VOL. 47

February 2010

NO. 4

Dear Family and Friends of the Eden Central School District:

I hope that you were able to have a safe, restful and enjoyable holiday season and a good start to the New Year. The Eden Central School District continues to work to provide the best educational opportunity that it can for all students. Our 2008-2009 School Report Card just released and posted on our web-site is again very good. We all should be proud of the work our students do each and every day. The vast majority are working to the best of their ability.

I encourage every member of the community to visit our schools and attend student and community functions. You are always welcome.

It is at this time of the year that we begin our planning for next year. The Board of Education, Administration, Faculty and Staff began working on next year's school budget. As you are all aware, the state of the economy is not good, which will mean another year or two filled with large challenges. The Governor has already withheld aid payments this year, tapped into Federal Stimulus Money that was to be used next year, and has proposed a major reduction in education funding for next year. This reduction for the Eden Central School District equates to $662,854. This reduction is very large for a district our size. It will take teamwork, hard work and trust on the part of the Board of Education, Administrators, Faculty and Staff, as well as the community, to effectively meet this steep challenge, while balancing what is best for our students and what is best for the taxpayers. The Board has asked that we prepare the best budget that we can while maintaining all of our existing programs. We will, however, continue to look at every aspect of the District, looking at new ways to operate the business of education saving as many dollars as possible. You have our commitment to continue to work to achieve this balance.

I am often asked by faculty, staff, parents and community members, "What can I do to help?" I always encourage people to communicate with their State and Federal elected representatives. This proposed reduction is large and could have an adverse effect on our community. At the very least, we need a State plan, not another one-time fix. We must encourage them to look at the impact such a reduction could have on the students of New York State. Encouraging them to develop a plan to deal with the need to reduce aid over time would/could minimize the impact on students. Secondly, I would ask you to trust and to be open to changes as the Board of Education, Administration, Faculty, and Staff work together to develop the best possible budget that truly balances what is good for students with what is right for the taxpayers, as well as, plan for the future.

If you have questions, please do not hesitate to ask. If you have ideas, don't hesitate to propose them. Working together, we will be able to maintain the philosophy, mission and high standards of one of the best school districts in Western New York - Eden.

I wish you all the best as winter comes to a close, and we look forward to the sunshine and warmth of the Spring.

EXPERIENCE YOUR FUTURE

By Max Malayny, FBLA Co-President

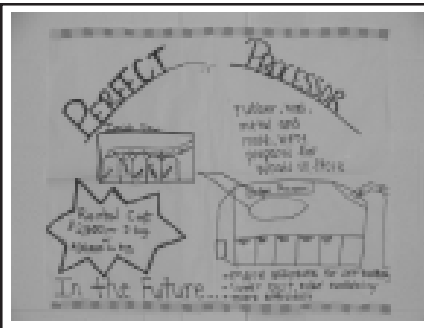

Eden FBLA attended an exclusive Experience Your Future competition on January 8, 2010 at Bryant & Stratton College in Orchard Park. The purpose of the event was to develop creativity and teamwork.

The teams were to create a product that could be applied to real world problems. The topic was developing a Go Green product. All teams were to make a PowerPoint presentation, a commercial skit, a jingle, a poster, and, most importantly, to present the information in a way that would motivate a panel of judges to invest in their product.

Each team was allowed an hour and a half to create all of the above items with no help from advisors. First, the team had to brainstorm and come up with a product. Then the team broke down into groups to create the PowerPoint presentation, skit, jingle, and poster. The teams then presented individually to the judges.

While the judges conferred, all participants were given a free lunch of pizza, cookies, and pop, compliments of Bryant & Stratton. After lunch the judges returned and discussed positive points regarding each of the presentations. They also compared and contrasted the different presentations so the groups could learn for future competitions. All teams received a copy of the video of the presentations to show at their club meetings.

Eden FBLA received a plaque for winning the competition for 2010. We would like to especially thank Ken Monaco of Bryant & Stratton for organizing the competition and making it comply with rules similar to those followed at States and Nationals.

NATURAL SELECTION

By Lorry Malkowski

Students in 6th grade Science recently participated in a lesson on natural selection. Each student received two moth templates that they had to color to "camouflage" anywhere in the room. Some colored them all black to match the lab counter, some colored a replicate of the "rescue window" sign on their moth, leaves to blend in with plants, backgrounds of posters, etc. Then the students hid their moths "in plain sight". Miss Finnerty, Mr. Weis, and Mrs. Carter helped out by posing as hungry moth eating birds.

