A note from the principal:

Greetings,

With the conclusion of our first full week of school, I am happy to report that we have had a great start. I have had the opportunity to see your kids in a variety of settings and they have lived up to our expectations in grand fashion. I cannot wait to see all of the fantastic ways that our Bulldogs will succeed this year.

Warmest Regards,
David Coker

MAP TESTING

Priority 1 - Student Excellence

The ultimate measure of any school is how well they can grow the students in their care. In order to do that, it is critical that we know what our students know and what they struggle with. The purpose of the assessments that our students will be taking this week is to give us valuable data that can help us to design an educational program that best suits their needs. Students this week will taking their tests in class, and there will not be an altered schedule. With the data that students give us on these exams, we can identify specific target areas and address gaps in knowledge.

MAP testing is designed to give us a beginning, middle, and end of year assessment of our students knowledge and skills. The information we obtain is only valuable if our students take their time and do their best. We ask that you help us to emphasize how important it is for all of our students to relax and answer all questions to the best of their ability.

DEAR:

Drop Everything And Read

Every Wednesday, from 9:33 AM to 10:03 AM, our entire campus will stop what we are doing, and read! Providing students with a consistent time to read accomplishes many goals that we have. I believe that one of the most important things we can do for our kids is to help them find their joy in reading. We ask our kids to bring something that they find interesting to read on Wednesday, but we will also have options for them if they do not have something. It is my belief that every person loves to read, once they find what it is that they love to read! I also believe that it is helpful to model this, and my hope is that as they watch their teachers enjoying DEAR time, they will be encouraged to enjoy it themselves. They may even, from time to time, have their principal drop in and read with (or to) them.
