Business Fraud, Property, & Employment Law
Grades 10, 11, & 12

Prerequisites: None

COURSE DESCRIPTION

A semester-long course that will broaden students' business law education with a focus on fraud, sales, and employment law as they pertain to business. This course will examine ethical dilemmas, fair business practices, and the ramifications to individuals and corporations who do not adhere to employment, sales, and property laws. Students will take a deeper dive into employee rights, unions, bargaining agreements and other employment law topics. They will discover the global impact business laws have. Students will enhance their leadership skills as they examine laws pertaining to entrepreneurs, ownership and risk, and sales contracts.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Through this course, students will focus on how businesses must abide by laws regarding sales. Students will examine how failure to adhere to sales law affects business, consumers and the economy. Students will be examining the duties employees and employers have to one another, the most common type of employment contracts, and protected classes. Students will connect their other courses of study to the real-world applications in the business world.
