Dear Parents/Guardians of students serving as cabin leaders,

Exploring New Horizons (ENH) empowers students, builds environmental literacy, and strengthens school communities through residential environmental education programs. Our knowledgeable and experienced naturalists engage over 7,000 greater San Francisco Bay Area students annually in hands-on learning in a variety of ecosystems, taking a whole child approach focused on social emotional learning, ecology, environmental stewardship, conservation, health, and the arts. Founded as a non-profit in 1979, ENH partners with over 100 Northern California schools and in our 40-year history we have served over 200,000 students.

An extremely important role in our outdoor school program is filled by high school students who volunteer a week of their time to serve as cabin leaders for the younger students. Cabin leaders are responsible for the care and well being of 7-12 students on a 24-hour-a-day basis for the entire week. Cabin leaders, along with ENH staff naturalists and classroom teachers, accompany their students on nature hikes and assist in the learning process. Additionally, cabin leaders supervise the students during non-instructional parts of the day, such as recreation, cabin time, and bedtime. The position of cabin leader is not easy to fill and it demands a great deal of responsibility, competence, and commitment.

Your son or daughter may be selected by the Exploring New Horizons staff to serve as a cabin leader for the outdoor school. The cabin leaders' job is challenging, requiring lots of patience and tolerance, a cheerful disposition and a consistently positive outlook. The cabin leaders will spend many hours each day with their students and will have very little time to themselves. Despite the difficulties, or perhaps because of them, the cabin leaders and their "children" develop very strong bonds. Friendships started at the outdoor school often last a lifetime.

There is no cost to the cabin leaders for their stay at the outdoor school. Cabin leaders will receive transportation to and from the outdoor school, room and board during their stay, as well as accident and health insurance while they are on site. High school students also receive full credit for their week at the outdoor school, but they are responsible for any assignments that they might miss while they are away. They should check with all of their teachers prior to attending the outdoor school.

The outdoor school program is an extension of the classroom for both the cabin leaders and the younger students. We often will hear cabin leaders stating that they have learned more about the environment than the students did. Perhaps even more important are the lessons that they've learned about themselves!

Thank you for allowing your son or daughter to serve as one of our outdoor school cabin leaders. The learning and growing potential of the outdoor school program is greatly enhanced by the involvement of the high school students, and the program would be next to impossible without their invaluable participation.

If you have any questions regarding the outdoor school program and/or the cabin leader position, please feel free to contact the director at the outdoor school site that your child is attending.

Sincerely,

Danny "Dingo" Beutler

CABIN LEADER TEACHER PERMISSION FORM

I, _____, have applied for the position of cabin leader with Exploring New Horizons Outdoor Schools (ENH). ENH is a non-profit that empowers students, builds environmental literacy, and strengthens school communities through residential environmental education programs. An extremely important role in the program is filled by high school students who volunteer as cabin leaders. Acting as role models, cabin leaders are responsible for the care and wellbeing of 7-12 5th or 6th grade students on a 24-hour-a-day basis, ensuring students are working together as a team and getting to meals and hikes prepared and on time. Cabin leaders gain valuable leadership and communication skills, community service credit, and references for college or job applications. In order to serve as a cabin leader I must have approval from all my teachers, a school administrator, and the attendance office.

Teachers or administrators, please sign your name below indicating your agreement that serving as a cabin leader for a week would be a good opportunity for me. I understand that you may withdraw your permission at any time should my grades or citizenship drop to an unsatisfactory level. "I support the above-named student to be a cabin leader for outdoor school. I understand that if this student is chosen he/she will be absent for a full week of classes and will have to make up all missed work."

Students, please print the class and teacher's name. You must also get signatures from the attendance office as well as a school administrator.

CABIN LEADER RESPONSIBILITY CONTRACT

The primary responsibility of an Exploring New Horizons Outdoor Schools cabin leader is the emotional well-being and safety of the children in her or his care. The following contract clarifies the responsibilities of the cabin leader to ensure that children have a safe, positive experience.

Please initial the following statements and sign the document in the appropriate place.

I must ensure that I guide the children in my care fairly and consistently. I will take care to treat them with respect.

I will remain with the children unless it is my specified time off. I will report all injuries, illnesses, and potentially dangerous situations. _____

Because the children are easily influenced, I will protect them from foul language and inappropriate or frightening stories and activities. No uncomplimentary remarks about race, gender, religion, sex or sexual orientation will be tolerated in my cabin group. _____

I agree that while at the outdoor school I will not use tobacco products, alcohol, or illegal drugs. _____

I understand that for my own protection, I should never touch a child inappropriately and I agree to never hit or mishandle a child. _____

I will not allow any student to enter a cabin or village that she or he is not assigned to, nor encourage or lead cabin raids. _____

If I have any difficulty, I understand the outdoor school staff is available to help me and it is my responsibility to ask for help when it is needed. _____

I will not exchange contact information with any students (Facebook, email, phone number, Twitter, Instagram, etc.).

I will not feed any student any food/candy/gum that is not an official menu item from the program. I understand students have allergies and health concerns that can be effected by diet. _____

I understand that I must follow all of the rules of Exploring New Horizons Outdoor Schools. I understand that any infraction of the above statements can result in my immediate dismissal. _____

I have read and agree to the responsibilities listed above.

CABIN LEADER PACKING LIST and INFORMATION

This is a packing list almost exactly like the one that the students receive. It is very important that you follow the list closely. You are the one who will be responsible for the students when the weather turns wet or cold. It will be difficult for you to maintain a positive outlook if you yourself are cold, wet and somewhat unhappy. If you do not have all of the needed equipment, please try to borrow it from friends, neighbors, etc.

Cabin leaders who are well prepared for all types of weather will be the most comfortable, the most effective, and best able to enjoy their experience at the outdoor school. Clothing that is comfortable, warm and functional is important. Please limit your luggage to one sleeping bag, pillow, and either a suitcase or duffel bag. Most importantly, be sure to LABEL EVERYTHING.

Cell Phone Policy- Cabin leaders may bring their cell phones, however they will be collected by the outdoor school staff and kept in the office during the week. Cell phones may only be used during the counselor's time off. Please understand that cell reception is limited, so most phones will not get service. If you choose to bring your phone, Exploring New Horizons and its staff will not be held responsible for lost, stolen, or damaged phones.
