Softball

The STMA Knights softball team had a wonderful year. Many accomplishments throughout the season proved the team's dedication. Keeping their record in high standing, the girls defeated Delano and maintained their position against this rival team. Great job to the three seniors who will be greatly missed next season. Good luck to the girls in the upcoming years.

Golf

This year was the last time the STMA boys and girls golf teams would participate in the WCC. Next year they are moving, along with other school teams, to the Rum River Conference. The girls finished 6th in the conference, which is one place higher than last year and the boys ended their season at 7th in the conference. Elizabeth Altendorf was awarded Honorable Mention and Ryan Renstrom took home the All-Conference title. The teams look forward to future improvements in the Rum River Conference. Good Luck!

Star Performers

Everyone adds their own personal and special touch to the school which they belong to. This year's theme honors that idea.

Each individual has unique qualities which enhance STMA High School, including both staff and students alike. Without these talents, our school would not be able to achieve all that it has. The variety of qualities is endless.

Some bring athletic honor to our school and for others it is their academic status which shines.

Wonderful musical performances and art shows help others to see the creativity in the student body. There are those who lead organizations and provide services to the STMA community. This star leadership is key and a necessity. The list goes on and on. While you are flipping through the pages in this book, don't forget to recognize the important quality you have that makes you an STMA Star Performer.

H omecoming

Below: Go Gold! Pat Bjork, Kyle Valerius, James Medina, and Nate Cote all have school spirit.

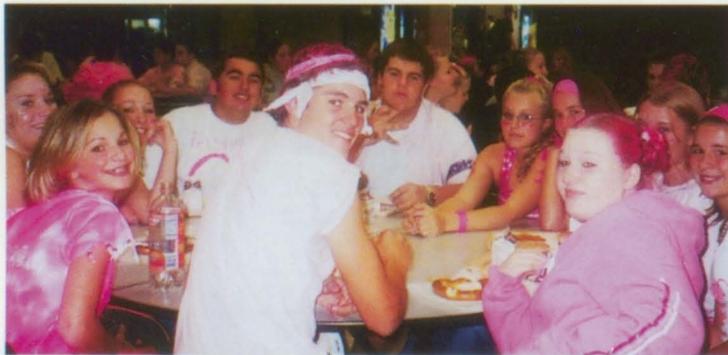

Homecoming 2001 was set off by students dressed in pajamas, fluffy slippers and groggy eyes and with the unexpected French bread. Wednesday brought Homecoming candidates who were pulled out of bed at a very early hour. During a school assembly, the candidates were introduced through crazy activities of digging through mud, feet writing contests and racing eggs with webbed feet. Tuesday let loose the patriotic and foreign flair of students who were seen wearing togas, sombreros, and carrying French bread. Wednesday brought back Battle of the Classes with an abundance of color racing through the halls. Coronation arrived on Thursday during the school day followed by the bonfire that night. School color day topped off the week as students were pumped up at a pep fest before the Knights football game.

Foreign Exchange

This year STMA hosted eight foreign exchange students from Thailand, Brazil, Germany, Indonesia, Finland, France, and New Zealand. They are: Nittakarn Chomworakul, Thiago Fernandes, Katja Goermer, Nadya Hilviana, Nina Iiskonmaki, Aurore Nevissas, Berit Schafer-Nolte, and Tessa Campbell. These are some of their unique reactions to our country. They said some of the American phrases they found strange are, "Your Welcome," said by Berit Schafer-Nolte and Katja Goermer and "Makes Sense," said by Nina Iiskonmaki. All of the foreign exchange students this year have brought with them great experiences to share with the rest of us.

Marching Band

This summer the Marching Knights had a busy, yet successful and fun summer. The Marching Knights traveled all the way to Bristol, Rhode Island to participate in the reknowned 4th of July parade. The trip also included a stop in Boston. The Marching Knights also participated in the Legion Parade in Princeton, and parades in Albertville, Rogers, Buffalo, Brooklyn Park, Maple Grove, Alexandria, and Albert Lea. They won first place in Maple Grove, Buffalo, and Brooklyn Park. They also won 3rd place at Alexandria and Albert Lea, where only the best of the best are invited to participate.

Spanish Trip

How exciting to travel to a foreign country to visit a castle, take a horse and carriage ride, and tour world famous cathedrals. That's what twenty-three Spanish-speaking students were fortunate enough to experience. On June 25th, 2001 these students boarded an airplane bound for Spain. After visiting many cities with historical sites, the students were sent to spend time with Spanish families where they learned about the Spanish life. These students returned on June 25th, after an experience they will remember forever.

F irst Day

"Oh Joy"

Below: Krissy Weber excited to finally be back at school.

What appeared to be a summer that would continue forever has now turned into a new school year. On September 4th, 2001, students, teachers, and faculty walked through the school doors in anticipation of a new school year. Cars started pulling into the school parking lot as early as seven and continued until well past eight when the final busses were dropping off the last remaining students. With many old, familiar faces and some new ones, the day was set to begin what would be another school year of new classes, new teachers, and many homework assignments. Schedules, locker combinations, and forms were waiting in the gym while people met up with new and old friends. Endless chatter was heard throughout the day, especially during the traditional all school lunch. Tales of summer vacations, trips to the beach, the daily life of soap operas, and the guy or girl you met over the summer was on everyone's tongues. With only a few late students, and the changing of schedules, the day went relatively smooth. Everyone says, or at least wonders, "How many more days of school do we have left?"

Crowning of Coronation Royalty

Below: Greg Jaeb having a little fun before heading off to school.

It's that time again for the surprise early awakening. Who will it be this year? After the student council wakes up the very surprised candidates with their crowns and sashes, they head off to McDonald's for their morning breakfast. When they get back to school they have a little fun filling out surveys and playing around in the gym. While in school the candidates had the privileged to dump student trays during lunch. It finally came to an end when all the candidates walked down the strip and awaited the crowning. As last years king and queen, Travis Dalheimer and Tiffany Zachman, stood behind them with the crowns, everyone awaited the motion. Finally it happened Matt Spaeth and Jenna Johanson were crowned. Afterwards family and friends congratulated them and many pictures were taken. Who will it be next year? We'll all just have to wait and see.

