Transportation Complaint and Compliance System

With back-to-school just around the corner, yellow school buses will begin taking students to and from school. The Department of Education and Workforce updated its complaint and compliance system. Additional information and access to the compliant form is available here.

Community schools are urged to be in regular communication with districts transporting their students, making sure that families are requesting transportation in a timely manner.

Back-to-school is also the time when families may receive declarations of impracticality. Determinations of impracticality are student specific. Districts must consider six factors and provide a detailed explanation to parents regarding how the decision was made. Parents may request mediation and decline the payment in lieu of transporting

Inventory

As schools prepare for the return of students, it is also a great time to complete an inventory of items that were purchased with federal funds. Schools that accept federal funds must conduct a physical inventory of items at least once every two years. Please take a moment to ensure that your school is compliant and that you have records to show the date of the last physical inventory. Items that have a per until value of $5000 or more and were purchased with federal funds must be listed on the inventory. Also, any items that are easily pilfered must also be put on the inventory (example: iPads). There are several required categories for the column headers on inventory sheets. Click on the link for an example of an inventory sheet that contains all the federally required components (Example 1 Inventory.xlsx).

One Plans

Cohort 1 schools should be receiving notification if their One Plans have been agency approved. We have been told that this year any school (Cohorts 1-3) that does not have an approved One Plan will not receive final approval of their federal grant applications. Some Cohort 2 and 3 schools had their One Plans returned last year but have not corrected them and sent back to DEW for approval. Please take a moment to check on the status of your One Plan and ensure that it has been agency approved. Note: Schools that opened this year will complete the New Community Schools Checklist. This checklist is being updated and should be available by mid-August from DEW. Schools that were newly opened last year will review their progress and contact their Office of Federal Programs specialist or consultant. consultant.

Please make sure that your staff receive a copy of your One Plan. The One Plan is now the plan that has the school improvement goals. It is important that staff understand the evidence-based strategies that are being used at the school. These evidence-based strategies are incorporated into the One Plan. School staff should be able to articulate the goals and strategies of the plan. To paraphrase a quote from Brian Tracy's book, "Maximum Achievement: Strategies and Skills that Will Unlock Your Hidden Powers to Succeed," to meet a target or goal, you must be able to see the goal.

Moving to a Schoolwide Title I Program

If your school was operating under a Title I targeted assistance program, please consider moving to a schoolwide Title I program. The main advantage of a schoolwide Title I program is that the funds can be used to benefit all the students and not just the students receiving Title I services. A schoolwide Title I program allows the school to create a robust program and can become an integral part of the school's Multi-Tiered System of Supports. Schools wanting to move to a schoolwide program should enter a History Log note in the CCIP stating the intention to move to a schoolwide program. The school also needs to form a committee of stakeholders that will meet during this year and create a plan for the schoolwide program.

If you have any questions about federal programs, or need technical assistance with revising your school's One Plan, please contact Nannette Sherman at nsherman@charterschoolspec.com.
