Accreditation Is Continuous Improvement

Cognia defines continuous improvement as "an embedded behavior rooted in an institution's culture that constantly focuses on conditions, processes, and practices to improve teaching and learning." Accreditation is a continuous improvement process that helps an institution improve teaching and learning. Using Cognia's Performance Standards, the institution examines its current effectiveness as well as its capacity and capability to achieve its vision and goals for the future.

Cognia believes all institutions can improve no matter how well they are currently performing. In the same manner that educators are expected to understand the unique needs of every learner and tailor the education experience to drive student success, every institution must be empowered to map out and embrace their unique improvement journey. Cognia expects institutions to use the results and analyses of data from diverse sources to select and implement actions that drive improvement in education quality and student performance. Cognia recognizes that each institution's improvement journey is unique and that we can serve you best by providing key findings specific to your institution.

Around the turn of the 21st century, accreditation transformed its focus and process from a ten-year evaluation focused on the accomplishments of an institution's past decade to a forward-focused process examining what an institution is striving to accomplish in the next five years. Modern accreditation examines the current and future capabilities and capacities of an institution in the context of its mission, purpose and direction. The Standards for Accreditation define how a good institution behaves and provides the criteria to focus improvement efforts that will lead to growing learners, teachers, and leaders.

In reality, modern accreditation is a continuous improvement process. At least every six years, the institution formally engages the Standards for Accreditation to reflect and examine its progress toward its desired future as expressed through its mission, purpose, and strategic direction.

Cognia's purpose-driven, strategic process is the most widely used continuous improvement process in the world.

Cognia Performance Accreditation and the Engagement Review

This report contains the findings of the Engagement Review. The findings of the report are organized in five sections: Assurances, Rating of Analyses, Cognia Performance Standards, Insights from the Review, and a Summary of Findings that includes Noteworthy Practices and Areas for Improvement.

Accreditation is pivotal to leveraging education quality and continuous improvement. Using a set of rigorous research-based standards, the accreditation process examines the whole institution—the program, the cultural context, and the community of stakeholders—to determine how well the parts work together to meet the needs of learners. Through the Cognia Accreditation Process, highly skilled and trained evaluators gather first-hand evidence and information pertinent to evaluating an institution's performance against research-based Cognia Performance Standards. Using these standards, evaluators assess the quality of the learning environment to gain valuable insights and target improvements in teaching and learning as well as the operation of the institution.

To build a comprehensive evaluation of your institution, our experts gain a broad understanding of institution quality through a review of documented evidence, discussions with leadership, and community feedback. Using the standards as a framework, the report provides valuable guidance to help focus your institution's improvement journey.

Assurances

Assurances are requirements that accredited institutions must meet. The assurance statements are based on the type of institution, and the responses are confirmed by the Accreditation Engagement Review. Institutions are expected to meet all assurances and are expected to correct any deficiencies in unmet assurances.

Evaluations of Institution Analyses

Cognia expects institutions to use a systematic process to collect data and information using quality instruments and then analyze and synthesize that information to arrive at findings. From the findings, Cognia expects institutions to develop, prioritize, and implement theories of action that will sustain high-performing areas and lead to improvement in underperforming areas.

Cognia requires institutions to complete analyses on selected data sources. Each analysis is evaluated using rubrics aligned to the main activities within the analysis process.

Performance Standards Evaluation Results

Accreditation is based primarily on the evaluation of evidence that reflects an institution's ability to meet the expectations as defined by the Cognia Performance Standards. The Performance Standards define the elements of quality that research indicates are present in an effective institution. Accreditation standards provide the guideposts to becoming a better institution. The Engagement Review evaluators apply a four-level rubric to determine the degree to which the institution demonstrates effective practices that reflect the expectations of the standard. The rubric scale is designed to indicate the current performance of the institution.

The rubric is scored from Level 4 to Level 1. Descriptions are provided in the table below.

