REVIEWS

Quentin Jacobsen is a sweet, nerdy teenager who is convinced that Margo Roth Spiegelman is a miracle; but in reality she is a lost soul. When Margo runs away, Quentin and his friends embark on a journey to find her by using the clues she has left for them. This book turned into an adventure between friends who embark on their last adventure before they go off to college. Paper Towns is a book full of unexpected plot twists, going out on a limb, doing something out of your comfort zone, but most of all, it's a book about true friendship.

BULLYING

Bullying is a common occurrence in most schools. According to the American Psychological Association, "40% to 80% of school age children experience bullying at some point in their school careers."

What Types of Bullying Are There?

There are many types of bullying such as physical, emotional, verbal, cyber, pack, and bystanders.

Roles Kids Play

There are some roles in bullying that take place like the bully, victim, bystander, up stander, kids who assist, kids who reinforce, and kids who defend.

Cyberbullying

Cyberbullying is bullying that takes place using electronic technology. Electronic technology includes devices and equipment such as cell phones, computers, and tablets as well as communication tools including social media sites, text messages, chat, and websites.

What to do if you're bullied

If you are getting bullied, the best thing to do is to tell an adult. You can ignore it, but it may get worse. Another thing you can do is to use HAHASO.

HAHASO

Help- Ask students, teachers, and parents for help.

Assert yourself - When someone picks on you, you can stand up for yourself.

Humor - You can try to find a funny way to deal with the bully.

Avoid - Stay away from kids who are mean.

Self-talk - When someone is mean to you say to yourself, "I'm okay. This is their problem. I know that bullying is wrong."

Own it - Deflect a put down by owning it.

Therefore, Bullying is something we all don't want to happen to ourselves.

WHAT'S TRENDING?

The 2015-2016 school year is just beginning and Remsen has many new faces roaming the halls. There are 14 new students in the high school including our new foreign exchange student from Germany. In grades K-12 there are approximately 33 new students enrolled at Remsen Central School. As the class sizes grow here at Remsen CSD, we are going in the right direction. More students enrolling at our school will lead to great new ideas and a more diverse student body as a whole.

BARN FOTA

During Barn Fest weekend Main Street was buzzing with anticipation for the following days to come. Leaves on the trees had started to change colors; they were painted beautiful shades of green, yellow, orange and red. People near and far came to small, quaint Remsen to showcase their unique products. From pickles on a stick, to quilts and creative wooden signs - Barn Fest had something for everyone. Sweet smells of kettle corn, maple syrup and delicious foods filled the air. Fallen leaves crunched under your footsteps, musicians played their instruments and sang beautiful songs in the road and sidewalks. This fall, if you're looking for something fun to do, take a walk through Remsen's six acre corn maze. These little things make the experience of Barn Fest and fall in Remsen even more perfect.

MEET THE NEW TEACHERS

MR. MALOWSKI - BAND AND CHORUS

Written by Julia Roos

Joining us this year is the eccentric Mr. Malowski! His course load includes 7-12 students in band, chorus and a new class this year called Sound Science which is the objective study of sonic and aural properties. Most of the material he assigns in Sound Science is online so students can complete their assignments anywhere! When Mr. Malowski isn't in school, he's usually recording pop-punk music on his computer. He's been active in music ever since he was in college where he used to write and produce rap beats for students at SUNY Fredonia and the University of Buffalo.

Back when he was in high school he loved computer journalism. In this high school however, he loves the students. Everytime I walk in his room there's always someone trying a new instrument from the flute to the trombone. Mr. Malowski is often in "beast mode" raring to go and full of new ideas. He is a wonderful addition to our already amazing staff of teachers, good luck and welcome Mr. Malowski!

MRS. SMITH - BUSINESS

Mrs. Smith is new to our school this year as a business and technology teacher. In her classes she teaches skills such as programing software and personal financing. Mrs. Smith has been a part of the Remsen community even before she joined our school. As a big Erin Hamlin supporter, she has been to many luge races and FOUR winter olympics. Along with luge she loves Syracuse University Football, Go Orange!

When she's not teaching her students how to properly budget their money, she enjoys skiing at McCauley Mountain during the winter months and boating during the summer. She loves being with her family as well as her two cats, chihuahua, and occasionally her son's sugar gliders come for a visit when he's away. Mrs. Smith loves how welcoming our school has been to her and how wonderful the students are. Welcome to the Remsen family Mrs. Smith!

MR. O'BRYAN - SCIENCE

There's a new face in the science wing, Mr. O'Bryan. His classes include 7th grade Life Science, Chemistry, and AP Biology. In the past he also taught a forensic science class sparking the interest of many CSI lovers we have here at RCS. Just like us, Mr. O'Bryan is still in school; he's working towards getting his doctorate degree. Not only does he love watching his students learn but he also enjoys watching his two children at home learn. He loves spending time with his family and bringing his kids back and forth to all the different activities (something many of our parents can surely relate to). In his free time, he likes relaxing and reading... and then occasionally running a 15 mile, high endurance, Spartan race.

He also, at one point in time, was able to benchpress more than double his own body weight. Just casual, normal, everyday things, nothing crazy (not)! During some of these races he has to carry rocks up mountains, crawl under barbed wire and climb up ropes. Again, nothing insane about that at all....When he isn't running up hills with rocks on his back, he likes to watch sports, mainly hockey and football. In professional sports he likes the Pittsburgh Penguins and the Oakland Raiders, but will always cheer for his alma mater, the Wisconsin Badgers! I'm sure soon enough, he'll also be adding the Remsen Rams sports teams to his list of favorites. Welcome Mr. O'Bryan!

SOCCER FIELD GETS NEW SIGN

The modified soccer field saw an improvement this season with the addition of a new score board. The score board was made and donated by the Richard Lehman family. Grandfather and father to 9th grade student Joline and 7th grade student Danny Lehman.
