

The school district follows a structured process to ensure timely and accurate communication about school safety-related situations. These situations include emergency drills, potential threats, or real-time incidents that could affect students and staff. The district is committed to maintaining a safe learning environment, and communication plays a vital role in this effort.

Potential Threats:

In situations where there is a potential threat to school safety (e.g., rumors of violence, social media warnings), the district will communicate with families when they become aware of the situation and process the information related to the situation. These communications explain the nature of the threat, any actions the school or law enforcement is taking to investigate, and any precautionary steps that may be in place. Transparency is prioritized, though details may be withheld for legal and/or safety reasons.

Emergency Situations:

In the case of an actual emergency or safety-related incident occurring at or near the school (e.g., an evacuation, lockdown, or dangerous weather event), the district will send out alerts through Parentsquare. These alerts are designed to reach families quickly and may be delivered via Parentsquare through multiple channels such as email, text, phone calls, or the school district's website and social media accounts. These messages will provide real-time updates, including instructions for parents on how to proceed given the situation.

Post-Incident Follow-up:

After a safety-related event has been resolved, the district typically sends a follow-up communication to inform parents of the outcome. This message reassures families that the situation is under control, provides any necessary follow-up instructions, and explains any further steps the school may take to ensure student safety in the future.

The district is committed to maintaining open lines of communication and ensuring that families receive information in a timely and accurate manner. Your patience and understanding during these times is important and greatly appreciated.
