High school is a place built on new experiences and old traditions. At STMA, students have the opportunity to be involved in anything from sports to arts to academics, and add their own unique touch to that activity to make it even better. As each year passes, students leave a little bit of their high school experience behind which paves the way for those who come after them. This book highlights those traditions, and each page is a reminder of the many memories that are created as a result. With the infinite amount of positive additions students contribute to the high school experience, STMA continues to be an even more enjoyable place and that is definitely...

I was normal once. I didn't like it.

Courtney Daun Madsen
Love is patient,
Love is kind,
Love never ends.

Megan Jo Madson
Time is a wheel in constant motion always rolling us along. Tell me who wants to look back on their years and wonder where those years have gone?

Matthew Stephen Manders
I live to laugh and laugh to live.

Lindsay Jean Mathison
If instead of a gem, or even a flower, we should cast the gift of a loving thought into the heart of a friend, that would be giving as the angels give.
-George McDonald

Whenever one door closes I hope one more opens Promise me that you'll give faith a fighting chance And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance I hope

above more than just a passing chance And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance I hope you dance I hope you dance I hope you dance I hope you still feel small when you stand beside the ocean

Tarah Elizabeth Maurer

Unique is an understatement. I'm just messed up.

William John McDonald

Don't spend your life pretending to be something that you're not. You might end up being nothing at all.

James Steven Medina

Before you criticize someone, walk a mile in their shoes. That way you'll be a mile from them and you'll have their shoes.
-Jack Handey

Brian Joseph Merges

I think of myself as an intelligent, sensitive human being with the soul of a clown which always forces me to blow it at the most important moments.

Blake Allen Meyer

The wisest mind has something yet to learn.
-George Santayana

Amber Rane Moon

To all the world you may be just one person, but to just one person you may be the world.

Heather Anne Morcomb

Just because I have a short attention span doesn't mean I

Lindsay Regina Morris

Don't walk in front of me, I may not follow. Don't walk behind me, I may not lead. Just walk beside me and be my friend.

What we look for does not come to pass. God finds a way for what none foresaw.
-Euripides

Ryan Wade Nordlocken
Life's short. Party.

Justin Marshall Olson

Sacha Alexandria Orozco

Good judgement comes from experience. Experience comes from bad judgement.

Matthew Ralph Ostman

The reasonable man adapts himself to the world; the unreasonable man persists in trying to adapt the world to himself. Therefore, all progress depends on the unreasonable man.

lance... Dance - And we go rolling down this highway Chasing all our crazy dreams I've gone your way and you've gone my way And everywhere in between

One of these days we'll find a piece of ground Just outside some sleepy little town That set their circus down - May God bless and keep you always May your wishes all come true

2003 Homecoming Week

The class of 2003 shouts their battle cry.

The Juniors show their muscle's during a game of tug o war.

