

Being Episcopalian

Being an Episcopal School means many things, but, at its heart, being an Episcopal school means that we live in and are surrounded by the love of God. God's big, expansive, love seeps into everything that we do. It is the lens that helps us to embrace the uniqueness of every child, and the framework that we use as we serve the community around us.

