Freshmen Confidentials

Moving from middle school to high school is a big step and for most new freshmen there are a lot of first impressions, when questioned about this we were given some interesting answers like "big fun" and "it's pretty!" More common answers were "a lot of girls" and "a lot of guys".

Then we asked, "What's your most embarrassing moment?" The replies were more intriguing: "Getting kicked where the sun doesn't shine- by a fifth grader", and "My dirty underwear fell out of my locker and everyone saw!" However, some unfortunate freshman confessed to "getting lost in the bathroom".

Even though some of the answers were funny and some were typical, one answer remained constant, "high school is definitely better than middle school".

Juniors

It only takes a wink of an eye to look back and remember what it took to accomplish getting this far. We thought it would be impossible to be able to say "Yeah, next year we graduate."

It is a thought that is frightening and sad, but yet puts us in a good mood. Next year will be our last year to stand up for what we believe, show who we are, and to be a role model for those that will look up to us as seniors.

For the class of 1993, it is definitely a year to be proud. For we are the first graduating class of the new high school. And what an honor it will be!

It will certainly be a year to put the past behind us, live the present, and focus on the future. Also for us to go beyond just being classmates, and to pull together and become friends.

One-Act Play

“Mirrors” Reflects Success: First In Sub- Section Competition

In the theatrical production of “Mirrors” by John O’ Brien, Fred Peterson has a problem dealing with the death of his family. He is torn between choosing between living in reality and a fantasy world where his family is still alive.

Under the direction of Jan Thelen, this years one-act play did something it had not done ever in the history of the school, it received first place at Sub-Section competition in Delano. This qualified “Mirrors” for Section competition which was to be held at the College of St. Benedict. Although the play didn’t advance to state here, it received very high reviews by the judges.

"A Midsummer's Night Dream"- STMA's Interpretation A Breath Of Fresh Air!

This year's spring play "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by William Shakespeare is a hilarious and confusing love story.

In the beginning, Lysander (Mike Barthel) and Hermia (Rachel Peterson) were in love, but Demetrius (Kevin Fagemess) also loved Hermia. Helena (Krista Hofmeister) was in love with Demetrius, who he loathed. Then Oberon (Kris Kortuem) has a spell cast on Lysander and Demetrius (accidentally) causing them both to fall in love with Helena who they both earlier detested. Helena is not expecting this sudden affection, and decides that they were both playing a cruel joke on her and therefore hates both of them. Meanwhile, Hermia becomes violently angry with Helena for stealing her Lysander's love, which causes the two of them to fight. Then, Seeing the wrong that had been committed, Oberon reverses the spells, making Demetrius and Helena to fall in love and Hermia and Lysander to also fall in love again.

Top Right: After many spells and confusion, the couples are all properly brought back together, and all is well.

The STMA National Honor Society tried some new things this year. They held a "Mini Olympics" which was similar to "Battle of the Classes" only with an olympic theme. As well as new ideas, they continued planning out dances, fundraisers, doughnut sales, tutoring and recycling. The recycling drive during the fiscal year of '91-92 was particularly prosperous. NHS members are still swimming in the whopping-great lump sums of cash that was earned. In a private meeting, the NHS's certified public accountant announced that they had pulled in nearly one-hundred and fifty cents!!!!

Speech 1992 began low in numbers, but succeeded in recruiting new members with their reputation and popularity, ending with a total of thirteen members.

The team spent hours after school perfecting their speeches and then gave up a lot of their Saturdays traveling to meets in the area.

At sub-section competition, Michelle Zachman placed fifth in the "informative" category and Sarah Jacobson placed the same in "extemporaneous reading". Celest Thell placed sixth in "great speeches" with Kris Kortuem placing sixth in "creative expression". Sara Wolf won her division in "serious prose". These placings made them qualify for the section competition.

Sara Wolf did very well and placed second, qualifying her for the state competition where she placed eighth in her category. Michelle Zachman placed fourth in the section, giving her state alternate status.

Academic Decathlon

This year's Academic Decathlon team was fortunate to be advised by Mr. Skogen. This was his first attempt at coaching academic decathlon. The team did well this year despite getting a late start, but thanks to a lot of support from several teachers, the team was able to finish in second place at the section competition. They qualified for the state level competition in Owatonna. The academic decathlon team finished in sixth place.

