And
Mr. Skogen*

Mr. Skogen,

We have decided to dedicate the 1988 yearbook to you, because you have helped the students throughout the past years. You've participated in the Trivial Pursuit games and in umpiring the softball and baseball games. You helped us set up the Student Government. You've also shown us how, if you have faith, you can win at anything (look at the Twins in '87). You always have a good story to tell, and you seem to have a great gift when it comes to teaching history. You really know how to make high school interesting for everyone.

WE LOVE YOU!!!

"Hola! Me llamo Lorena, soy de Mexico."

Foreign Friends From Around The Globe

"Tomomi quickly became Americanized."

Lorena Gomez, 18, came to St. Michael from Naujou Sungla, Mexico, early in the year. Her goal, in America, was to learn English better and meet new people, which she certainly did! "I was so nervous around the boys here because they are more aggressive than I am used to." Lorena also says that living here is more exciting than in Mexico. Here she likes to shop, eat, and go into the city on the weekends.

Dear STMA,

Hi! This is Tomomi. This year was a most unforgettable year for me. By staying here, I learned a lot things. I was especially glad to meet all of you. Thank you so much. Lastly, I just want to say "I love STMA", like Mr. Skogen says. Bye Bye.

Sincerely,
Tomi

Dear STMA,

I've been here for one semester and that's enough to make me love it here. In the beginning of the semester, I thought I would be the outsider with not many friends because I am from another country. But after the first day, I knew I would make a lot of friends. Everyone was nice and now I don't want to leave, but I only have one day left. I want to thank everyone for their kindness and patience; I will never forget the "experiences" in St. Michael.

Tradition And Imagination Mix For Memorable Homecoming

Mr. Ketel was again the M.C. at the Coronation.

The cheerleaders stayed busy all week.

The Seniors brought in snow for the occasion.

Karla and Kevin seemed to be enjoying the attention that afternoon.

Some Sophomores, sweet beings that they are, offered to add extra weight to help pull their float during the parade.

Not a trace of nervousness before the coronation.

"Awesome wheels!"

Homecoming this year was one of the best. The week started off well with Karla Kilian and Kevin Hofmeister being crowned Homecoming Queen and King on Monday night. Following this was our annual bonfire.

The remainder of the week was spent the same as any other except for the special days when students dressed up. They included: grub day, formal day, 50's day, camera day, and blue and gold day.

Friday, minus the Powderpuff game, was still the best day of the week. The celebration started off early with a pep fest organized by the football cheerleaders. Next on the agenda was the parade, which was a huge success as usual. The band played good music, and before you knew it, the parade was over. In the evening hours, the football team defeated the Annandale Cardinals by a score of 7 to 3. To end off a great evening, the National Honor Society held a dance. The performing band was Poser.

Halloween was indeed a scream this year. Many students searched attics and closets for different and original costume ideas. Their creativity paid off as the best costume awards went to, from teacher to freshman, Ms. Kosckak, Kim Barthel, Shelly Praught, Jenny Anselment, and Lisa Wacker.

What would Christmas be without carols played by the band?

This year, unlike last, we had a white Christmas. It really added to the spirit of things. All of the teachers helped to make this week memorable by decorating their rooms with stockings, snowflakes and other seasonal things. Mrs. Jordahl showed her spirit in the season by having her Spanish classes make pinatas, and Mr. Sawdy directed the band in playing carols every morning. During the week, we also decked the halls with lights and ornaments. The week ended as the Senior and Sophomore class presidents arm wrestled to decide the winner of "Deck the Halls." The Seniors won.

Getting in the Christmas spirit?

ATHLETICS

New Adventures Lead To Fun Season

"We'll hate ourselves tomorrow!"

One of the aspects that made this year's Football Cheerleading Squad so successful was the sense of teamwork that each of the girls possessed. That teamwork was really helpful when the season got underway, because they faced many new adventures together. One of these was cheering in the pouring rain at the Rockford football game. Another was being on the floor at the State volleyball tournament. Although cheering in front of so many people may have made them nervous, the cheers had never been performed better. The girls got along well together, both on and off the field, and they did a wonderful job of representing the school at all the fall sporting events.

Although they only won two out of their seven games, the ninth grade football team put a lot of hard work and effort into their performances. Mr. Riles, after completing his first year of coaching here at STMA, said "The team was a very enjoyable and great group of guys to work with." We would like to extend a special congratulation to Mark Mischke for being able to play Varsity.

“ . . . The high degree of sportsmanship that your players displayed before, during and after the game was enormously impressive to all of us parents.” This was written to Coach Bauman in a letter from the parents of the Blake football team. It is a nice reminder to what we already know, our guys can really work together as a team. Coach Bauman also agreed. “This year has been a great learning experience. The team learned a lot about sportsmanship and teamwork. Hopefully they will never forget it.” This year awards went out to Ben Eide (Hardest Worker and Most Valuable Lineman), Tom Ripplinger (Hardest Hit) and Scott Lekatz (Most Valuable Back and MVP). Scott was also selected to play on the 1987 Associated Press All-State football team.

According to the B-squad volleyball team, their season went well. When asked how well, not one failed to answer, "We did GREAT!!!!".

They were right. Their phenomenal season results of 17 wins and 3 losses proves this, while their victories at the Rockford and Halloween invationals only added another groove to their already spectacular record.

We can't wait to see them next year.

Even though they started out with a reputation of not being very good, the team proved them wrong and defeated 11 out of the 13 teams they played during the regular season. "When you're not expected to win, it makes winning all the better," said one team member.

At invitationals STMA came out on top, especially in a four game sweep at the Monticello Invitational, defeating Woodbury, Alexandria, DeLaSalle, and Anoka.

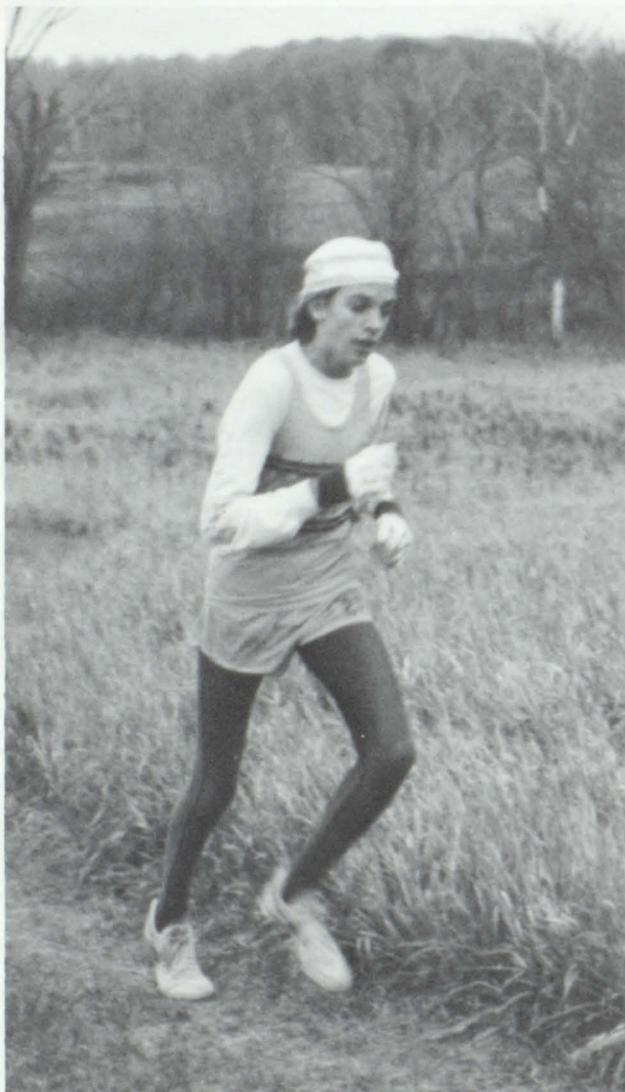

When this team went on to win the district and regional competitions, no one believed this was the same team they'd put down in the beginning. In fact, it wasn't - the addition of Stacy Kremer and Stephanie Eull during the year made the team stronger than ever.

