Special Education Example

Compliance Document Required	Who Creates the Document	Who Receives the Document	Who Collects The Data
Goals and Objectives	The case manager (sped teacher) drafts the goals and objectives and presents in the ARD meeting for consideration. After agreement, the goals and objectives become part of the IEP document.	The Diagnostician/ARD Specialist or Speech Language Pathologist sends this document, as part of the teacher bundle, to all teachers working with the student after the ARD meeting.	Data can be collected by the paraprofessional, general education teacher and/or the special education teacher . Data is collected at least two times a week to ensure the student's goals and objectives are appropriate and progress is being made. This data is entered into Review 360 (a program that sped uses to collect, store and share student data). The case manager (sped teacher) is required to report progress to the parents each nine weeks.
