- About 400 workers help build the monument

Bald Eagle

- Adopted as National bird in 1789

White House

Social Studies - United States Symbols

LET'S WRITE!

Using the key symbols you just learned about, pick one to write a few sentences about. Why do you think it is important? What does it mean to you and your country? Feel free to draw a picture of the symbol you chose!

A photograph of an astronaut in a white space suit floating in space. The astronaut is wearing a white helmet with a clear visor and has a small American flag patch on the right shoulder. The astronaut is holding onto a metal structure, possibly part of a space station or shuttle. The background is a deep blue space with some faint light streaks. The image is overlaid with a semi-transparent purple and blue gradient.

TIME FOR SCIENCE!

Habitats

Read the next two slides. Then write three differences between desert and rainforest. Then write three similarities between desert and rainforest. Write your sentences on your own paper.

What Is a Desert?

Plant life: Little vegetation can grow in the desert; cactus, succulents, and other tough plants with small leaves can survive.

Climate: Dry, hot, and sunny all year round; 100°F is expected during the day and 32°F or colder during the night. Not all deserts are hot. Antarctica and the Arctic can be called 'cold deserts'.

Annual rainfall: Less than 10 inches

What Is a Rainforest?

Plant life: Two-thirds of all flowering plants can be found in rainforests. Rainforest floors are covered in nutrient-rich leaf litter, which decomposes into fertile soil for the plants.

Climate: humid, warm, and wet, 64°F annual average

Annual rainfall: more than 75 inches
