Duke"
Bangor, Maine

Football (4); Senior Class Play (4); "M" Club (4)

Duke is one fellow whom we shall never forget; for in future years we will look back and remember the boy of a million puns. He is to be congratulated for his very good work in the Senior Class Play. We are certain that wherever Duke goes, his witty sayings and pleasing manner will make him as popular as he has been at M. C. I.

ALICE FOULKES "Al"
Newport, Maine

Although Alice came to us from Newport only this year we are proud to claim her as a member of our class. However, in this short time we have found out that she is a willing worker and a worthwhile friend. Best wishes from '34, "Al."

FOREST FREDRICK
Burnham, Maine

Honor Roll; Manson Prize Speaking

Who is that quiet, unassuming fellow over there? Oh no, that's not Cupid. That is Forest Fredrick planning up a practical joke to play on someone. He attends Algebra class with all the seriousness of a lord, but—history? Why don't you ask him?

FLORENCE FURBUSH "Flo"
Palmyra, Maine

Hockey Manager (4); Girl Reserves (2); Honor Roll (1), (2), (3), (4); Class Vice President (3); Prize Speaking (1); (2)

Florence is one of our good students who hail from the town of Palmyra. She has played an active part in the class for four years. Here's to your success in the future.

JOHN FURBUSH "Johnny"
Palmyra, Maine

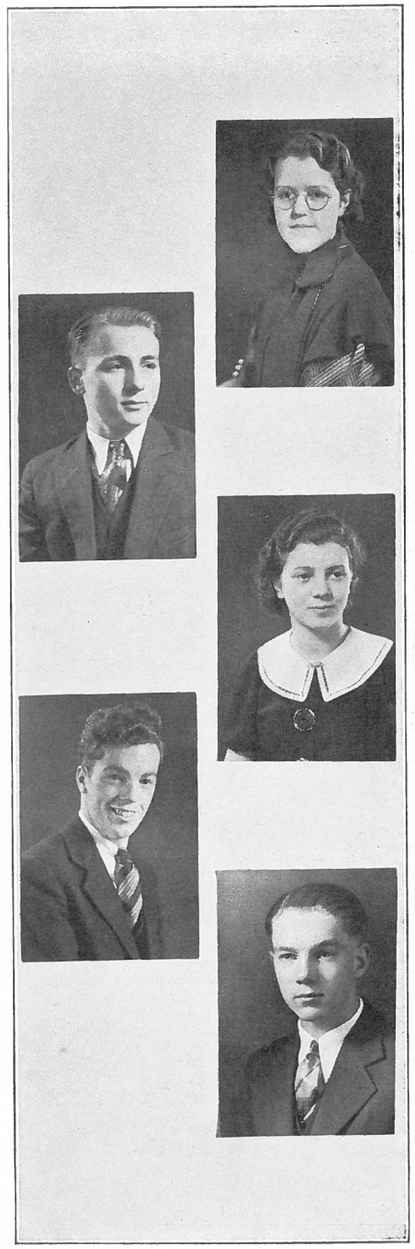

Honor Roll (1), (2), (3), (4); Prize Speaking (1), (2); Senior Class Play (4); M. C. I. Board (3); "Trumpet" Board (4)

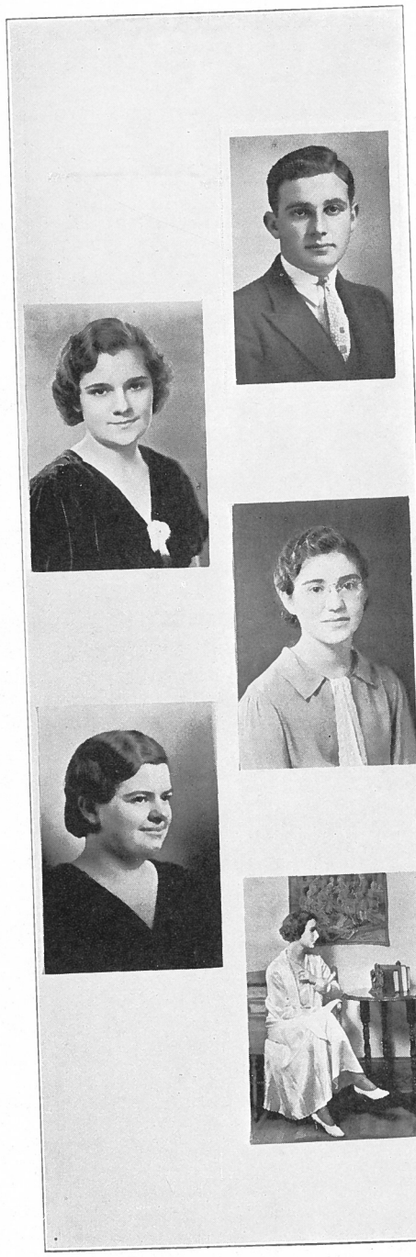

Here's another brilliant student from Palmyra, who was Sir Hector Fish in our play. Although his attention is somewhat turned to Newport, he still is an attraction to the fair sex of M. C. I. Lots of luck, "Johnny."

WILLIAM GLINES "Bill"
Unity, Maine.

"Trumpet" Board; Business Manager Senior Play; Honor Student (4)

Bill is a hard-working, quiet, consistent student. Although we do not know his ambition in life, we feel that because of his fine qualities and willingness to work he will be successful in whatever field he enters. Luck to you at Maine, "Bill."

EDWARD GORDON "Eddie"
Rockland, Maine

Orchestra (4)

Into our midst from Rockland came this dashing young man. "Eddie" has certainly entertained us by his saxophone solos. May your future be bright.

VICTORIA HAMILTON "Vic"
Pittsfield, Maine

Girl Reserve (1), (2), (3), (4); Pop Concert (4); Freshman Prize Speaking; Alumni Prize Speaking; Manson Prize Speaking; Freshman Class Treasurer; Senior Class Play; Orchestra (4); "Trumpet" Board (4)

Victoria has certainly made a name for herself during her four years at M. C. I. We know that wherever she goes or whatever she does, her cheerful smile and pleasing personality will make those about her happy.

PAULINE HANSON "Polly"
Pittsfield, Maine

"Polly" has never been known to hurt anyone—in fact the only way to tell how people feel about her is to say she's everybody's friend.

LOUISE HARDING "Rosie"
Burnham, Maine

Honor Roll

Her studiousness, quietness, and loyalty have won her a place in the hearts of her teachers and classmates. These fine qualities will win her a place in her chosen profession. May you do as well later as you have done at M. C. I.

NEDRA HARDING
Pittsfield, Maine

Nedra, we have enjoyed having you as one of our members for the past four years. You have been a loyal friend and a willing worker. We sincerely wish you the best of luck.

HELEN HARVEY "Helen"
Pittsfield, Maine.

Here is a girl who believes that "Speech is silver but silence is golden." Although Helen does not make much noise she certainly does make a good friend and classmate. We wish you success in whatever you may do, Helen.

DORIS HEALEY
Pittsfield, Maine

Manson Prize Speaking

Doris came to us last year and has become a friend to all. We hope that you will continue to keep up your high records of study in the future.

CARL HENNINGS "Pep" "Carl"
Oquossoc, Maine

When back in Oquossoc, "Pep" struggled along on snow shoes, but the ranks show that he's been hitting "95" since he's been here in Pittsfield. Just watch his dust when he starts on "that long road."