Homecoming 1991: "Proud To Be A Knight"

Homecoming Week 1991 began with the coronation ceremony on Monday evening. The program was emceed by Mr. Skogen, this being his first try at this honored position. Needless to say, he was a big hit.

While the candidates waited nervously, the high school choir entertained with a number and then they endured Mr. Skogen's sometimes embarrassing, but exciting, "stories" and "gifts".

Then came the final event, the crowning of Kris Kortuem and Krista Hofmeister as king and queen respectively. They were chosen by their school mates for this honor . . .

Immediately following the ceremony, one of the hottest bonfires in STMA history that got the "spirit" burning for the rest of Homecoming 1991.

Despite the cold weather, spirits were warm as several STMA fans watched the parade roll by.

The theme for the floats was Walt Disney. Included in the parade was, "Disney On Ice" done by the freshman class; the winning float, entered by the sophomores was "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs". "The Jungle Book", was the junior class entry, and the "Little Mermaid" was the senior's.

Other parade entries included Grand Marshal Don Klaers, junior high floats, and a special senior class float.

Homecoming Week

The 1991 homecoming week began its theme days with Monday - backwards day. Other days of the week included country/heavy metal day, nerd day, twins day, and the traditional spirit day on Friday.

Also included during the week was a bonfire, ping pong tournament, pep fest, and a homecoming dance after the football game on Friday.

Top: Kristen Becker and Rachel Kolles display their school spirit by dressing backwards on backwards day.

Middle Left: Homecoming Queen Krista Hofmiester also got in to the spirit of backwards day. Here she is shown separating her paper products from the rest of her lunchroom utensils.

Middle Right: The sophomores display their strength and luck in winning the tug-o-war contest during the battle of the classes.

Right: Jeff Lekatz, and Tim Hochstedler unsuspectingly fill their pie tins high with assorted ingredients not knowing that they will have to eat their own pie.

Homecoming Week

Career Day

Professionals from various fields of work were invited to speak to the students about advantages and disadvantages of their particular career. They discussed different aspects of their fields ranging from salaries and advancements, their personal rewards and benefits to the education needed for their particular career.

This first Career Day was very informative to all the students and helped them learn about careers that they might not have originally considered. Every student was required to attend sessions on resume writing, interviewing and using a job service agency that would assist them in their future career planning. Other time was spent in mini-group sessions where students had a more personal contact with a particular professional.