Halloween

On October 31st, STMA high school was home to a variety of different costumes and characters. From hockey players to Pokeman, students were able to dress up in costume and also had the opportunity to strut their stuff in the annual Halloween costume contest, sponsored by student council. Prizes were awarded based on categories such as "best audience reaction," "cutest costume," and more. Throughout the costume parade, students were called down from the audience to try their luck at a little friendly class competition. Pumpkin painting and mummy racing were among these activities. As always, Halloween lent a unique twist to the day by letting students experiment with their creativity and have a fun time.

The holiday mood created hallways full of joy during the final days of school before break. With the week full of activities like Deck the Halls, the Elf Auction, and the Teachers' Variety Show, someone was bound to get a big smile as a gift. As they say, a smile is very contagious and with our school's hat and mitten tree, the Toys for Tots setup, and with over $1,500 raised in the elf auction, we couldn't help but send our smiles of joys to others too. The week started off with Deck the Halls where each grade came together and decorated their halls with a unique theme of the holidays. On Thursday, the elf auction took place in which many seniors participated. Mr. Skogen auctioned off the seniors hoping the under classmen would pull out a few dollars and bid on a senior. On the final and last day before the break, the teachers performed many of their hidden "talents" for the students. After the show, everyone was wishing everyone a holiday season that was merry and bright.

Names can be deceiving, as Snow Week demonstrated when the ground was full of...grass. Oh well, the absence of white stuff didn't stop STMA from carrying out the annual coronation and assembly. The week started out with dress up day which was the day we would find out who would be our new 2002 Snow Royalty. Before the coronation the candidates presented skits which showed unique talent along with comedy. The following days students would dress up in their school spirit by participating in Forget about Winter Day, Pajama Day, and Winter White Day. On the last day of Snow Week more students built marshmallow towers, wrapped a partner in saran wrap to create a whip cream snow man, raced with banana peels, and collected cheese balls on a shaving cream face.

Student Talents

A New Road

The years were long but went by fast
And soon high school will be in my past
I'm leaving the safe path that I am so used to
And hopefully make all my dreams come true
I'm scared of what might lie ahead of me
I'm scared of what
the new road holds for me
I'll prepare myself
the best I can
No longer holding my mothers hand
The new road will be hard but I'll do just fine
And soon the world will be all mine.

Life

Life is not forever
 We only get our one time.
 We only get one opportunity to get our words to rhyme.
 Life is a precious thing
 Much more than gold or land.
 Treasure every moment
 Cherish every grain of sand.
 Life is full of traps just waiting to catch you out.
 Danger, stress, envy
 Jealousy, anger, and doubt.
 Life is for one time only

I don't believe there is a second chance.
 Just one go around the dance floor
 Just one long magical dance.
 Life is a beautiful thing
 Look for the beauty everyday Look for a beautiful thing to do.
 Or find something beautiful to say.

Happiness

Happiness
 it glows, sparkles
 then bursts from within It comes with the chill up your spine
 as your name is announced
 and your the winner,

Or when realizing long hours of study
 were not in vain, or from silencing an inner struggle.
 Yes, being happy is when every part of your body feels glad.

MY FARM

My farm to me is not just land
 Where bare unpainted buildings stand-
 To me, my farm is nothing less
 Than all created loveliness.

My farm, to me, is not a place out molded by the modern race
 For here, I think, I just see less O'evil, greed, and selfishness.

My farm is not where I must toil
 My hands in endless dreary toil
 My farm is not where I must toil
 My hands in endless dreary toil
 My farm is not where I must toil
 My hands in endless dreary toil

My farm's a heaven-here dwells rest,
 Security and happiness
 What's or betwixt the world outside
 Here faith and hope and love abide.

And so my farm is not just land
 Where bare unpainted buildings stand-
 To me, my farm is nothing less
 Than all God's hearted loveliness.

Walking through the endless corridors of my darkened mind.
I stumble through the blackness
my way so hard to find.

Wondering what existence means if it's even worth the cost.
Wondering if I should try to save what is bound for lost.

I come upon the door of vice towering here before me.
Confusion races through my mind
as I ponder what this door could be.

A yellow glow begins to seep,
from beneath the door.
Reaching for the twisted handle to see the light for more.

Awestruck in the blinding light
I know what this could be.
Yes! I am now sure of it!
Of what this is I see.

Behold the light, of what I see...
Come bathe within its glow.
For it is knowledge-a wonderous gift,
the way against the night that glows.

The knowledge of my full potential to see through ev'ry mist.
The mists' of pure infinity,
to the life that rules with a golden fist.

Simple imagination,
the fuel to the knowledge of understanding.

Only Stars?

I look up at the clear blue sky, and I see a million burning stars.

This is so beautiful words can't even describe what I see.

The stars are a beautiful symbol of hope for millions of people, for the stars never go out they never disappear like friends, money, or lovers.

As I gaze I see the blinking lights of a modern day mans inventions it's amazing to see history meet new age.