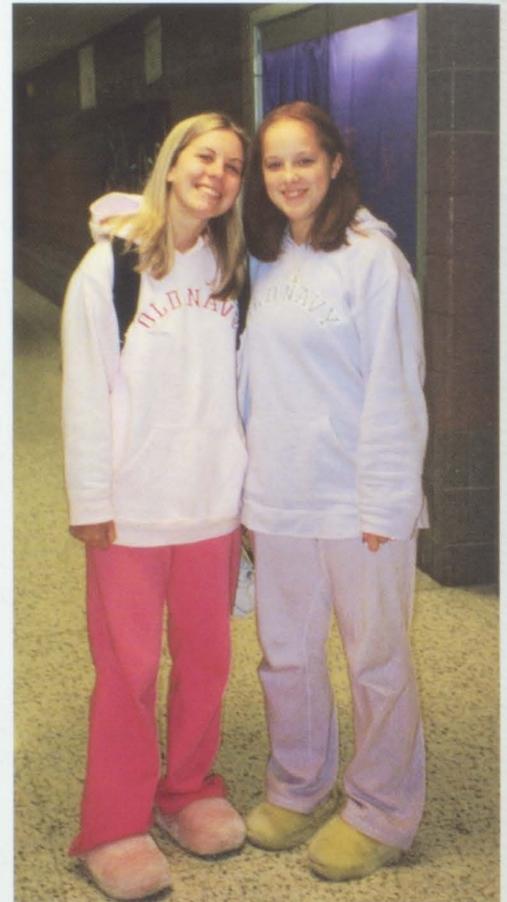

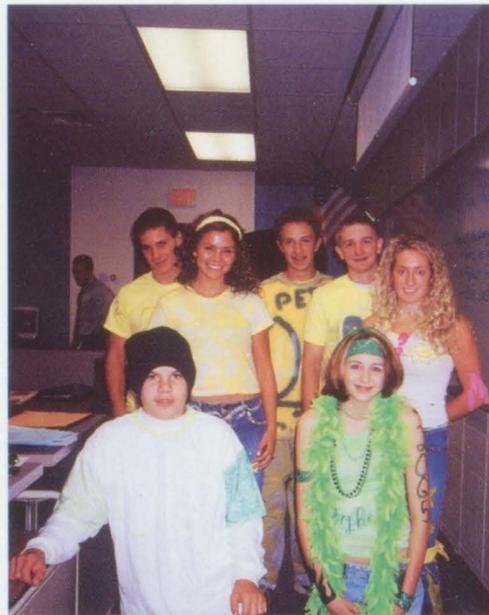

Ryan Nordelocken and James Medina try to feed each other pudding head to head.

Lindsey Zahler and Bill Kessler make their classes 2004 float.

Throughout every school year, homecoming is a time we remember most and like to look back on. This year we had pajama day, western day and the traditional class color day. The Freshmen's color was pink, Sophomores were green, the Juniors yellow, and the Seniors were black. We also had dress up day and on Friday we all wore our school colors blue and gold to celebrate for the big game that night. During Friday we also had a pep rally and battle of the classes.

Homecoming week started bright and early on Monday morning as the 12 candidates were woken up at the crack of dawn.. After breakfast at McDonalds (in their pajamas) the candidates were brought to school to start their week as royalty. A few dress up days and battle of the sexes games later, coronation arrived and STMA crowned a new queen, Cassandra Steffens, and king, Andy Tellefson.

"I never expected it, I was so surprised!" ...Cassandra Steffens

Every year several foreign exchange students come to our high school to experience America. This year we had 10 exchange students from different countries all over the world. They are: Maxine Brueckner, Sabrina Wauker, and Christian Liska from Germany, Roman Betschard from Switzerland, Rodrigo Cambiaghi and Stefania Cerutti from Brazil, Dario from Ecuador, Danny from Costa Rica, Enrique from Spain, and Cathi Altenhuber from Austria. All of them brought a little bit of their own country to St. Michael and gave us an impression of their lives at home. We enjoyed the time with them and had fun learning about their cultures.

2003 Summer Days

With the sun shining on us, all our personalities can't help but shine as well. Whether we're with freinds and family, on a vacation or just enjoying our freetime, we are having fun. Some may go to lakes while some go to pools. Many sleep during the day and stay up late with the moon. People also work to get what they want. However everyone remembers summer as fun, fun, fun!

Left: On a summer day just being with your freinds is the best for these freshmen girls.

Once Freshmen now Sophmores reuniting are: Erica Jossart, Kari Valerius, Clarie Friendshuh, Christina Deroma, Megan Jokinen, Rebecca Lefebvre, Alexa Landefeld and Jessica Diers.

Seniors Colleen Schumacher and Megan Christensen grab buddy Scott Gillette outside during lunch.

