

SCHEDULE A – Long Form Notice

Were you enrolled at Vancouver College (1976 – 2013) or St. Thomas More Collegiate (1976 – 1989) and experienced physical, psychological, or sexual abuse by a current or former member of the Christian Brothers?

THIS NOTICE MAY AFFECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

You might be a member of a class action which could affect your legal rights.

A class action is a lawsuit filed by one person (the representative plaintiff) on behalf of a large group (or class) of people. A class action allows the court to resolve issues that are common to every class member.

This notice explains:

- the lawsuit that was certified as a class action;
- who is included in the lawsuit;
- the legal rights and options of those included in the lawsuit; and
- the deadline to exercise these legal rights and options.

WHAT IS THIS CLASS ACTION ABOUT?

This class action lawsuit was filed in February 2021. It alleges that students at Vancouver College and St. Thomas More Collegiate experienced physical, sexual and psychological abuse. The defendants are:

- teachers alleged to have abused students: Edward English, Joseph Burke, Douglas Kenny and Kevin Short; and
- corporations and others alleged to have failed to properly protect students from abuse: Vancouver College Limited; St. Thomas More Collegiate Ltd.; Gerard Gabriel McHugh; The Roman Catholic Episcopal Corporation of St. John's; and the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Vancouver.

The class action seeks financial compensation for former students of Vancouver College and St. Thomas Collegiate who suffered abuse due to this alleged wrongdoing.

The allegations have not yet been proven in court.

WHO IS IN THE CLASS?

You are a member of the "Class" (and affected by this class action) if:

1. you were enrolled at:

- Vancouver College between 1976 and 2013; or
 - St. Thomas More Collegiate between 1976 and 1989; and
2. you claim that you were physically, psychologically or sexually abused by a current or former member of the Christian Brothers.

If you are not sure if you are in the Class, call Class Counsel (the law firm of CFM Lawyers) toll free at 1-800-689-2322.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

The class action was certified by the British Columbia Supreme Court on March 8, 2023. The Court decided what factual and legal issues can be resolved in common for all class members in a single lawsuit, appointed Darren Liptrot as the representative plaintiff for the class, and appointed the law firm that brought the case (CFM Lawyers) as counsel for the whole class.

The parties have exchanged documents and the questioning of the defendants under oath is underway.

A trial of the common issues will commence October 14, 2025.

At the common issues trial, the Court will decide whether and what findings may be made on the common issues specified in the order certifying this proceeding as a class action. If judgment is granted against any of the defendants in respect of those common issues, the Court will then decide what procedures are required to determine individual claims.

ACTION IS REQUIRED IF YOU DO NOT WANT TO BE PART OF THE CLASS ACTION

If you are a member of the "Class" and you do not want to be part of this lawsuit, you must:

Fill out an Opt Out Form at www.christianbrothersclassaction.ca, and attached to this form (except for newspaper notice) and mail the Opt Out Form postmarked by November 28, 2024 to Class Counsel at Attn Laura Jones or Andrew Johnson, CFM Lawyers LLP, Suite 400 – 856 Homer Street, Vancouver, BC V6B 2W5 or by email to christianbrothersclassaction@cfmlawyers.ca.

The lawyers for the class, and the defendants Vancouver College, St. Thomas More and the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Vancouver, and their legal counsel and insurers, will receive your Opt Out Form on a confidential basis and will not share it with any other person (unless required to by law). Class Counsel will file a sealed envelope with the Court containing a copy of all of the Opt Out forms received that cannot be accessed by the public.

If you opt out of the class action:

- You will not be able to benefit from any of the investigations conducted by Class Counsel into the events that took place, including evidence obtained through document discovery and the questioning of the defendants.

- You will not receive any financial compensation from the class action if it is successful.
- You cannot participate in the class action as it proceeds.
- You may bring an individual action against the Defendants.
- You will not be bound by the Court's findings on the common issues in the class action, whether those findings hurt or help your individual case.
- You will not be able to participate in any alternative dispute resolution program should one be reached and approved by the Court.

If you remain part of the class action:

- You may receive financial compensation if the class action is successful.
- You can participate in the class action as it proceeds.
- You will be bound by the Court's findings on the common issues for all class members.
- You will be able to participate in any trauma informed alternative dispute resolution program that the parties agree and that is approved by the Court.

NO ACTION IS REQUIRED TO REMAIN PART OF THE CLASS ACTION

You do not need to do anything to remain part of the class action. However, you may wish to speak with Class Counsel so they can answer any questions you have. You can also sign up to receive updates about the progress of the class action at www.cfmlawyers.ca.

If you have any documents or information about the abuse you suffered, keep those documents in a safe place. You should also keep all receipts or other records of expenses related to the abuse, such as money you paid for counselling, prescription medications, or other such expenses.

WHO ARE THE LAWYERS AND HOW ARE THEY PAID?

The lawyers who brought the case for the class members ("Class Counsel") are:

Camp Fiorante Matthews Mogerman LLP (CFM Lawyers)

Telephone: 1-800-689-2322 or 604-689-7555

Email: info@cfmlawyers.ca

Mail: Suite 400, 856 Homer Street, Vancouver, BC V6B 2W5

Class Counsel are the lawyers for every member of the class. Anything you share with them is protected by solicitor-client privilege.

At the start of the case, an agreement was made between the representative plaintiff and Class Counsel about legal fees and expenses of running the lawsuit. Some key features are:

- You do not have to pay upfront for lawyers' fees or the costs of the lawsuit.
- The lawyers only get paid if the case is successful. If money is recovered from the defendants (e.g. through a court-approved settlement, or a judgment from the Court) the lawyers will receive a percentage of that amount, plus taxes and disbursements. Lawyers' fees must be reviewed and approved by the Court and are then deducted from money recovered from the defendants before it is distributed to class members.
- If the class action is not successful, the lawyers will not be paid and they will not be reimbursed for the costs of bringing the lawsuit.

The Court must review and approve any legal fees before they can be paid to Class Counsel.