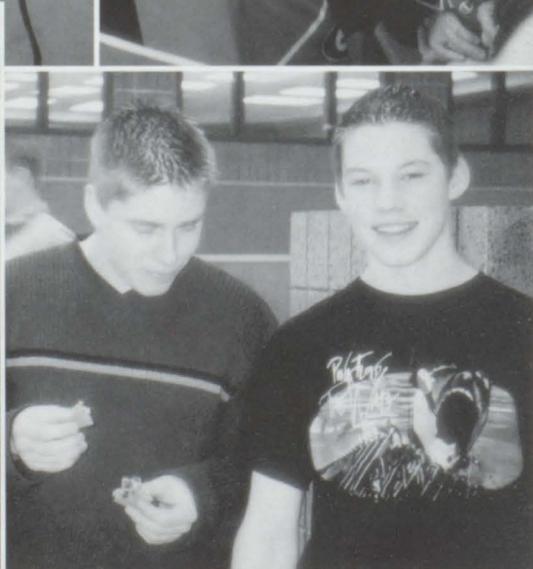

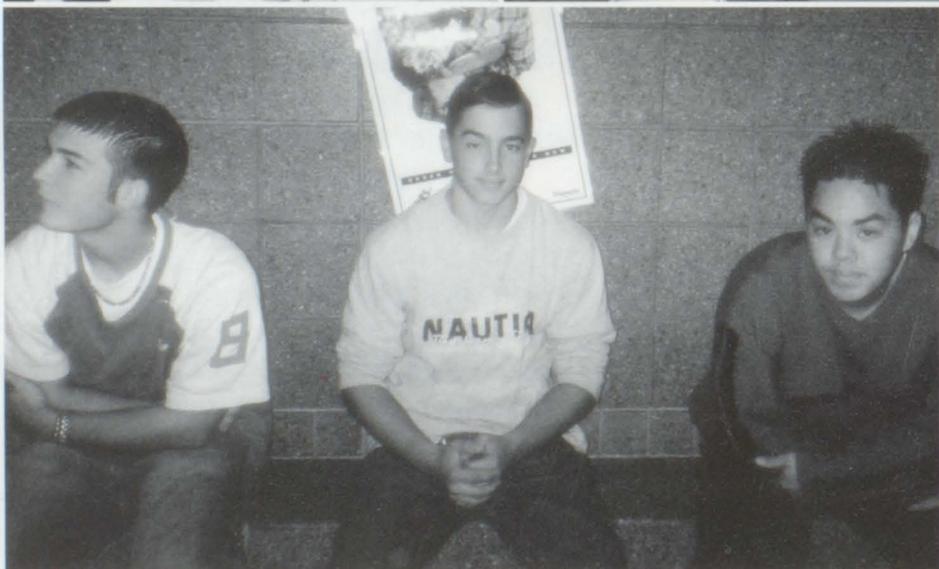

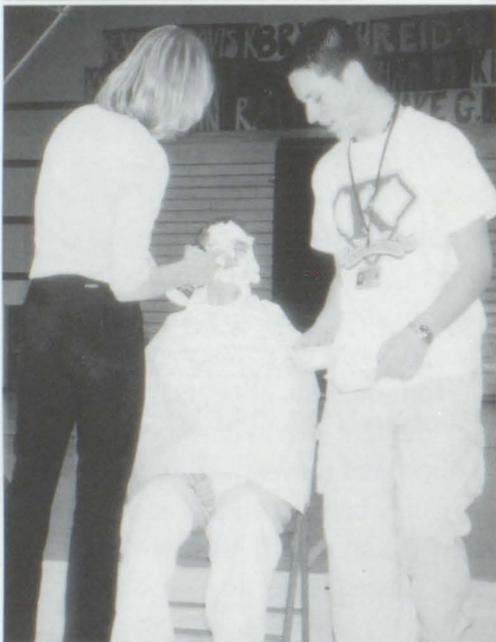

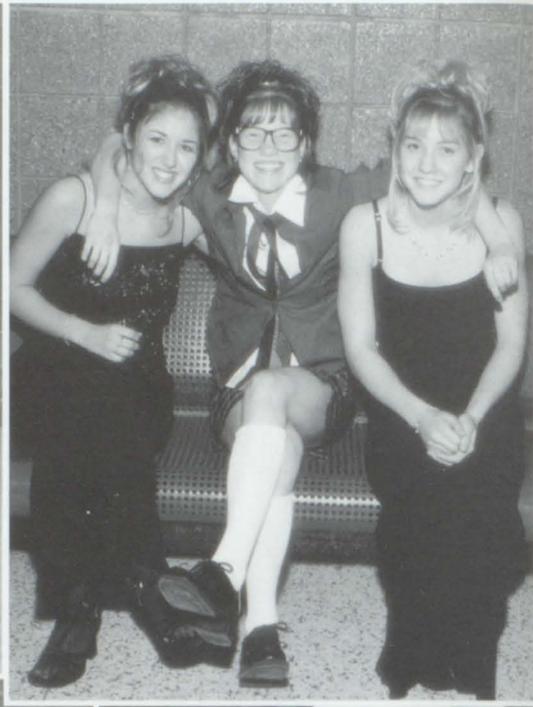

People have looked up at these same stars for hundreds of years.

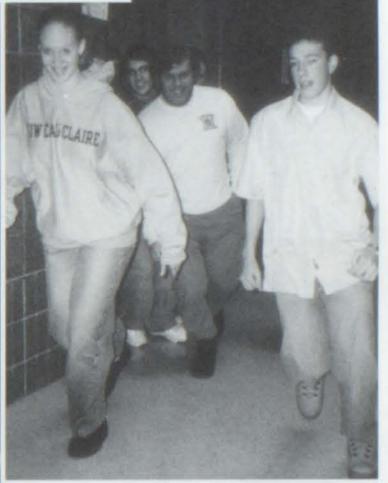

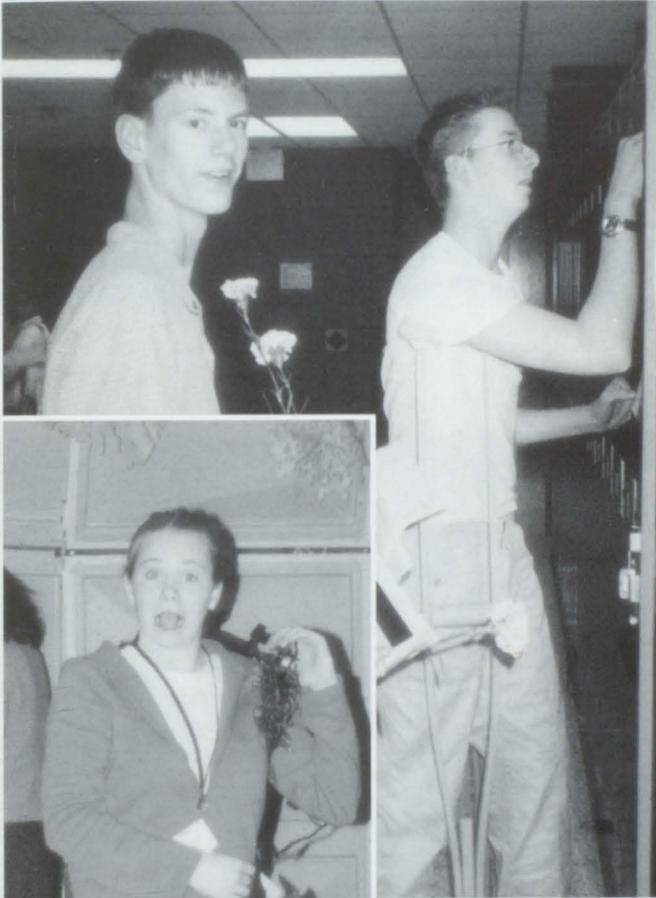

What they thought would have been interesting to know, did they wonder what made them, why they burn so bright, or did they just look up and admire them for their beauty as I do.