The boys Cross Country team had a fine season. As a whole, the team placed consistently high, and an honorable mention should be given to Jeremiah who had the best individual placement. He placed first at the Princeton Invitational. This was the highest finish of any STMA runner in our district. At the annual banquet, awards were presented to the following people: Brian J. (Most Improved), Charlie (Hardest Worker) and Jeremiah (MVP).

Charlie shows emotional strain as he nears the finish line.

"Wait a minute, am I playing tennis or golf?"

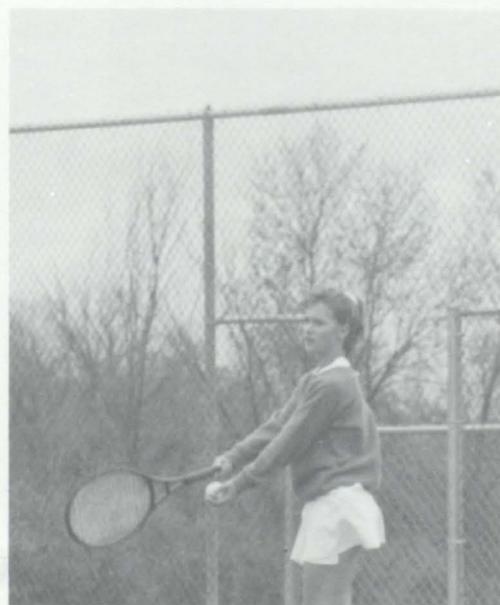

The tennis team finished with a record of 11 wins and 7 losses. During their regular season, they shut out 5 other teams. Leading the team into sub-regions were captains Rochelle Oliphant and Kerry Stanton (MVP). Here, they defeated DeLaSalle in the first round but lost to eventual state champion, Blake, in the second. The biggest success for this young team was their win against Monticello whom they had not defeated in 5 years.

This year's winter squads, both varsity and B-squad showed great dedication to their sports. They made locker signs, posters and spent a lot of time preparing for Parent's Night. The wrestling cheerleaders also had the experience of cheering at a State tournament, which was a big thrill. The girls do a lot for the school, and often their hardwork goes unrewarded. “STMA wrestlers will progress in the future.”

“If looks could kill!”

The varsity wrestling team did very well this season. They had a season total of 12 wins and 3 losses. The three top wrestlers were Brian Becker, Tom Ripplinger and Gary Schoen. Jason Kilian had the most reversals (20), Gary led in falls with 16 and Tom was the leader in takedowns (105). He also tied with Brian Becker for the most team points (148). Brian had the most 2pt. nearfalls (12), 3pt. nearfalls (29) and match points (325).

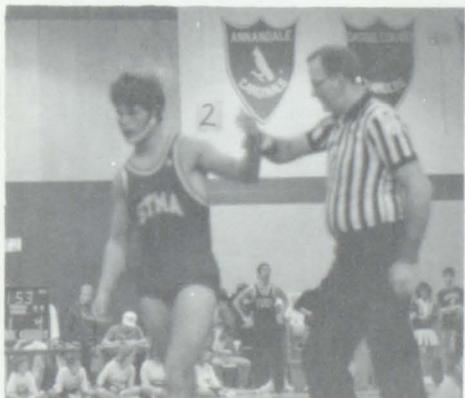

At the close of the season, Brian, Tom and Gary earned the right to compete in the State tournament. There, Tom was crowned state champion at 126 pounds while Brian took 2nd and Gary placed 5th. The team did extremely well and we are looking forward to another awesome season next year.

B-Squad Wrestles For Victory!

The B-squad wrestling team ended their successful season with 10 wins and 5 losses. In the team's 10 wins, they had a shut out against Howard Lake-Waverly. The three leading wrestlers were Chris Carlson and Keith Dehmer (17-2-0), and J.J. Hall (16-3-0). The leading wrestler for takedowns was Chris Carlson (34), reversals - Lance Barthel (16), 2pt. near falls - Marty Pundt (23), pins - Keith Dehmer and Chris Carlson (11), match pts. - Chris Carlson (184), and for team pts. - Keith Dehmer (92).

Laura jumps into one of her excellent bar routines.

For the second year in a row the STMA gymnasts were led by new coaches. Sometimes new leadership can create problems, but this time it brought only better results. Although the record did not reflect the progress, Coach VanHulzen had only positive things to report about the season. "I had been told coming in not to expect too much from the girls, as they were a young team, but I feel this worked in our favor. The girls are extremely talented, and as we are not losing any seniors, I hope to develop this talent even further next year — and try to win a few more meets. One thing I have to say is that the girls worked wonderfully well together, and I think the closeness in age attributed to that. They had a lot of fun at practices and meets, and I guess they were together out of school a lot too. It really helped our team spirit level."

With a smaller team, Karen Haydter, Laura Glatzmaier, Sarah Blenkush and Meeghan O'Donnell competed All-Around. Susie Saari was strong on beam and floor and Rocky Chervert really improved on floor and vault. At the banquet, team awards were given out. Hardest worker on each event went to: Rocky (floor), Michelle (beam), Jenny (vault) and Karen Bistodeau (bars). Meeghan was voted Most Valuable Player, while there was a tie for Most Valuable Gymnast between Laura and Karen, who was also voted Co-Captain for the 1988-89 season with Rocky.

Despite injuries, 13 wins (4 shutouts), 5 losses and 2 ties was how the Knights ended the hockey season this year. Top scorers included Kevin Jocelyn (24 goals-21 assists), Charli Scholl (17-18) and Scott Berning (14-12), who was also voted this years MVP. Losing 8 of 20 players will leave the team fairly young and quite small, but with a lot of experience to carry this seasons results into next year with new captains Chad Sutherland and Kevin Jocelyn.

The 1987-88 girls basketball team finished with an overall record of 6-15. This team was characterized by continual improvement throughout the season. Heartbreaking losses to Dassel-Cokato and Watertown ended the season for the Knights.

Individually, Bonnie Kolles was named to the Wright County All-Conference Team and to the All-Tournament team in the Brooklyn Center Christmas Tournament. Bonnie led the team in: scoring (9.7 points per game), field goal percentage (47%), free throw percentage (54%), points (194), free throws (38), rebounding average (8.2 per game), rebounds (163), offensive rebounds (54), offensive rebound average (2.7), defensive rebounds (109) and defensive rebounding average (5.5). Senior Tara Larson led the team in assists (45) and assist average (2.1 per game). She was also second in scoring with 139 points, a 6.6 average, while shooting 40% from the field. Tammy Nagengast shot 53% on free throws.

First year coach Rothweiler was impressed by the continual improvement the team made throughout the season and is looking forward to next season. The contributions made by seniors Bonnie, Tara and Tammy will be sorely missed. Next year's team will again be young, with many opportunities for underclass players to contribute.

Hoop It With Your Best Shot

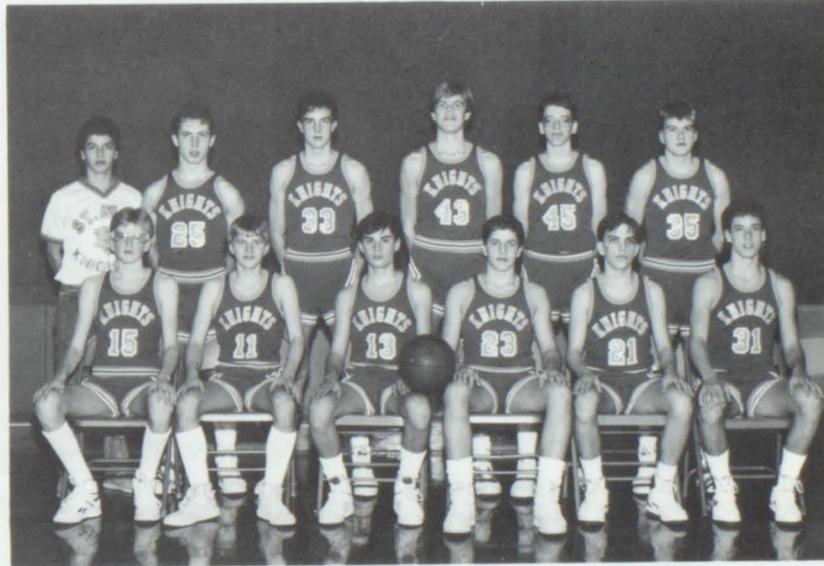

"We expect the B-squad to make extremely important team contributions to the success of the varsity in 88-89."

