ORANGEBURG, S.C. – Orangeburg County School District (OCSD) is proud to announce that two 12th-grade students from Orangeburg-Wilkinson High School, Tyrese Keitt and Shaliyah Seawright, have been recognized by Big Future for their exceptional performance on the PSAT. Both students have been awarded the National African American Recognition and Rural Recognition for their remarkable scores.

Additionally, they maintained a cumulative GPA of B+ or higher, showcasing their dedication to academic success. As part of their eligibility, both students identify as African American and attend school in a rural area, meeting all criteria for this national honor.

"Tyrese and Shaliyah exemplify the academic excellence we strive for in OCSD. Their dedication and hard work are truly inspiring, and we are proud of their accomplishments," said Dr. Shawn D. Foster, Superintendent of OCSD.