I like to think the sky and stars within it are the most peaceful things the people of earth have ever looked upon. The stars don't care what race, color, or religion you are. Nothing in the material world can stop you from gazing at them.

People have been making shapes, in symbols of the stars for hundreds of years. No doubt there are thousands more to be discovered by some watchful eye, who's not closed against the idea of stars being anything more than little lights that are there when you tilt your head back.

Business

The field of business is growing each day in our world. There is always a need for those with leadership skills in this area who can take charge. Business classes in high school can help provide students with a chance to learn more about this field. We offer a variety of classes ranging from basic computer application classes to career investigation classes. In Personal and Business Finance, students learn how to handle the expenses of living on their own. This is interesting since many don't realize the reality behind working and paying daily expenses of insurance, food and housing. Another project they participate in is the stock market game. Many students enjoy this because they learn how the stock market works. It is also a chance to learn new skills in these classes such as accounting and how to balance a checkbook. The most common reason for students to take business classes is because everything they learn can help them in the future.

When students want to practice everyday living skills, the Family Consumer Science Department is the place to be. Fashion, Housing and Interior Design, Child Development, Textile Arts and Construction, Living Skills and Nutrition and Foods 1 and 2 are classes offered in the department. These classes are hands on classes that will challenge a student to meet the needs of living on their own while also giving them a taste of life on their own.

In our school we have two Foreign Language classes offered--Spanish and French. The Spanish department offers Spanish levels 1-4 and Advanced Placement Spanish while there are three levels offered for French. It is a wonderful opportunity to be able to learn and speak a foreign language. In a student's 1st year of taking a foreign language students will find that memorization is a skill well needed. They also learn how to write and pronounce objects, feelings, numbers, verbs, and the most famous ABC song. In the higher level classes students expand their vocabulary, learn to translate books and articles, and study the culture where their language is spoken. Also students can participate in an activity at the Minnesota Zoo where they give a presentation on an animal in the language they are learning. Foreign language classes open students' horizon to other cultures and their languages.

The visual arts department at STMA has many different opportunities for students to be creative and explore different media. Classes range from photography, ceramics, graphic design and printmaking, sculpture and drawing and painting. The prerequisite for any of these classes is Studio Art with Ms. Ness. Studio Art is an intro art class where students learn basic drawing and painting techniques. Ms. Hedland is most often found in the dark room as photography is her specialty. Mrs. Heinks spends most of her day working with with clay teaching ceramics.

Industrial Tech

A variety of classes are offered in this department of our school. Each class is unique and offers many different projects and lessons to be learned. In woodshop courses, many students claimed that their favorite projects were their final projects. These were pieces such as a rocking chair, kitchen table, entertainment centers and even a fish house. Woodshop gives students many opportunities to create pieces which they can display and use in their own homes. Lifelong skills are also implied into these courses. They learn about teamwork by learning how to work on an assembly line. Students are also put in a problem solving atmosphere when they must figure out how to fix things. With all of the numbers, angles and measurements, these classes also allow students to brush up on those math skills.

However, there is more to this department than the woodshop. Connected to the woodshop is a computer area for classes such as drafting and web page design. In here, students may learn how to design the blue prints for a house or shed. In a different class they may study about what makes a good web page. This lesson was followed by an evaluation of student's favorite web pages. No matter what the class, students claim to take these classes to become more efficient on the computers because it may be a field of study they would like to pursue. These classes provide hands-on work for students and once again they have a chance to show their math skills such as estimating.

Language Arts

What is English? The teachers: Mr. Hoffman, Mrs. Koss, Mrs. Welty, Mr. Frickstad, Mrs. Scherber, and Mrs. Bovee show us there is so much more to English class than reading books and writing papers. In some classes you may have a chance to act out classic books and even learn what goes in to putting on a play. This years first semester English 10 classes went to see the play Of Mice and Men. The upperclassmen have a large variety of classes to choose from ranging from AP English to Shakespeare, Theatre Arts to Public Speaking, and many more. The English department has a way of teaching to make these classes fun and motivating for everyone at STMA High School.

Math

We have a wide variety of teachers teaching us the concepts of Algebra, Geometry, and Calculus. When asked about some of the characteristics of the math department, students responded with some interesting comments. They said math means expanding your knowledge by means of numbers, lots of problems, good teachers, lots of paperwork, two notebooks for one quarter, and finally Mr. Greeno's lovely jokes.

Who's a rock star? With a class like Garage Band offered at our school, anyone can be a rock star. Learn how to play guitar, bass guitar, drums, keyboards, or anything else available. Bands are put together by finding out who wants to play what and their ability, however, it is perfectly fine if you have no experience at all. The bands pick songs of their favorite bands (like Lynard Skynard, Aerosmith, Blink 182, Jewel, and more) to cover. Once they have a few songs under their belts, they can put together original songs. They not only get to learn how to play songs, but write them too. Towards the end of the quarter, the class also works on recording songs for their very own Garage Band CD.

The other class offered in the music department is Music Theory, which is generally for the more advanced band and choir kids. In Music Theory they study how music is written and the parts that make it up, like the harmonies and melodies of music.

In high school, students are required to take two phy. ed classes. Sophomores and freshmen are required to take phy. ed one and two, while juniors and seniors have the opportunity to choose electives.

and social needs. Freshmen and sophomores are required to take this class to complete their standard. Phy. ed and Health classes are fun for students and will make them smile remembering the good old times they had while learning about their body and staying fit.