The STMA B-squad ended a successful season led by steady individual player progress as well as overall team improvement. Although the team was dominated by freshmen players, the young Knights managed a very respectable 10-9 record in the rugged Wright County Conference.

The defense, which relied heavily on overall team speed and quickness, allowed opponents 41.7 points per game, while the offense scored 41.9.

The Knights Shoot For The Gold

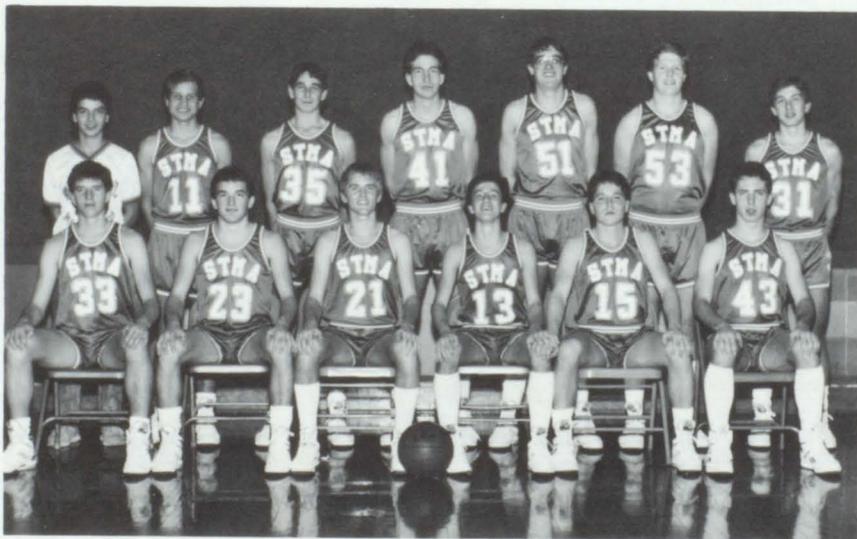

The cheerleaders willingly pose for a picture.

This year's team had very little experience coming back this year, but their 6-16 record showed just how hard they worked throughout the season trying to improve themselves. "Although we didn't win as much as we wanted to, we stayed together and stayed positive. I think that shows the type of individuals they had." complimented their coach.

One of the highlights of this exciting season included a 39-38 victory over Brooklyn Center at their Christmas tourney. Senior Grant Ketel was elected All-Conference, and he was also named to the Brooklyn Center All-Tourney Team. With 6 returning players, we can expect this improvement to continue.

Girls Track Shows Promise For Future

Debbie stretches to clear the hurdle.

Jolene skillfully hands off to Donna.

The girls track team proved to be very impressive this year, despite its size. Under coaches John Hertwig and Steve Rothweiler, this small but powerful team showed a lot of promise. Only one person will not be returning next year.

Four new school records were set by the following people: Theresa Barthel - 400m dash (65.5 sec), Meeghan O'Donnell - 60yd dash (7.7 sec), Theresa Barthel, Meeghan O'Donnell, Connie Beall, and Debbie Holt - 4x200m relay (2:01.3), and Donna Fricke - shot put (34ft 10 1/2in).

This year the team is sending 4 girls to the regional meet at Crosby-Ironton.

Track Has Outstanding Season

The boys track team had a very prosperous season. The hard work each team member put forth helped the team have a great season. John Adyt and J.J. Hall were the "A" Conference qualifiers. The region qualifiers were John Adyt, Tim Barthel, Ben Eide, Lance Beall, Jim Eicher, J.J. Hall, and Charlie Robeck. They qualified in such events as the 200, 400, and 800 meters, the 1600m relay, the long jump, triple jump, pole vault, and the 3200m run. Tim Barthel broke the school record for the triple jump with 40 ft 6 in. and the record for total points (which he set himself) with a total of 220.5 pts. He was also voted as the team's Most Valuable Runner.

Most of these athletes were seniors and had a very successful last year in track. Next year will be another year to look forward to for an exciting season and more record breaking.

This year the team had an outstanding season with 8 wins and 7 losses. At conference games they achieved third place with 4 wins and 3 losses. Although the team has 4 seniors leaving, the team for next year shows great promise for the future. This year's team consisted of 4 seniors, 4 juniors, 4 sophomores, 1 freshman, and 1 eighth grader.

The team captains for the 1988 season were Kari Kasper and Amy Roden. Next season the captain will be Jeanette Blake. Stephanie Scherber received MVP, and both she and Kari Kasper received All Conference. This year's highest batting averages were .521 (Tammy Kottke) and .500 (Jenny Lenneman).

"No, Dan, get to the base!"

This 1988 baseball season was one of the best ever. The team captured the District 17A championship with a score of 10-0 against Delano, but then lost 2-11 to Eden Valley-Watkins in the first game of Regions.

STMA Makes A Statement

For the last two years our varsity volleyball team has gone to the state competition. This year they went again and showed that STMA is a formidable force in the sports circle by placing fourth in the tournament.

Also, high honors were given to special players: Kari Kasper and Brenda Vetsch, who received All-Conference awards, and Jeanette Blake, Lisa Tietgen, and Shelly Zupon, who received honorable mentions.

We congratulate this most valuable team.

Ready for anything and everything.

Wind Ensemble

"Pay attention, girls!!"

This year the Wind Ensemble had many succesful performances. They went to contest and received a triple superior. This is the highest rating a band can receive. They have received this award for four years running. For many of the seniors it was an exciting year. Some went to solo/ensemble contests, and others just had fun in the band.

Every year the seniors get to pick a final song to perform at graduation. This year they performed The Marriage of Figaro by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. The seniors were sad to see their high school band career go by so fast, but they all had fun.

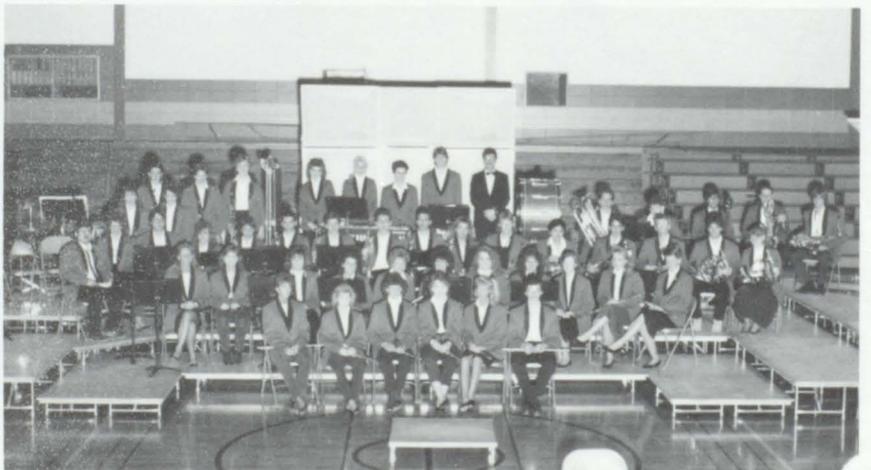

Next year we can expect to see more energetic band perfomances from the band. One change will occur, though - the Wind Ensemble will combine the freshmen with the sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Mrs. Manning directs the choir with great expertise.

This year the choir had nine solos, two duets, a quintet, and a sextet. The majority who participated at district starred and did very well at state. The choir had a great year, performing beautiful concerts and learning about a few different composers.

Heather Ketterer was awarded for the most contributing senior; however, all seniors will be missed.

