

	Cinch	Good Option	Good Option	Reach
Sources Utilized
Name of College
Location
Distance from Home
Undergraduate enrollment
Graduate enrollment
Total enrollment
Public or Private
What is the campus size? (square miles)
What is the setting? (Urban, rural, suburban)
Religious Affiliation
Tuition Cost

College Comparison Research

Complete the chart for at least four colleges. You should verify your information at a minimum of two sources unless your source is the university itself.

Cinch: Cinch schools are ones for which you readily meet the requirements.

Good Option: Good option schools are those that are a good fit and offer the programs you want.

Reach: A reach school is one that is a stretch for you in some way (academic, monetarily, etc)

This is a good way to organize notes about college visits as well. Have conversations about which items are most and least important.