Science

For many people, science classes mean experiments, flasks, and formulas. While some science courses do involve these things, science is also about exploring unknown frontiers, whether they are on the earth, in space, or even inside our own bodies. Science is all about understanding the things around us, and there are several classes to choose from that help accomplish this task.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Social studies classes allow you to learn all about life today and in the past: the good, the bad, and even the ugly. It's always exciting."

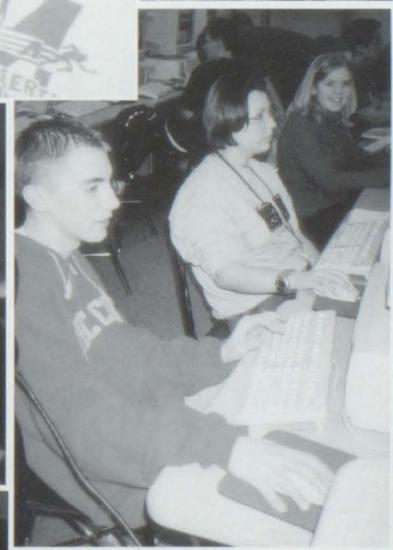

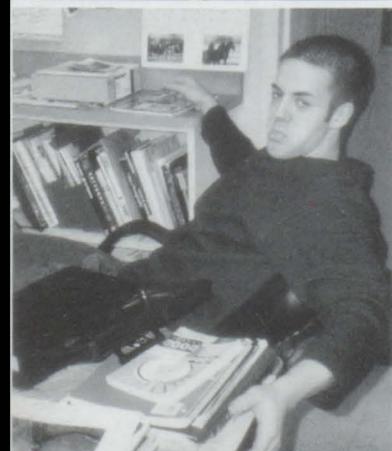

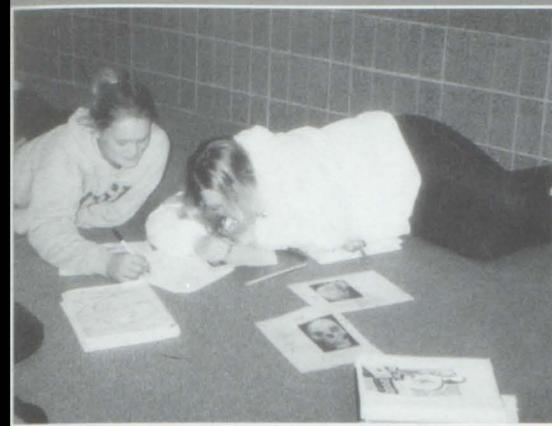

~Mr. Skogen

The Social Studies department includes such classes as: Responsible Citizenship, U.S. History, Economics, Nose for News, Ethnic Issues, Women's Studies, American Wars, Greeks and Romans, Middle Ages Through Renaissance, Psychology, Sociology, Weird Science and Geography. Students enjoyed several projects in a few of those classes this year. In Mrs. Herfel's class the students enjoyed the Newscast projects which allowed them to learn a lot about different events. In Mr. Skogen's Economic class the students enjoyed and also learned a lot from putting together a scrapbook to see what it would be like to live on $30,000 a year in today's world. The psychology paper in Mr. Barthel's class, several students thought was very informative and interesting to learn about different topics in the psychology world.

This fall, a group of extremely talented performers and musicians came together to put on the musical Into the Woods. The musical combines the fairy tales of Jack and the Beanstalk, Cinderella, Rapunzel, and Little Red Riding Hood, with the addition of The Baker and His Wife. This collage of fairy tales was intricately woven together as the characters repeatedly journeyed “into the woods” for the fulfillment of their wishes. Twists in the story appeared when those wishes were starting to fall apart. Nonetheless, it ended happily ever after, as the characters realized that wishes are not everything. For two months everyone worked hard on everything from auditions to costume changes, set painting to orchestra practices, and even weekend run-throughs, but it was all worth it. The performers proved their talents each night, creating a successful production, and giving all involved an incredible sense of accomplishment.

“Hope is the Thing with Feathers”

Directed by Jox Metcalf and Kelly Bovee

One-act. Just writing the words brings back memories of inside jokes, long nights, and early morning oranges. One-act is an event in which different schools compete against each other for the honor of performing at the State One-Act Festival at St. Kate’s. This year, STMA’s production of “Hope is the Thing with Feathers” recieved second at subsections but did not advance from sections to go to state.

Although one-act is a competition between schools, it’s more about having fun and forming relationships with your team and with peers from other schools. The mornings of competitions, the STMA cast could be found playing hacky-sac or group juggling with fruit or shoes (anything that doesn’t splat when it hits the ground) with casts from other schools. It was wonderful to see people who were supposed to be “rivals” getting along so well together.

“Hope is the Thing with Feathers” was a bit of a change from what STMA has gotten used to the past few years. If you were to read the script, you would see a sometimes humorous account of a group of homeless people trying to catch a duck to eat. This is just the mask that covers a story of unending hope despite all odds. We meet several characters and get a taste of why they are here and what their lives are like. If you saw the play, maybe you cried a little; maybe you laughed. Hopefully, the play made you think a little about how lucky we all are and how so many people have nothing but hope.

JAZZ

Between the normal choirs and bands at STMA, there's some room for a little bit of jazz with the school's four jazz groups. On the vocal end, students participate in either the female dominated Sirens, or the mixed Jazz Choir. For an instrumental option, there are two different jazz bands available - named appropriately Blue and Gold. All four groups perform numerous times throughout the school year in such programs as Arts of the Knight, the annual jazz show, regular concerts, and contest. Jazz groups are definitely an essential part of STMA's performing arts program.

Boys Cross Country

Led by seniors Bob Spence, Joe Briggs, and Tad Hickman, the boys showed what dedication means to their team. They battled through many tough and rather hot practices. The result of their hard work and perseverance was taking 5th place in the Wright County Conference, 5th at St. Peter, 26th at Princeton, and finishing with 14th place in the section 4AA meet. They also placed 6th in their own STMA Invitational. Joe Briggs and Kevin Knock recieved Honorable Mention All Conference. At their year end cross country banquet, Joe Briggs was voted Most Valuable Player, Bob Spence was voted Hardest Worker, and Dan Greeno was voted Most Improved.

