Eden Central School District

Volume — 52 Issue — 6

June 2015

From the Superintendent

Dear Eden Families:

It is that time of year which we call “bittersweet”. A time of goodbyes- to our students, faculty and staff for the summer, but most importantly, to our graduating seniors and our retiring faculty and staff. Most notable this year, are the parents to whom we will also say goodbye- because their youngest is graduating. Eden is a special place because of all of you, and we thank you for being a part of something special.

In this issue of the District Newsletter, you will see many accounts of that “something special” – P-Tech, the Arts, PTA, Diversity, FBLA, Amvets. Eden Central School District certainly has been busy making the difference in our town and local communities.

As the 2014-2015 school year draws to a close, it is important to take a moment to reflect on our own headlines- athletic championships, Kindergarten graduation, scholarship winners, musicals, tying our shoes, character awards, writing our first story, concerts, building a playground, reciting the Pledge of Allegiance...so much celebration! Take a moment to reflect. Celebrate with your children.

Onward.

This summer we will be busy moving forward on a few of our initiatives. One such project is planning the next phase of our proposed capital project- EDEN CSD 2020. Our goal is to put out a voter referendum for Tuesday, December 15, 2015. Mark the date on your calendars, and come out and vote.

It has been an intensive process beginning last summer with the hiring of Campus Construction Management Group, our construction manager, and Young & Wright, our architects. During the months of January through May, three (3) community/school committees, totaling approximately 100 participants, met to analyze information, discuss options and make recommendations. The research, time and commitment that these committees devoted to this project are invaluable and have made all the difference. The Facilities Advisory Committee then consolidated this information and presented a proposal to the Board of Education at the May 20th and June 3rd Board meetings.

To recap, the focus throughout has been both long and short term. Long-term to create a vision of what Eden Central School District could/should offer our students 10-15 years from now; short-term to break that vision down for this current project and the smaller capital projects that can be accomplished in the next 5,10 and 15 years. In other words, what do we focus on right now and what can wait 5 years or even 10-15 years. In addition, we agreed early on that our focus had to include improvements and repairs at all buildings- academic, health, safety, security, building conditions, and site, so as to impact all of our students PK-12. This was a huge list, in that Eden Central School District has not really engaged in a capital project in over ten years, and well over $54 million worth of work was put on the table at some point during these discussions.

The first two decisions the Board addressed were “What to do with GLP?” and “Should we commit to a middle school model?” These were tough decisions that have been discussed for many years. While our enrollment is seeing a decline at the primary level, Eden Central

Special Thanks

By Michele Falkides

Mrs. Falkides' class would like to thank Mr. Saramak and Mr. Jones' Technology classes for their assistance in developing, constructing, and repairing equipment for a student in our classroom.

Mr. Saramak's fifth period Wood Working class designed and built an I-pad stand for a student to use at work and school. Now, this student can easily see and better use his I-pad to complete school assignments and to locate items to be restocked at Tops, where he works.

Mr. Jones and his class have assisted a student in our class with basic repairs to his wheelchair. Students have adjusted and tightened arm rests and chair accessories for this student.

Additionally, Mr. Henry from the district's maintenance department has made several repairs and modifications to wheelchair accessory parts, ensuring that this equipment can be successfully used by a student in our room.

Thank you technology students, Mr. Saramak, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Henry for all your help!

P-Tech Students Chosen

By Kelly LaRosa

Two Eden Junior High students, Robert Goodrich and Nathan Hoelscher, have been recently accepted into the Erie 2 BOCES P-Tech program.

The Western New York P-Tech STEM College and Career Academy offers a small, focused learning community where high-rigor STEM curriculum is taught in a connected, collaborative environment integrated with hands-on learning using state-of-art manufacturing equipment.

Specialized educators will work in tandem with higher education, business partners and component school districts as students obtain a NYS Regents Diploma and an Associates of Applied Science Degree in Mechanical Engineering, Technology or Welding.

