

300 Chromebook RFP Questions and Answers

Q- Is this an ALL OR NOTHING requirement?

A- Yes. No substitutes will be accepted.

Q- Can you consider, if not already, accepting bids on a PER LINE ITEM basis?

A- No. All items on the RFP must be on the bid submitted.

Q- Have you discussed financing or leasing purchase?

A- No.

Q- Could you please provide more details on what is encompassed by "White Glove Services" in this context?

A- This is a Lenovo part number. The Weekly Milk- Run service is a weekly courier service where they pick up and drop off chromebooks for repairs. The white glove service includes unboxing and installing the cases. Lenovo has all the information needed from District 4.

Q- Are samples required for this bid?

A- No samples are required for this bid.

Q- The timeline for delivery?

A- Delivered by October 31st

Q- Can you please advise as to the services for this RFP, Lenovo services have been listed but if a vendor were to propose services which they provide on their own will the proposal be dequeued?

A- Yes

For additional questions contact the Lenovo Rep Heath Perkins hperkins@lenovo.com