Womens Tennis

This season was a victorious one for the Girls Varsity Tennis Team with a record of 19-4. The senior co-captains that led the team to victory were Alison Kleist and Amiee Falbo. There were several accomplishments this season that include WCC Champs, 1st place in the Hutchinson tournament, 1st place in the STMA tournament which allowed them to regain the title, 1st in the Mora tournament and the team won the first round of sub-sections. Alison Kleist won two consecutive matches at the sub-section level and was able to go on to Hibbing and play in the section tournament.

Good-Bye WCC!!

Cheer, Cheer for STMA...FOOTBALL, as they went undefeated in their last year in the WCC with a record of 12-1. With every game the team demonstrated their strength and talent on the offensive and defensive side. With coach of the year Mr. Bauman and the wonderful coaching staff, the team became WCC champs, section 7AAAA champs, and also made it to the state semifinals. Along with the teams accomplishments, they beat Glencoe and Delano, two key rivals. Even the burden of moving up to class 4A in the playoffs didn't stop the Knights from reaching the state semi-finals in the Metrodome. Although the final game brought about a disappointing outcome, this year's football team had nothing to be disappointed about. Some individual awards went to Ryan Zachman, who was the 5th leading rusher in the history of the state and was WCC running back of the year. Matt Spaeth was WCC linebacker of the year. TWO thumbs up multiplied by two towns of fans equals a job well done for the STMA football team. CONGRATULATIONS!

"I think our season was awesome. We were expected to be not good. We showed them that we were as good as the team from the previous year."
-Nicole Rademacher

Did you dig the volleyball team this year? If you didn't see these stellar athletes crush the competition you missed out! One big accomplishment that they achieved was winning first place in the Visitation Tournament. Under the leadership of their cool captains other stars shown bright as well. Nicole Rademacher thinks that some star performers are "our sophomore girls. They played really strong for being unexperienced at the varsity level. They are all wonderful and very hard workers." The volleyball team had fun this year, on and off the court. One of the funniest memories from this season was "when Teresa fell off her chair... unforgettable!" -Darcy Beaudry. Overall the season was fun and exciting and we can't wait 'til next year!

Boys Basketball

Knights Basketball took it to the limit this year with an outstanding record of 22-4. Seniors Matt Spaeth, Reid Weber, Jerry Arns, Jim Litzau, Travis Kortum, and Johnathon Maurrer put forth all of their knight pride while ending their last season with St. Michael-Albertville. Although the season ended with the loss by Benilde St. Margaret we reached and achieved a great goal. During the season the team beat a couple of rivals that took determination and commitment. Thoses teams were Dassel-Cokato and Watertown, which were close defeats. To bring the season to a high rise was the annoucement of Knights becoming Conference Champs. We went to the playoffs starting off with a win against Monti 55-37. Then loosing out of semi-finals against Benilde St. Margaret in double overtime 62-65. Although it was a disappointing loss, the Knights played with exceptional style during the season of 2001-2002! CONGRATULATIONS!

Girls Basketball

DRIBBLE, DRIBBLE, PASS, PASS, SWOOSH, SWOOSH, was the sound of the girls basketball team this season. The season started out as Coach Hoffman's first year as head coach and from there, each game progressed as the talent's of each girl came shining through. The season ended with a 13-10 record. During the season, the girl's accomplished a six game winning streak and on their sixth game of the streak they beat WCC conference leader Glenco - Silver Lake. The girls ended up placing second in the WCC, which showed their season was a great season!

Gymnastics

With an overall 10 wins and 1 loss, the STMA gymnastics team went all the way this year, bringing St. Michael-Albertville into the Wright County Conference Championship. The individual performances of Cassie Johnston and Amy Lindenfesler qualified the two for state. In the vault sections, Cassie took first with a score of 9.525, and placing 8th in the state. Also showing her talent on the bars Cassie places 3rd in sections and 16th in the state. As a whole team at sections they place fourth, with a score of 139.55. Coach Heidi Sipe was named section 5A coach of the year. Out of 15 in the 5A conference, Cassie Johnston, Amy Lindenfesler, and Elizabeth Caady, all placed. "It's exiting to see all the possibilities, especially with the dedication and determination and the wonderful attitudes by everyone," said coach Sipe. The year has been great and coach Sipe knows that next year will be even better.

Hockey

This year was a tough season for the Knights hockey team. Losing many of their starters and suffering through injuries, it was tough to fill the missing positions. The team also struggled with trying to stay out of the penalty box which coach Brian Mashuga remarked, "it cost us the game", in reference to the Delano game 4-2. The boys skated out to play good, hard games this season and exited the ice with some great victories along with some unfortunate losses. The teams lead scorers were Kyle Rogers and Patrick Henry with 17 and 15 goals respectively. With the goalies average saves measuring up to 90% the hockey team was also well protected by senior Andy Valerius.

Wrestling

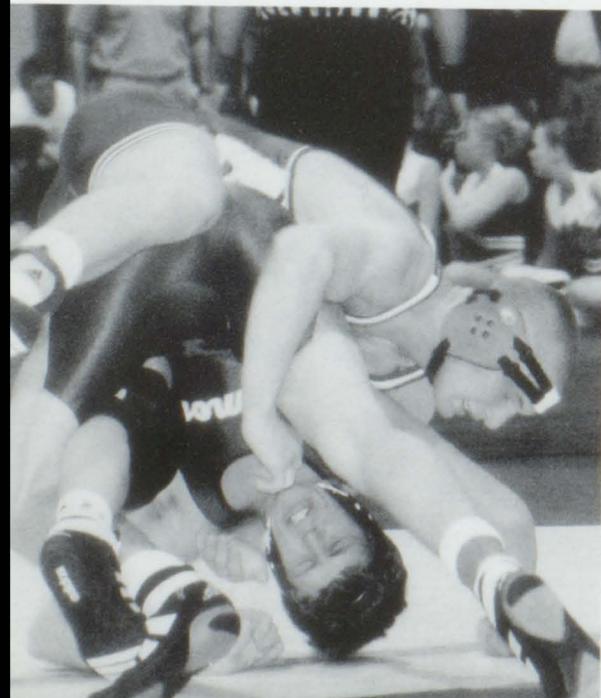

"Wrestling is a tough sport. It's not always fun to practice and get in shape, but with the discipline and courage it demands, hopefully in some small way, it makes you a better person."