One Earth, One Chance

By Jeff Cervoni

Congratulations to Mrs. Nicastro, Allison Winiecki and several art students for placing second in the 2015 Earth Day Rain Barrel Painting Contest.

There were fifty schools that entered the competition sponsored by the Erie County Department of Environment and Planning in an effort to increase awareness around the harmful effects of storm water runoff. The team was given a 35 gallon syrup barrel from Coca-Cola that was retrofitted as a rain barrel and was asked to promote the theme of “One Earth, One Chance, Recycle the Rain!”

County Executive Mark Poloncarz recognized the winners at a ceremony held at the Albright-Knox Art Gallery. Pictured are Mrs. Alessi Nicastro, Mr. Cervoni, Allison Winiecki and Mark Poloncarz.

“Me: Hands Down”

By Lynn Morgan

The Jr. High Art class's lesson titled “Me: Hands Down” was selected as a second place winner in the Albright-Knox Art Gallery's Inspired contest grades 6-8 category.

The Inspired contest is open to classes who took a tour of the art gallery this school year. Our class visited the gallery on March 10th. After our return, we discussed what we saw and brainstormed ideas for projects inspired by our visit. We ended up tying three projects to our experience at the gallery. One of these was the “Me: Hands Down” project, inspired by the Op Art exhibits and a special exhibition on portraiture, and it featured a link to the English Language Arts (ELA) curriculum.

The work was on exhibit at the internationally renowned Albright-Knox Art Gallery from May 28-June 21. Like most exhibits, this collection of inspired contest winner student work kicked off with an opening reception.

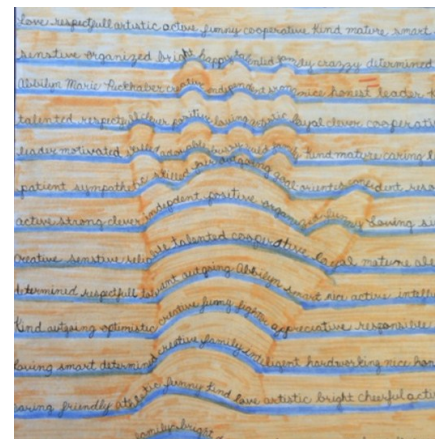

The opening reception was very exciting. Students are able to see student work from across Western New York and light refreshments are served.

If all this is not cool enough, the Art Department will be getting a cash award to spend on art class supplies. Students were told if Eden won, they could do a project using materials that would not otherwise have been affordable.

Finally, some kids may have wanted to improve on their individual projects, as we were experimenting with an Op Art technique. Each artist was given an opportunity to re-do the work if they liked, before it went on exhibit.

Help Wanted!

We are planning to launch a community run vegetable garden for students and community members to enjoy. We are seeking a volunteer project coordinator for our future "Garden of Eden." This individual would assist in planning the garden, coordinate donations, and most importantly, recruit volunteers to manage and tend the garden.

If you are interested, please contact Kelly Morgan-LaRosa @ 992-3688.

Contributing to AMVETS

By Margaret Cuddihy

On May 15, 2015, “Raiders Respond Day”, the GLP Pre Kindergarten classes asked for donations of clothing and household goods for AMVETS (American Veterans).

The students organized the many donations and enjoyed a wonderful experience of helping others!

We now have an AMVETS drop-box permanently at the GLP for clothes and shoes. This is the first AMVETS drop-box in the area. AMVETS is very appreciative, and excited about having a drop-box here and hope to have more in the

School District's current overall population is too large to close any one building. In addition, there is a strong belief (and hope) that the population of the Town of Eden will increase in the next 10-15 years- this has happened in the past. As a result of these two factors, the Board of Education approved a motion on March 18th to keep GLP open, educating our primary students, while using its space more efficiently. Their second topic, a middle school model, was also approved at the same meeting. Because of these decisions, the current Jr./Sr. High School will be renovated to house a Middle School (grades 6-8) and a High School (grades 9-12). This will not be a school within a school; rather, it will be two schools within one building- each with its own principal and each operating under a model appropriate to the age of the students.

