Shaping the world

Can you imagine an international academic programme that allows students to combine their studies with sports career?

Now it is a reality thanks to BTT Tennis Academy and Agora Sant Cugat International School, one of the 10 best schools in Spain and a member of one of the largest educational groups in the world: Globeducate.

Discover a programme that combines high-level sports training with an academic curriculum tailored to each student, meeting their personal needs, respecting their schedule of training and competitions so they have all the support they need as students and as athletes.

BTT Tennis Academy

Founded in 2004, BTT Tennis Academy is a high-performance sports centre located in the facilities of Club Esportiu Valldoreix, near Barcelona. Its main objective is the comprehensive preparation of tennis players of all levels and ages, seeking maximum human and sports development through personalised teaching.

BTT Tennis Academy has a residence for elite international athletes to train throughout the year with a nutritionist, a sports psychologist and a physiotherapist available at all times. In addition, residents have a gym, pool and other sports facilities on site. Some international players who have put their trust in our academy are Alberto Costa, Alex Corretja, Fernando Verdasco, Anastasia Pavlyuchenkova or Joao Sousa.

Now, thanks to the prestigious educational group Globeducate, BTT offers a flexible online programme so that students can combine high-level sports practice with their academic career with the guarantee from Agora Sant Cugat International School, one of the best private schools in the country with a complete sports curriculum.

A global network of schools at the service of our students

Globeducate is one of the top 5 educational groups in the world, with over 60 schools in 11 countries.

Globeducate offers real international experiences to each of our students, incorporating the most innovative educational methods and resources and prepares them to achieve success in a globalised world.

Sports Elite Programme

Globeducate and BTT Tennis Academy offer a specific international programme for students especially committed to sports. The objective is to help these young sporting promises of sport in their careers, making sure that they have the support of experts as athletes and as students.

The academic programme, face-to-face and online, combines high-level technical, tactical and physical training with a tailor-made curriculum that adapts to the needs of each athlete, respecting their training schedule, competitions, diets and all other needs.

The programme is developed through an online platform, provided by Blyth Academy or University of Nebraska High School, which allows athletes to follow it during their tournaments because books are replaced by a calendar of didactic units that adapt to the rhythm of each student.

While they are in the residence, teachers from Agora Sant Cugat International School go there every day to teach the necessary classes, with 18 teaching hours per week.

The High Performance Programme subjects are decided after the transcript evaluation of each student, to personalise the programme and balance the contents of the educational system of their country of origin.

The admission process consists of two steps: the initial contact and the reservation of a place through an initial payment that is completed with two other bi-annual payments.

Subjects

- Subject areas are decided upon after the transcript evaluation and a meeting with the family. (extra cost 35 USD)
- Entry requirements for the international programme are the submission of school reports from the past two years and a B2 level in English for non-native speakers.
- At an extra cost, students can prepare for the SAT tests, key for university admission in the United States, and obtain the degree through Agora Sant Cugat International School. Students can register in any of the two test days every academic year.