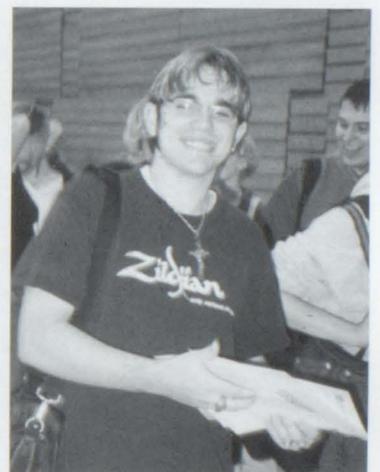

The First day of school brings students and teachers stress, sadness, excitement, and happiness. It is a time to reunite with all those friends whom you may have lost touch with. You also receive a fresh new start on your classes, which may be a good or bad thing. Everyone arrives with a summer tan, and a smile printed on their face whether or not they are ready to start another school year.

Juniors Rob Marx, Jacob Klinkhammer, and Brad Kastendick get together and compare schedules.

Halloween is a time when dressing scary isn't scary and make believing becomes true. It's when ghosts say boo and witches grab their brooms. Princesses sparkle and rockstars rock and everyone wants some candy and pop. When the fun is over and pumpkins go away, the witches will melt while rockstars rock away. Being scared isn't what we remember on this halloween day, but we do always remember the fun that we made.

Ryan Becker, Dan Christenson, and Lance Rudolph have fun making the school smile and laugh.

Right: Michelle Taylor and Jake Klinkhammer give Allison Balfanz a lift to decorate their hall but she decides to decorate Jake.

Christmas is a time when our school has fun to the very last minute. The activities that stand out are deck the halls, the elf auction, and the teacher talent show. Deck the halls give the grades a chance to come together with a theme and decorate their halls with Christmas spirit. The elf auction is when the seniors get bought by underclassmen. When the seniors are bought they become elves and do what their owner wants for a day. All the money raised goes to charity. While on the last day of our school's Christmas week we have the school's band play wonderful Christmas music that everyone stops and sees. At the end of the day the teacher's put on a talent show. The talent show gives the students a chance to see their teacher's other talents besides their wonderful talent of teaching.

Snow Days

Despite a non-snowy week, our school had a great snow week. With different events all week long everyone was sure to keep busy. The students were given days to change their attire- from pajama day to dress up day. On the day of coronation the candidates gave a performance to make the whole school smile. At the end of the week there was a blizzard bash dance to give the students a chance to come together and bust a move. Even the school's own Crazy Ray's Cup of Joe was there to help support the dance.

A Couple of Moments

I know I shouldn't have had that one little drink. Who knew of the sadness
One night of partying could bring?

Before I had left that night
Mom told me, "Don't drink, dear!"
She made me promise that I wouldn't You would later find I had lied, the outcome far more feared.

I didn't know that just one drink could cause such great turmoil,
but here I am, on the side of the road,
my head lying in the soil.

I went to a big party
With just a couple of friends.
We decided to go for a ride
where the road always bends.

We were going so fast,
we couldn't make the turn.
None of us were wearing our belts,
I wish we would have learned.

Now I am cold,
colder than I can tell.
I wish my mom could help me up like always when I fell.
I lifted my head to see what I had done.
I can't believe this all happened for a moment of fun.

Turning my head
I wish I hadn't looked.
I tried to turn away but my brown eyes were hooked.
How dreadful the sight was
That I did see
Three body bags; two full, and one empty,
for me.

I wish I could have kept my promise
instead of choosing to lie,
but we all must deal with consequences,
which in my case, I die.

To all of you whom I have hurt I am sorry for what I have done. I can't believe this all happened for a couple moments of fun.

In the Padded Wall Cell

I stare at the window,
I watch the glass flow.
Loneliness constricts me,
A hindrance I can't pass thro'.

I've been sitting for decades,
Or were they just years?
Time melts by so slowly
When my end never nears.

I let out another sigh,
And then I heard a loud crack!
A gentleman of blue leaps out of the floor,
"Why so glum, chum?" he asks as I step back.

"I'm afraid that I'm lonely,"
I reply with wide eyes.
"But who are you, blue phantom,
and why me to surprise?"

"Why I'm Neerik from Teerik,
I couldn't say why I'm here.
Why don't we chat to pass time,
Maybe that'll bring cheer!"

