Course Description

Social Living will be taught using the State Grade Level Expectations (Standards) through a thematic unit approach and will include topics such as home, school, family, community, safety, the five senses, space, plants, animals, drug awareness, and seasonal themes. We will also include self-esteem themes throughout the year.

The Project Lead the Way (PLTW) Launch curriculum for Kindergarten is presented in four modules: Structure and Function: Exploring Design, Pushes and Pulls, Structure and Function: Human Body, and Animals and Algorithms. As student engage with these modules they will make observations and predictions, as well as form and test hypotheses to solve problems. They will use scientific inquiry and the design process to perform fun and meaningful investigations.

These academic areas alternate with less structured activities such as centers, art, physical education, computer, free play, and stories. The Louisiana Department of Education Grade Level Expectations for Kindergarten are posted on the Kindergarten website. (www.ourladyofthelakeschool.org)

Methods of Assessment and Distribution

In addition to daily teacher observations and individualized evaluations, students will be given point-in-time assessments at the end of each quarter. These quarterly assessments are standards-based and, for each standard, students will receive a grade of Not Assessed, Not Evident, Skill Developing, or Mastered. Specific standards (noted on Kindergarten Report Card) require a student to earn Still Developing or Mastered scores before advancing into the next grade.
