DCS P2 Character Trait
for the Week:

Other People Mindset

THE POSITIVITY PROJECT

Other People Mindset

When you are present and give your attention to others, you are able to build strong relationships. Relationships are the cornerstone of health, happiness, and resilience. You can't build positive relationships without attention, so it is important to put down distractions and truly listen to people when they are talking.

Each week we will be incorporating different character traits into our daily lessons here at school.