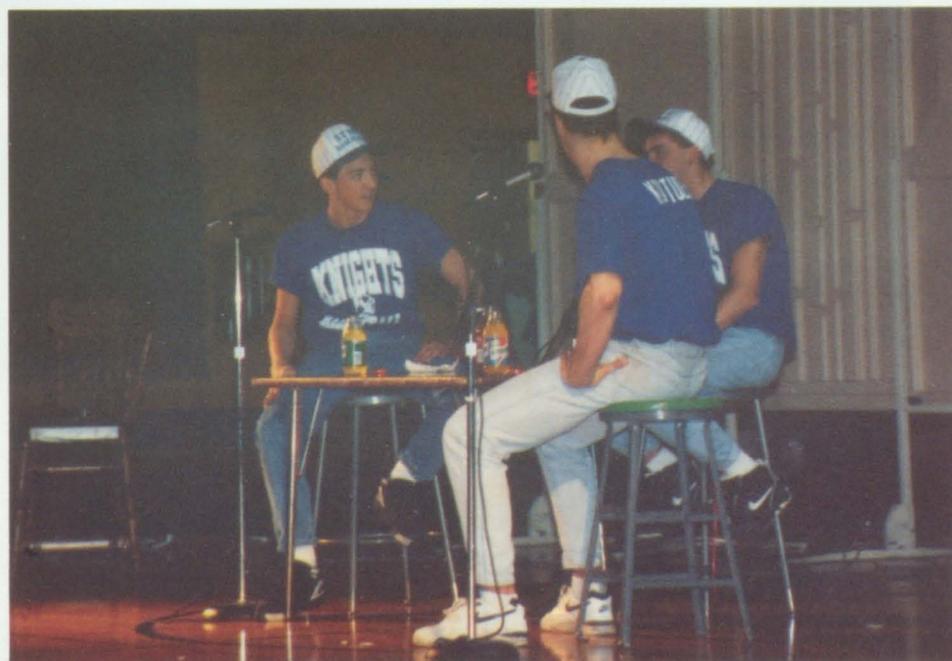

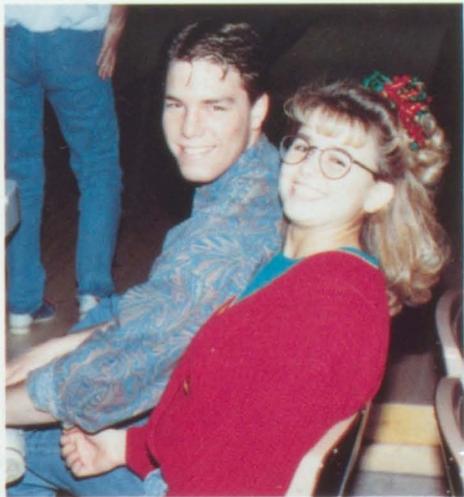

Halloween brought out the ghouls and goblins in many students as they tried to go for the look that would confuse their classmates.

Mother Nature played a trick on all of us on Halloween with a record breaking snowstorm. But she also gave us a treat when school was closed the next day!

The Christmas celebration started a week before vacation with our own version of "Deck the Halls". To put us in the holiday spirit the faculty planned an activity day for the entire student body the last day of that week. The morning began with cookies and cider, while the band entertained us with carols. Events continued with a trip, for most of us, to the Monticello theatre to see "Hook". Those that stayed behind went bowling or worked on rocking horses to be donated to the Wright County Human Services Agency's Christmas Project. After lunch, staff members and students put on a little "talent" show, then we spent the rest of the afternoon dancing, skating, building, staining, gaming, skiing and having fun.

Danceline: "Knights In Motion"