EDEN ELEMENTARY ENJOYS CONCERT BY "BARRAGE"

Eden fifth and sixth grade string students enjoyed a "Barrage" concert at the University of Buffalo's Center for the Arts. "BARRAGE" is a highly energetic, fiddling group combining superb musicianship with amazing athleticism. Not only do they play unbelievably, but they also sing and dance while playing! Our orchestra students prepared for the concert by learning the various string techniques and musical elements that were displayed that evening. It was an inspirational event for our string students and their guests. Special thanks to the Eden Central PTA for their help in funding the trip.

SKILLS USA PRESIDENT HELPS WITH SPECIAL EDUCATION CLASS PARTY

By Tom Huebert, Ormsby

Chris Busch, Skills USA President, was Santa for the annual Special Education Christmas party. Too often we don't hear positive things about students. Here is some good news.

Chris played Santa to the 1:8:1 Multiple Handicap class at Ormsby. He did a great job interacting with the students. He made their day.

NEWS FROM THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

By Doug Beetow

Three of our football players and Coach Tilley were honored at the Annual WNY Football Banquet held at Classics Five banquet facility on Niagara Falls Boulevard.

Awards went to: Julian Bermingham, Class C Offensive MVP, All Academic Team; Troy Bigelow, Class C Defensive MVP, All WNY First Team, Trench Trophy Finalist; Alex Shea, Third Team All State Defensive Player of the Year; and Coach Tilley, WNY Small Schools Coach of the Year.

In addition Troy Bigelow was named All State First Team Defensive Player.

Fifth grader Michael Senus poses with local author Tim O'Shei Friday, January 29th. Mr. O'Shei has authored over 60 nonfiction titles and recently published his first work of fiction, Live...Starring You. He hosted a one-day writer's workshop to students January 28th. Early Friday morning, January 29th, over 100 students turned out for a PTA sponsored event, Books-n-Breakfast, hosted in the Elementary Library. Students met Mr. O'Shei, bought his books and had them signed by him.

TECHNOLOGY SAFETY ADDRESSED AT EDEN CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

By Lucinda Karstedt

Technology safety issues were the topic addressed at Eden Central School District on Tuesday, October 21st. Students today need to know not just about Internet safety with on-line predators staking chat rooms and social networking sites such as MySpace and Facebook, but also the issues with texting and "sexting" on cell phones that are occurring nationwide. To help students tackle these issues, Eden brought in speaker Patti McClain with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children for two presentations to students and teachers. The first session was for high school students in grades ninth through twelve. High School Principal Marc Graff stated, "The assembly should have been an eye-opener for all of the students. Hearing that their Facebook or MySpace pages may cost them scholarships or college admission should be a wake-up call to everyone. It should go without saying that personal information should remain just that, "personal", but after seeing the reaction of our students today, I have a feeling many pages are being updated as we speak."

The second presentation was geared for middle school level with the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students and their teachers. According to Ms. McClain, "These students are using cell phones and the social networking websites just as much as the older students, but their natural lack of maturity makes them more vulnerable to cyber bullying and on-line predators." After the assembly Mrs. Schnaufer, elementary computer lab teacher, set up a survey for the sixth graders to get their feedback on what was presented and to continue the dialog about technology safety in the classroom. One of the sixth graders wrote, "I thought it was great; how we learned about how dangerous a computer can be by just having a certain screen name and how it made you realize how much a cell phone can get viruses and how much damage it can do--just little things!...It really made me think!" That was the main point of the middle school presentation to get students to "Think Before They Post".

This presentation to students was the second part of this fall's technology safety initiative in the school district. Parents were invited in September to attend Internet Safety presentations at both the Elementary School Open Houses. This is the second year these parent presentations have been held, and the response has been very positive. Principal Richard Schaefer plans to continue these Internet Safety presentations next fall. In addition, as a resource for parents there is an Internet Safety webpage on the District website under the computer lab section. Mr. Buggs, Superintendent stated, "This was an outstanding opportunity for our students to learn more about protecting themselves."

JEREMY KRENCIK DAY AT EDEN SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Members of the Class of 2010 are pictured wearing tee-shirts honoring and celebrating the memory of classmate Jeremy Krencik. The picture was taken by the varsity soccer field named in honor of Jeremy, who was killed in a tragic snowmobiling accident in 2004.