I say, "tell me 'bout Teerik,
And why you are blue,"
"Well, Teerik is cheery
And I'm blue 'cause I'm blue."

"So, why are you lonely,
And in such a desolate room?"
"Alas, I'm immortal, Shunned and entombed,"

"HA! A most dreadful predicamenmt,
I'd become desicated here,
Forever wasting away,
But I'll get you out, have no fear!"

Just say my name thrice,
Then you'll be free from this cell."
I bellowed his name once,
And then rang a bell.

The dead bolt slid out,
And in walked my captor.
"Who is it this time?
A pixie, Mr. Heldaptor?"

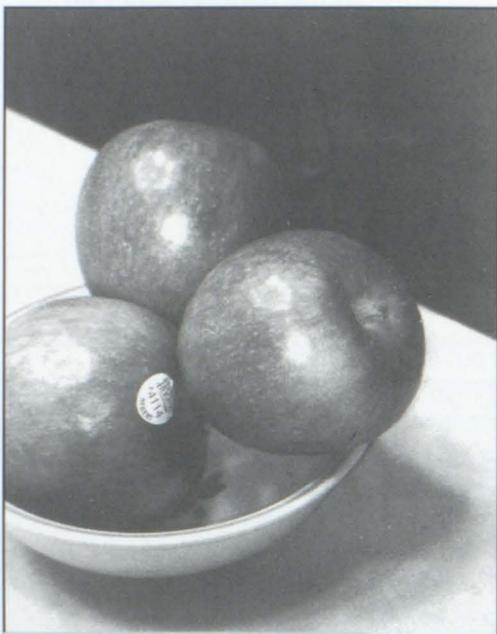

"'Tis time for your medicine,"
As he pulled out a syringe.
He shoved it in my arm,
With pain, Neerik cringed.

I stare at the window.
I watch the glass flow.
Loneliness constricts me.
Outside it starts to snow.

Business is a very important part of everyone's life. It grows larger and larger every day. Having business classes in high school helps students prepare for the world beyond the classroom wall. In our school we offer a variety of classes such as basic computer application classes and investigation classes. In a Personal Business and Finance class the students can learn how to manage their own expenses of their life. Many growing occupations are in the business field and classes in this department help students to determine whether it is right for them.

family & consumer science

The department of Family and Consumer Sciences offers classes that give students a taste of what living independently is like. Students have the opportunity to choose what classes they want to take. In some of the classes the students learn nutrition, sewing, clothing design and how to practice good cooking habits. This includes how to properly wash dishes! We will all need household management skills when we leave our parents' nest, and FACS classes help us to be better at it.

Top: These two students are taking it step by step to create a masterpiece meal.

Taking a foreign language class at STMA not only teaches students the basics of a new language, it also teaches them about various cultures. Currently students have the opportunities to learn Spanish and French at STMA. These vigorous courses help students learn new vocabulary, how to carry on a conversation, and how to read a new language. Learning a new language opens up many doors for our students. They have the chance to study abroad, invite guest speakers into the classroom, take a variety of field trips, and test their skills in the kitchen. When in doubt, take a foreign language class and see where it takes you!

industrial arts

Industrial arts classes here at STMA are great opportunities for hands on learners. It is considered an "art" subject area because students must use their creative juices to make a variety of projects. If one enjoys working on a computer their are classes such as CADD and Architectural Drafting. Perhaps welding is more up your alley? Then you could try Metal Technology. Other classes in this department include Woods, Technical Systems and Aviation. Whatever your forte, your sure to find something to "spark" your intrest in the Industrial Arts Department.

Read a book beyond its cover and you are bound to learn something new. This say also applies to the Language Arts department. Language Arts often follows the misconception of simply "reading books." However, if you have taken a Language Arts course at STMA you soon learn there is a lot more! Interested in Shakespeare? Our students have the opportunity to explore theater! Maybe you need to work on your public speaking skills for that dreaded speech you have coming up- they have a class for that too! Language Arts skills learned in high school pave the way for many of the skills students will need in the future.