Once these decisions were made, the challenge was to take the recommendation of the three committees and create a project that was affordable and matched our vision. Here is the exciting news- we did it! At the June Board of Education meeting, the Board agreed to move ahead in the next planning phase with a proposed $20.1 million project. Proposition 1, with a preliminary $12.25 million cap, would be tax neutral to our residents over the 15 year pay-back period. Proposition 2, with a preliminary $9.9 million amount, would have an approximate tax impact of $34 per $100,000 assessed property value, before STAR. About 95% of the work proposed is eligible at a building aid ratio of around 78%, allowing us to do more with each dollar we spend. Please note that these are preliminary figures. Major impact work would include:

- Secure entries for academic buildings
- Renovation of cafeteria and auditorium spaces
- Technology infrastructure upgrades
- Mechanical, electrical and plumbing (MEP) improvements
- Site improvements (outside work)
- Moving District Offices to EES to create additional PE space at the MS/HS
- Exterior masonry improvements
- Other interior upgrades (ceilings, classrooms, toilet rooms, main offices)
- Athletic improvements- turf field, lights, concession stand, storage, handicap accessibility
- Art, Music, Gymnasium and Technology room upgrades

I am so excited and proud to share this news with you since so many of you have been involved in the planning committees. Thank you for all your time and effort so far. Eden Central School District is fortunate to have you as part of our team.

Sandy Anzalone, Superintendent

PTA Reflections Program Winners

By Tiffany Kwas

NYS PTA 2014-15 Reflections Art Program –
“The World Would Be A Better Place If...”

The National PTA Reflections Art Program encourages students to create works of art for fun and positive recognition. Since 1969, the Reflections Program has been bringing families, schools and communities together in support of student success through the arts.

Any PTA/PTSA in good standing is eligible to sponsor a Reflections Program. Students in preschool through grade 12 submit to their PTA original works of art in dance choreography, film production, literature, music composition, photography and visual arts.

This year the Reflection’s Theme was, “The World Would Be a Better Place if.” Sabrina and Savannah Battleson of Eden Jr./Sr. High School were recently recognized for their entries in the Eden PTA Reflections Art Competition. Savannah won at the regional level in the Literature Division, with a theme of ‘paying it forward.’ Savannah's entry also was given an Award of Merit at the state level of competition. Sabrina was awarded an honorable mention at the regional level in the Visual Arts Division, with the theme of accepting people for who they are.

The Eden PTA is very proud of Savannah and Sabrina and wishes to congratulate them both! In honor of their outstanding work, NYS PTA will feature the winning entries during the 119th NYS PTA Convention in Niagara Falls, November 13-15, 2015 and at the second Annual NYS PTA Reflections Art Roadshow.

Eden PTA Wins “Excellence in Advocacy Award”

By Tiffany Kwas

Western Region PTA's End-of-the-Year Awards Dinner was held recently, and Eden Central PTA won the award for "Excellence in Advocacy"! Nice job, once again, to everyone who supported our letter writing campaign! We sent almost 600 signatures to Albany in total, not to mention those who participated in the Virtual Lobby Day! We also won the award because we went to Albany and lobbied for funding for education and using testing appropriately!

Eden Junior/ Senior High School Instrumental Music Department Stays Busy This Spring!

By Sarah Roberts

This past May, the Eden High School Orchestra and Wind Ensemble traveled to Sandusky and Cleveland, Ohio.