PEOPLE DEMONSTRATING GENEROSITY ARE WILLING TO SHARE
WHAT THEY HAVE WITH OTHERS

By Mary Ellen Bossert

Mr. Eckman and his son, Sam, attended a workshop this fall in Mrs. Bossert's art studio. This experience prompted him to collect scrap pieces of Plexiglass from his business and donate them to the art studio. Thank you, Mr. Eckman and to all my generous parents that have found the time and energy to give to the art studio over the years!

HELPING THE HOMELESS

By Sue Wilhelm

The National Junior Honor Society students collected sample size toiletries for Saint Luke's Homeless shelter in Buffalo. Pictured are the students as they sorted and boxed the items in preparation for delivery.

CHARACTER MATTERS AT THE GLP!

By Mary Ellen Bossert

Cooperation is the process of working or acting together and is an essential life skill.

This character trait was best illustrated as artists from Ms. Kwas' first grade class learned firsthand a lesson in color theory from Mrs. Wess-Rishel's second grade artists. Mrs. Bossert lead the two classes through a cooperative experience which included a pre studio story, demonstration of color mixing, one on one color mixing instruction and of course, clean up! The second grade artists felt empowered as they guided their fellow GLP artists into the exciting world of creating secondary colors by mixing primary colors together. "Remember, a little paint goes a long way" and "there you did it, you made orange, GREAT JOB!" were just a few of the comments made by the second graders as they taught. The first graders were engaged and responsive to learning from their peers. The art studio was alive with COOPERATION!

Nominating petitions for potential school board members will be available in the Office of the District Clerk on March 1, 2010. Erie County Association of School Boards is sponsoring a workshop for prospective school board members on Saturday, March 27, 2010 from 8:30 am - 12:00 pm. For additional information, you may contact the Erie County Association of School Boards at 821-7292 or e-mail snowak@e1b.org.

THE EDEN MODEL UNITED NATIONS AWARD

By Linda Pace

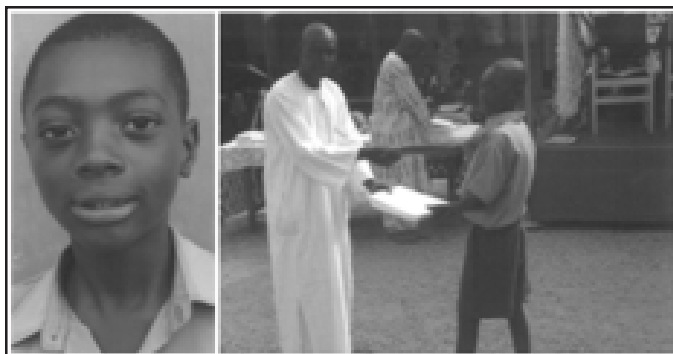

The Eden Model United Nations Club (Model UN) is a group of students at the Eden Jr./Sr. High School who attend Model UN Conferences throughout the school year. During these conferences, they practice debating, acting with diplomacy, writing, and passing resolutions that the real United Nations may work on. The intent of these mock resolutions is to resolve global conflict, promote peace, understanding, and human rights. After having competed for a number of years, these students decided they wanted to put into practice their desire to make the world a better place, hence the scholarships listed below. The School District and Town of Eden supported the Model UN Students with generous donations to make these scholarships possible.

These awards were created and endowed by the members of the 2008/09 Model UN Club at the Eden Junior/Senior High School under the leadership of Linda Bowman-Jones Pace, club advisor.

The two awards were given to a boy and a girl in 5th grade at Heritage Academy in Ghana who showed a strong sense of national pride, intended to make a difference in the future of Ghana, and have already made significant contributions to the local community. The award follows the recipients until graduation.

Recipient: Rosina Appiah, Class of 2013

Recipient: Osborn Addom, Class of 2013

NACEL OPEN DOOR

By Nicole Janowsky

NACEL Open Door is looking for host families to host visiting exchange students for 3 ½ weeks in July. Students are from France and Spain. Each hosting family will receive a $200 stipend. Families are asked to show students their daily American routine and provide them with a tour of Niagara Falls. All students have full medical insurance and can visit Canada.

If your family is interested, please call Jackie Rachwal at 646-1653 or Jacob Rachwal at 430-2362.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA NATIONAL FALL LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

By Laura Bugenhagen, Historian

On November 6, Eden FBLA traveled to Baltimore, Maryland for the National Fall Leadership Conference. The opening speaker of the event, Janine Driver, has appeared on various television shows including, NBC's Today Show, The Rachael Ray Show, and CNN's Larry King Live. Janine Driver went from being a federal law enforcement officer to being a body language expert. She now teaches lawyers, judges, and law enforcement officers how to read body language.

