IDEA Equitable Services/Proportionate Share Invitation to Consultation Meeting

Homeschool Parents and Private School Administrators,

Glascock County School System invites Homeschool Parents to a consultation meeting regarding your child's participation in the following federally funded programs for the 2025-2026 school year.

Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA)

In accordance with ESEA sections 1117 and 8501, Local Education Agencies (LEAs) are required to reach out annually to homeschool families and private schools regarding the provision of equitable services. This includes consultation and planning prior to the start of the next school year.

For IDEA 611 and IDEA 619, Proportionate Share Funds for Students with Disabilities grants provide the allocation of a "proportionate share" of their Federal IDEA funds to provide homeschool and private school students with disabilities (SWD) with "services" in special education offered by the district.

Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)

In accordance with IDEA regulation § 300.131, each LEA must annually locate, identify, and evaluate all children aged 3-21 with disabilities who are homeschooled or enrolled by their parents in private, including non-profit religious, elementary schools and secondary schools located in the school district served by the LEA. If a homeschool or private school student is identified through the child find process, a consultation MUST occur between private school representatives, representatives of parents of parentally-placed private school children with disabilities and LEAs.

Initial Consultation Meeting Information

Consultation for services occurs in the school year prior to the start of services. Federal laws and regulations also outline topics that LEAs are required to review and explain in consultation. You are invited to meet with LEA officials to discuss equitable services under IDEA for the next school year on Thursday, October 24, 2024, at 2:00 p.m. at the Glascock County School System Board of Education- 738 Railroad Avenue; Gibson, GA 30810