Form the algebra classes, to geometry or calc classes you can learn so many different equations and work on solving problems that never end. Some students never want to leave the math room while some students count every minute until math is out. Just think, you couldn't count the minutes left of class with out math.

Do, re, mi, fa, so, lot's of things going on in the Music Department! Whether you like to perform individually or as part of a group there are opportunities abound at STMA. The commitment is high, but the effort students put forth is worth all the rewards in the end. If you would like to perfect your shower singing skills, then maybe one of the many choirs is a good option for you. Constantly tapping your pencils on your textbook? Then one of the many bands may be a good place to start exploring your talents. All those composers out there have the option to take a music theory class. It's time to get in shape STMA with the help of the Phy. Ed. and Health departments! Physical Education classes are more than just getting tested on how many sit-ups you can do in a minute or how many laps around the school you can run in an hour. Physical Education helps students to find their talents and interests in a variety of recreational activities they will be able to participate in for the rest of their lives. And our Health classes help students to understand that a Mountain Dew for breakfast every morning isn't the best route to an energized day. . . Instead we learn about nutrition and proper health habits to keep our bodies in tip-top shape. Physical Education and Health classes are helping us to take care of ourselves a little bit better day by day and hopefully for many years to come!

social studies

The Social Studies department consists of many disciplines, however they all have one thing in common; they teach us about ourselves and open our eyes to the world around us. Many think of social studies as just learning about the past by reading old history textbooks. Many of our "current events" stem from events that have happened in the past and which in return have shaped our country. Not a history buff? The social studies department offers many other exciting courses to help us truly understand who we are and answer the important question- why do we do the things we do??

Take one awkward flower shop worker, one sweet but naive love interest, a hungry plant, and you get the "Little Shop of Horrors." Seymour is a young man who works in a flower shop. He manages to get his hands on a carnivorous plant that feeds on blood, and gets dragged in the plant's overall plan to take over the world. Jens Rhoades and Jon Nero directed the cast of talented actors and actresses, and stage manager Rachel Jossart kept everything running smoothly behind the scenes. The show ran November 21-23 with great success and proved once again just how much the fine arts program adds to STMA. Oh, and by the way, if a plant ever demands for you to "feed me" - please don't.

Little Shop of Horrors

The One Act crew had an extraordinary year! This season, the cast performed Mi a Fenebe, written by Jox Metcalf and his brother, Nathan. Directed by Mr. Metcalf and Mrs. Bovee, the group had a rollercoaster of a season. After narrowly making it to Sections, the team easily qualified for State, where their hard work and late night practices certainly paid off with a star rating. Mi a Fenebe was a story about Mojem, a boy who wanted to be big. The play guides the audience along Mojem's journey while being moving and comical all at the same time. Losing seniors Stephanie Gertken, Rachel Jossart, and Curt Sahli will be a great loss, but freshman Ashley Budde was a great addition this year. Also the amazing assistance of Techies Dan Filzen, Shaylee Carlson, Chelsea Klinkhammer, Jason Hedlund, Karl Zachmann, and Nick Gilman really added to the success of the show.

STMA SPEECH TAKIN IT TO THE LIMITS

The STMA speech team continues to grow in numbers, activities, and accomplishments. Medals, ribbons, and trophies filled the display case all season long. Events of note included competing for the first time in the NFL Student Congress, winning numerous speaking awards, electing presiding officers, advancing several bills through committee, and being selected as the site of next year's fall congress. In the NFL district national qualifier speech tournament in Grand Rapids, once again we advanced two to the semifinal round. The popularity of the STMA invitational is growing area-wide, shown by the participation of 28 schools and double the attendance from last year. Results at subsection and section competition were disappointing, but from the experience, speakers learned the most fundamental rules in competitive speaking: Patience is a virtue, black is boring and don't be the bunny.

Run Hard!

