John Burroughs High School students, parents, teachers and support staff, this week is School Administrators Week. As we celebrate School Administrators Week, I want to take this opportunity to express how incredibly proud I am of the remarkable work our administration team has done. Their dedication, leadership, and unwavering commitment have truly made a positive impact on this amazing school community. Our administrators have gone above and beyond to ensure that our students receive the best education possible, and their efforts have not gone unnoticed. I am grateful for their hard work and the support they provide to both our students, teachers and support staff. Thank you for joining me in recognizing and appreciating the outstanding contributions of our school administration.

Please take a moment of your time to view this important video message and attached presentations on the importance of our More than Meals / Free/Reduced Lunch Applications and School Attendance. It is important all staff and families know how these impact funding for Burbank Unified Schools. More than Meals Video Message: Lunch Program Benefits - More than Meals

SPECTATOR GUIDELINES

Cheer Loudly, Respectfully: Remember, we are role models for younger fans. No offensive language or engaging in disrespectful chants.

Respect the Opponent: While we all want our team to succeed, it's essential to show respect to the opposing team and their fans. Both sides have talent and have worked hard.

Refrain from Taunting: Taunting the opposing team or their fans can escalate tensions and distract from the game's spirit. Let's be above booing or criticizing players, referees, or coaches.

Enjoy the Game: Lastly, remember that the primary purpose of these events is to have fun and build school spirit. Enjoy the game and camaraderie with fellow fans.

We believe in our BHS and JBHS communities' abilities to showcase sportsmanship and create an environment that our schools can be proud of. Let's come together and make this year's Homecoming game a memorable and positive experience for all. Thank you for your cooperation and continued support!

Sincerely,

Narineh Barzegar, Principal of Burbank High School and Kenny Knoop, Principal of John Burroughs High School