JOSEPHINE HILLIKER "Joe"
Corinna, Maine

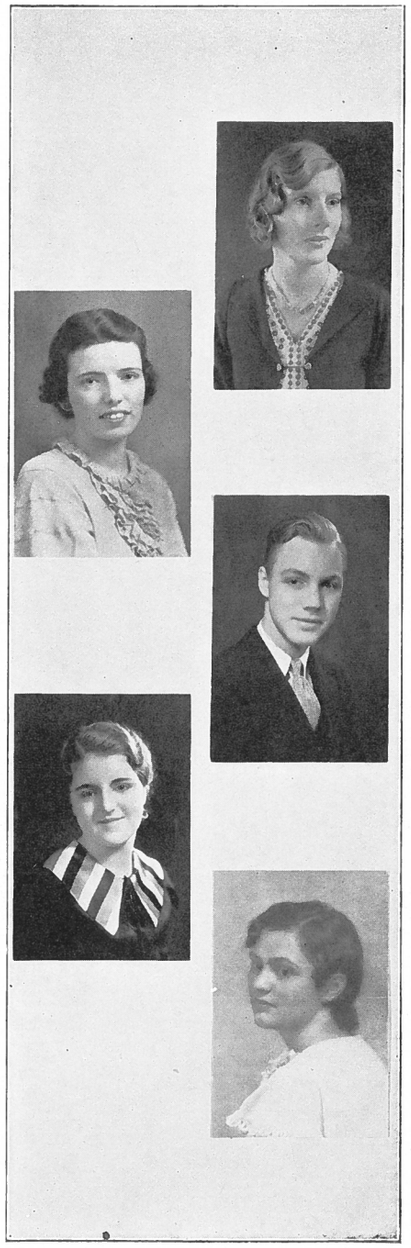

Hockey (3), (4); Basketball (3); Orchestra (4); Girl Reserves (1), (2), (3), (4); President 3; National Honor Society (3), (4); President (4); Honor Roll (1), (2), (3); "M" Club (3), (4), President (4); Class Vice President (2); "Trumpet" Board (4)

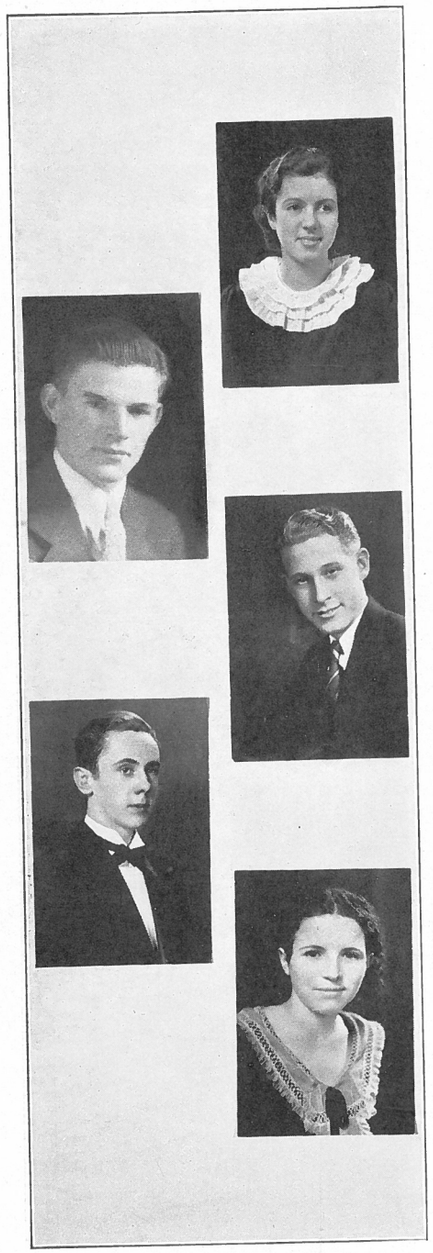

"Joe's" school career wouldn't be complete without mentioning her attention to a certain Smith. Best of luck at Maine, "Joe."

MARION HODGINS "Hodgie"
Rockport, Massachusetts

Girl Reserves (4); Hockey (4); "M" Club (4); "Trumpet" Board

"Hodgie" joined us this year, and we are surely not sorry that she did. She is full of pep and one good sport. "Hodgie" has not quite made up her mind yet whether she'd like to live on an island or remain in Rockport.

EDITH HOFFSES "Tudy"
Jefferson, Maine
Hockey (3), (4); Captain (4); Basketball (3); Orchestra (4); Girl Reserves (1), (2), (3), (4); Vice President (2); Honor Roll (1),(2),(3),(4); "M" Club (3), (4); Vice President (4); Class Secretary (2); Prize Speaking (1); "Trumpet" Board (4)

Read her activities and that's enough! The Class of '34 wishes you happiness, "Tudy," whether you are in Exeter or Jefferson.

BENJAMIN HULL, Jr. "Ben"
Rockport, Mass.
Football (4); "M" Club (4); "Trumpet" Board (4)

We hope, Ben, that after you have made a success in the business world, you will come back to M. C. I. and help Hupper carry on school affairs. We wish you lots of success at whatever you tackle.

LESLIE HUPPER "Hupper"
Criehaven, Maine

Matinicus and Criehaven are proud to offer for your inspection their "Mr. Hupper" who is not only the School's official greeter, but is also the "big brother" to new pupils. Enough praise cannot be given him. Red is his favorite color.

VICTOR KEEF "Vic"
Vanceboro, Maine

Who is that tall dark boy who seems to be the life of every party? None other than Victor Keef, known for his unfathomable witticisms and inexhaustible humor. We feel sure that Victor will continue through life to add pleasure to the lives of those with whom he comes in contact.

DORIS LIBBY "Dot"
Newport, Maine
Orchestra (4); Girl Reserves (1), (3), (3), (4); "Trumpet" Board (4)

Doris has been a loyal member of the class for four years. She is a recognized artist; she makes our posters and designs our books. She also has a striking fancy for blondes. Good luck to you, Doris.

FRANCIS LILLIE "Fat"
Pittsfield, Maine
Debating, Football (3), (4); Prize Speaking; "M" Club (3), (4); President (4)

"Fat" or just Lillie to most of us will always be remembered as the boy with a smile. No matter how dark the clouds are Lillie makes them seem brighter. We boys who are members of the "M" club are willing to pledge Lillie as the best president the club has ever had. Good luck and may you make a success at Colby.

MILDRED McCAUSLAND
Pittsfield, Maine
Glee Club (4); One-Act Plays (3); Senior Play (4)

Mildred is a happy, smiling, cheerful senior who always has a pleasant word for everyone. Her chief interests seem to be the Juniors at the Universalist Church and certain bridge parties.

ELOISE McCULLY "Wiz"
Pittsfield, Maine
Freshman Bible Prize; Girl Reserves (1), (2), (3); Class Treasurer (2); Orchestra (1), (2), (3), (4); George Parks Scholarship Prize (3); Manson Prize (3); Editor-in-Chief of M. C. I. (3); One-Act Plays (3); National Honor Society (3); Trio (2), (3), (4); Honor Roll; Editor-in-Chief of "Trumpet"

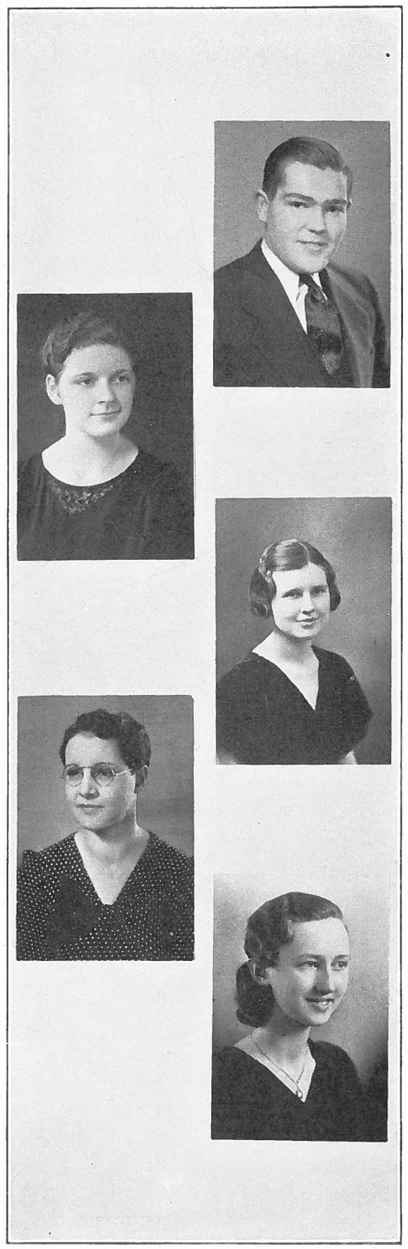

Deeds speak louder than words. Here's to Eloise, the "go-getter" of the class of '34. We are sure success will be yours.

