In September, a visiting team of education professionals from peer SAIS schools will be here to evaluate GSL's work towards accreditation. ### Dot Day Celebration

Friday, September 13

Our Anchor Library team is delighted to announce our annual International Dot Day celebration on Friday, September 13. This will be a school-wide dress down day for students to wear anything dotty!

International Dot Day originated because of Peter Reynolds book, The Dot. It is a simple story about a girl, Vashti, who becomes frustrated when she is unable to draw to her satisfaction. With encouragement from her teacher, she begins to believe in herself and her power to make her mark and have a positive impact on others. It is a story worth revisiting each year as a reminder of the power and strength each of us have to make a difference.
