Getting started...

Building Your

College List

Where should I start?

First....WHERE are you applying and WHY?

This will then help you determine...

WHEN you are apply

WHAT you need to do for each school

Have you made your college list?

No?

- Do your research and make a list of schools
- 8-12 schools
- Resources to help: Naviance, college websites, college visits (virtual & in person)

Yes?

- Do you have a balanced list?
- Do you have reach, target/match, and safety/likely schools?
- Do you know what is needed for each school?

College Testing Information

CSUs: Will NOT look at SAT/ACT scores

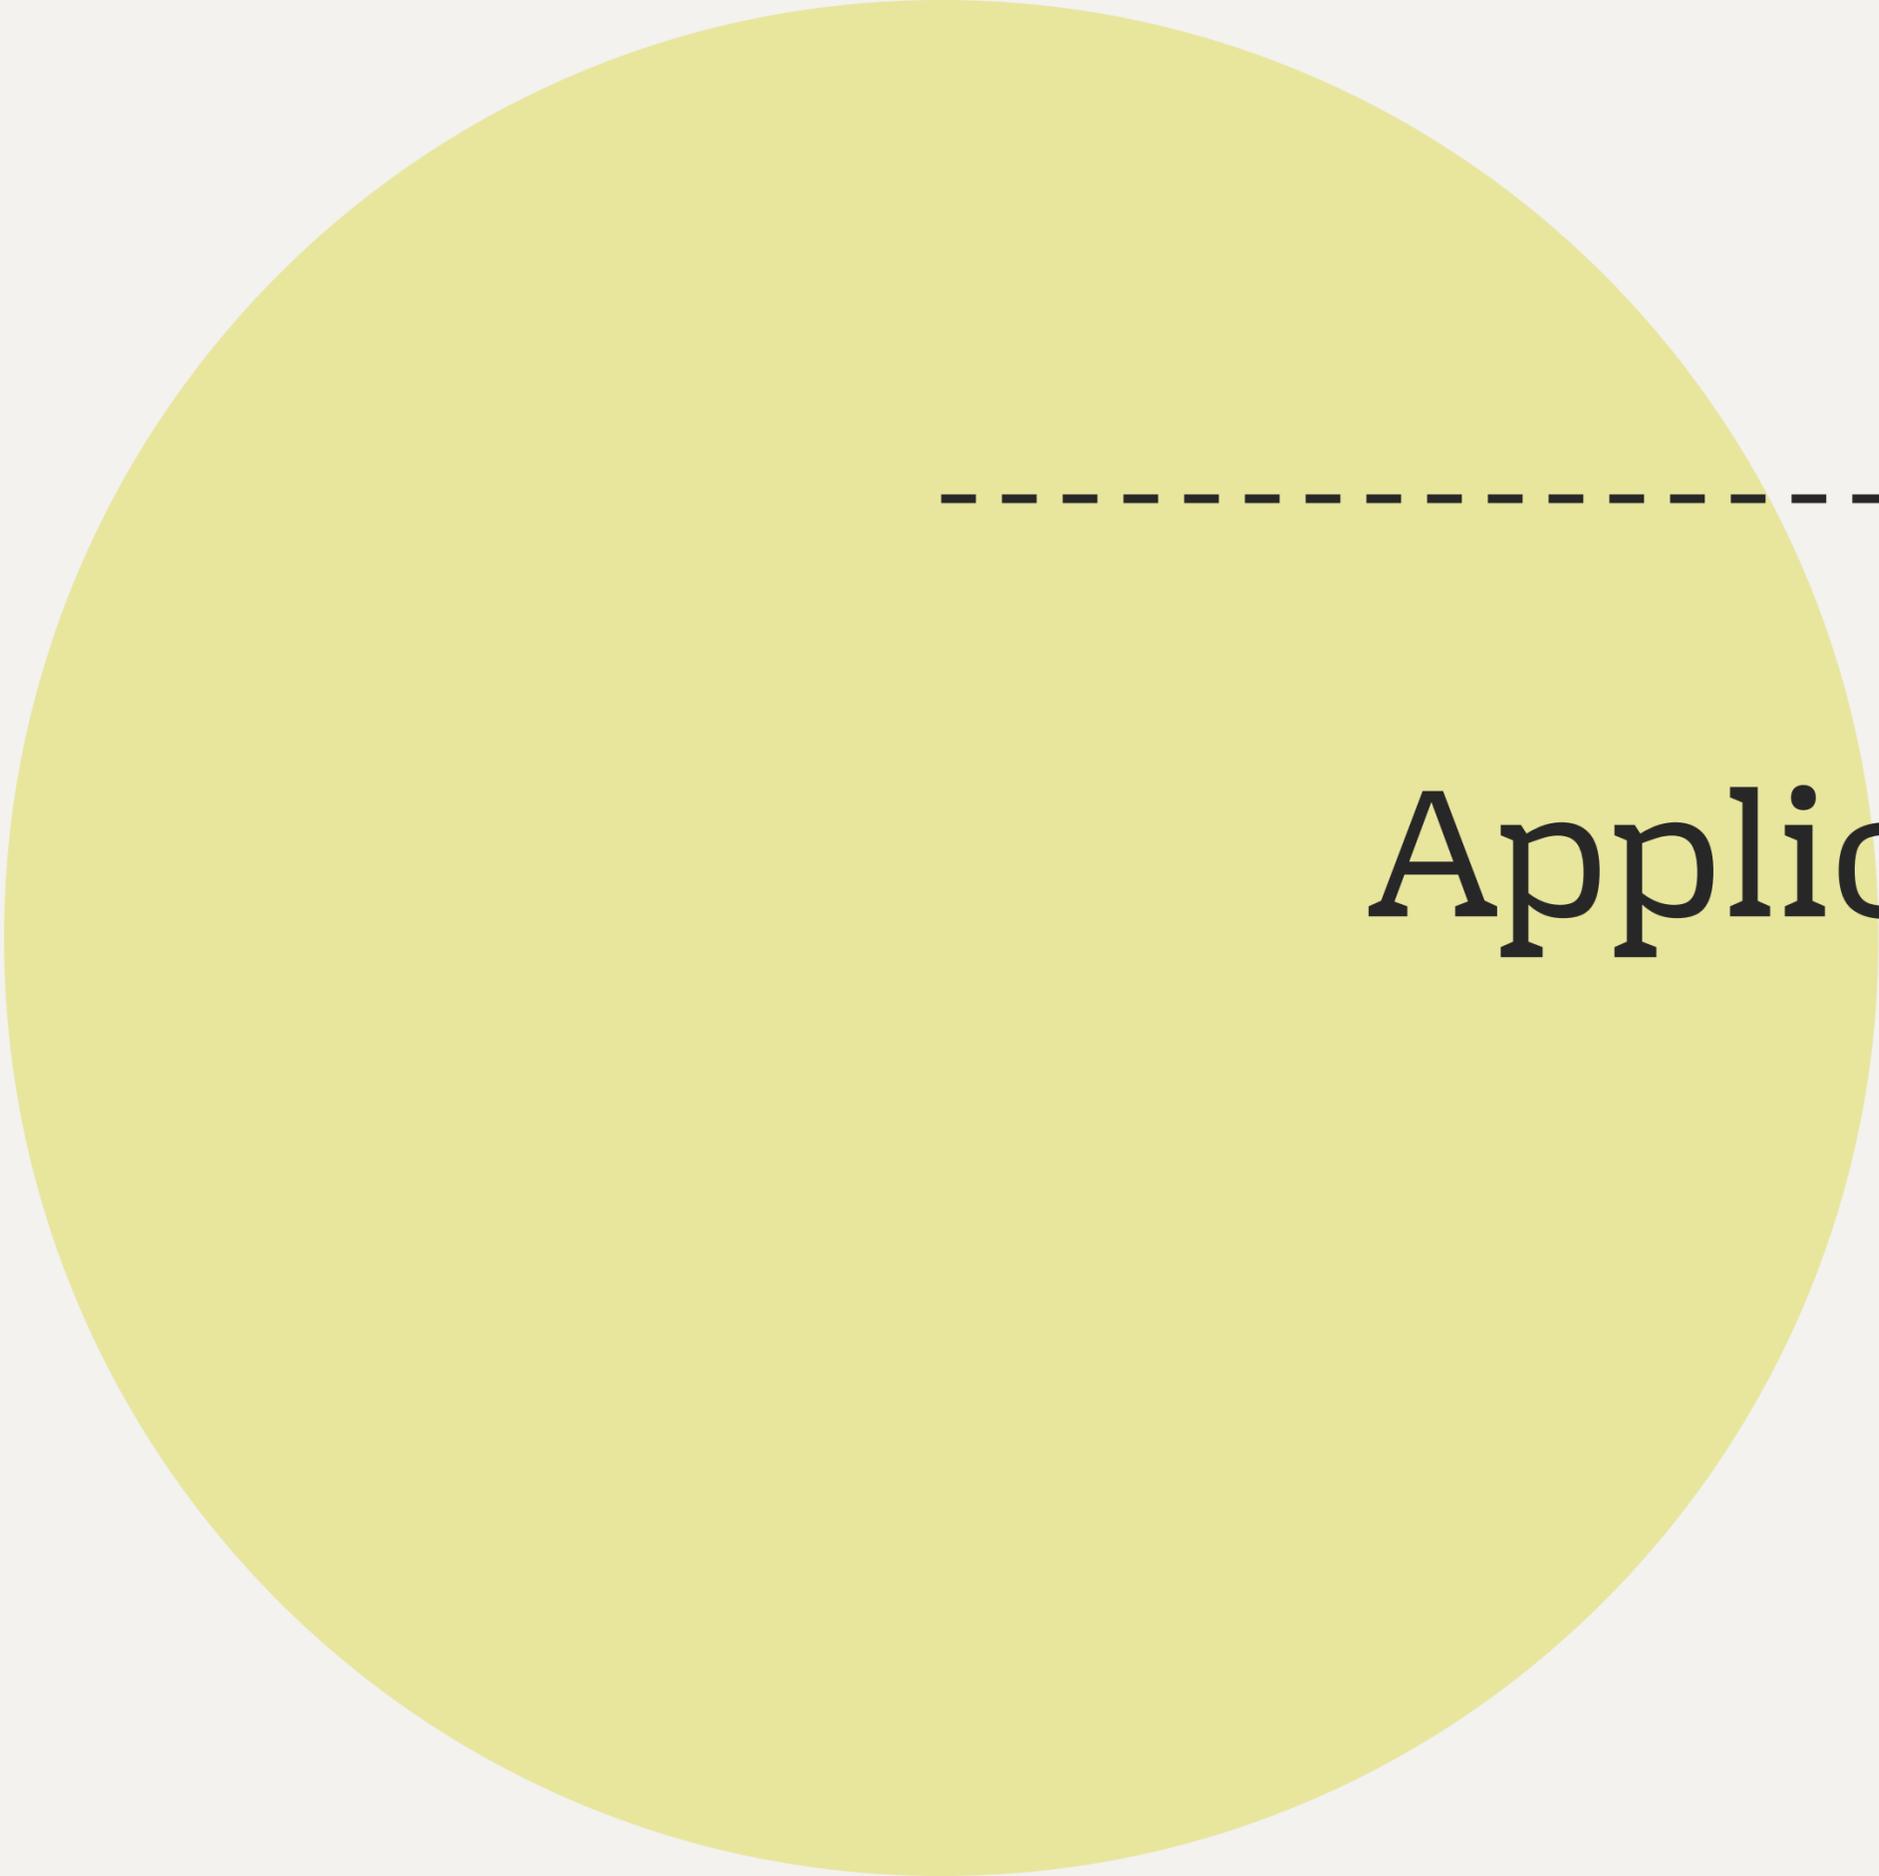

UCs: UC WILL NOT consider SAT or ACT test scores when making admissions decisions

Private/Out of State: Every college will be different. You must visit each school's website to know if they will require or accept test scores.

Test-Optional: Colleges that make "test-optional" decisions leave it up to the student to provide test scores if the student believes that those scores will enhance their application.

Test Blind: Colleges that make "test blind" decisions will not look at test scores in the admission process even if they are submitted.

