Why Girl Scouts may be the right choice for your child... and your family.

Girl Scouts gives children the opportunity to learn new things while earning badges, having big adventures, and making new friends. Adults are encouraged to get involved with Girl Scouts, too. Volunteering allows caregivers to learn, grown, and be a role model.

Girl Scouts is for every child.

Cost is never a barrier here.

Financial aid is available and it is easy to apply.

Adult volunteers are needed to take on various roles to assist troops in making a difference.

How does it work?

Groups of Girl Scouts, called troops, typically meet (as often as) bi-weekly for an hour or two. Together with adult volunteers—often parents or caregivers—girls select exciting hands-on activities and projects, try new things, and cheer each other on. Together, they earn badges to reflect their successes and show the world what they're made of.

What's the goal?

Girl Scouts aims to create a more fair, equal, and compassionate world where every girl has a seat at the table and can make her dreams come true.