STELLA MERRITHEU "Stell"
Pittsfield, Maine

Well, Stella, we have only one complaint to make. A certain Junior boy seems to monopolize all of your time. Although we don't blame him, we would like to see more of you. Success in whatever you attempt is our wish for you.

HESTER MITCHELL
Burnham, Maine
Honor Roll

Hester has been with us for four years, and during this time has made many friends. These four years at M. C. I. haven't been easy we know, but in conquering them you have shown the spirit which you will need in whatever your chosen work may be.

RUTH MOORE "Ruthie"
Pittsfield, Maine
Orchestra (4); Girl Reserves (4); Senior Class Play (4)

Although "Ruthie" has been with us but a year, she is recognized as a dramatist, a dancer, and a pianist. She goes to the "dorm" every Wednesday night. Is it to play, "Ruthie," or is there another reason?

ELIZABETH OLIVER "Liz"
Pittsfield, Maine
M. C. I. Board (3); "Trumpet" Board Honor Roll

Liz likes things to "hop" and sees that they do. Even her books, pencils, gloves and coat have a peculiar faculty of playing a game of hide and seek. Here's to a good time at Colby and much success as a teacher.

MARGARET PAGE "Peggy"
Pittsfield, Maine

Among the new members to join us in the fall of 1933 was Peggy from Howland, Maine. We are glad to have had you in our class. May a successful future be yours, "Peggy.'

MIRIAM PALMER "Min"
Pittsfield, Maine
Orchestra (1), (2), (3), (4); Girl Reserves (1); Concert (3), (4); Senior Play; Hockey (4); "M" Club (4)

"Min" is known by her laugh and musical talent. We will surely miss you at the piano next year. We've come to the conclusion that "Min" has more than one talent, which surprised us in the Senior Play. Here's luck to you!

FREDA PUSHOR
Pittsfield, Maine

For four years Freda has worked and studied with us. It is rumored that her favorite pastime is walking to Palmyra. That's all right, Freda, because we think Palmyra is O. K., too. Lots o' luck to you from '34.

ARLINE QUINT
Pittsfield, Maine
Freshman Prize Speaking

Oh, yes that quiet girl! But did you ever notice the fun in her eyes? Arline is both friendly and studious—a combination which makes us glad to have her for a classmate. Best of luck, Arline.

ISABEL REED "Sis"
Rockport, Mass.
Hockey (4); "M" Club (4); Girl Reserves (4)

Although "Sis" has been with us only one year, she has her place in the hearts of many. Her flashy playing won a prominent place for her on the hockey team.

GENEVIEVE ROBINSON "Gen"
Palmyra, Maine

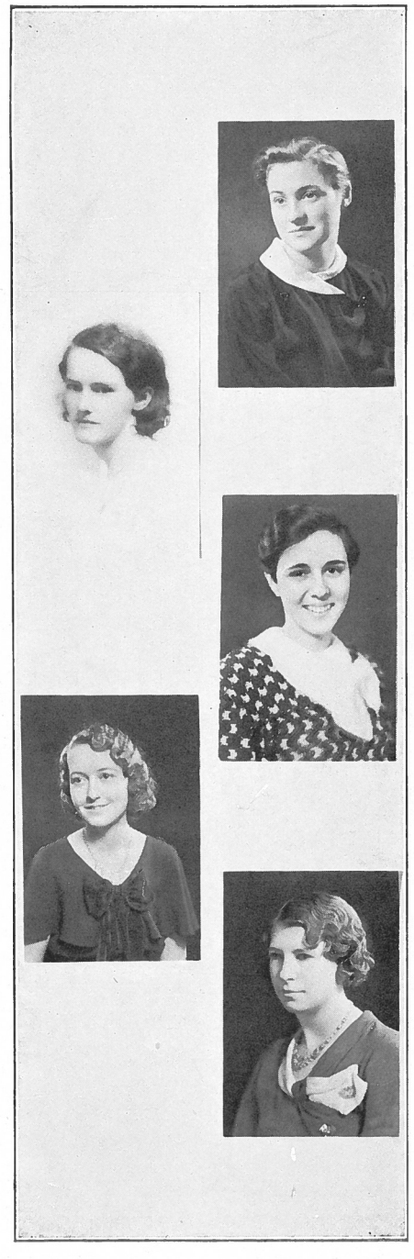

We haven't learned what Genevieve intends to do in the future, but she will do it well. When Genevieve is around, everyone is laughing and happy. May you continue to do as you always have "Gen."

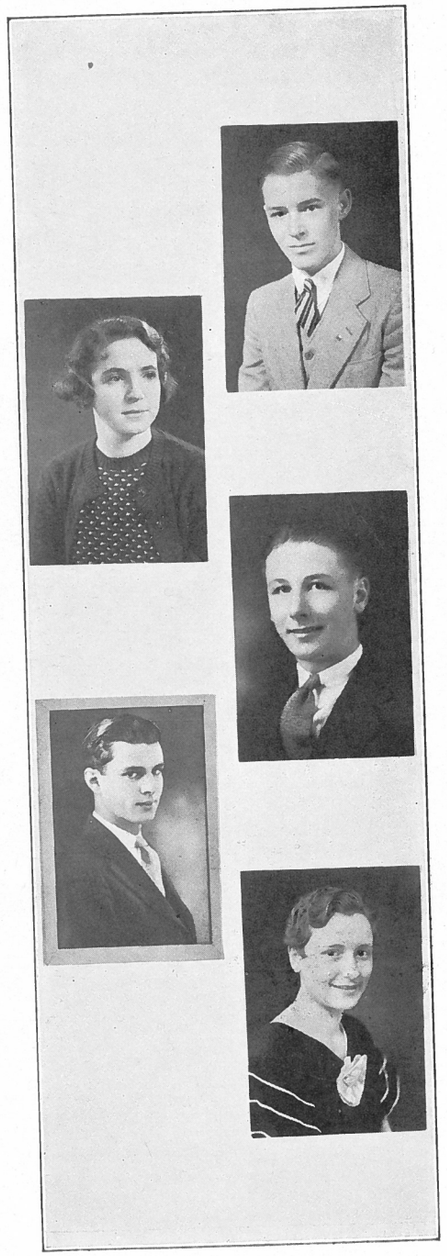

KATHRYN RUDMAN "Kitty"
Pittsfield, Maine
Honor Roll (1), (2), (3), (4); Class Vice President (1); Class Secretary (3)

Kathryn has been a loyal supporter of our class for four years, and we are certain she will be successful in her career if she continues the fine work which she has done here.

RUTH SMALL "Small"
Pittsfield, Maine

Ruth, you are one of the quiet girls of our class. We all know with what perseverance you have pursued your studies. Just keep it up and success will be yours.