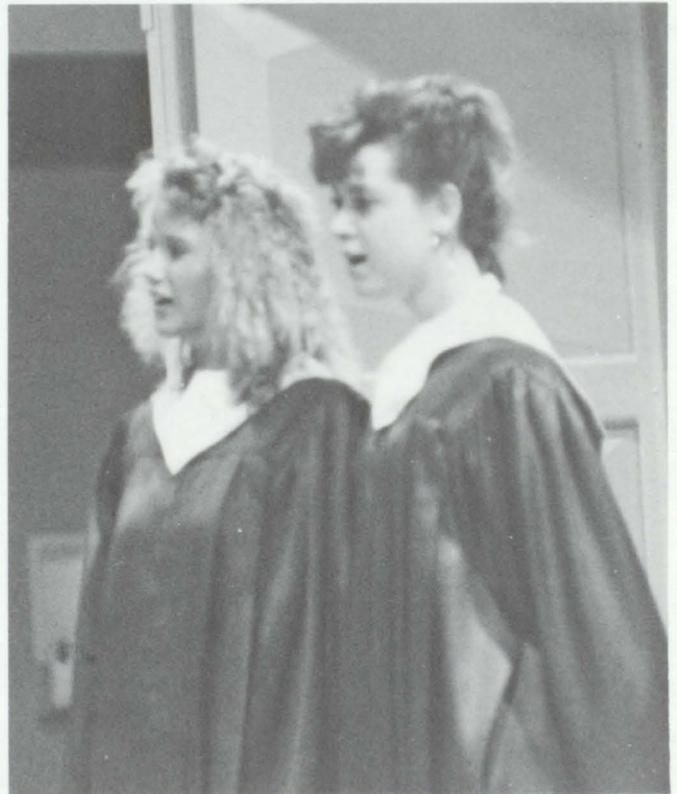

Mrs. Manning will also be missed in years to come. We hope that she will come back to STMA and visit us at times.

Divining The Heat Death

Are you laughing or not?

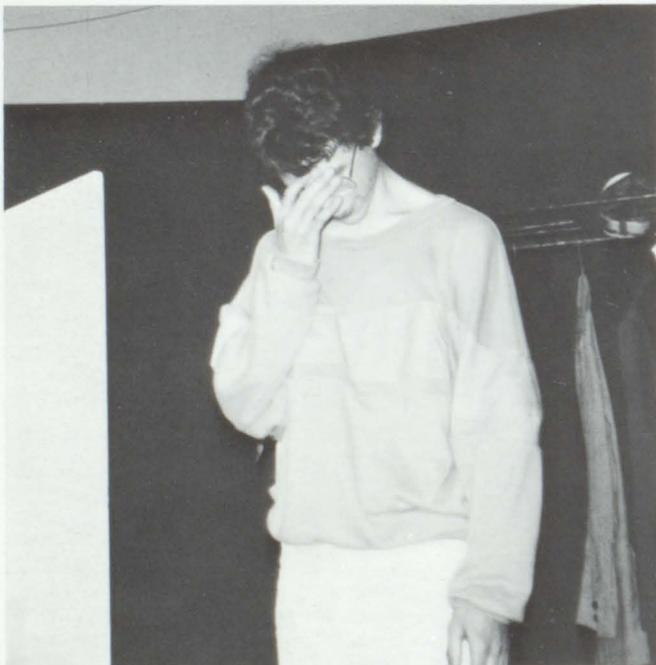

Don't you like reading other people's mail?

The one-act play was very good this year. It was directed by Mrs. Starkey. Marc Maurer, Amy Luther, and Christine Guzzo were the three performers.

The play was taken to the one-act contest. The play was performed at Delano High School and was a success. Amy Luther was voted as "Best Supporting Actress". Later, the play was given for the public at school. This, too, was another successful performance. It seemed that every time the play was performed, the entire play improved. It must have been all of those hard practices!!

Next year, expect another great play performed by the STMA drama students.

Of The Universe!

Next year's performances will be pursued with even more vigor and confidence."

This year the drama department put on the first 3-act play directed by Mrs. Starkey. The Diviners takes place in the late 1920's and early 1930's. It was about an idiot boy (played by Brian Gardner) who dies by drowning.

The members were very dedicated to the play. They were all at the practices and memorized their lines in 5 weeks - 2 nights a week. Everybody had their differences, but eventually all of them worked together.

When the play was presented, there was a feeling of intense relief and joy from the performance. The play turned out to be a big success, and we are all looking forward to next year's performance.

Amy, did you get him to tie them?

. . . Never Have Peace

A recent survey has shown that the fear of speaking in public ranks higher than the fear of death, so the members of the speech team must be brave indeed.

Progress was made this season in the areas of confidence and technique, and the members are looking forward to next year - especially Jessica Lindenfesler, who made it to regional finals this year.

Six Medal At Regions

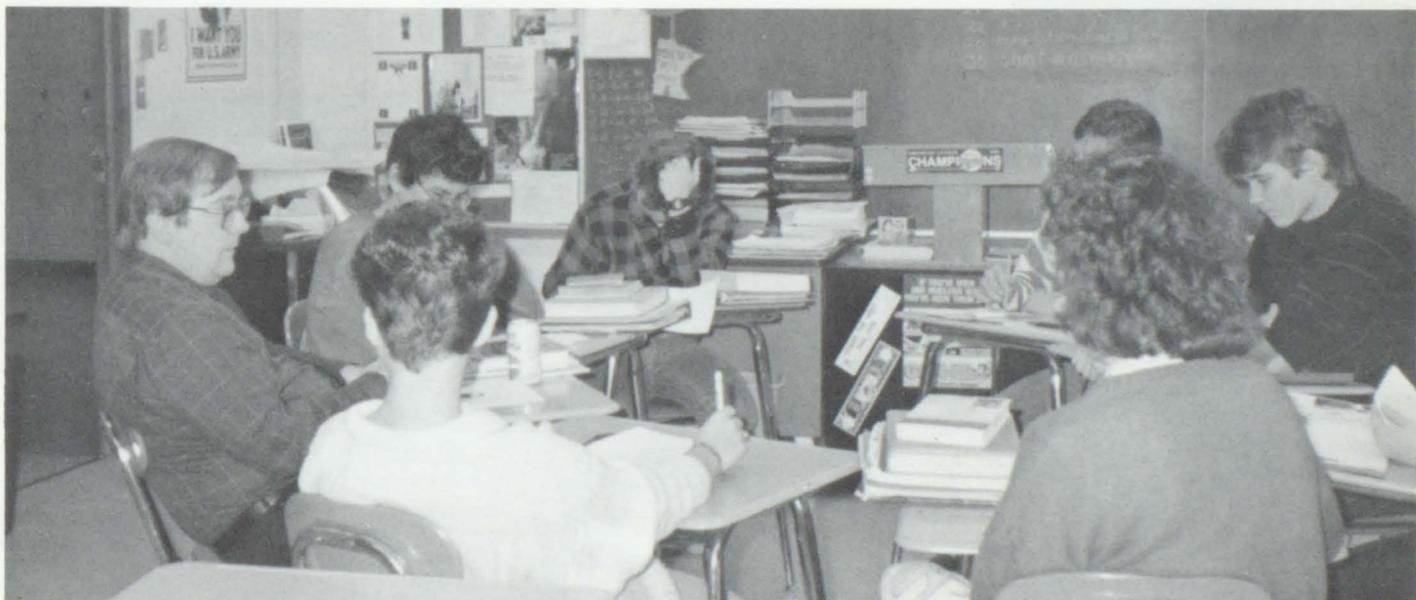

After only its second year as an activity at STMA, the Academic Decathlon team is still new enough that not everyone knows exactly what it is. So, here is a brief description: The A.D. is a team unlike any other in that it's strength comes not from muscles but from the brain. Its junior and senior members studied every day during Reading Period preparing for the Regional Competition at Dassel-Cokato, with the hope of going on to State.

The competition consists of six tests in the areas of economics, mathematics, English, science, social studies and the arts. There is also a special "Super Quiz", which was on "flight" this year.

Half-hour tests are taken for each category and awards are presented to the highest scorers. The majority of the STMA team members received medals, but, unfortunately, the overall team score was not high enough to send them to the State competition.