At the conference, club members attended workshops on various topics such as, entrepreneurship, interview skills, and paying for college. Also while there, the club was able to tour Mount Vernon. Mount Vernon is one of Baltimore's oldest districts of the city. It was the home of the original Washington Monument and many historical businesses.

Members had over 40 workshops to choose to attend. In addition to workshops, there was a Blue Jeans for Babies dance. To attend the dance, members must make a donation, with all the money going to the March of Dimes.

The closing speaker of the event was Gerald Jones. Gerald Jones came from a background with many disadvantages. He is also the author of two books, which inspire readers to strive for excellence and peace. The members that attended this event included Chad Blonar, Jessica Kramer, Tess Hecke, Taylor Hecke, Zabrina Nedimyer, Jewel Kwilos, Justine Gugino, Laura Kiel, Kathleen Bugenhagen, Max Malayny, Alexander Becker and our adviser, Mrs. Nowicki.

On the way back from Baltimore, the Eden FBLA club stopped at the Corning Museum of Glass. Here, our club members were able to witness glass forming and blowing, as well as, take a tour of some of the classic glass pieces in the museum.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED

By Nicole Janowsky

We are currently looking for families interested in hosting a foreign exchange student for the 2010-2011 school year. This is an incredible opportunity to open your home and share your life with an individual from another culture. Our students are usually affiliated with AFS (American Field Service), and we hope to have at least two students here next year.

We need your help! If you have ever wanted to host a student, please contact us immediately. Since it is early enough, we still have the ability to try to match your requests for a student from a specific country; however, we need your input now in order to make that match.

If interested, please contact Mrs. Nicole Janowsky, Foreign Student Coordinator -- 992-3600.

CHRISTMAS IN SWEDEN

By Paula Chalifoux

Saint Lucia (aka Mrs. Grimm, GLP Principal) made a stop in Mrs. Chalifoux's First Grade classroom in December. She served hot cocoa and sweet rolls to celebrate Christmas in Sweden. The First Graders were working on a unit that involved Christmas traditions from around the world, and Mrs. Grimm was all too happy to help out.

MUCH NEWS FROM THE EDEN ART DEPARTMENT

By Lisa Alessi Nicastro

Chosen from hundreds of entries, Mrs. Nicastro's lesson plan submission received an $800 grant award from the Target Field Trip Grant program. Students will be taken to The Western New York Book Arts Collaborative to explore the art of book making, papers, materials, and traditional book construction techniques. Students will connect personal expression, literature, and the written word to produce a work of fine art upon returning to the school art studio. The trip and project will be completed by April 2010. Look for work on display at the high school.

Thank you to Erin and "Grandma" Gen from Embraceable Ewe for spending some time in Mrs. Nicastro's Crafts Studio and teaching "Learn to Knit." The crafts students not only learned to knit but also went off on an incredible tangent making sweaters, mittens, scarves, and hats on their own.

Thanks to Mr. Mike Wlodarczyk of Creative Network for visiting the advertising studio to discuss the profession and offer his knowledge and assistance in the Ad Craft Project.

Once again this year, Eden High School advertising students participated in the annual Ad Craft Competition, which was sponsored by Metro Group. Ad Craft is a locally sponsored contest, which appears in all area news publications such as the Hamburg Sun. This program is an exciting and useful way for students to gain experience in print advertising as well as gain recognition for their design ideas and craftsmanship. Ten students worked to create ads for more than twenty local businesses. The first printing of the ads appeared in January. Watch the Hamburg Sun for print of the winning ads in February.

Thank you to the PTA for financial support and Mr. Wlodarczyk for lending his time and computer expertise to Mrs. Nicastro's Advertising and Design skateboard project. Students designed skateboards by first drawing thumbnail sketches of their ideas, scanned those hand drawings into Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop and created finished board designs using the drawings as a template. The students learned how to manipulate the Adobe programs and created amazing results. The design files were taken to a digital printer, and were adhered to the premade skateboard decks using a non-skid vinyl laminate, so the boards will be road worthy if the students choose to use them. Watch for display of finished skateboards in the weeks to come.