ROCHIE SMITH "Smitty"
Pittsfield, Maine

Here is another boy who is one of Pittsfield's outstanding contributions to the Senior Class. Rochie has gained prominence and recognition as a willing assistant to all class activities. We feel that the proverb "a friend in need is a friend indeed" may well be applied to Rochie.

MARGARET SOMERS "Peggy"
Pittsfield, Maine
Girl Reserves (2), (3); Senior Class Play (4); Manson Prize Speaking (3)

Margaret, your cheery smile has helped us to overcome many difficulties. We wish you the best of luck and hope you will continue to paint the clouds with sunshine.

GALEN STEVENS "Stevie"
Lincoln, Maine
Football (4)

Galen's record shows that he is a man of many interests. There may be some that are not mentioned here (?).

CAMERON STORY "Cam"
Pigeon Cove, Mass.
Orchestra (4)

"Cam," you are one of the fellows who came down from Rockport to make good at M. C. I. And what a humorist! A rival of Will Rogers! But don't let anyone tell you this is not a desired quality—we like it.

MADELINE TEMPLE
Palmyra, Maine

Madeline intends to take a course in nursing after leaving M. C. I. We think that she will be a success in this profession because she finds it a pleasure to help other people. Good luck, Madeline.

RICHARD TOWLE "Dick"
Palmyra, Maine
Freshman Prize Speaking; Alumni Prize Speaking; National Honor Society; Track Manager; "M" Club; Junior Class President; Honor Roll (1), (2), (3)

True to his work, his word, and his friends, Dick did much for us last year when he was president. Fortune is sure to smile on him because he is so unassuming about everything he does.

HELEN VARNEY
Pittsfield, Maine

Let us introduce to you a petite member of our class. Helen spends her leisure time in dancing—so we have been told. May you enjoy life as much as you do dancing!

LOIS VARNEY "Varney"
Pittsfield, Maine
Basketball (3); "M" Club (3), (4); Girl Reserves (1)

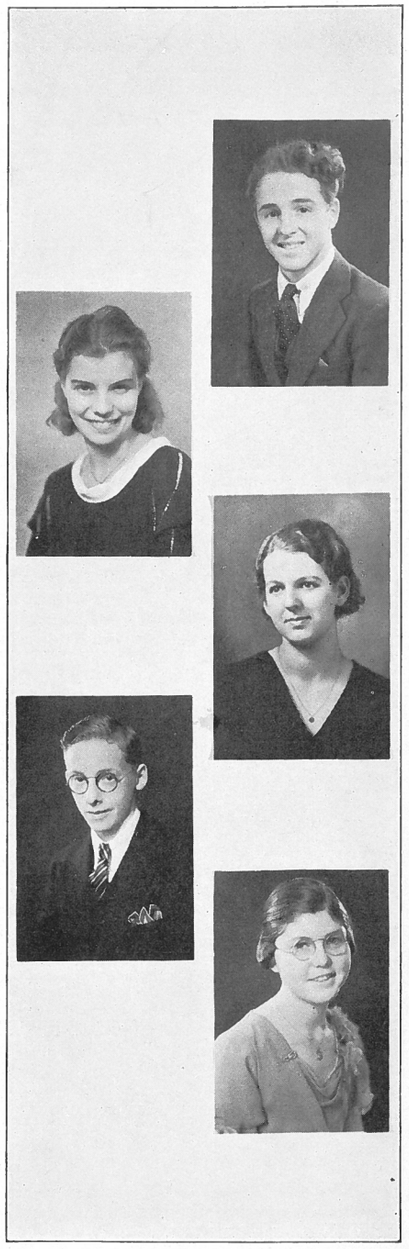

Varney, by many you are considered one of the quietest members of our class, but we have always found you willing to co-operate with us in all class activities. We know that you will be a success in your life's vocation.

GEORGE VARNUM "Racker"
Pittsfield, Maine
Senior Class Play; Orchestra (1), (2), (3), (4)

An actor and a musician—George has taken an active part in the social activities of M. C. I. May your talents be enjoyed by others and bring you the success elsewhere that you have had at M. C. I.

RUTH VICKERY "Rufus"
Pittsfield, Maine

Ruth was one of the Sophomore Prize speakers and is our artist as well. It was she also who made our sketches for the "M. C. I.," our dance orders for Junior-Senior reception, and now she is our Art Editor for the Trumpet. When some famous pictures bearing your name hang in the famed Art Gallery of the Louvre, don't forget your M. C. I., "Rufus."

ROBERT WENTWORTH "Bob"
Kennebunkport, Maine

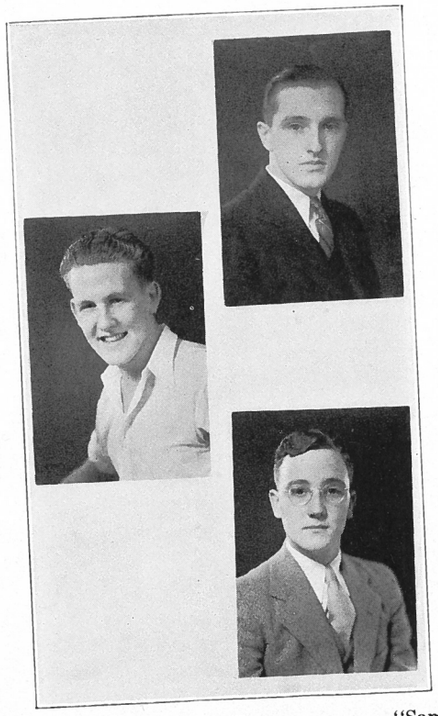

"Bob" has been with us for two years, and we have found that although he is quiet, he is a lot of fun and a real pal.

RALPH WHITE "Curly"
Jonesboro, Maine

Ralph, at times we just don't know what to think of you, but we certainly know that you have gained many friends in your one year at M. C. I. We also know that your athletic abilities are by no means few. The class gives you its best wishes, Ralph.

CLAYTON YOUNG "Youngie"
Matinicus, Maine
"Trumpet" Board

We have heard that the island is quite a place. You will surely be missed at the co-ed domicile with that smile that has registered so often with the members of the fair sex. Best of luck, Clayton, in whatever you attempt.

JOSEPH CANAVAN "Joe" "Red"
Whitman, Mass.
Football (4); "M" Club (4); "Trumpet" Board (4)

When "Joe" first came to M. C. I., they rang the fire alarm, but they found that even the fire company couldn't keep him from shining in everything he attempted.

ROSIE CIANCHETTE
Pittsfield, Maine

Who is that quiet girl with the English book? Why, that is Rosie Cianchette studying her English grammar. She greets everyone with a cheery smile. Keep smiling, Rosie, and we know you'll win.

ALETHA ESTES "Letha"
Canaan, Maine

We are not very well acquainted with Aletha; however, we know that she believes silence is golden. She always has a ready smile and a friendly word for all. These two qualities will take you far in life's journey, "Letha."

ROBERT HALE "Bob"
Salem, Mass.

Here's a fellow who had to go around the world three or four times to decide that M. C. I. was the best school after all. It shows perseverance, "Bob," and we hope you will stick to it.

MELVIN HARLOW "Sam"
Smithfield, Maine
Basketball Manager (3); "M" Club (3), (4); "Trumpet" Board (4)

Sam has made friends and has become popular by just being himself. No matter what Sam does, he can be trusted and relied upon to do his best. We know that many tasks would never have been completed if Sam hadn't been there to do them. We know your future will certainly be a bright one.

JESSIE JONES
Canaan, Maine

As Jessie just came to us from Corinna last fall, we still know very little about her. We do know she is a shark at Latin and a genius in writing essays. Best of luck to you, Jessie, from the Class of '34.