RATING	LEVEL	DESCRIPTION
★★★★	4	Demonstrating noteworthy systematic and systemic practices producing clear results that positively impact learners.
★★★☆☆	3	Engaging in practices that provide evidence of expected effectiveness that is reflected in the standard.
★★☆☆☆	2	Developing or improving practices that provide evidence that effort approaches desired level of effectiveness.
★☆☆☆☆	1	Reflecting areas with insufficient evidence and/or limited activity leading toward improvement.

Cognia Performance Standards Ratings

Culture of Learning Standards

A good institution nurtures and sustains a healthy culture for learning. In a healthy culture, learners, parents, and educators feel connected to the purpose and work of the institution as well as behave in alignment with the stated values and norms. The institution also demonstrates evidence that reflects the mission, beliefs, and expectations of the institution (e.g., student work; physical appearance of the institution; participation in institution activities; parents' attendance at institution functions).

Keys to Culture of Learning

A healthy culture is evident where:

- Stakeholders are actively engaged and supportive of the institution's mission
- Learners' academic and non-academic needs and interests are the focal point

Network Comparison for Culture of Learning Standards

Leadership for Learning Standards

The ability of a leader to provide leadership for learning is a key attribute of a good institution. Leaders who engage in their own learning while tangibly supporting the learning process for learners and teachers have a significant positive impact on the success of others. Leaders must also communicate the learning expectations for all learners and teachers continuously with consistency and purpose. The expectations are embedded in the culture of the institution, reflected by learners', teachers', and leaders' behaviors and attitudes toward learning.

Network Comparison for Leadership for Learning Standards

Engagement of Learning Standards

A good institution ensures that learners are engaged in the learning environment. Learners who are engaged in the learning environment participate with confidence and display agency over their own learning. Growth in learning is also reflected in learners' ability to meet expectations in knowledge and skill acquisition.

Keys to Growth in Learning

Growth is evident when

- Learners possess non-academic skills that ensure readiness to learn
- Learners' academic achievement reflects preparedness to learn
- Learners attain knowledge and skills necessary to achieve goals for learning

Insights from the Review

The evaluators engaged in professional discussions and deliberations about the effectiveness of the processes, programs, and practices within the institution to arrive at the findings of the report. Guided by evidence, the evaluators arrived at findings that will inform your institution's continuous improvement efforts. The findings are aligned to research-based criteria designed to improve student learning and organizational effectiveness.

The findings are organized into narratives around four Key Characteristics critical to the success of any educational institution: culture of learning, leadership for learning, engagement of learning, and growth in learning. The narratives also provide the next steps to guide your institution's improvement journey in its efforts to improve the quality of educational opportunities for all learners. The feedback provided in this Accreditation Engagement Review Report will assist your institution in reflecting on its current improvement efforts and adapting and adjusting your plans to continuously strive for improvement.

Culture of Learning

The leadership of Tupelo High School is dedicated to cultivating and upholding a culture marked by the principles of respect, fairness, equity, and inclusion, all while striving to create an environment free from bias. According to the evidence, the school provides an extensive range of student engagement through more than 55 diverse club offerings, catering to a wide range of interests. Students are provided the opportunity to take the initiative in creating clubs, supported by the guidance of a dedicated faculty member who assumes the role of a sponsor. Encompassing a broad spectrum of interests and activities, these diverse clubs empower students to actively participate in activities that align with their individual passions and preferences. Additionally, the implementation of Capturing Kids' Hearts serves as tangible evidence that the school places a high priority on its mission, accentuating the importance of valuing individuals rather than exclusively focusing on tangible outcomes or products. According to survey data, 77.3% of respondents believe students are treated equally regardless of economic status, and 82.9% of respondents believe that the school encourages students to take challenging classes regardless of ethnicity or cultural background. Intentionally integrating Capturing Kids' Hearts fosters a sense of community ensuring that the educational experience is enriched by an acknowledgment of everyone's distinct qualities and contributions. The school is encouraged to continue the implementation of Capturing Kids' Hearts placing a strong emphasis on fidelity and ensuring adherence to the program's principles and strategies.