The Knights boys' Cross Country team worked very hard to finish off with an enjoyable season. Their final record was 27-95. Coach Beck, Assistant Coach Greeno and senior Andy Rogers lead the team with great enthusiasm. Kevin Knock and Dan Greeno each showed great support for their team by each earning an Honorable Mention. With their team being so young, they boys show fantastic potential for the years to come.

A new conference and a Championship!

Playing in a new section couldn't stop the Knights!! The season started off slow with 2 losses, but the team quickly picked it up winning 6 straight games and the conference title! The Knights offense was lead by seniors Kevin Hegland, Adam Roden, and Curt Sahli. Defense was lead by senior Ryan Bauman, along with Kyle Valerius, Bryan Hegland, and Curt Sahli. Our school looks forward to cheering for another great year from the Knights.

Goals!

The Boy's Soccer team had a great first season. They won quite a few of their games. The team was led by a strong and large group of juniors, two of which were also captains (Kevin Zachman and Drew Goerd). Five of the STMA's foreign exchange students were also on the team. They include: Rod Cambiaghi, Christian Liska, Enrique Garcia, Dario Naranjo, and Danny Barboza. All of them had played soccer before they came to the US. David Derus and Johnny Phaipanya were the only seniors on the team this year. Dario Naranjo remembers having to practice in the rain. He said, "It was a little cold for the foreign exchange students though." The team had many hard, but fun practices. Hopefully they will be as successful next season as they were this year!

The Girl's Strive to "Keep up the Mentality"

The Knights started out their season a little rocky losing their first two games against Monticello and Minnewaska. Then they won their next three games and tied with Chisago Lakes on the sixth game. They won their next two, then had an upsetting lose to Delano 0-3. However, they finished their season strong with a 7-3-1 record. The senior leaders on the team were Tiffany Paulson, Jamie Slimmer, and Emily Beaudry. The fact that it was the first year STMA had a soccer team, their season went great. "The Lady Knights put on a very nice offensive show." - Coach Heieie

Great First Year!

The girls swimming and diving team had a great inaugural season. The swim team was led by a strong group of freshmen. At the beginning of the season they thought that they wouldn't be competitive, but the team very soon realized how wrong they were. As the meets went on they kept closing in on the other teams until the varsity won the very last regular season meet. The diving team really added to the score with their excellent dives. Junior Abby Johnson holds the school record for highest score with a 161.15. Sophomores Jaimie Hoeschen and Stephanie Wallerius scored high also, along with Freshmen Raquel Korpi and Amy Lindenfesler. The team will miss the excellent leadership and positive attitudes of seniors Rachel Hoeschen, Kari Holvik, Ginger Nelson, Emilee Brouillette, and Amber Moon. They added a lot to the team. The girl's had a fun season and are looking forward to a great season next year.

TENNIS

This year the STMA girl's tennis team encountered many challenges being in a new conference. The team took these opportunities to prove themselves and to display their talents. Through hard work and dedication, this year's team created a legacy for future teams to follow. The most significant battle for the team was a home match against Pine City. STMA's very own girl's tennis team became only the third team in the Rum River Conference to ever beat the Pine City Dragons. This was also a milestone in that it was the first time, in the history of STMA girl's tennis, that they beat a state contending team. Later in the year, the team faced another state contending team, Foley.

Everyone played some of their best tennis all season at that match which proved their abilities. It was obvious that the Rum River Conference included a tougher match schedule, but the team kept the fire going all season long landing them the third spot in the conference. The team was led by captains Colleen Schumacher and Shannon Weber. Other seniors included Michelle Kelly, Heather Larson, Jackie Lehn and Maureen Reilly. Congratulations to all the seniors for their amazing careers and for their contributions to the STMA girl's tennis program. The team looks forward to new leadership next year and a bright future.

The ball went over the net and score! That was the way the games went this year for the girls. Every game they won was well deserved. With three seniors leaving the team they have the chance for another great season next year. With all their hard work they will always have a great year! Good job girls!

The Boy's Team had a winning season

With Strong Leadership!