DONALD RANDLETT "Don"
Hartland, Maine

"Don" was a former student of Hebron. Since coming to M. C. I. he has made himself popular because of his pleasing personality. We do not know what Don's plans are after graduation, but we feel sure that his pleasing manner will take him far.

EUGENE SULLIVAN "Gene"
Rockport, Mass.

What would the Class of '34 be like without Gene—the boy who is always ready to help you and give you advice, whatever your difficulties may be. Best of luck, Gene.

THE ANNALS OF THE CLASS OF THIRTY-FOUR

THE FRESHMAN

AT LAST September eight, nineteen hundred and thirty arrived, and eighty-five perplexed, bewildered Freshmen were seen making their humble way to the sacred halls of M. C. I. for the purpose of partaking of the knowledge that was to be imparted. In fact, so large was the number—girls especially, for girls always are curious to know everything—it was necessary that they be seated in the balcony during the chapel exercises.

We finally became accustomed to our surroundings, however. The first Friday night we attended the first social event of the year—the traditional "I am—You are" reception in Powers Hall, and those queer hieroglyphics which so completely covered that little card when the evening was over have gradually become clear to us.

The next few days were painful ones for the poor Freshmen, who lived in mortal fear of those merciless Sophomores. Each and every Freshman must dress in a most fantastic manner—great boots, mismated stockings, clothes on backwards, noses painted green, hair tied in pigtails. In addition to that, some were pushed about in baby carriages, and the whole group had its picture taken on the front campus, while in its midst stood a large sign which bore the words "Fresh Fish."

But we survived, and then really settled down to business. We chose as officers to rule over us, Avon Hersey, Class President; Kathryn Rudman, Vice President; Victoria Hamilton, Treasurer; and Etta Sinclair, Secretary. As our Counselor and Adviser in all weighty matters, we chose Miss Myrtle Main.

Since money is a necessity to all organizations setting out upon a new expedition, it follows that we, too, had need of it. Therefore, each one of us volunteered to sell as many pencils as possible, which pencils bore the inscription "M. C. I. Freshmen." Desk sets were awarded to the champion sellers—Elizabeth Oliver and Maurice Morgan.

The next big event in which the Freshmen took part was the Freshman Prize Speaking—and could they speak? Edith Hoffses was awarded the first prize, and the second prize was divided between Arline Quint and Florence Furbush. The first boy's prize went to Lloyd Burgess; the second, to Richard Towle.

Many of our members were active in Girl Reserves, Basketball, Orchestra, and even Debating. When it came to the Honor Roll—well the Freshmen were there as well as the Seniors.

In the spring of our first year, nineteen hundred and thirty-one, the girls were awarded "M" sweaters for the first time.

May twenty-third was Freshman Play Day, and a very good time was enjoyed by everyone.

All in all, we consider our Freshman Class very active.

THE SOPHOMORES

AFTER a three-months' vacation, seventy-four members of the Freshman Class tripped light-heartedly back to School as Sophomores. How we did appreciate dictating to those humble, untrained, inexperienced Freshmen! Maybe we didn't haze them too, when we initiated them into our select circle.

During this eventful year we were under the guidance of Vernard Crockett, Class President; Josephine Hilliker, Vice President; Eloise McCully, Treasurer; Edith Hoffses, Secretary; and Miss Main, Class Adviser.

First on the social calendar came the Sophomore Class Party. The hall was attractively decorated in crimson and white—our class colors—and a very pleasant evening was passed. We continued to carry out the money-making idea of selling pencils, which this year bore the words "M. C. I. Sophomores."

Nineteen hundred and thirty-one was the first year in the history of the School that M. C. I. sponsored a state-wide cross-country run; and also the first year that she received a charter for the National Honor Society. April twenty-eighth was the Alumni Prize Speaking. The prizes were awarded Louise Savage and William Roix. As Sophomores we continued to take an active part in Track, and to maintain our standing on the Honor Roll. We also had the privilege of witnessing the dedicatory exercises of the George M. Parks Field.

Our Sophomore year is remembered as a particularly eventful one.

THE JUNIORS

AGAIN we returned to the dear old campus of M. C. I.—we seventy-three Juniors. This year we chose as our rulers: Richard Towle, Class President; Florence Furbush, Vice President; Margaret Brown, Treasurer; and Kathryn Rudman, Secretary. Our Class Adviser, Miss Main, came back as Mrs. Sherman.

The Junior Class was given charge of the M. C. I. paper, voting that the highest-ranking Junior should be Editor-in-Chief. This was Eloise McCully.

Our first really important social event was held in November—what other than the Country Fair? The Juniors and Seniors worked together to make this spectacular event a real success. Then came another glorious triumph—the Junior and Senior one-act plays—a riot of fun and laughter.

About this time, too, we decided upon a very attractive ring for the Class of Nineteen Hundred Thirty-four. May we always be worthy of the School it represents. In December, we voted to give one hundred dollars to the local Red Cross, and to hold the Annual Junior-Senior Reception in the spring. This decision was made because we realized the existing conditions in our locality, and that we wished to help needy families to enjoy a merry Christmas.

During this year Avon Hersey, Josephine Hilliker, Eloise McCully, and Richard Towle were chosen as members of the National Honor Society.

Shortly afterward the Great Maker called one of our members home. We pay most respectful tribute to our deceased classmate, Cedric Chaffin.

The Juniors were placed in charge of the decorations for Commencement. These were carried out in a very efficient manner. Eloise McCully was again honored by being awarded the Junior Scholarship Prize by George M. Parks.

We now looked forward to returning as Seniors.

THE SENIORS

SEVENTY-FIVE Seniors gathered last September to form our last class at M. C. I. How proud we were to sit on those front seats in Chapel—to be looked up to as "The Seniors of M. C. I."

We chose as our officials: Ralph Smith, President; Meredith Thompson, Vice President; Avon Hersey, Treasurer; Zena Lee, Secretary; and Mrs. Sherman, Class Adviser. We were now ready for all tasks assigned us.

We began by co-operating with the Juniors in putting on a social entertainment—of course, no one ever could forget that Penny Carnival. Just oodles of fun and good times! Then of course, perhaps because of our good work in this particular field, we just had to be photographed. Our friends simply must have a likeness of us on their bureaus!

But we had to do some serious thinking, too. It is customary for the Senior Class to edit the Trumpet, a task which requires a competent Editorial Board. We chose, with Eloise McCully as Editor-in-Chief; Associate Editors: John Furbush, Josephine Hilliker, Edward Davis, Edith Hoffses, Clayton Young, Marion Hodgins, Benjamin Hull, Joseph Canavan, Ruth Vickery, Doris Libby, Elizabeth Oliver, and William Glines.

It was necessary that everyone do his part to make our paper a success. Members of our class were very active in such sports as Hockey and Football. Then, when those all-enveloping snowstorms visited our campus, all students naturally turned to Basketball as a means of recreation, but alas! Union Hall was being repainted and repaired, and we had to console ourselves as best we might without it.

Some of our best talent, under the direction of Miss Reynolds, put on the Senior Play at Union Hall, December nineteenth. Could they act, I ask you? I shouldn't be surprised if the entire cast was in Hollywood soon. That play, "The Mummy and the Mumps," certainly was a hit.

We are proud to acknowledge more classmates as members of the National Honor Society. They are: Margaret Somers, Joseph Canavan, William Glines, John Furbush, Florence Furbush, and Edith Hoffses.

Again the Juniors and Seniors co-operated in putting on two one-act plays in Powers Hall. We really have some very good actors here in School, and, of course, the Senior Class has its share. This is proved by the fact that the one-act play put on by M. C. I. students in the District Contest at Fairfield was voted to be the best.

The next social event was the reception given May eleventh to the Trustees and the Seniors by the Juniors. We really must hand it to those Juniors—they certainly know how to make a good time.

