

12 LITERATURE & COMPOSITION

2024 TSD SUMMER RECOMMENDED READING

Seniors this summer we encourage you to begin exploring the individual stories from around the world. 12LC is centered around World Literature and this course will challenge you to examine your thinking, your learning, and your view of the world. The goal this summer is for you to start to consider different parts of the world, and the cultures, the individuals, and the stories that give shape to and define that region.

As we begin to think how literacy is more than just the words within a great novel, seniors are challenged to learn about these cultures by exploring stories in nontraditional formats. Students can start by reading any of the world literature novels from the lists below, but then continue by watching a documentary, or listening to a series of podcasts, or even by regularly reading credible news.

LISTS TO HELP YOU GET STARTED ...

As all of these selections contain mature themes, please do your research to make sure what you choose is a “good fit” for your interests and/or world view. We’ve created this list to offer choices to every student, regardless of ability, thus the reading/viewing difficulty varies widely from title to title. Be sure to do your research. Don’t shy away from something challenging if it captures your interest!

“Many stories matter. Stories have been used to dispossess and to malign. But stories can also be used to empower, and to humanize. Stories can break the dignity of a people. But stories can also repair that broken dignity.” – Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, author

We look forward to seeing you in the fall and beginning our study of World Literature together!
