Cheer on the Skyview Cheerleaders this Thursday as depart for the national championships!

Come out and cheer for the cheerleaders this Thursday, Feb. 8! Our Skyview Cheerleading team is headed out to compete at the Universal Cheerleaders Association (UCA) National Championships, at the Walt Disney World Resort, in Orlando, Florida. A shuttle bus will pick team members up from the Broadway Campus at 12:30 p.m., from York International School at 12:45 p.m., and from the Skyview Campus at 1 p.m. We're asking staff and students at each of those campuses to come out and clap for the cheerleaders as they head toward nationals!

This is the first time the team will compete at the national championships in the program's history. They qualified by placing fourth overall in the "All Girls Varsity GameDay" division at the UCA Colorado Regionals last fall in Denver.

Global Leadership Academy FBLA students qualify for state conference

Three Global Leadership Academy Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) students just qualified for the FBLA State Leadership Conference after competing at their District Leadership Conference, held at Longmont High School this past Saturday.

Senior Kylie L. qualified in the Cyber Security category, where students demonstrated knowledge about defending and attacking viruses, spam, and spyware through an objective test.

Junior Faith C. qualified in Impromptu Speaking, where students demonstrated their skills by delivering 5-minute speech on a topic with only 10 minutes of preparation.

And Emmy N., also a junior, qualified in Spreadsheet Applications, where students demonstrated knowledge around competencies in converting data to information in business through an objective test and a production test.

They were part of a seven-student contingent from GLA, the first to compete at the district competition from the school in about 25 years. The State Leadership Conference will take place April 1-3, at the Gaylord Resort, in Denver.

Teaching and Learning

Dates for summer professional learning opportunity for middle and high school science teachers are June 3-7

Mapleton is inviting science teachers to attend a five day Constructing Meaning Institute, from June 3-7. Participants will receive 40 hours toward CLD Relicensure. Interested teachers can register here.

Constructing Meaning (CM) is a framework that can accompany any content area and work in conjunction with any resource. It provides a replicable process for backwards mapping the language demands connected to demonstrating proficiency in grade level content.

Features of Constructing Meaning instruction include:

- Designing “backwards” from a learning goal
- “Chunking” learning for the gradual release of responsibility
- Calling attention to the cognitive function
- Explicitly teaching “brick and mortar”
- Providing frequent opportunities to practice language
- Narrowing and scaffolding text for directed reading

There has been an influx of multilingual learners into our district. This opportunity provides a way to support language development throughout content. It is our goal to have all middle and high school science teachers trained in CM as part of providing language development to all levels of multilinguals throughout the day. The June CM institute is a chance to get ahead of the learning! Additional dates will be available during the 2024-25 school year for teachers unable to make it to the June session.

Pay will be per diem per negotiated contract. Questions can be directed to Alexis Lauffenburger, Multilingual Program Coordinator, ext. 1003.

Mapleton to offer two-week Newcomer Summer Institute in June

We are also excited to announce that Mapleton will offer a two week Summer Institute in June specifically designed for identified newcomers going into grades 9-12.

In the first half of each day, the institute will provide instruction for newcomer-identified multilingual students. The instruction will focus on providing language development alongside content through a drone project and real-world application of skills.

In the second half of each day, the institute will focus on teacher development through collaborative job embedded professional learning. Teachers will learn effective strategies to instruct newcomer students, co-plan lessons, and reflect using formative assessments.

And, we are hiring! Look for six teacher job postings and one Newcomer Summer Institute Coordinator posting this week.

The professional learning will support 64 hours for CLD Relicensure. Paid by per diem per negotiated contract.

Dates:

- After school professional development: Thursday, April 25, and Thursday, May 16, from 4-6 p.m.
- Institute dates: Monday, June 3-Friday, June 14, 8 a.m.-3 p.m.

Questions can be directed to Alexis Lauffenburger, Multilingual Program Coordinator, ext. 1003