We have endeavored to complete our studies here thoroughly and honorably. Now though we are leaving M. C. I. as students, each and every member of this Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-four will always remember his four happy years on this campus, and will always remain loyal to the ideals and traditions of the School.

CLASS ODE

(Tune: "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life)

These four years we've anchored safely in the harbor
With our mates, the Class of Nineteen Thirty-four,
And the happy hours we've spent together
Will linger in our memory for everymore.

As we launch our ship on life's unruly ocean,
And the trying waves of strife are tossing high,
May we prove to be most worthy loyal seamen,
From our standards gained at M. C. I.

Classmates, now we leave our dear old Alma Mater,
It's with saddened hearts we bid our friends adieu,
For we've learned to love the favored halls and campus,
And the kind teachers who have helped us through.

CLASS PROPHECY

PROLOGUE

THE following playlet is a scene taken from real life in the Antarctic Colony, New Pittsfield. For the benefit of those who perhaps have not heard the story of its founding, a brief summary may be necessary.

Some years ago, in the year 1940, the President of the United States decided that Antartica was a land quite suitable for human habitation, and wished to send about a hundred people, preferably young and brave, to Little America to start a permanent colony. So wide was the fame of the class of 1934 at Maine Central Institute that he spared neither time nor money in the endeavor to bring them together for the realization of this plan.

Many years have now passed and his success may be judged by the following conversation between two members of the flourishing community, New Pittsfield.

—o—

Characters

Miss Miriam Palmer, Postmistress of New Pittsfield.
Mr. Carl Hennings, General Manager of the Antartica Air Transport Co.

Scene

Postoffice at the A. A. T. landing field.

Miss Palmer is busy at a desk when Mr. Hennings, clad in a fur parka, stamps in, drops some mail bags, and turns to Miss Palmer.

H—"I guess spring has come at last; the temperature is way up to fifty below zero today."

M—"It certainly has. Ralph White called up the office a minute ago, and he just kept repeating, 'Wish't I was back on the farm 'mongst the cows 'n th' chickens."

H—"Yes, Ralph was always a great boy for the farm. This weather is going to be good for our business. The Whale races, scheduled for next week, are bringing in a load of passengers on this afternoon's plane, all coming to see the fun."

M—"Who are they?"

H [consulting passenger list]—"Victoria Hamilton, the famous sportswoman; Joe Canavan, the multi-millionaire, who has been to the United States establishing a factory for the manufacture of a machine for washing pots and pans; Forest Frederick, who has been to the United States interviewing the Ford people regarding the establishing of the branch in Antartica; Meredith Thompson, New York debutante; Stella Merrithew, member of that famous dance team, 'Stella and Fred,' who are appearing as the leading number in the floor show of Story's newest Night Club during race week; Dr. Rochie Smith; Miss Afton Ames, saleslady; and Ruth Moore. The pilots, Stevens and Furbush, had quite an argument over her. Stevens thought that he should charge her half fare because she was so small, but Furbush thought her so nice that he wanted to let her ride for nothing. The stewardess, Margaret Somers, however, got into the dispute and Ruth finally paid double.

M—"I was talking with my old classmate, Edward Davis, who has just been elected first alderman of our little colony here on the South Pole, and he said that the population is now up to a hundred members."

H—"I always knew our class was one to be on its toes for new ideas. Here's a stack of sunflower seeds addressed to Alton Ames. Oh, yes, he's experimenting on how to raise sunflowers in the Antarctic. He always was interested in agriculture."

M—"Isn't his friend, Dominick Cianchette, down here, too?"

H—"Oh, yes, he's organizing Tag Football among the Eskimos."

M—"Ha, ha, I'll bet he's giving them a good training. There's another member of '34 who is interested in that line also. Ralph Smith is organizing a Physical Culture School. He's been out canvassing Little America and showing his brawny arm muscles as an advertisement."

H—"That makes me think; there's a school for elocution being organized by Margaret Brown."

M—"What? Margaret Brown! She sure has changed. Why, she was as quiet as a mouse in classes."

H—"Here's a letter for Mr. and Mrs. Bickford and family."

M—"Ah! I'll bet the Mrs. is Helen Carvell. They surely were keen about each other at M. C. I."

H—"Yes. You know how Norman Bickford was always experimenting on one thing or another! Now he's trying to make a perfume from the walrus skin."

M—"Well, well, all the people are getting tied up. Here's a special delivery for the famous actor, Hugh Dickinson, and his wife, Pearl, the best-dressed woman in New Pittsfield.

[Telephone rings and Hennings answers.]

H—"Here's Victor Keef, head of the New Pittsfield Steamship Company. He wants to know if we received his report regarding the passengers that arrived yesterday."

M—"Yes, sir. It's right here" [waving letter].

H—"O. K. Victor, old man. How's tricks these days? That's good." [Hangs up and turns to M.] "Will you please read me that report?"

M—"I suppose that the Captain of the liner is Robert Hale and that he is accompanied by Admiral Hersey?"

H—"Hersey? Did he go to Annapolis? I thought he was planning to go to West Point. Well, give me that list."

M—"The passengers who arrived last night are Mildred McCausland, or 'Happy Millie,' the famous radio singing star; a group of welfare workers under the guardianship of Marion Burse: this group includes Aletha Estes, Edward Cookson, Nedra Harding, Helen Harvey, and Ruth Small; Doris Healey, a renowned globe trotter; and with her is Eloise McCully, who will do research work on life in the Antarctic. Elizabeth Oliver, renowned teacher, who will take a vacation among the icebergs, and the two Mrs. Smiths. I imagine that they must be Joe Hilliker and Edith Hoffses."

H—"Yes, I am sure of it. They are coming down here to see Glines, who is the head of the Research Laboratories of the Antarctic Potato Company. They can't move to our community until it is possible for their husbands to grow potatoes here."

M—"Well, we'd better be getting along with this list. Hester Mitchell, an autograph collector; Pauline Hanson, the famous horse-back rider—oh, yes, she's come down to see if polar bears are suitable for steeplechase; Jesse Jones, a brilliant Latin student, who intends to compare the bark of the seals with the Latin language; Eddie Gordon, winner of the saxophone endurance contest, in which even the judges had to give up in despair; Margaret Page and Freda Pushor, stenographers who will take up work at New Pittsfield next week."

[Telephone rings and Hennings answers].

H—"Who? The afternoon plane? Oh, yes. You saw what? Two people on an iceberg! Yes, yes, I'll send help immediately."

[Calls on telephone.]

"Hello, hello. Is this the life-saving station? Who are your very best men? Hupper and Young? You don't say! Well, there are two people on an iceberg about ten miles off the Cape. Send them out at once, please. O. K. Goodbye." [Sets receiver down and telephone rings immediately.] "Answer that, please. I'm tired of using it."

M—"Hello. Yes, the plane is due in half an hour. You'd better send up a couple of taxis."

H—"Who was that?"

M—"That was Arno's secretary, Alice Foulkes. She wanted to know if the Snowmobile Fresh Air Taxi Company needed to send any cabs out this afternoon."

H—"Here's a letter addressed to Selwyn Chaffin. Poor fellow! You remember his last year at M. C. I., how he lost his appendix, tonsils, and adenoids? Now he has become so discouraged that he has given himself up to Dr. Smith and his nurse, Lois Varney, for experimentation."

M—"Here are some letters for Hull's Pool Room. That looks like feminine handwriting. Too bad they don't send postcards; maybe we'd get a break."

H—"Ah, by the looks of these letters to Randlett's Trolley Car Line, I'll bet he'll have to double the number of trips from Hartland Ave. to Palmyra Ave."