This was the first annual combined band and orchestra tour. On Friday evening, the band and orchestra performed at Oak Harbor High School and were evaluated by two collegiate music professors. Saturday, the students enjoyed Cedar Point Amusement Park and attended the “Music in the Parks” awards ceremony. Both groups were awarded trophies and received a rating of “Excellent.” On Sunday, both ensembles worked with college ensemble directors in clinics at Case Western University. The afternoon was spent at the Cleveland Metroparks Zoo followed by a wonderful meal at the Hard Rock Café. The students finished the night by testing their bumper boat, go-cart riding, and mini golf skills at Swings – N – Things. Our final destination on Monday was the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. Both groups gave performances inside the Rock Hall before letting loose and touring the museum. Overall, we had a great trip and a lot of memorable experiences.

The week we returned, the ensembles performed once again for adjudicators, this time for the New York State School Music Association Majors Festival held at Eden. All groups gave successful performances. In the end, the sixth grade Orchestra, Junior High Orchestra, Junior High Band, and Jazz Ensemble received Silver Ratings, while Concert Band and Wind Ensemble received Gold Ratings.

To close out the year, the music department was able to honor some of our most dedicated seniors with nationally recognized awards. Katie Emel and Louis Bartus were given the National School Choral Award. Rhyse Strawbrich was given the National School Orchestra Award. Lillian Harrington was given the Patrick Gilmore Band Award. Richard Inserra, III was given the Louis Armstrong Jazz Award. Zachary Smith was given the Woody Herman Jazz Award.

Erin Carpenter was given the John Philip Sousa Band Award and the Arion award. Congratulations to these and all of our seniors in the class of 2015.

Diverse Learning at GLP

By Carol King

All children learn in different ways. Children need to develop a positive understanding of themselves. They benefit from opportunities to do so, and are then able to extend this understanding to others.

All children learn best at their own pace, and in their own style within a diverse and nurturing environment.

Mrs. King’s class reached out to, and welcomed several of the many diverse educators here at G.L.P., as well as students within our population whom they wished to get to know and understand more fully.

They were able to discover a great deal about how they learn and what available modifications, be they physical, academic, or social served them best.

Through their interactions, their awareness of, and appreciation for the struggles that often accompany the learning process for many, including themselves was raised.

Respectful friendships were given the “Green light,” and a window into the possibilities for further differentiation of their own learning experiences, both present and future inspired enthusiasm, excitement, and hope.

Please enjoy the many photos and students’ impressions displayed throughout the school.

2015 Retirements

By

Retirees this year include Elementary School Teachers, Janice O’Brien and Sheila Harris; Business Teacher, Mary Nowicki; Bus Drivers, Gladys Kern and Marilyn Yager and Senior Clerk Stenographer, Judy Ludwig.

Mrs. O’Brien shared reflections from her early years, when there were few computers, much less outside phone lines in the room. Ditto machines were used and calls were made to Mrs. Wincenziak at home if a sub was needed. There was a special joy in teaching...her third grade team worked collaboratively to develop reading and social studies units that included immersion days such as “Laura Ingalls Wilder Day” and many hands on activities. In fact, Joe Devlin did a demonstration of antique guns and talked about hunting techniques. She believes more time was dedicated to Science and Social Studies, and time was made for independent reading in school and out. Today, module work does not allow for that kind of collaboration or immersion, and unfortunately, the school climate is such that no one would be asked to bring a gun to school for a demonstration. Throughout her career, Mrs. O’Brien has received many awards from the Eden Teachers’ Association for her years of service, being a representative, and for working as secretary and being on the negotiations team. She also received a Service Award from New York State

United Teachers for collaborating with team members to get the Eden Elementary Reading Nook built through grants and donations.

Every year had its memorable moments. In 3rd Grade, the Laura Ingalls Wilder Immersion Day included sewing bonnets, making soup, and even making tin lanterns (tin cans filled with ice that the children, under parental guidance, pounded holes into...what a relief when that was over!