Could these people actually enjoy learning?

Many teachers contributed their time and knowledge for cram sessions.

REMEMBER . . .

Karen and Jenny's "junk food runs" to Tom Thumb (was it really food they were after?) . . . Bridget and Pennie's TV dinners . . . When Larry pushed THE BUTTON (and zapped 20 pages of copy off the computer and into oblivion!) . . . Pizzas, M-n-Ms, Doritos, Potato Chips, Pop . . . When we had 25 people on the staff . . . When Tomi biked 7 miles to make a meeting . . . When Larry had 4 girls in the darkroom with him . . . When Karen was accused of "favoritism" . . . Bridget's "all guy" pages . . . Karen and Jenny's "party hotline" . . . Bonnie rejected Mr. Evans' copy . . . Roxanne, Anne and Dawn dancing on the chairs . . . Karen played "Live Wire" for two hours a day the week after Winterfest?

This year the staff grew to double the size it was last year. This kept Bonnie and Karen busy showing the new members the ropes. In spite of lost photographs, frequent food runs, pages mysteriously disappearing from the computer and occasional visits from distracting people, we managed to put together a book we are proud of.

A rare, quiet moment.

Mr. Evans pretends to look busy.

The STMA Student Government is a dream - a dream that was realized and set in motion by the students of Mr. Skogen's Contemporary Problems class - a dream that received widespread enthusiasm when first discussed.

Tension was at a fever pitch during December of 1988 as the candidates campaigned for various positions in the government. Finally, after speeches given before the student body, Kris Daleiden was chosen for secretary/treasurer, Lisa Tietgen for vice-president, and Kevin Theis for president. The government is also made up of 11 representatives - 2 from each grade and 4 "at-large" students.