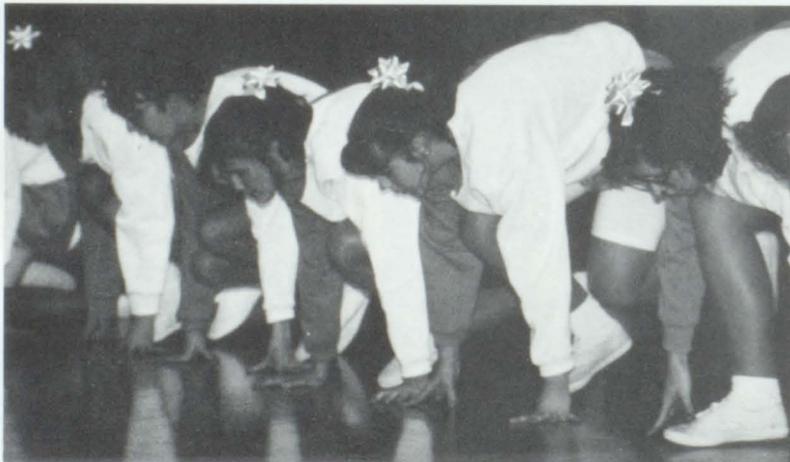

New Group Kicks Into Gear

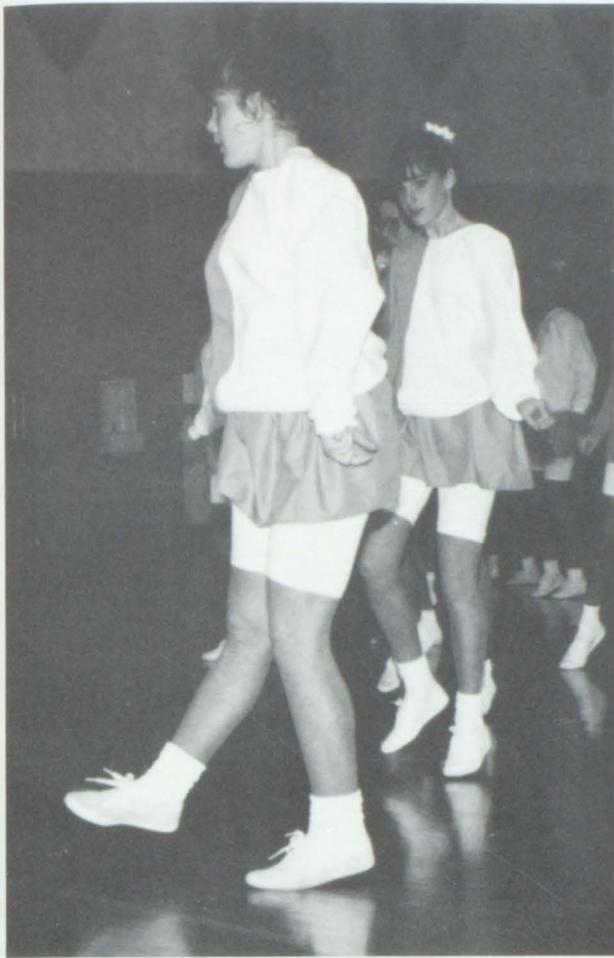

Under the guidance and direction of Ms. Jan Thelen, a new dancing kind of Knight emerged from the halls of STMA. They named themselves "Knights in Motion" and performed at several sporting events throughout the school year, entertaining audiences with their high kicks, precision footwork and dancing style.

The dance ensemble expects to someday enter competition, but for now, they are learning steps and styles, building a foundation and experiencing the thrill of performing for an audience.

Winter Week

Winter week 1992 consisted of five days of special activities. Monday was early release day due to conferences. Other days included an olympic color day, valentines day, and the new and unusual one - flashlight day. The week was finished with a battle of the classes. The seniors won the battle with the sophomores a close second, followed by the juniors in 3rd, and the freshmen finished 4th.

"An Evening In Paris"

Junior-Senior Prom, May 2, 1992

From 1992, "An Evening in Paris" took participants for an evening of great food, great dancing, and gorgeous scenery.

The night began with the traditional grand march in the gym which was transformed into a park in Paris complete with the Eiffel Tower. From there, prom goers and chaperones headed for Russell's for an appetizing dinner. Then they all traveled to the Carlson Towers Rotunda for an evening of dancing, strolls around the pond, and carriage rides.

STMA Runners Have Excellent Season

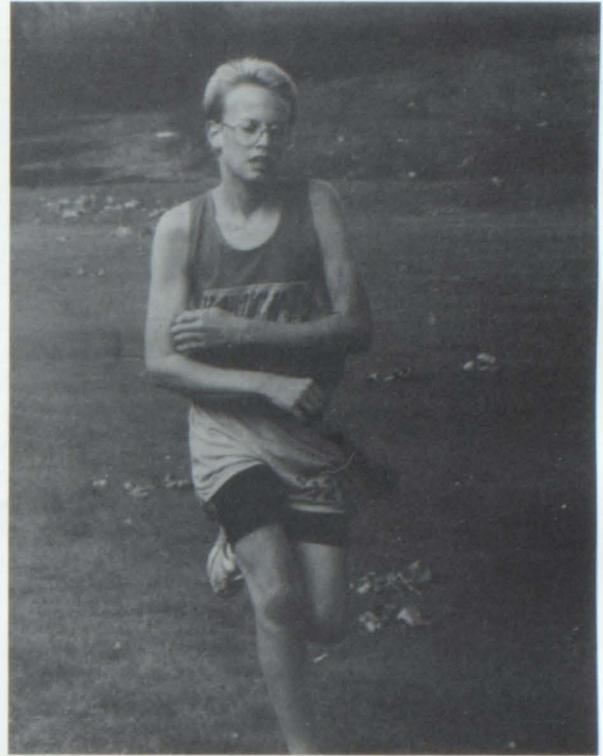

With four strong winning seniors returning, the cross country runners turned in an excellent season. When senior Jeremiah Hall suffered an injury in the beginning of the season, the team worked even harder to fill the empty gap. The boy's team won four meets during the season with their last win being the Wright County Conference Meet earning them the championship individually. Dan Vestch lead the boys team and advanced to state competition placing 44th out of over 200 runners.