M—"Here's a letter from the President of the National Academy of Arts to none other than Melvin Harlow, our poet laureate."

H—"Well, Zena Lee must have liked the job of Class Historian, for here's a letter saying that she intends to visit us, and write the history of our colony."

M—"Ah, here's something interesting—a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury of France to Governor Lillie."

H—"I thought that Governor Lillie's Brain Trust would get results on the debt problem. Even at M.C.I., Florence and John Furbush, Kathryn Rudman and Eloise McCully were among our cleverest students. I heard that Kathryn Rudman was asked by Governor Lillie to be one of his advisors, but she refused to give up her real-estate interests on Palmyra Ave."

M—"There, this letter to Ford is the last letter in today's mail. I understand that he's running a school for penguins, teaching them the art of making love."

H—"I wonder if the penguins are good pupils?"

M—"As pupils they are O. K., but his puns finally drove them away."

H—"Have you seen the Radio Column in Helen Varney's new paper, the Antarctic Breeze?"

M—"No. Is there a good program on for tonight?"

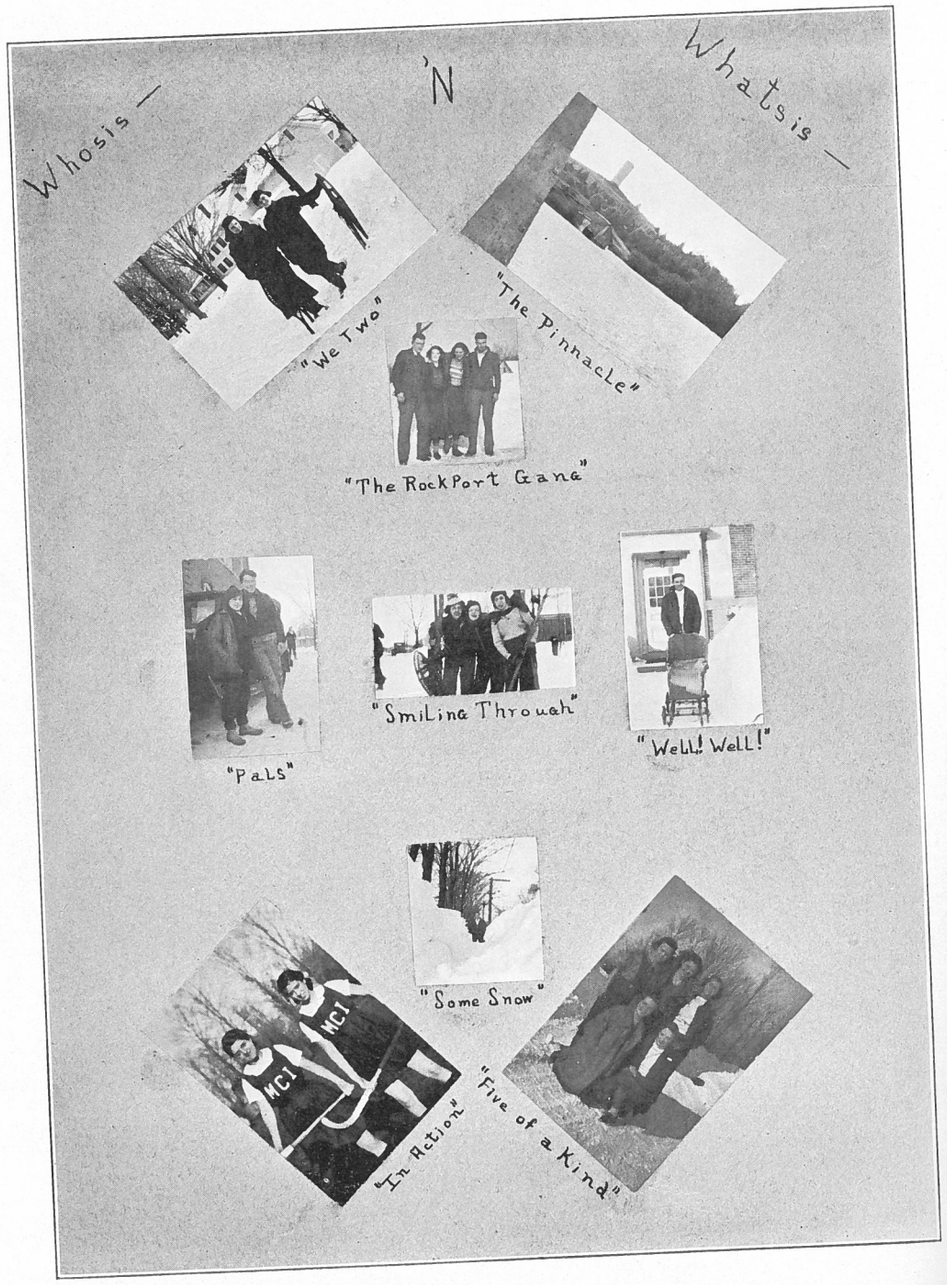

H—"Louise Harding's Burnham Avenue Department Store is sponsoring a program with Richard Towle as guest speaker. He is to talk on his early experiences in the capture of wild animals in the jungles of Palmyra. The music will be furnished by Story's Melodians, direct from the Club Snowflake, and it will be announced by Genevieve Robinson and Madeline Temple, who, you remember, won fame by defeating Floyd Gibbons in a contest for rapid speech."

M [looking at another section of the paper]—"Here's a writeup on the two well-known authors, Arlene Quint, writer of Latin poetry, and Eugene Sullivan, who is writing a book on condensing the English language. Both are coming down for the races and will stay at Wentworth's Hotel, 'The Ritz Igloo.' Ruth Vickery and Doris Libby, who have been giving an exhibition of their paintings at the Museum of Fine Arts, are also staying at the 'Ritz Igloo'."

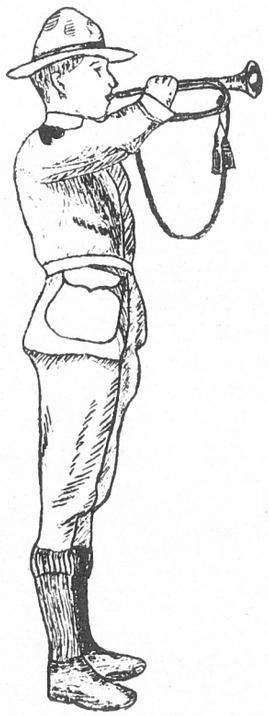

H—"With so many famous people staying at the 'Igloo,' George Varnum will have to keep his staff of bellboys and waiters on their toes."

[Telephone rings].

M [excitedly]—"Who is it? What? The Commander of the Life-Saving Station? Yes. You say you want Nurse Lois Varney right away? What's the matter? Didn't Hupper and Young save the castaways? Oh, they did. Oh, I see, the castaways were Sis Reed and Marion Hodgins! You say that when they saw Hupper and Young they became so excited that they slipped off the iceberg? All right, I'll send the nurse right down."

SENIOR PLAY

THE MUMMY AND THE MUMPS

THE Senior Play, "The Mummy and the Mumps," under the successful coaching of Miss Reynolds was excellently reproduced by the Class of '34. The cast was as follows:

Sir Hector Fish	John Furbush
Francis Briscoe	Alvah Ford
William Laidlaw	Edward Davis
James Slammon (Racker)	George Varnum
Perkins, the Sheriff	Hugh Dickinson
Anna Hampton	Victoria Hamilton
Maude Mullens	Margaret Somers

SOME years ago a group of boys, who had won their letters in varsity sports, drew up a constitution and organized a club for the purpose of promoting athletics on campus and of advancing the sportsmanship and scholarship of its members.

Since that time this group, known as the Boys' Varsity "M" Club, has taken an active part in school affairs. The Winter Carnival and various intramural sports are held under its management as well as numerous social functions, dances, and chapel programs.