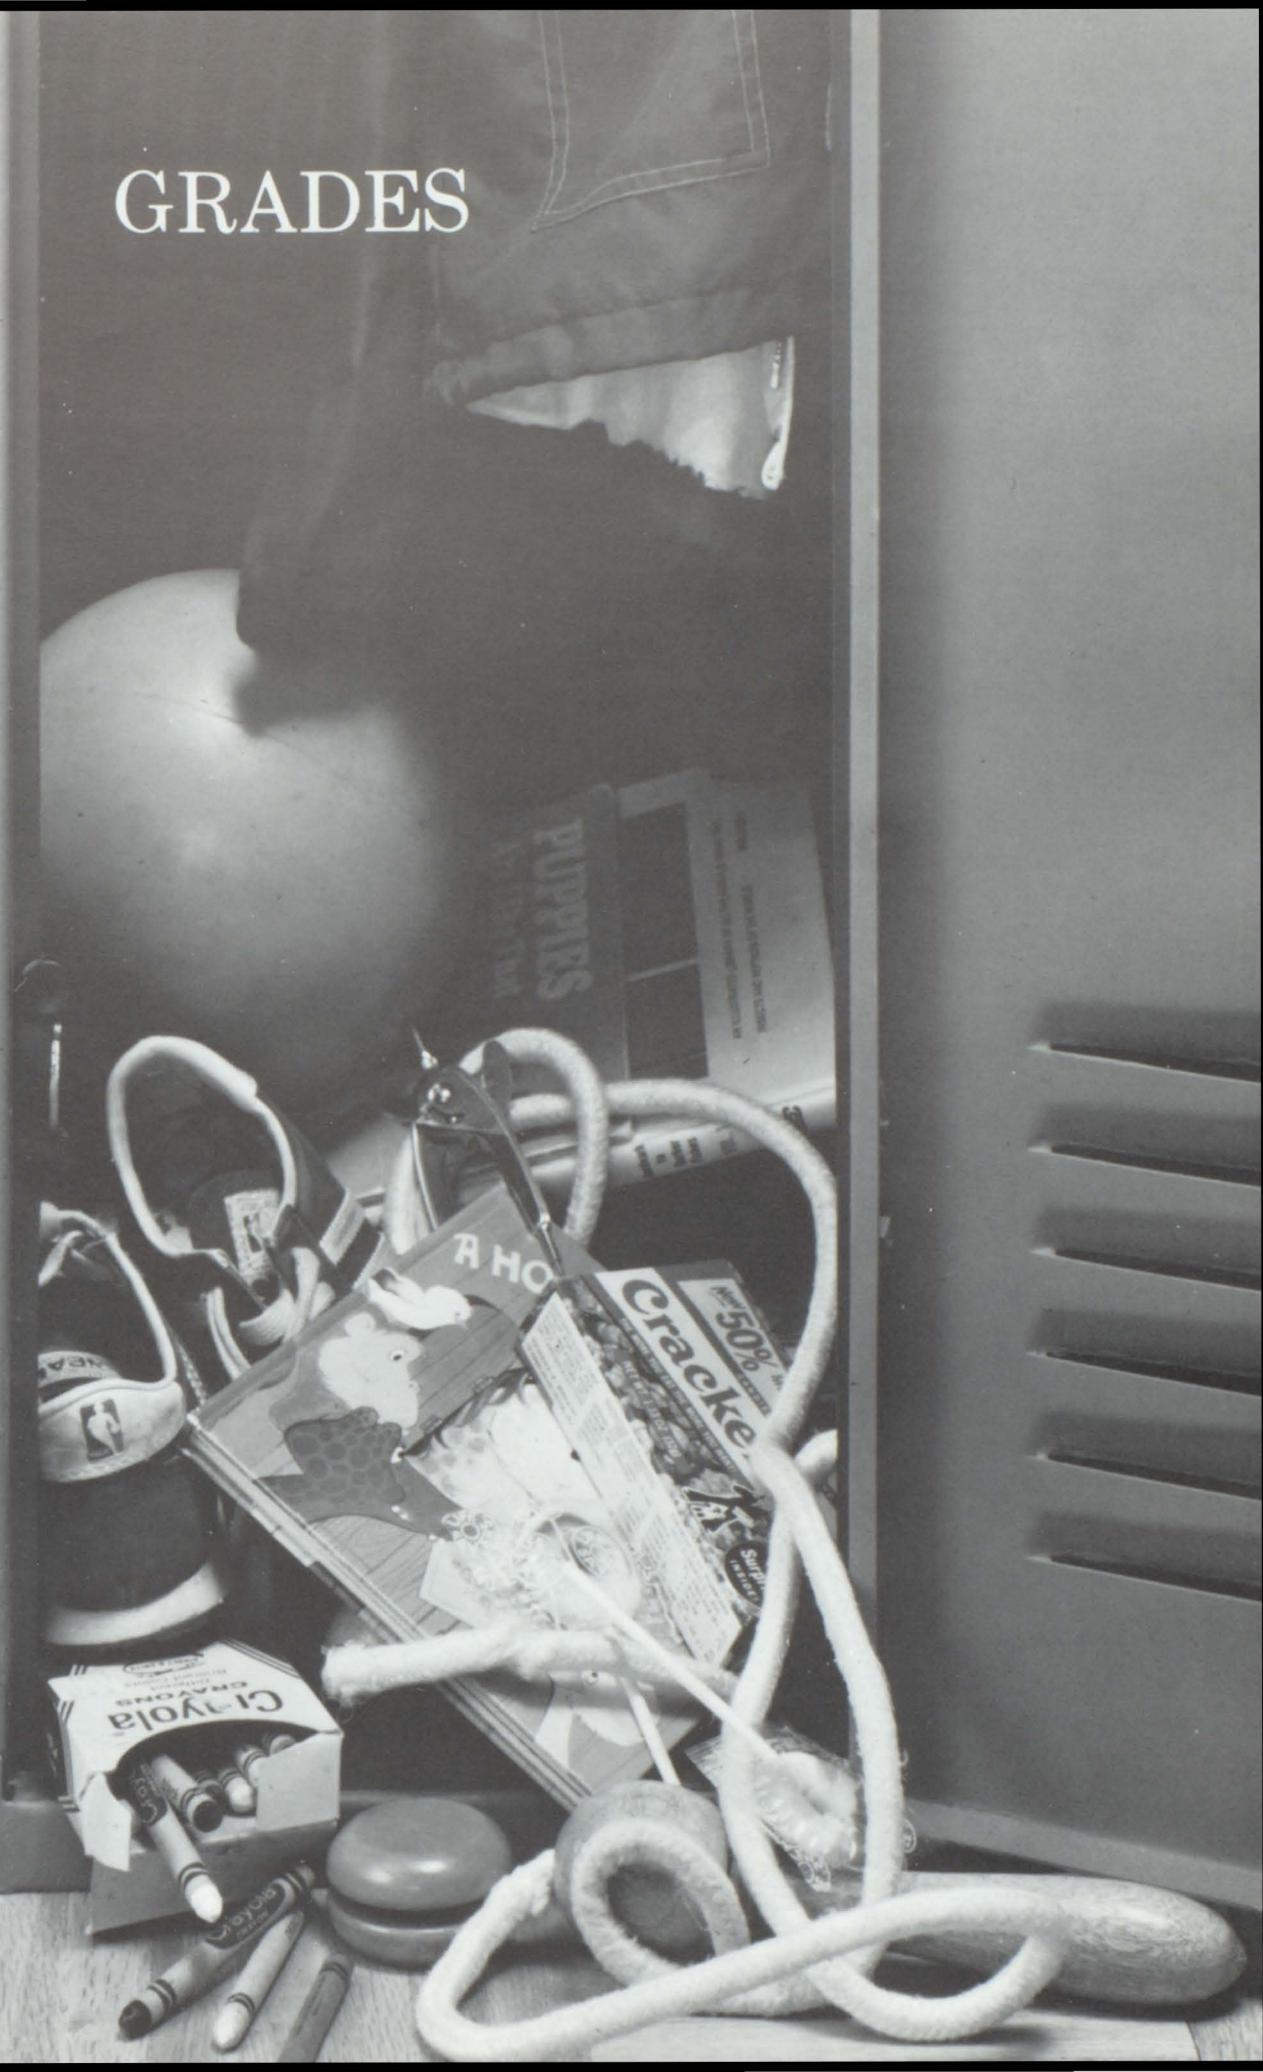

Brains working overtime.

"Well, I don't know - what do you think, Kevin?"

If you could write an autobiography about your life up to the present, what would you entitle it? That's a tough question, isn't it? How about when you were a freshman? I bet this is easier. The title could be anything because a freshmen's life is one of many trials, fun times, and new experiences.

When the 1988 freshmen were posed this same question, we received a wide range of answers, most of which eluded to the terrorizing of family members or teachers. Of all received, our favorites were 101 Things to Do if You're Bored in History and How to Get 2 Hours Detention in 4 Words or Less.

During their second year in high school, sophomores don't have too much to worry about. Gone are the old freshman fears of not fitting in or of saying and doing the wrong thing. Instead, sophomores now have more time to devote to finding their own style, a look all of their own.

The uses of fashion vary as greatly as the many different styles. Some sophomores use their clothing to make a fashion statement, whereas others use them to glamourize their looks. The most popular styles of 1988 were mini skirts, large baggy sweaters, sweatshirts, t-shirts, boots and pants with safety pinned ankles. Those sophomores who like to be comfortable wear sweatsuits and pants with holes in the knees. The more adventurous ones, though, prefer to dress up in heels, skirts and dresses. Diverse as these fashions may seem, without them, STMA wouldn't be quite as interesting.

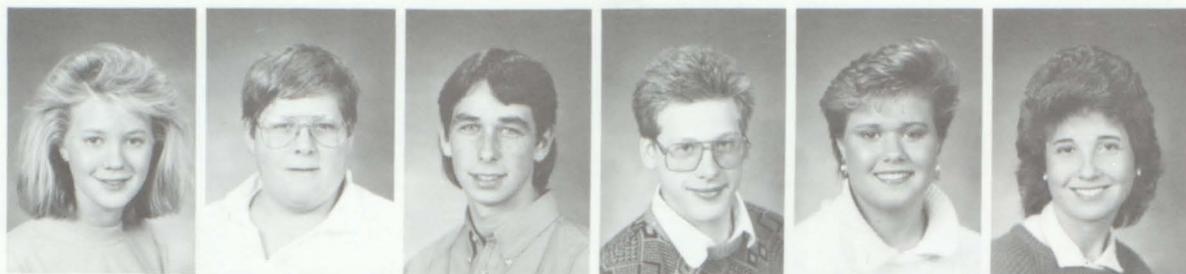

"I'm really not that shy!"

We surveyed the Junior class to find out, if they could go back, just what time period they would like to arrive at. They responded with many diverse and colorful answers. The most popular response was to return to the 1950's (to see how their parents' parents had to "suffer through" the teenage years). The second most popular answer was to travel back to Civil War times (to wear the beautiful gowns and ride horseback). Some people, however, elected to return to the recent past, such as Mr. Gifford's Freshman English class and the Rodeway Inn for 1987 State volleyball tournys (to finally meet the guys on the third floor). Finally, most all the juniors agreed that anytime there was a wild bash they'd like to go back . . . and do it all over (whether they'd keep it the same or change it).

"Rough night, girls?"

"Yes, this is PLAIN Coke!"

ACTIVITIES

Winter Week Sizzles

It's Kool-Aid time!

This year, winter week was enjoyable for all. The days of the week consisted of grub day, summer day, toga day, twin day and Minnesota sports/camera day. The after-school contests brought a lot of excitement too, with ping pong winner Shawn Swearingen; Pictionary winners Jayna Maas, Paul Godlewski, Kari Kasper and Lisa Tietgen; and Trivial Pursuit winners Paul Schumacher, Kevin Dehmer and Janice Kremer.

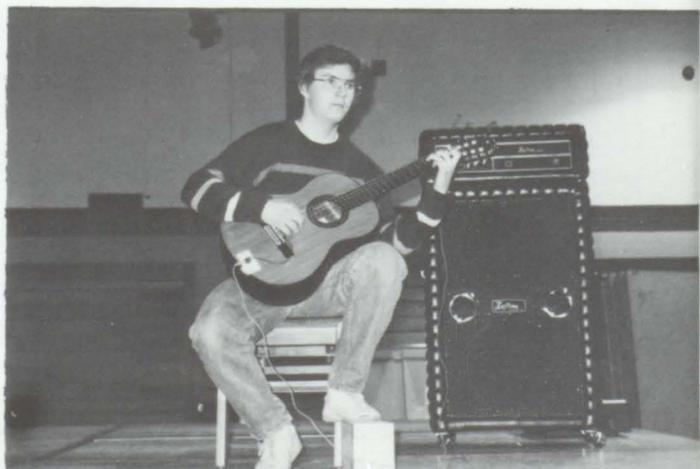

The talent/lip sync show on Friday was well worth the wait. A lot of talented students participated. Summer Breeze (Jeff Vetsch, Mike Burke, Jeremy Ayt, Ken Zahler, Shawn Kolles and Dan Kolles) were the winners of the talent show, while the lip sync was won by The Beastie Girls (Michelle Lippert, Tanya Plonske, Sandi Kasper and Heather Ketterer). Although not winning, Jett Screamer (Jeff Vetsch, Jason Tidblom, Steve Fritz and Bruce Kuchenmeister) was by far the crowd favorite. It was definitely a great way to end the week.

"Don't go messin' with a . . ."

"So what was the answer, anyway?"

Josh's concentration is unbreakable.

Bruce looks hot-rockin'!

Persistence pays off, as the winning team can tell you.

The judges can't wait to rock!

Summer Breeze played their hearts out.

A poem . . . TO THE SENIORS

Another year goes
 Passing by
 Another Prom is here
 To some this brings
 A joyous smile
 To others, brings a tear.
 For four years
 You have tread a path
 From dawn to setting sun
 But now the path grows steeper
 And the climb is just begun.
 We're very glad to know you
 We'll miss you when you've gone
 And to the class of '88
 We dedicate our Prom.

