Statement from Tuloso-Midway ISD Regarding Electioneering

Tuloso-Midway Independent School District ("TMISD") does not take a position on any election and does not endorse or oppose any political candidate, ballot measure, or party.

State law prohibits the use of public funds for electioneering and political advertising. TMISD maintains this neutrality to ensure fairness and equality within the educational system and to fulfill our mission of educating every student to be a lifelong learner, a person of integrity, and a positive contributor to society.

Please note that individual employees and Board of Trustee members have the right, as private citizens, to participate in political activities on their own personal time and without using school district resources. However, any views or endorsements expressed by these individuals do not represent the views of TMISD as a whole.
