

Calondreia Taylor is an educator specializing in ballet, jazz, modern, and contemporary performance and dance education. Proud graduate of Clayton State University in the area of Performing Arts, Dance and Theatre. She is a teacher with 20 years of experience in both the public and private sector teaching dance since 2003 all over Atlanta. Calondreia lives in Locust Grove and is a wife, mother of four, and Nana of Nasir, Kalani and Nyree. The biggest expectation she wants students to have is a well-rounded educational journey in dance performance and theory. As a previous studio owner expect to be introduced to the many college and career opportunities that are attached to the dance profession.
