Dear Family and Friends of the Eden Central School District:

I hope that you were able to have a safe, restful and enjoyable holiday season and a good start to 2011.

I would like to take this opportunity to encourage every member of the community to visit our schools and attend student and community functions. You are always welcome.

I recently had the opportunity to travel to China on an education exchange program sponsored by the Confucius Institute at the University at Buffalo. The purpose of this trip was to promote the teaching of Chinese language and culture in Western New York, to encourage more people to study Chinese, and to enhance a fuller understanding of Chinese history and culture.

We had the opportunity to visit six schools, as well as, attend lectures regarding the background of modern Chinese education. The schools and culture in China are very different than the United States. The Chinese government provides compulsory education to 250 million students in grades 1 through 9. This number is staggering when compared to the total population of the United States, which is approximately 300 million with 60 million school aged children. Students must take high stakes exams to enter high school and again in high school to attend college. English is taught beginning in grade 1.

The schools we visited had enrollments of between 2,000 and 3,000 students and a student-teacher ratio of approximately 60 to 1. Their school day runs from 8 am to 5 pm. Most of the instruction that was observed was “direct” with students completing workbooks and answering teachers’ questions en masse. Students seemed to be focused during all of their lessons. Students that we spoke with conveyed a sense that their education was the most important thing in their lives and that they are working in a very competitive system. This is true, because in High School, the single gateway to college is an entrance exam—no application, transcript or recommendations. There is little wonder why Chinese students are eager to come study in the United States.

The Chinese culture and educational system are based on diligence, strictness, unity and discipline. China is both shaped by and reflected in its education system. The Chinese have a reverence for teaching and learning that dates back to the Confucius values. The population, including students, is generally happy with their life. Education and family are the future for them.

It was interesting to hear several Chinese educators wonder why the United States was pursuing nationalized standardized tests, when what they coveted most was the ability to teach students how to be creative in their thinking. Their hope is that such creativity that leads to innovation can be brought to Chinese education in the 21st century.

We also had the opportunity to visit the Great Wall, Confucius Temple, Han Temple, Forbidden City and Tiananmen Square. There will be several opportunities in the future for the Eden School Community like: Guest teachers and administrators, guest exchange students, Chinese guest speakers, Chinese bridge program for students and teachers, Chinese summer camp for our students, both in China and the United States, festivals and celebrations, sister schools and visiting teachers to teach Chinese language and culture. The experience was outstanding, and I hope it will lead to additional opportunities for our school district.

If there is any group in the community that would like me to do a presentation about my trip on Chinese culture and education, please do not hesitate to contact me at school.

Sincerely,

Ronald K. Buggs
Superintendent

Junior High School Art News

By Lynn Morgan

On Tuesday, January 11th, at 7:40 a.m., Junior High School students and their parents were invited to attend a fifteen minute opening reception for the exhibit of student art work that was in the school's library/media center through the end of January. Students exhibited their papier mache'd alebrijes, or fantasy creatures, inspired by the work of Mexican artist Pedro Linares. The project was part of the unit of study on the art of Latin America.

Also on Display - In the foyer display case and along the upstairs 7th grade hallway, we had our prior project on display - Warrior Shields inspired by Native American art. We typically study a culture or time period, focusing on its art. Next Up - The art of India and Islam - Traditional geometric patterns and mosaics will be studied, and students will focus on incorporating radial balance as they produce their project for this unit.

Please try to bring your child to an art gallery in the next month. In addition to many other benefits the experience will bring, your child can also earn extra credit for art class by submitting a write-up of the experience with a ticket stub. The Albright-Knox & Burchfield-Penny are great opportunities. Links to both museums are on my web-site.

Also, the first Friday of each month is free at the Knox thanks to a program sponsored by M&T Bank.

Feldman Named NYS Gatorade Player of the Year

Heather Feldman was selected as the 2010 New York State Gatorade Player of the Year. This is a great honor for Heather, as she was selected over literally thousands of student-athletes and the award takes into account not only athletic achievement, but the applicant's academic achievements, community contributions, character, and involvement in her school.

Only one school per sport in each state receives this honor, so it is a mark of excellence for the entire school.

Eden hasn't had a winner since 2002 (Ashley DoEpp—Volleyball) despite the achievements of many fine athletes.

December Employees of the Month Named

Eden Chopper Class-A Student's Perspective

By Joshua Tripi, Treasurer

Greetings to all! So far it has been a great year for the Chopper Class. We are researching, designing and fabricating a drag bike this year. We started with a frame that was donated by Red Dragon Racing. The engine we are rebuilding with the help of B.A. Enterprises was originally donated to the club by Gowanda Harley Davidson.

We have also been improving the workshop and purchased new tools using our fundraising money. Our chicken BBQ was once again a great success thanks to the support of VFW Post #8265 and Wild Bill.

The club members this year are young. We have mostly 7th and 8th graders with a couple of students in 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. Over all, the talent in the group is great, and we hope everybody enjoys the finished bike this year.

From the Chopper Class, we thank you for your continued support and involvement with our program.

Thanks!

Financial Outlook 2011-2012

It is at this time of the year that we begin our planning for next year. The Board of Education, administration, faculty and staff began working on next year's school budget. As you are all aware, the state of the economy is not good, which means another year with large challenges. For us, this year may bring some of the largest challenges we have ever faced as a district. Additional state aid was withheld at the beginning of this school year. Federal stimulus money that the state used last year to help offset aid reductions will be gone at the end of the school year. For Eden, that amount will be $332,000. This is all in addition to the Governor's proposals for more deep cuts in aid and the tax cap, while on the expense side, mandated expenses continue to increase – like health insurance, retirement contributions, etc. Maintaining all programs and staff will be a challenge for us this year, however, the Board has attempted to plan ahead by establishing a reserve account that can be used to help offset the losses in aid that my lessen the impact of such reductions.

It will take teamwork, hard work and trust on the part of the Board of Education, administration, faculty and staff, as well as the community, to effectively meet this steep challenge. We need to do what is best for our students and what is best for our taxpayers. We will continue our efforts to build the best budget possible, and continue to look at every aspect of the District, looking at new ways to operate the business of education, saving as many dollars as possible. You have our commitment to continue to work to maintain quality while reducing costs to the taxpayer in difficult times.

I am often asked by faculty, staff, parents and community members, "What can I do to help?" I always encourage people to communicate with their State and Federal elected representatives. These proposed reductions are large and could have an adverse effect on our community. At the very least, we need a State plan, not another one-time fix. We must encourage them to look at the impact such reductions could have on the students of New York State. Encouraging them to develop a plan to deal with the need to reduce aid over time and reduce unfunded mandates would minimize the impact on students. Secondly, I would ask you to trust and to be open to changes as the Board of Education, administration, faculty, and staff work together to develop the best possible budget that truly balances what is good for students with what is right for taxpayers. We have planned for the future. Our plan certainly will be tested in the coming year.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask. If you have ideas, don't hesitate to propose them. Working together, we will be able to maintain the philosophy, mission and high standards of one of the best school districts in Western New York – Eden.

I wish you all the best as winter comes to a close, and we look forward to the sunshine and warmth of the Spring.

Ronald K. Buggs
Superintendent

No prerequisites are required. Certification is valid for three (3) years. The course awards 1.6 CEU's.