1988 seniors stand proud!

Another year has come and gone, and underclassmen can look forward to a brief respite before they again slide into the routine of another school year. But, those to whom these pages are dedicated can look forward to a new routine - one that may consist of further schooling, jobs, independence, and, certainly, excitement.

This is their greatest challenge - one which they have prepared for over the years. Even though they may have ended their high school careers with feelings of doubt and fear, we are confident that they will do great things. We would like to extend our congratulations and our sincerest wishes for a prosperous future.

Mona's final alterations.

The seniors sing their farewell song.

The time is now!!

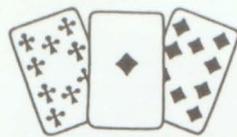

Amy makes her last high school speech.

"I am so nervous now!!!"

Circus Of The Stars

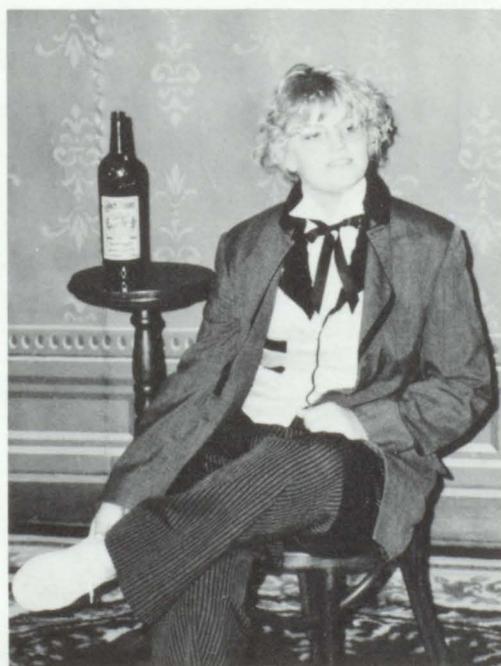

At last!! A group who likes to get their picture taken!!

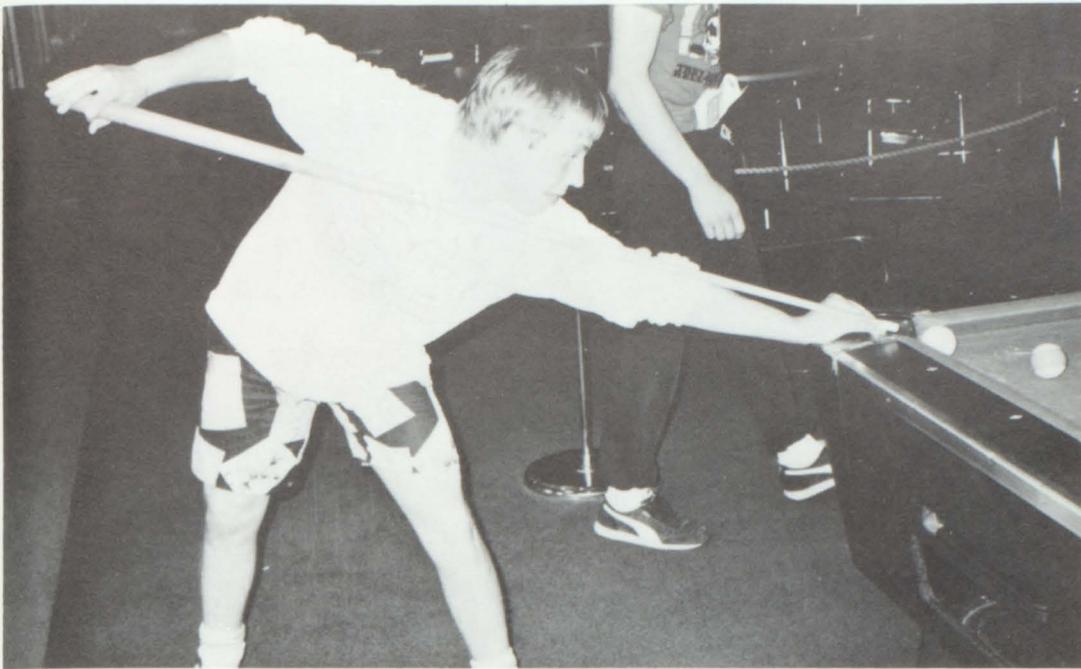

Maybe money is the trick to put a smile on Scott's face. ♡

A "smug-shot".

"Think I could make it as a guy?"

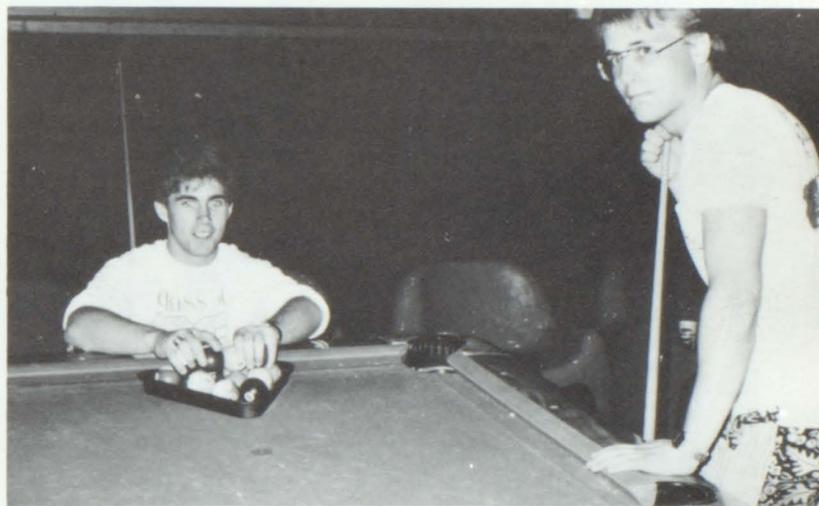

"13-ball in the corner pocket."

The Senior graduation party was again held at the Brooklyn Center Civic Center. People wonder what actually happens at these parties, or why everyone makes such a big deal about it. The reason is that it is technically the last night the "senior" class is all together, so the parents and the school try to make it really special. The party consisted of swimming, gambling, and much more that changes from year to year.

♥ Let's see those "pool moves" that you guys brag about!!

"You are all so... perfect!!!"

It's not as easy as it looks.

Ladies of the Knight.

Friends pose for a final picture.

Oh noooooo! It's Tom and Todd!!

