

Special Transportation

Examples of students who may be eligible for Special Education Transportation include:

- Students with Profound Disabilities: This category may include students with severe cognitive, physical, or multiple disabilities that significantly impact their ability to participate in regular school activities.
- Pupils with Orthopedic Disabilities Using Wheelchairs or Requiring Lifts: Students with mobility challenges, such as those who use wheelchairs or require assistance with lifts, may be eligible for special transportation services to ensure safe and comfortable transportation to and from school.
- Students Enrolled in a Special Day Program at a Different School: Some students may be placed in Special Day Programs that cater to their specific needs, even if it is not located at their resident school. In such cases, transportation arrangements may be made to facilitate their attendance at the specialized program.

The goal of Special Education Transportation is to ensure that students with exceptional needs have access to educational opportunities while addressing their unique transportation requirements. This specialized service aims to support their inclusion in the educational system and enhance their overall learning experience.

If you have questions about your child's transportation needs please contact your child's case manager.

The need for special transportation should be reviewed at each yearly IEP meeting, or more frequently if needed.

Ready to learn.
Ready for life.
