KLEIN OAK INTRODUCTION

Klein Oak High School is a technology and culture-rich model PLC school accredited by both the Texas Education Agency and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, serving students grades 9-12.

Klein Oak opened its doors in 1982, serving the northern communities of the district. Architectural changes, additions, and recent state-of-the-art renovations have all changed the footprint of the school to accommodate a thriving area.

We offer clubs and organizations, competitive athletic programs, and award-winning Fine Arts programs in support of our student's varied abilities and passions. Our robust Career and Technology Education (CTE) programs include industry-based certifications and competitions, making way for early college and career opportunities.

Panthers are saying...

Klein ISD has been my second home since third grade. The amazing and encouraging teachers I have met and the many kind-hearted faces I have seen is why I've always felt welcomed and eager to learn. They are the reason why I have pushed myself to work hard all the way up to graduation. Thank you Klein ISD for always being on my side and making sure I'm safe and that I have a bright future ahead of me!

STUDENT

Klein Oak is a great place to teach and to bring your kids. All three of my children have been very successful going through Klein Oak. The rigor of the higher-level classes prepared my oldest daughter to be successful at Texas A&M. My children, who are seniors, have been successful on their AP tests. The staff is accommodating and willing to help every student maximize their potential.