The STMA Boys Basketball team had an excellent season winning 18 games and losing 8. They finished in second place in the Rum River Conference. The season ended with a tough loss to Orono in the section semi's. The team won many close games recording 3 overtime wins. Highlights of the season include beating rival Buffalo and winning the first section game versus the highly regarded Benilde-St. Margaret. The Knights has several players turn in record setting games and season's. Kevin Hegland set 5 different school records including assists in a game, assists in a season, all time assist leader, most free throws made, and most free throws attempted. Meanwhile Kyle Shealer set two records- most shots made in a game and most shots attempted in a game. The most rewarding part of the team was how they came together as a group. The not only were a fine team, but excellent kids. This success was helped by the fine senior leadership of Ryan Becker, Kyle Valerius, Jake Gendron, Bryan Hegland, Kevin Hegland, Kyle Shealer, and Nathan Rowe.

The girl's team finishes high in Conferences!

The Knights Girls Basketball team posted a 16-10 record this year, losing to Orono in the section quarterfinals. Our conference mark was 12-4, finishing third in our first year in the Rum River Conference (behind North Branch and Chisago Lakes). Probably the biggest highlight of the season was finishing in second place in the Monticello Christmas tournament. We beat St.

Cloud Apollo and Fridley to advance to the championship game, where we lost to St. Cloud Tech. Our captains were Shannon Weber, Emily Beaudry, and Jaclyn Arns.

Soar to Astonishing Heights!

Wow! What a season the girls had. Overcoming injury and tougher judging the team did well, finishing third in the Rum River Conference behind Big Lake and Chisago Lakes. Being part of Section 5A was also a challenge for the girls, for it is the hardest section in the State. Stepping up to this challenge was freshman Amy Lindenfesler qualifying for state on Beam and Vault, making a new school record on vault with a 9.575. At the team banquet many awards were given out including Most Improved, Most Dedicated, and Most Inspirational. Freshman Jeanna Weber received most Improved, Sophomore captains Jaimie Hoeschen and Stephanie Wallerius received Most Dedicated, and Most Inspirational went to Junior Joelle Blais. The captains for the year 2003-2004 were also named, they will be Joelle Blais and Stephanie Wallerius.

for the Goal!

"We had a good season and the kids worked hard," states Coach Brian Mashuga. With a season record of 8-15-2 the guys really did work hard. The highlight of their season was at the Little Falls Tourney when they took 2nd. There is hope for next year because there will be many good returning players. But seniors Kyle Beckler, Andy Kilian, Luke Carlson, Robbie Altendorf, Ryan Aaserud, and Roman Betschart will be missed. Next year's captins will be Tyler Carlson and Kyle Rogers taking the place of this years captins Kyle Beckler, and Andy Kilian. With the school geting larger there will be more and more guys adding to the hockey team to help make them stronger. Maybe next year there will be more games like the game against Long Prairie when we won 14-1! The JV put up a good fight this year ending the season with a record of 10-10-2. Their biggest win was against North Branch with a score of 10-1.

WRESTLING

After a tremendously successful 27-4 season, the wrestling team once again made the familiar trip to the state tournament, becoming the runnerups in Class AA. In addition to this accomplishment, the wrestling Knights also claimed three individual state places (Mike Thorn-2nd, Brandon Dick-5th, Chas Betts-4th) 10 state qualifiers, six All-Conference winners, and five All-Conference Honorable Mentions. Even with the loss of their three seniors, there is no doubt that the Knights have more great seasons to look forward to, complete with many more state tournaments.

Student Council has always been a prominent group at STMA. Each year they put together activities such as Homecoming and Snow Week coronations, as well as various assemblies for students to enjoy throughout the school year. The group consists of 24 students, or 6 student representatives from each grade, who are elected by their classmates. Their duty is to make the voice of the student heard in the school.

Each year the student council steps out of the box to bring the school something new. This year, the organization ran a campaign to better our school, through posters, to get the word out about the hallway garbage problems. This is an example of the service Student Council provides in order to make STMA a friendlier place to spend your day.