-Coach Greeno

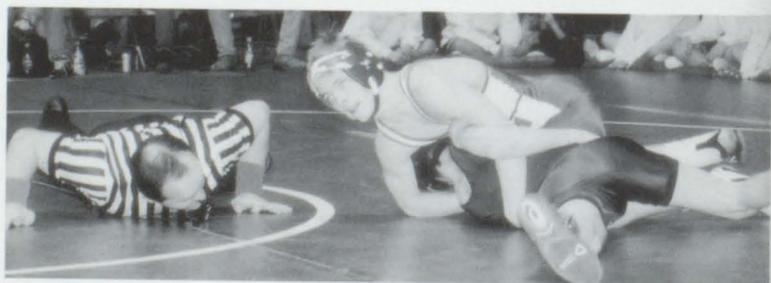

Led by 11 seniors, the 2001-2002 Knights wrestling team had a very successful season. The team capped off a great season by winning the Section and making it to State, where they placed 4th. Sophomore Brandon Dick won the State title at 112 pounds to end his season with a 46-1 win-loss record, becoming STMA wrestling's 12th individual State Champion. Brandon also notched his 100th career victory during the season, an outstanding accomplishment, especially for a sophomore. Senior Matt Becker also placed in State, earning a 6th place medal at 119 pounds. Knight seniors included: Charlie Bammert, Dan Beach, Aaron Becker, Matt Becker, Jason Eull, Mike Hemann, Tad Hickman, Noah Martin, Mike Marx, Cory Young, and Ryan Zachman. In addition to winning the Section and qualifying for the State as a team, the Knights also won the STMA Invitational Tournament, and the Wright County Conference Tournament. They finished with an overall dual meet record of 20 wins and 6 losses. The B-squad had a 13-3 record.

“You must do the thing you think you cannot do.” That is this year’s motto for the twenty-four 2001/2002 student council members. From homecoming to Mudfest, STMA’s council definitely takes that quote in effect as they literally work all year to make school events and functions the best they can be. Elected from each grade by their peers, student council is made up by students who strive to make a difference in their school by representing their class in a positive way. This year, Stud. Co. took on the usual load of events such as the first day of school activities, parts of Homecoming, coronation, Halloween costume contest, Penny Wars, Elf Auction, dating surveys and more. STMA also constantly adds new and fun events like the Seatbelt Challenge where students competed against other schools to see who was the most seatbelt-smart. Representatives are also given the opportunity to attend events such as EMASC, leadership camps, and the state convention. All are designed to help in setting positive examples through students. By learning and working together, STMA’s student council members work hard to make the school a more fun place to be for everyone.

“Everything I do speaks for my school. Being a positive example is a responsibility which I will take seriously. It teaches others what I believe.”

FRENCH CLUB

Our school is full of star performers and there are also many around the world. French Club is finding out what makes the French culture shine. Whether it's through fun and games or getting together to eat croissants on a Cafe Lattemorning, the French Club knows how to have a good time. One of the parties they had this year involved enjoying a French food/movie night. Members got together to make crepes and watch Moulin Rouge at member's Roxanne Boone's house. Next summer the French Club is planning on taking a trip to France. Who knows what other exciting activities await them.

SPANISH CLUB

Experience The Culture

This year the Spanish Club tried some new activities in order to learn more about the culture of Spain. Some activities which they enjoyed were plays, meals, cooking new foods and celebrating major Spanish events.

The club had a few people back from last year who had experienced on the trip to Spain. For one week they travelled around Spain from Madrid to Seville, Granada and Toledo. The second week they enjoyed living with a host family and learning first hand what makes this culture unique. Currently the Spanish Club is planning another exciting trip to Spain 2002-2003.

National Honor Society

Everyone has a purpose in Life - a unique gift or talent...

and when we blend this unique talent with service to others, we experience the true accomplishment of all goals.

The National Honor Society of St. Michael-Alberville is made up of students from 10-12th grade who are characterized by the four pillars: character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The members demonstrate this through the different activities and events that NHS plans for both in and out of school. For instance, members work at the annual spring car wash for charity, play bingo and have dinner with the local seniors, and also help with school-related events such as Daffodil Days and homecoming. Through programs like NHS, STMA is able to reach out and be part of a new community.

RANDOM ACTS OF KINDNESS & TARGET

Promoting Goodness In Our School

RAK (Random Acts of Kindness) and Target decided to combine this year to create one group with one new set of goals, and shared values. The focus for RAK and Target is to promote both kindness and a drug free lifestyle to all students in this school. These are both important values for everyone to be open to and this group does its best to show the goodness in them for all students to see. Members stay involved by attending meetings and creating ways for students to interact with each other.

One of the events which RAK/Target put together was the annual flower sales during Valentine's week. As always, this was a major success. Everyone enjoyed sending the special people in their lives a sweet message and a flower. In order for members to grow in leadership, they attend retreats at Camp Koionia. This retreat center holds various retreats throughout the year on respect topics. Each retreat helps to open up the eyes of members and teaches them how to bring what they've learned at the retreat to others in their schools.

RAK/Target is continuously growing and providing more opportunities for students to spread their values further throughout the student body.