Adding/Deleting Colleges After Turning in “Your College List”

FERPA

(Family
Educational Rights & Privacy Act)

In the application it asks if I want to waive this right. Why would I want to do that?

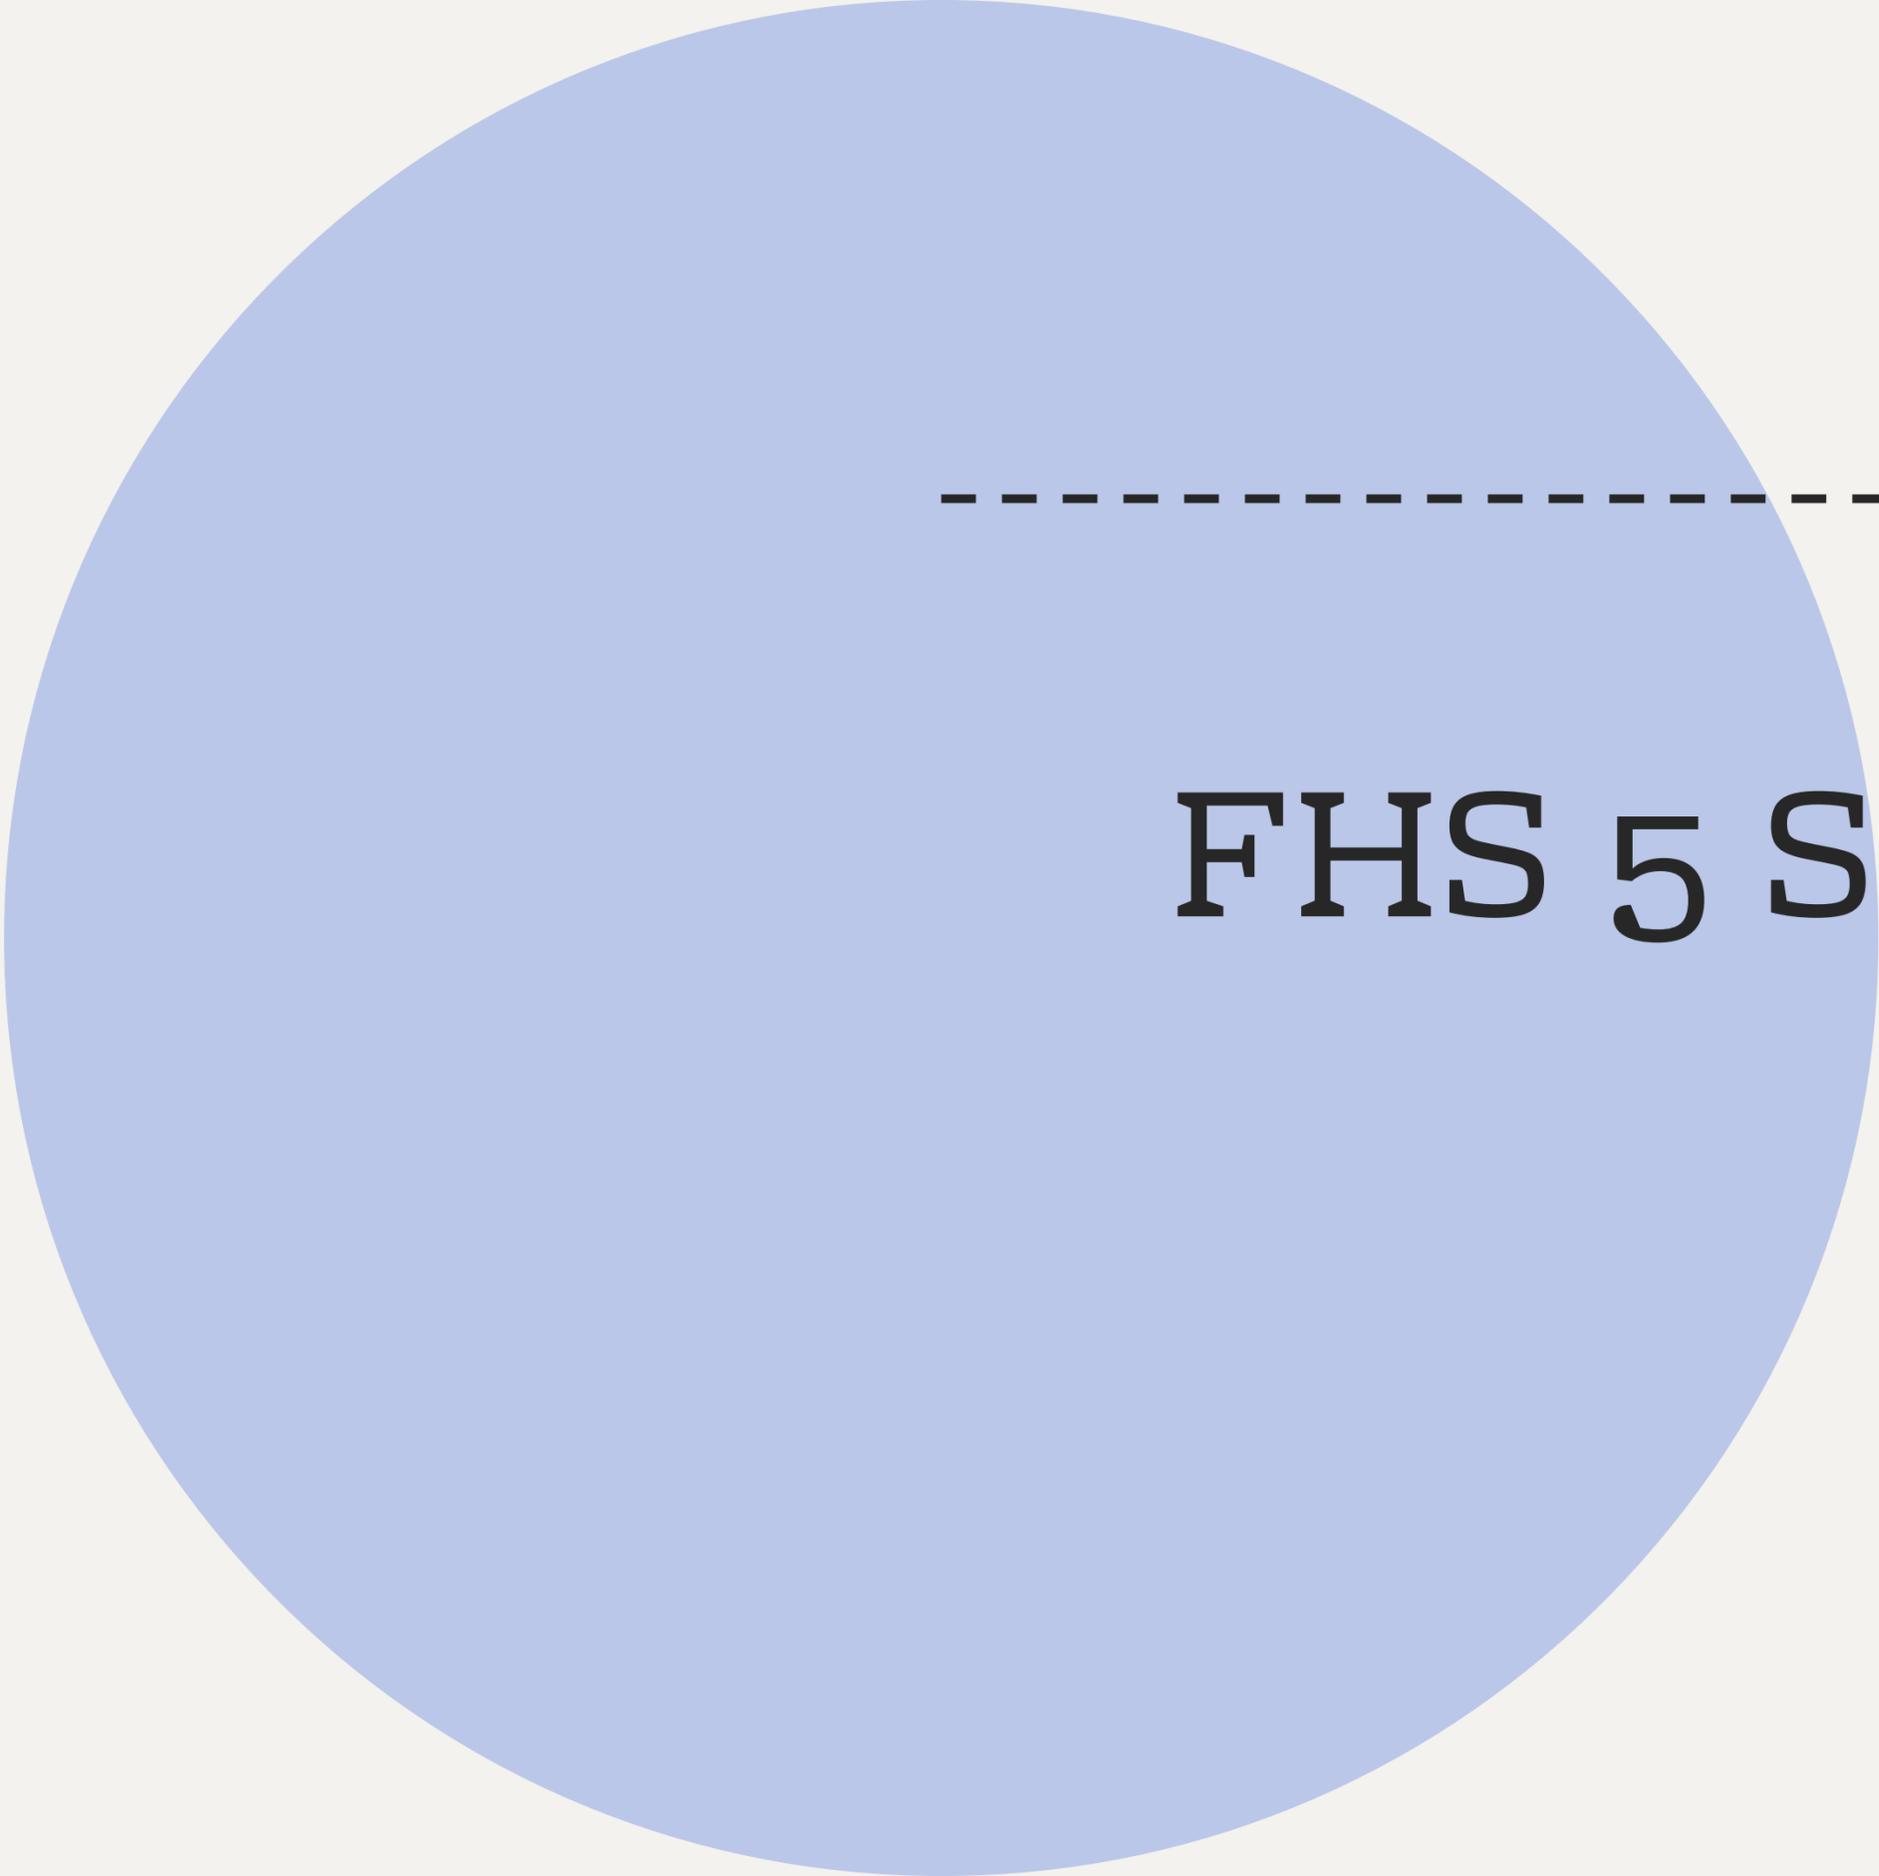

Waiving your right let's colleges know that you do not intend to read your recommendations, which helps reassure colleges that the letters are candid and truthful.

Recommenders will not write a letter for you unless you waive your rights.

* Check your Schoology email TODAY for the FERPA information

Financial Aid Updates

- FAFSA is going through major changes this school year, the exact date of when the new form will be available is still unknown
 - We will have Cash For College Events in late 2024 or early 2025
- We recommend families fill out the CSS profile if required by the Private University
- The CSS Profile is used to determine a student's eligibility for institutional aid and is used by approximately 400 schools. While these schools also use the FAFSA to provide aid from the government, the CSS Profile is used by these specific colleges to give out grants, scholarships, and loans directly.