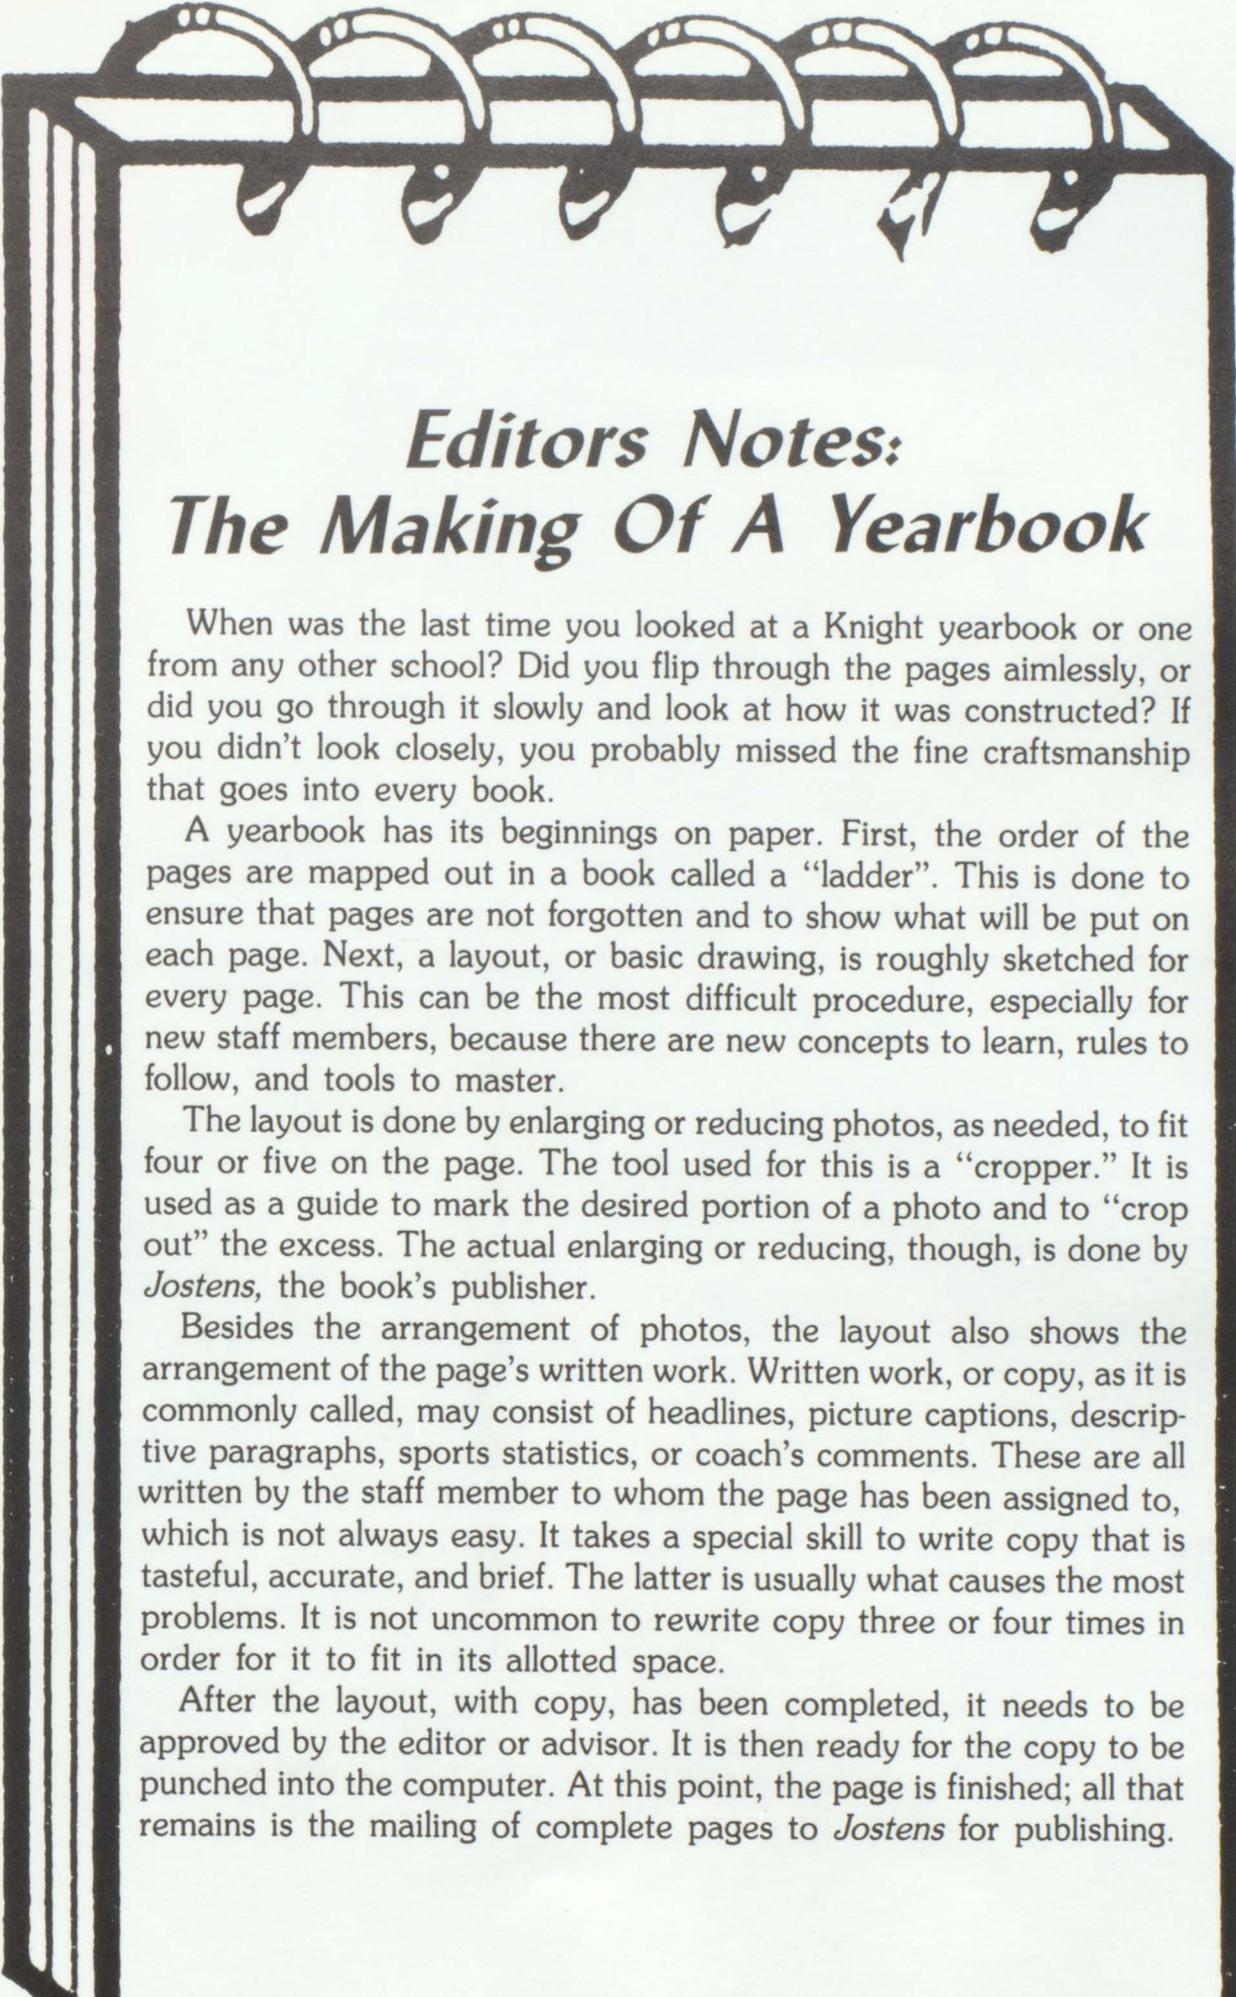

Three men and ... where's the baby?!

"Now, if Scott distracts him, I'll grab the money!!!"

◆ "Cool down, Steve. It's only money, and it's fake."

Editors Notes:

The Making Of A Yearbook

When was the last time you looked at a Knight yearbook or one from any other school? Did you flip through the pages aimlessly, or did you go through it slowly and look at how it was constructed? If you didn't look closely, you probably missed the fine craftsmanship that goes into every book.

A yearbook has its beginnings on paper. First, the order of the pages are mapped out in a book called a "ladder". This is done to ensure that pages are not forgotten and to show what will be put on each page. Next, a layout, or basic drawing, is roughly sketched for every page. This can be the most difficult procedure, especially for new staff members, because there are new concepts to learn, rules to follow, and tools to master.

The layout is done by enlarging or reducing photos, as needed, to fit four or five on the page. The tool used for this is a "cropper." It is used as a guide to mark the desired portion of a photo and to "crop out" the excess. The actual enlarging or reducing, though, is done by Jostens, the book's publisher.

Besides the arrangement of photos, the layout also shows the arrangement of the page's written work. Written work, or copy, as it is commonly called, may consist of headlines, picture captions, descriptive paragraphs, sports statistics, or coach's comments. These are all written by the staff member to whom the page has been assigned to, which is not always easy. It takes a special skill to write copy that is tasteful, accurate, and brief. The latter is usually what causes the most problems. It is not uncommon to rewrite copy three or four times in order for it to fit in its allotted space.

After the layout, with copy, has been completed, it needs to be approved by the editor or advisor. It is then ready for the copy to be punched into the computer. At this point, the page is finished; all that remains is the mailing of complete pages to Jostens for publishing.