BUSINESS PROFESSIONALS OF AMERICA

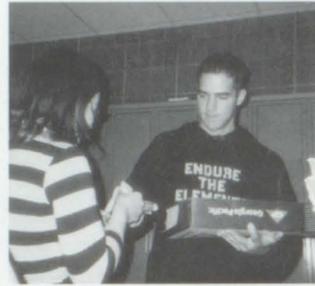

Along with all the veteran clubs in STMA, the Business Professionals of America (BPA) continues to be a popular option for students in its second year. In this club, students not only learn the ways of different businesses and parts of business such as the stock market, they are also able to communicate with different business professionals through an email program called Ementoring. In e-mentoring, students are paired up with a business person in a field similar to the student's interest's and they correspond through email by asking and answering different questions for different weeks. Of course, there is room for a little travel. In the spring 2001, BPAers went to New York to visit the stock exchange (and sneak in a Broadway musical). This spring, members will visit Chicago. BPA is a wonderful way for students to get acquainted with the outside world of business and obtain an idea of what goes in the everyday life of a professional. Anyone interested in business should definitely check this out. And even if you're not a member, it's a great benefit for a jump-start in the "real world."

MOCK TRIAL

Alex Watson vs. The Liberty School Board

The Mock Trial team had a great year, reaching the regional playoffs and winning the first two rounds. Their season ended with the final match up against Buffalo. Mock Trial takes place in a court room and the team roles include lawyers, witnesses, bailiffs, and a time-keeper.

This year the case was Alex Watson vs. The Liberty School Board (Pat Maddox). the defendant, Pat Maddox, had complaints from his employees about Alex Watson's odor and eating habits. They believed he was suffering from an eating disorder. Alex received a letter of reprimand and now would like the defenant to give him his lost earnings and benefits.

It was an interesting year for the team. Good luck in the upcoming seasons!

SKI CLUB

"I was on a ski lift with another person...no one I knew...and he didn't say a word until we were half way up the mountain...then he said, "I haven't been skiing in ten years." I said "How come?" He said "I was in jail." I didn't say anything. He said, "You wanna know why?" I said, "Not really." He said, "I'll tell you anyway... I was jailed for pushing a complete stranger off a ferris wheel."

Swish! Down the slopes they go! Ski club is definitely a club with active members--literally. Whether it's snowboarding or skiing, students enjoy just being able to get outdoors and play in the snow. Although this season was unusually warm, ski clubbers still got some runs in the months of December, January and February. The club is open to both Jr. and Sr. high students, and takes place every Tuesday night for about six weeks. For those who are tired of being cooped up in the winter season, ski club is a fun option to relax, be with friends and fly down the slopes!

ENVIRONMENTAL CLUB

Our earth is a very special place and the Environmental Club is making sure it stays that way. With this club only being around for three years so many accomplishments have been made. Some of those accomplishments are the recycling of plastic bottles and the Big Woods Project. Not only is this club making a difference in our earth one step at a time but also at our school. There are many signs on our school walls that support recycling and throwing garbage in the garbage cans. Those signs make students think twice about what we do when it comes to garbage. Being part of this club is a wonderful way to help keep the earth the special place it is.

With all the stresses the Yearbook gives us, it's hard to say why we keep doing it. Deadlines come up too fast and computers tend to crash at exactly the wrong time. Pictures are lost and meetings on Saturdays are early and long.

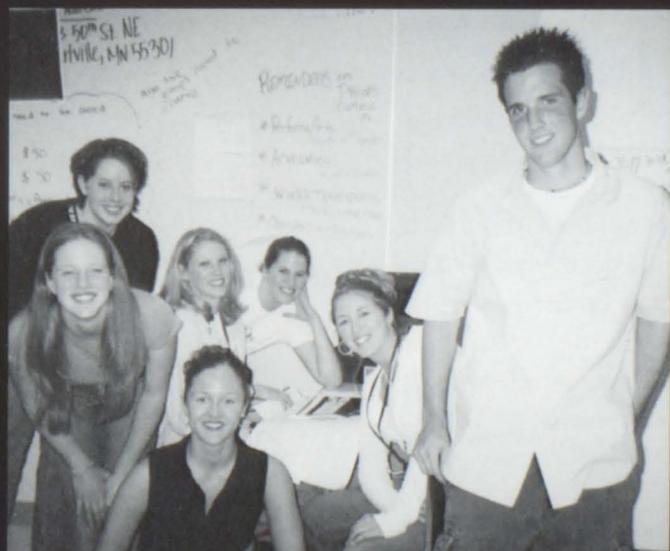

Maybe we do this for the great sense of accomplishment we receive when our layouts are finished, one by one.

Maybe it's the thought that the pictures and words we are putting into this book will provide lifelong memories of everyone's high school lives.

Maybe the music, laughing, jokes and the crowded yearbook room are just too much fun to miss.

*Whatever the reason, we made it through another year.
Here's your memories,
Enjoy.*

When you were just a child,
We wanted to inspire you.
Now that you're a young adult.
How we love and admire you.

Matthew Barthel

Matthew... you are loved and treasured..
May the joy of the Lord be with you always in the paths you choose in life.. Love.. Mom

Eric Borchardt

You were a well behaved and fun boy.
You've grown into a fine young man with a sharp mind and healthy body. We are and always have been proud of you.

Brooke Ann

What a blessing you have been how proud of you I am
When you were two I knew
God has a plan for you
Through the years of learning and discernment along lifes way
We also shared our love that brought us to where we are today
I'm so thankful God entrusted me to be yours truly.
Your Mother

Danielle Smith

We are so proud to be your parents.

Love Mom and Tom

Jesse Scherber

Congratulations Tiger,
We're all very proud of you!
Good luck to you in whatever you do. Always stay the same person you are today
and you'll go far in life.
Love, Mom, Dad, Josh ,
Jamie, Payton, Andrea,
and "B"

Brandon James Pellaton

You are about to leave on a lifelong journey. We cannot pick the path that you will follow, of clear the path that you take. But hopefully what we have taught you will make that journey easier to make. Love You Always Mom and Dad

Jenna Johanson

What a beautiful gift you are to all of us. May you find the faith, hope, and courage to continue to be who God has made you to be. May you always know how much you are loved!
Our love always, Dad,
Mom, Emma, Anna,
and Ellie

Trista Paulson

Looking at this picture we remember the wonderful dreams we had for our daughter.
Looking at you, we see them fulfilled.

Love Mom and Dad

Does anyone want to take me on in a race with my 4-wheeler?

Dan Franklin

"Dan, We're proud of you.

Love, Mom and Dad."
