“The best memories of our life can never be captured by pictures, they are always captured by the heart”

Anonymous

Homecoming is an opportunity to reconnect with friends and revisit familiar places. We welcome you back to Carolina Day this year to revisit our beautiful campus home in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

These mountains offer adventure and tranquility. Each ridge, trail, and river reflects our shared history, keeping our past vibrant and present. The highlands and pines symbolize the connection we share as a community.

While photos may not fully convey the grandeur of the area, the familiar views and trails provide a strong sense of connection and belonging. And while we may not capture every moment on camera, the memories we create will have a lasting impact as we continue to build the future for Carolina Day School.

WELCOME HOME