THE Girls' "M" Club was founded only a few years ago; however, since that time, it has proved to be an active and worthwhile organization. It consists of only those girls who have earned their letters in some major sport.

Although this organization is one of the smallest on the campus, it performs many duties, among which are: sponsoring the girls' interclass athletics, entertaining visiting teams, and, in general, making girls' athletics a success. This year they co-operated with the Boys' "M" Club in the sponsoring of the Winter Carnival.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

ONE of the most brilliant events of the school year was the reception tendered the Senior Class, Trustees and Faculty Members by the Juniors on Friday, May 11. In the receiving line were Principal and Mrs. Purinton; Assistant Principal Sanger Cook; Mrs. Ruth Cook; Miss Lucile de Reynolds, Dean of Girls; Mrs. Myrtle Sherman, Senior Class Adviser; Miss Marion Dickson, Junior Class Adviser; Ralph Smith, Senior Class President; Frank Homstead, Junior Class President. The hall was resplendent with silver and black. The dance orders, modernistic in design, were in keeping with the color scheme. Music was furnished by a good orchestra, and dancing was enjoyed to a late hour. Everyone had a very enjoyable time, and much credit is due the Juniors and their Class Adviser for making this dance a success.

DEBATING

THE M. C. I. debating team of 1934 was an unusual one in that it contained no Freshmen and no Seniors. The negative team consisted of one Sophomore, John Daily, and two Juniors, Frederick Waldron and Herbert Leonard. The affirmative team was composed of one Junior, Marion Crawford, and two Sophomores, Marjorie McCully and Marie Dodge.

These teams worked diligently for months, before their first debate, under the able supervision of Mr. Sanger Cook. In compiling each debate, it was necessary to write, mark out and rewrite many times. The first preliminary debate (non-decisional) was held with Hartland Academy.

The climax of those long months of work arrived on Friday, March 16. In the afternoon the negative team journeyed to Bangor to meet defeat after a valiant struggle. That same evening, in Powers Hall, the affirmative team met their opponents, Dover-Foxcroft, which resulted in a victory for M. C. I. Marion Crawford was selected as best speaker.

Thus in a short time three schools were eliminated from the debating league because both teams had to win to stay in the league.

In spite of defeats as well as victories, each member of the debating team felt his time was well spent. Above all, they appreciated the work and interest of their coach, Sanger Cook.

WINTER CARNIVAL

THE Annual Winter Carnival held Saturday, February 9, and sponsored by the Boys' and Girls' "M" Clubs was most successful. There was keen competition in all events, and many of the finishes were most exciting, particularly the finishes of both the girls' and boys' relay races.

In the evening the Carnival Ball in Powers Hall was well attended. The feature of the evening was the coronation of the King and Queen. The three highest-point winners of the boys and girls were eligible for this honor. Goldie McInnis of Kokadjo, Maine, and Preston Barlow of East Boothbay, Maine, were the popular choices of the student body. Francis Lillie, president of the Boys' "M" Club, officiated at the coronation, and the King and Queen led the student body in the Grand March.

JOKES

WE WONDER:

What would happen if Sullivan returned from home on time.
What Leslie would do without his "sis."
What Helen Carvell would do without a chauffeur.
What "Ben" Hull would do without cosmetics.
Why the Smith Brothers don't move to the girls' dormitory.
What would happen if Eloise knew her lessons.
What "Fat" Lillie would do without his laugh.
What Gordon would do without his "sax."
What the girls' dorm would be like without chaperones.
Why Hodgins prefers islands to mainland.
What would happen if Jessie spoke out loud.
Why "Cam" Story lost his girl.
Why Mr. Wilson calls at the girls' dorm after ten.
Why "Vic" Hamilton is always late to school.

Mr. Sinclair: "Now if I subtract 25 from 37, what's the difference?"
C. Dow: "Yeah! That's what I say, who cares?"

Hupper: "I'm outa school again."
Smith: "Again? What have you done now?"
Hupper: "I've graduated."

Mr. Wilson: "Elias, come in after school."
Elias: "I can't, I have to go to detention."
Mr. Wilson: "When are you going to get off of detention?"
Elias: "When school closes."

Mr. Purinton: "Not a pupil in this class will be given liberty this afternoon."
Sullivan: "Give me liberty or give me death."
Mr. Purinton: "Who said that?"
Sullivan: "Patrick Henry."

Mr. Cook: "Did you read today's assignment 'To a Mouse'?"
Gould: "No. I couldn't catch any. They wouldn't bite."

Education

Freshman: I don't know.
Sophomore: I am not prepared.
Junior: I do not remember.
Senior: I don't believe I can add anything to what has been said.

President's Ball Huge Success

By a unanimous vote of the dormitory students a night out to attend the President's Ball was granted. The Warm Springs Foundation wishes to thank the students for their noble response to a humanitarian cause.

—o—

Strange Malady on Campus

Dr. Trickey is baffled at the symptons of a most contagious disease at M. C. I. Although in apparent health, students have been suddenly stricken and have been obliged to miss classes. At present Dr. Tricky and Mr. Purinton are doing much laboratory work to find a permanent cure for this dangerous disease, which they call M. C. Itis.

—o—

Chapel Program An Innovation

The students recently had the privilege of listening to a program of old songs. A duet sang by Jean Hale and Jerry Mann, "Give Yourself a Pat on the Back," was very entertaining.

—o—

Girls' Dormitory Deserted

Bleak and drear was the girls' dormitory last week-end. All the Smiths and their friends toured Exeter and the surrounding towns.

Honor Roll Announced

Great was the disappointment when the honor roll was recently announced. The names of Preston Barlow, Clayton Young, Leslie Hupper, and Gene Sullivan were missing. No doubt a revised list of honor students will soon be announced.

—o—

Boys Invade Girls' Dormitory

Can you imagine "Fat" Lillie trying to pin the tail on the donkey in Gertrude Mann's room? Yes, it actually happened. But it was "Open House" at the Girls' Dormitory. All the boys and faculty members were invited. They report a very pleasant evening.

Scientists at M. C. I.

A group of famous scientists, commonly called "cooers," have been wandering absentmindedly about the campus in pairs. Investigations show these beings to have a peculiar habit of gazing into the heavenly eyes of their mate. After much research work, it has been agreed that they are a cross between love birds and man, or "what have you?" At present not much information is available; but Mr. Cook, leader of this distinguished group, assures us that a large volume illustrating the habits and distinctive characteristics of this specie will soon be published and placed upon the newsstands of the world. Without doubt, it will cause a sensation in the "prep" schools, and the cooers at M. C. I. will be pursued by understudies.

—o—

Nothing in Particular

All boys reported for breakfast last Wednesday. Listen and I'll tell you the secret: some far-thinking boys began ringing bells at 4 a.m. and continued every fifteen minutes until 6 a.m.... Mr. Grover recently put the screens on the Girls' Dorm, to keep out the June bugs and keep in the butterflies .... Imagine Stevens and a certain young Miss playing tennis at 6 in the morning .... Strenuous exercise—Sam Johnson misplaces four ribs and dislocates several vertebrae while walking around the Waverley .... Sophomore Hop, a hopping good time—several imported for the occasion .... Girl Reserve picnic—dorm girls bark all night. 'Nuf sed.

—o—

Archery—a Popular Sport

For the last few weeks much interest has been shown in archery. Miss Dickson, athletic coach for the girls, has been very busy organizing the practice periods. However, many girls need no practice in this art, because they know they have been successfully penetrating the hearts of the campus males with Cupid's arrows for sometime. The scoring at present is not so good, but the girls still have great hopes. Watch out, boys, 'tis spring.
