Statement from the Boone County Health Department Perry-Worth Elementary School

The Boone County Health Department has been made aware of recent concerns regarding the air quality within one of the schools in the Lebanon Community School Corporation. The health department has been in close contact with Lebanon Community Schools and wants to assure the community the concerns have been investigated and addressed. The school administration has promptly responded to concerns, implementing correct protocols, and engaging in proactive measures to guarantee the well-being of students, staff, and visitors.