Volleyball

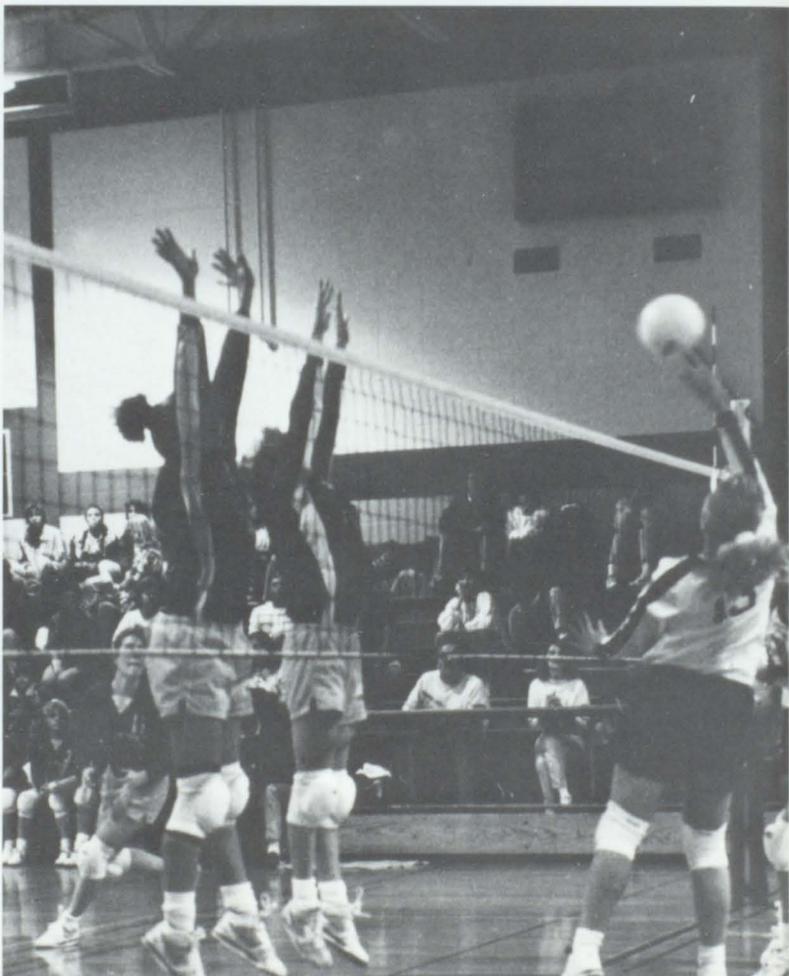

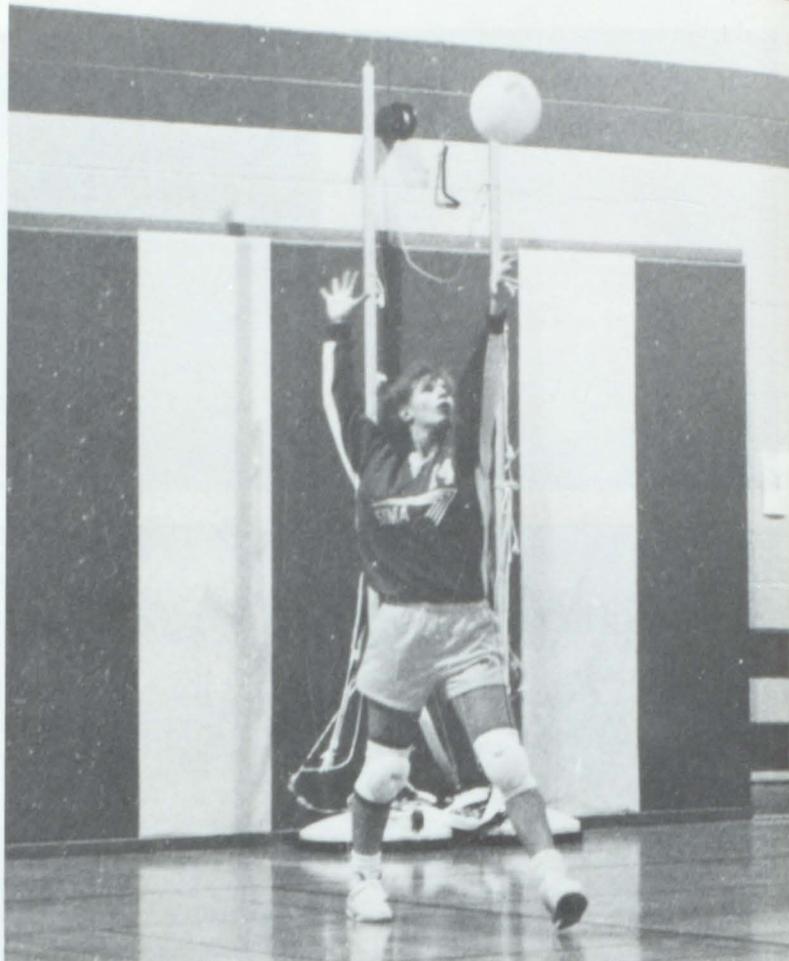

Started As Underdogs Ended As Topdogs

Dedication, hard work and team chemistry proved to those with low expectations, that the Knights volleyball team would go further than anticipated. The girls were determined from the very beginning that they were going to make it work. They were young and inexperienced, but they quickly learned how to combine their individual skills to make a Sub-section II A champion team. Along with that, came the Wright County Conference Championship and they ended the season runner-up in the Section 5A.

Under the direction of Coach Paul Moore, the Knights entered the sub-section with a winning season behind them. At this time, they carried a record of 22-2. After the excitement had passed of battling and beating "the Beast" at Foley, the Knights were faced with the remaining match against Cosmos that would determine who went to the state tournament. The girls struggled and lost 1-3, but ended the season with an overall record of 26-3.

At the end, the following girls were selected into the All-Conference team; Sara Wolf, Jenny Safar and Kristin Becker. Both the Best Server and Most Improved awards were given to Heather Williams. Missy Zupon was recognized as Best Setter. The Best Hitter honor went to Kristin Becker and Lesley Tietgen received the Best Blocker title. Pam Wines walked away with the Best Digger award and Sara Wolf was voted Most Valuable Player.

On this team, there wasn't any one or two outstanding players to stand out because the entire unit was outstanding and they proved what can happen when you pull together and act as a team.

Knights Finish With 5-5 Record; Seniors Are Outstanding.

Outstanding individual performances highlighted the 1991 Knight football season. The team finished the season with a five and five record. But, it was the individuals who were the standouts. Senior Eric Wenger led the team in rushing for the year which put him in the lead for career rushing totals. Eric also leads in kick off returns. Todd Klaers came out on the top in receiving yards. Freshman Eric Vollbrecht and senior Jesse Milless each pulled in six interceptions for the season while Kurt Becker led the team with eleven touchdowns and received the most defensive points for the season.

