COURSE DESCRIPTION: Sports and Literature

Description of course:

During the duration of a full year, this multi-media course, with the focus on literature and sports journalism, will introduce the history and importance of sports in our society. The students will be introduced to important figures, trends, significant events, developments, and controversies in sports through literature and non-fiction, as well as print and visual media. Sports Literature will consist of an examination of sports from several perspectives through interaction with literature including the following: essayists, sports columnists, the media, novelists, athletes, television and movie directors, and documentarians. Specifically, the class will focus on individual units that analyze the role of the “star” athlete, the “story” behind the athlete, the correlation between moments in sports and society’s history, the pressures placed on athletes within their communities, the role of the fan in today’s sports world, the rise of extreme sports, and the impact of gambling on society. Ultimately, students will examine and understand the relationship between sports and society and how this is reflected through literature and sports journalism.

Writing Unit 1: Argumentative Writing (Literary Analysis) Unit Description/Overview In this unit, students are introduced to lenses and literary theory as they read short stories and poetry. Students begin the unit by visualizing the texts that they read. Then, students consider the elements of story and how the structure of narratives impact the reader’s understanding of their meanings. After that, students read poetry and look at how the structure and style of poems shape their interpretations. Throughout this unit, students read sample close readings and sample student responses and essays. At the end of the unit, students will compose a literary analysis essay using the lenses and/or literary theory to argue about a text’s (or multiple texts’) meaning. Approximate time frame: 4-6 weeks
Essential Questions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• How do we perform literary analysis?</li> <li>• How can we explicate texts?</li> <li>• How do we use lenses to derive meaning from a text?</li> <li>• How can we understand poetry?</li> </ul>
Student Learning Objectives	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Explicate texts</li> <li>• View texts through different lenses to determine the texts’ meanings</li> <li>• Craft arguable theses</li> <li>• Discover patterns and themes within a text</li> <li>• Find evidence to support their interpretations of the text</li> </ul>
Standards	W.AW.11–12.1. Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

	A. Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence. B. Develop claim(s) and counterclaims avoiding common logical fallacies and using sound reasoning and thoroughly, supplying the most relevant evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience’s knowledge level, concerns, values, and possible biases. C. Use transitions (e.g., words, phrases, clauses) to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims. D. Establish and maintain a style and tone appropriate to the audience and purpose (e.g., formal and objective for academic writing) while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing. E. Provide a concluding paragraph or section that supports the argument presented (e.g., articulating implications or the significance of the topic). W.WP.11–12.4. Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, trying a new approach; sustaining effort to complete complex writing tasks; tracking and reflecting on personal writing progress (e.g., using portfolios, journals, conferencing); or consulting a style manual (such as MLA or APA Style), focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience. W.WR.11–12.5. ## Writing Unit 2: Narrative Writing

Unit Description/Overview

In this unit, students are introduced to narrative techniques. Students begin the unit by reading, analyzing, and critiquing mentor texts. Then, students consider one topic of personal interest to write about. After that, students will use their own experience to drive their stylistic choices in their reflective writing. At the end of the unit, students will develop an essay about an artifact of relevance. They will retrace routes and experiences, conveyed through a personal “voice” in writing through punctuation, diction, syntax, and figurative language.

Approximate time frame: 4-6 weeks

Essential Questions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● How can a writer tailor their purpose to an audience when drafting a piece of writing?</li> <li>● How can a writer create voice, both personally and in the characters they write about, through figurative language and other stylistic techniques?</li> <li>● How can one use personal narrative to convey their identity and convictions?</li> </ul>

Writing Unit 3: Expository Writing
Unit Description/Overview

In this unit, students will create a research study by drawing relevant thematic connections between multiple perspectives. Students will compose a research question, conduct research, and analyze, evaluate, and select evidence to develop an argument. Students will consider objections, implications, and limitations. The research study should aim to fill a gap in the research and offer topics for further investigation. Sources will be cited using MLA or APA formatting.

Approximate time frame:

Write informative/explanatory texts (including the narration of historical events, scientific procedures/ experiments, or technical processes) to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content. A. Introduce a topic; organize complex ideas, concepts, and information so that each new element builds on that which precedes it to create a unified whole; include formatting (e.g., headings), graphics (e.g., figures, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension. B. Develop the topic thoroughly by selecting the most significant and relevant facts, extended definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples appropriate to the audience’s knowledge of the topic.

	C. Use appropriate and varied transitions and syntax to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships among complex ideas and concepts. D. Use precise language, domain-specific vocabulary, and techniques such as metaphor, simile, and analogy to manage the complexity of the topic. E. Establish and maintain a style and tone appropriate to the audience and purpose (e.g., formal and objective for academic writing) while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing. F. Provide a concluding paragraph or section that supports the argument presented (e.g., articulating implications or the significance of the topic). W.WP.11–12.4. Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, trying a new approach; sustaining effort to complete complex writing tasks; tracking and reflecting on personal writing progress (e.g., using portfolios, journals, conferencing); or consulting a style manual (such as MLA or APA Style), focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience. W.WR.11–12.5. Conduct short as well as more sustained research projects to answer a question (including a self-generated question) or solve a problem; narrow or broaden the inquiry when appropriate; synthesize multiple sources on the subject, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation. 🌱 W.SE.11–12.6. Gather relevant information from multiple authoritative print and digital sources, using advanced searches effectively; assess the strengths and limitations of each source in terms of the task, purpose, and audience; integrate information into the text selectively to maintain the flow of ideas, avoiding plagiarism and overreliance on any one source and following a standard format for citation (MLA or APA Style Manuals).