Leadership for Learning

The leadership is committed to continuous improvement; however, the current improvement plan, which is based on discipline, attendance, and ACT data, was developed exclusively by the administration. Based on the evidence provided, the administration and lead teachers facilitate comprehensive data meetings with the primary objective of delving into, analyzing, and addressing the diverse experiences and specific needs of learners. After their first year of teaching at Tupelo High School, 54.5% of new teachers strongly agree and 45.5% agree that they were prepared to analyze assessment and student data to improve student performance. These collaborative sessions serve as a platform for in-depth discussions, data-driven insights, and strategic planning to enhance the overall educational experience and meet the needs of the student body. As per the leadership team interview, the existing school improvement plan (SIP) was developed by the administration during the summer of 2023 using data regarding discipline, attendance, and ACT. Leadership exhibits a commitment to actively involving a greater number of stakeholders in the SIP process. This commitment fosters a collective approach that ensures the SIP aligns with the needs and aspirations of the entire school community. Administrators should strive to engage broader participation from stakeholders in formulating the school improvement plan, aiming to cultivate a more inclusive and collaborative environment.

Engagement of Learning

Learners at Tupelo High School experience an educational setting that emphasizes the value of diverse cultures, backgrounds, and abilities. Provided evidence indicates that students are afforded opportunities to explore and engage with a diverse array of cultures, fostering a learning environment that encourages cultural understanding and appreciation. Students encounter diverse cultures through various educational activities. This exposure ranges from studying popular music and renowned literature by Spanish-speaking artists and authors during Hispanic Heritage Month to analyzing a multitude of perspectives and voices in English class. Additionally, their exploration extends to topics such as Indigenous people groups and different forms of government structures in social studies. Introducing students to diverse cultures is essential for their personal and academic growth, providing them with the necessary skills and attitudes to excel in an interconnected and diverse global community. Based on provided evidence, the school is committed to meeting the diverse interests and abilities of its learners. This school year, Career Academies was initiated which will further prepare learners for their career aspirations beginning their freshman year. Initiating career-focused programs provides students with opportunities to discover their passions, strengths, and interests, allowing for more informed career choices. Additionally, Tupelo High School has implemented a program designed to empower and facilitate the success of learners with significant disabilities to succeed in competitive integrated employment. In 2020, the school's first eight students graduated from the program due to the support of the local hospital. Initiatives for students with significant disabilities ensure that every student has the opportunity to participate in the learning process. Tupelo High School is encouraged to utilize the eProve™ Effective Learning Environment Observation Tool® (eleot®) to actively support and enhance student engagement within the learning environment and to determine how to further enhance current initiatives.

Growth in Learning

Evidence suggests that the district leverages data and input from a variety of sources when making decisions, prioritizing the growth and well-being of both learners and staff members. According to provided state accountability ratings, the school rating has improved from a B in 2021-2022 to an A in 2022-2023. The school has seen positive trends in the areas of math, United States history, science, and absenteeism. In English, points earned for growth for students in the lowest 25% of performance on the statewide English assessment increased from 29.2% in 2021-2022 to 54.4% in 2022-2023. These improvements highlight a commitment to continuous improvement, emphasizing the dedication to delivering an excellent learning experience within the school. Additionally, provided evidence indicates that 93% of students who participated in after-school tutoring for either algebra, biology, English, or United States history passed the state assessment. Also, the school follows the 10-10 policy which restricts students in the hallways during the first ten minutes of class and the last ten minutes of class to cut down on tardiness and promote active engagement by incorporating a bell ringer and exit ticket. These instructional strategies actively contribute to cultivating an interactive and organized learning environment. In lieu of improvements, the school noted that English language arts was its lowest level of performance and the school graduation rate dropped from the previous year. The leadership team interview indicated that leaders assist teachers in making curriculum changes based on collected and analyzed data on the school digital data wall and after each unit test and benchmarked assessment. It is evident that leaders evaluate the school's conditions to ensure that the diverse needs of learners are not only comprehensively addressed but also to safeguard the integrity and quality of the overall learning experience. The school is encouraged to utilize the eleot to actively support and enhance student engagement.