An exceptional high school career for senior Kris Kortuem resulted in a full scholarship at North Dakota State University. Kris holds the record in career total defensive points, was named to the All-Conference Team, and was voted the MVP lineman for the WC Conference as well as the Knights. Kris Kortuem was selected to the WCCO Prep Team of the year and the the Mpls. Tribune's metro team. Other All-Conference selections were Luke Barthel and Todd Klaers with Eric Wenger and Kurt Becker getting honorable mention. Luke was selected by his teammates as the Hardest Worker and Kurt was voted the Hardest Hitter.

Tennis '91 = Adjustment, footwork, endurance

For the 1991 St. Michael-Albertville girls tennis team, it was a year of adjustments. The one main adjustment that had to be made under the coaching of Jim Riles and captain Krista Zachman, was footwork and endurance. This year the team finally began to learn the methods of their second-year coach. The team also lost one senior to a post-secondary option commitment, leaving two other seniors but no juniors to lead the young team. Although the team lost more matches than they won, the numbers do not reflect the hard work and and motivation of the players. The most improved player honor went to Amy Sellers. Amy, along with Stefanie Angus, will be next year's captains.

Girls Show Improvement In Ability And Style

Despite a losing season, the Knight's young girls basketball team showed signs of improvement in their ability and style. Several games were close and could have been in the Knights win column but it didn't work out and the team ended their season with a seven and thirteen record.

The Knights were led on offense by Junior Missy Zupon who also was selected to the All-Conference team. Sophomores Tanya Larson was given the Best Hustle award at the end of the season while her teammate Lisa Klaers was voted the Most Improved player for the Knights. The girls were also supported with outstanding play by Sara Barthel and Lesley Tietgen.