Congratulations to Morgan Cole, as her design for Eden's upcoming "Bicentennial" has been chosen to represent the 2012 celebration. Mrs. Nicastro was both proud and honored as the committee commented, numerous times, regarding the impressiveness of all of her advertising class submissions and made mention of the fact that they will be trying to employ all of the designs in some way. The student's work was judged amongst professional artist entries in this competition.

Congratulations to Rachel Shoemaker for her first place win in the WNY United First Night painting competition. Rachel's watercolor depicting her idea of a drug free celebration was chosen from all area high schools to be on display during "First Night" and win a $100 prize and first place ribbon.

Keep your eyes open in the high school art, music, and technology wing for a mural being created by Haley Sovereign. Haley is an independent study student with Mrs. Nicastro who has designed a Peter Max inspired mural dedicated to the fine arts and technology. Completion is estimated to be within the month of March.

Mrs. Bossert at the GLP and Mrs. Nicastro at the High School will be participating once again this year in the "Empty Bowls" project. Empty Bowls is a program begun years ago by an out of state art teacher in search of a way to raise funds for his local food banks, as well as, bring about an awareness of hunger in the US and around the world. Students can create functional or non-functional bowls, which are offered in exchange for donation with the proceeds going toward hunger fighting organizations. This year, Mrs. Nicastro's Ceramics I and II students are creating more than 50 wheel thrown bowls and Mrs. Bossert's GLP artists will take a field trip to the high school ceramics studio to work with their "high school buddies" on glazing the bowls. Second grade students will be given a demonstration in wheel throwing and will be invited to give it a try.

I would like to express via this newsletter my extreme pride and wishes of luck in their future artistic endeavors to the following students: Ashleigh Finnigan, Morgan Cole, Shelby Stresing, Katherine Eschner, Kate Hains, and Katie Caldwell. These Advertising and Design students not only met but exceeded expectations for the program, received accolades from local businesses as well as the community. Ladies, your ideas, work, and dedication made me not only proud to be an art teacher, but grateful to have had you all!

As always, the Eden Art Department would like to thank the community for their constant support and well wishes. We ask that you always, "Keep art in your heart!"

THREE LADY RAIDER VOLLEYBALL PLAYERS SIGN NATIONAL LETTERS OF INTENT

This past winter, three members of the Lady Raiders state championship volleyball team signed National Letters of Intent to play volleyball at their respective colleges. All three accepted athletic scholarships to attend. They joined numerous other Lady Raider alums who have gone on to compete at the collegiate level in the past 15 years.

In November senior twins Hannah and Hailee Herc signed with Division I schools, Kent State University and SUNY at Stony Brook respectively, after receiving numerous offers from other Division I schools. Hannah will compete for the Golden Flashes in the MAC conference after completing a stellar career at Eden, while Hailee, one of the hardest hitters in WNY, will don #6 for the Seawolves in the America East conference. Both girls are three-sport athletes, serving as captains for the basketball and volleyball teams. Hailee is a member of the school's track and field team while Hannah plays softball. Pictured Row 1 right: Mr. Herc, Hannah, Hailee, Mrs. Herc. Row 2: Mrs. Banks, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Beetow, Mr. Graff.

A month later, Katie signed on with NAIA member Roberts Wesleyan. Katie was also heavily pursued by Division-I and II schools, but "liked the small, warm atmosphere of the Roberts campus. It reminded me of Eden." In fact, Katie will still be a Raider, which is the Roberts mascot.

"Only two percent of all high school athletes win any kind of athletic scholarship at the collegiate level, and these girls' success is a clear tribute to their years of hard work, dedication, and selflessness," says their coach, Stephen Pierce. "However, just the opportunity to play a sport in college opens up so many doors for high school students. It gives a student a competitive advantage in terms of admissions, and it creates for the student a network of support even before she arrives on campus. I am very happy for these three. They are first-class representatives of Eden athletics."

This fall all three were named to The Buffalo News 8-member All Western New York team (along with Eden's Stacey Smith and Heather Feldman) and captained this year's volleyball team that captured Eden's record-breaking 7th State title. Pictured Row 1: Mrs. Eschner, Katie, Mr. Eschner. Row 2: Mr. Pierce, Mrs. Banks, Mr. Graff.

EDEN HOSTED H1N1 CLINIC

On January 6, 2010, Eden Central School hosted a clinic for H1N1 immunizations. The clinic was open to the public, and the immunizations were free of charge. Erie County Health Department sent staff over to vaccinate approximately 900 children and adults.

Thanks to Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Waszak and Mrs. McCarthy for their assistance in this endeavor.
