Are you ready to...

Take in a world class

Flamenco performance

A chef wearing a black long-sleeved shirt and a white apron is working in a kitchen. They are wearing blue nitrile gloves and are in the process of adding a white, rectangular ingredient (possibly cheese or butter) to a dish. The kitchen counter is cluttered with various items: a glass bowl containing a yellow liquid, a small white bowl with dark green herbs, two yellow bell peppers filled with a brown mixture, a small metal mold, and two blue plastic containers filled with green microgreens. In the foreground, there are some breaded items, possibly scallops or fish, on a white plate. The background is slightly blurred, showing other kitchen equipment and a person in the distance.