In 6th Grade, Mark Vona and Company invited Mrs. O’Brien to be part of the musical, assisting with costumes. Watching the transformation of students as they practiced and performed in 15 musicals reinforces the importance of the arts in education. Working with Mark Vona, Ellen Kindley, Lorry Malkowski, Judy Maynard, Sheila Harris, Chris

Naughton and Sandi Blaszczyk, with costumes and being an overall helper has been invigorating, exhausting, and a blast! Her plans for the future include travel with her husband, Jack... road trips out West, Ireland, and Alaska are on the radar. She will also be helping with her grandchildren (the little loves of her life). She plans to volunteer at the Eden/North Collins Food Pantry, and at the Teachers' Store in downtown Buffalo.

Mrs. O'Brien has had the opportunity to work with so many fine, thoughtful, generous, hard-working people... true professionals in every sense of the word. She would like to wish them every success in the future. She believes they and the children of Eden are more than test scores. All in the Eden school community deserve recognition for their dedication to educating our children and preparing for the challenges ahead.

Mrs. Harris taught sixth grade from 1971-1987, fourth grade in 1994-1995, fifth grade in 1995-1996 and went back to fourth grade from 1996-2015.

In 2011, she was named WKBW's Channel 7 Teacher of the Week. In 2013, she was the Eden Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year, and a Business First Teacher of Merit for 2013-2014.

Her fondest memories are of having a career where each day was eagerly awaited—not just for the joy it provided but often a challenge to solve—has been one of her life's greatest blessings. She has been so fulfilled to have taught one generation of students only to reacquaint herself with them through the sparkling eyes of their children. Considering that her first students are now 54 years old, she has come close to hearing, "You taught my grandma!"

Mrs. Harris plans to reinvent and redefine herself in the future. She has been in a career that has absorbed so much of her time for so long...now what? She and her husband will visit many major league ball parks, reinvest in Bills season tickets, and see their son, Matt, in Huntsville, Texas, and wherever else his career takes him.

She added that she cannot thank the community of Eden enough for welcoming a 21-year-old teacher and embracing her for 44 years!

Mrs. Nowicki taught at Eden for 29 years. During her career, she was named Teacher of the Year, nominated by her students for Who's Who of America's Teachers seven times, and has served on every district committee except the PTA. Mrs. Nowicki ran the school store for 12 years and was the department chairperson for 22 years. She was active in the Eden Teachers' Association as President, Vice President, Secretary and building representative. In addition, Mrs. Nowicki ran the Future Business Leaders of America Club at Eden. Her club was well-known in FBLA circles as one of the top ten clubs in the state. Her greatest joy in teaching was developing students' talents in layout and design by teaching professional programs such as Adobe, InDesign, and Photoshop.

Mrs. Nowicki and her husband plan on boating and retiring in the Bahamas.

Mrs. Kern drove a bus for the district for 36 years. She mainly drove students to outside placements. When she was not driving, she looked after her mother, which she still continues to do. Mrs. Kern is an animal lover, and you can often see her driving around town with her pets.

Mrs. Yager is retiring after 27 years as a bus driver. She also was President of the CSEA a number of years ago. She and her husband have three daughters and several grandchildren. Two of her daughters live out of state, so she does a lot of traveling to go visit them. In the break room between runs, you could often find her crocheting, which is one of her hobbies. Mrs. Yager is an active member of her church and volunteers her time there.

Mrs. Ludwig retired in January after a long and successful career as a Senior Clerk Stenographer. Her position was in the Guidance Department, assisting students, teachers, guidance counselors and administrators. Much of her time was spent on scheduling and state reporting data. She has worked with many administrators and school personnel and has made many life-long friends, which she treasures and stays in contact with.

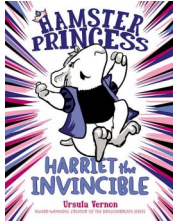

She is currently helping her son, Dave, prepare for his freshman year at Cornell University. She and her husband, Greg, enjoy riding their tandem bicycle. She is busy planning a trip to Europe. Mrs. Ludwig has also been hoping to resume some artistic endeavors during her retirement.

Congratulations and best wishes to all our 2015 retirees!
