Attendance / Make-up Work / Late Work Policy

- Your presence in class matters.
- If you are Absent or Tardy, make up time is from 7:15 - 7:40 or during the students' lunch.
- Associates who are absent are required to work with their scene partners to recover missed information.
- Associates that attend class and are constantly on a cell phone, socializing and not working will not be able to make up that time.
- Memorization- and Line Test will not be accepted late.

- Research projects and classwork will be accepted up to 1 week late with 10 points deducted each day.
- “Heads up”
 - Anytime Miss Hall needs to get the class’ attention she will call: “Heads up!” To this the students will reply, “Thank you.” This is a common practice used in working theaters, and will be used frequently in the classroom.
- Attendance During Projection
 - This class intends to emulate a professional production atmosphere. Much like in a job, students will need to provide notice ahead of time to the stage manager or director if they will not be in rehearsal.
 - No Call/No Show will result in a conference and warning with actor
 - No Call/No Show will result in a conference and parent contract
 - No Call / No Shows will result in removal from the show
- Students may contact the director or stage manager by phone or email to communicate an absence. No Call / No Shows will also bear a negative effect on a student’s weekly participation grade.
