Travis Unified School District

Information Regarding Measure R

Founded in 1962, Travis Unified School District (TUSD) is proud to provide high-quality education for local students. The District's five elementary schools, middle school, comprehensive high school, alternative high school, and community day school provide engaging learning environments for approximately 5,400 local students.

Repairing Our Aging Schools and Classrooms

Providing safe, secure, and up-to-date classrooms are key to supporting a high-quality education. However, many TUSD schools are over 50 years old and in need of repairs and updates. Our classrooms were built for a different era of education and no longer meet today's educational standards.

Measure R: Local Funding to Repair and Upgrade Our Schools

To continue meeting the needs of our students and community, the TUSD Governing Board voted to place Measure R, a $65 million dollar school improvement bond on the November 2024 ballot. The measure's cost is limited to $60 per $100,000 of a property's assessed (not market) value per year while bonds are outstanding.

- Replace aging plumbing, electrical, lighting, heating and air conditioning systems
- Enhance safety and security at all schools including security fencing, cameras, and lighting
- Repair, modernize and add classrooms for science, technology, engineering, math and career technical education
- Replace damaged floors, old doors and leaking windows

If Measure R passes, the District has approved a resolution committed to cease taxation of and start dissolving the local Mello Roos Districts.

Mandatory Fiscal Accountability and Local Control

By law, the bond measure would require accountability protections, including:

- All funds would be controlled locally for our schools only and could not be taken away by the State
- An independent citizens' oversight committee and mandatory annual audits would ensure all funds are spent as voters intended
- A detailed project list outlining the specific use of funds would be required
- No funds could be used for administrators' salaries