SCHOLARSHIP CHARACTER LEADERSHIP SERVICE

National Honor Society is an organization which has its foundations in four areas of achievement: scholarship, character, leadership and service. These students are asked to promote school & community activities while representing our school at all times. The STMA NHS chapter is known in the community for its activities such as pie and bingo at the senior citizen's home, car washes to raise money for cystic fibrosis and cleaning the Crow River. Around STMA High School, NHS is noted for its donut sales every Tuesday, inventing the days of the week during Homecoming and for Daffodil Sales. This year, the organization also added another event to its list- Blizzard Bash 2003. The purpose of this event was to provide students with an opportunity to hang out as a school on a Friday night. The night included the movie "Signs", ping pong matches, tasty treats, Prom raffles and a dance.

Business Professionals of America is a fairly new group to our school, but they have certainly made their mark. The club is most famous for the delicious cookie sales each day during the ten minute break; a service everyone enjoys. The money the club earns from these sales benefits their learning experience trips which are taken to a different place each year. Last year the group traveled to Chicago to visit the Commodities Exchange as well as the Board of Options. Of course, the students took plenty of time to have fun on the town and attended a Chicago Cubs game, shopped the Michigan Avenue strip, took a stroll down Navy Pier, ate at the ESPN Zone, watched a dinner theater performance and visited many other true Chicago style places. This year, business club traveled to New York City to visit the ever-famous New York Stock Exchange and various other economical landmarks which are housed in New York.

ENCOURAGING TEENS TO LIVE POSITIVELY

This year RAK and TARGET decided to pool their resources and members together to become one, with the similar goal of encouraging teens to live positively. Throughout the year, this group participated in various activities as well as created some of their own for students to participate in. These activities included a highway clean-up, carnation sales during Valentine's Day week, Youth Jam, various Camp Koinonia retreats, the Husky Challenge and monthly "awareness" activities for students. One of these would be the posters with information on the habit of smoking.

Throughout the year, RAK-TARGET take part in various retreats. This one was held at Camp Koinonia in Annandale, a popular retreat destination.

LEAVING A LEGACY

Each year seems to present never ending changes and challenges to the staff. This year, the change was an entirely new method for creating the book. With many technological advancements, the staff was actually able to complete this year's book virtually. The entire book was stored online and members could work on their pages from any computer (with DSL :) of course ). Every layout, clip art and photograph was posted on the site and any staff member was allowed access to them to complete their pages. Although the new system was completely new, often times confusing, and always challenging, the staff managed, once again, to give you, the students, a creative book full of memories.

The process of creating the book began back in the summer. At this time, editors and members came together to brainstorm ideas for the theme of this year's book. After much brainstorming and digging for ideas, the staff came to a conclusion. The theme for this year's book has been derived from a well known song, sung by country singer LeAnn Womack. It's title is "Something Worth Leaving Behind." The song tells a story of a longing everyone has- to leave something behind so that they may be remembered by those following closely. In the case of students at STMA High School, it refers to the fact that all who have passed through the hallways of this school, have brought a legacy which will remain engraved somewhere in the school's history. Whether it be your academic achievements, artistic talents, beautiful voice, personality, work ethic, athletic abilities, sense of humor... you have left something behind which has shaped the people you've met and which will be remembered by those following closely. The journey we take as a staff in creating this book each year is tiring, a bit cruel, and full of obstacles, but in the end, when the book arrives, and we see everyone enjoying the memories, we know our work was worthwhile.

This is what we are leaving behind.

I may not go down in history,
I just want someone to remember me...

I'll probably never hold a brush
that paints a masterpiece,

I'll probably never find a pen
that writes a symphony,

But if I will love then I will find
That I have touched another life and that's something...

In Memory of Justin Kolles Class of 2002

Just Too Soon

God has a time for everyone to go,
But Saturday I believe God was wrong,
'cause Justin should not be gone.

He was too young and bold
For God to take him away,
He was our friend and that's how it will stay.

All the memories and the past
Will run through our heads,
While the thing that stays in our heart
Was how he was all our friend.
