Introduction

In July 1999, the Board of Regents adopted revisions to Part 100 regulations requiring school districts to provide Academic Intervention Services (AIS) to students who fall below mastery level on New York State Assessments. Academic Intervention Services are intended to supplement instructions provided by the general curriculum and to assist students in meeting the New York State Learning Standards in English, mathematics, social studies and science.

AIS must be provided to students with disabilities on the same basis as non-disabled students. Students with disabilities are determined to need such services in the same manner as students without disabilities. Accommodations or modifications indicated on a student's IEP or 504 Accommodation Plan must be provided when AIS are delivered. AIS are provided in addition to and must not replace special education services. AIS provisions are not to be recorded on any IEP or 504 because they are considered general education services.

AIS for limited English Language Learners (ELL) must be supplementary and must not replace ESL instructional program requirements. This additional support will be provided by utilizing an array of strategies designed to differentiate instruction and meet the needs of diverse learners.

The Elmsford Public School District is committed to providing students with additional instruction designed to support their academic development. The Elmsford Public Schools' approach to AIS includes the following guiding principles:

- Employ assessment strategies that identify at-risk students
- Utilize assessment strategies that monitor student progress
- Develop record-keeping systems that communicate student progress to parents
- Match instructional strategies to the needs of the students identified
- Work in conjunction with all service providers to address barriers to improve student performance
- Develop staff development initiatives that build the capacity to address the needs of diverse learners

The district takes great pride in affording all students the opportunity to reach their full potential. What follows is an overview of AIS assessments, benchmarks and services provided at both the elementary and secondary levels. Programs are reviewed annually and the AIS plan is updated and approved by the Board of Education on a biennial basis.

Eligibility and Referral for Academic Intervention Services

The Board of Regents adopted emergency regulations that afford essential flexibility for educators, students and professionals to address issues due to the COVID-19 pandemic. From March 2020 until further notice there is flexibility in AIS Identification: Schools are not required to conduct the two-step identification (see below) prescribed for identification of students in grades 3 through 8 to receive AIS for the 2020-21 school year due to the cancelation of State assessments for the 2019-20 school year due to the COVID-19 crisis.

The district identifies students to receive AIS through a two-step process. First, all students performing below the median scale score between a level 2/partially proficient and a Level 3/proficient on a grade 3-8 English language arts (ELA) and/or mathematics state assessment and/or below grade level on the iREADY Assessment shall be considered for AIS. After the district considers a student's scores on multiple measures of student performance, the district will determine whether the student is required to receive AIS.

The district uses a variety of assessments to measure student mastery of the New York State LearningStandards. They are effective tools that indicate how students are progressing toward meeting the learning standards by which they will be measured. These assessments ensure an authentic testing experience and provide Elmsford educators with comprehensive information about student performance. The results obtained from these tests are analyzed and students who fall below district established criteria are eligible for AIS. The data is analyzed to see general areas of strength and weakness in our population and then used to guide us in our programming. The student's learning environment is then organized to enable the utmost success for that child. An ongoing system of student identification for AIS is based on the results of the following:

- NYS assessments
- Standardized assessments
- Evaluations/recommendations given by Response to Intervention (RTI) Committee

The New York State assessments in grades 3-8 will have four designated performance levels:

- Level 1: the student has not met the academic standards, has serious academic concerns and needs extra help.
- Level 2: the student has not met the academic standards, has some academic concerns and needs extra help

- Level 3: the student has met the academic standards.
- Level 4: the student exceeds the standards and is moving toward high performance.

All students who score at Levels 1 and 2 will receive academic intervention services. Students scoring below a 65 on a required Regents exam are also considered candidates for academic intervention.

In addition to these New York State assessments, numerous individualized assessments are used to diagnose and remediate our at-risk students. Observations, individual conferencing, and daily work are used to learn more about how to help students reach their potential. Teachers may request that a child be given AIS services based on classroom work and observations.

Response to Intervention Teams

A student may also be referred for AIS through the Response to Intervention (RtI) Committee. RtI is a collaborative process that focuses on assisting classroom teachers in planning and implementation strategies that are designed to produce success for students experiencing some difficulties in the classroom. Response to Intervention helps practitioners identify the learning needs of students experiencing school difficulties or who are at risk of failure and to provide them with academic and/or behavior support needed to succeed in school.

The School Wide Program Overview

The purpose of a Schoolwide Title I Program is to upgrade the entire educational program in a school so that all students benefit and raise the achievement of all students. The school delivers programs and supports that are relevant to all students and individualized support for at risk students.

The Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) is an opportunity for state and local education agencies to provide a more well-rounded education for all students. ESSA promotes evidence-based strategies, such as integrated student support (ISS) or wraparound services, that address the needs of students and their communities, helping students overcome barriers to success. When implemented with quality, ISS can contribute to academic progress and can improve outcomes at the school level.

Guidance from the U.S. Department of Education (Department) identifies Title I schoolwide programs as a key tool for school improvement and an important source of funding for strategies that improve the academic achievement of all students in a school.

A Title I school with more than 40% of students living in poverty is eligible to become a Schoolwide Program. A Title I school with less than 40% of students in poverty that receives a waiver from an SEA may also be eligible. Additionally, a school receiving a School Improvement Grant (SIG) funding in a state with a waiver.

There are many benefits of being A Schoolwide Program.

- The school does not need to identify particular students as eligible for participation.
- A Title I schoolwide program might be leveraged for a more comprehensive intervention in schools designated for improvement. For example, in qualifying schools, funds from different sources may be consolidated to better coordinate supports.
- A school operating as a schoolwide program may consolidate Federal, State, and local education funds to better address the needs of the students in the school.
- Schools may use funds to support students facing nonacademic barriers to learning, often associated with poverty and/or trauma. These may include counseling, school-based mental health programs, mentoring services, and other strategies to improve students' nonacademic skills.
- A Title I schoolwide program can be used to improve additional metrics, such as school climate and chronic absenteeism, in addition to academic achievement.
- A School wide Program allows for braiding funds to supplement Title I schoolwide by leveraging other education or non-education sources, such as Temporary Assistance for Needy Families or Medicaid.
- A Schoolwide Program can fund activities that have been shown to be effective at increasing family and community engagement.

The required components of a Schoolwide Program are a comprehensive needs assessment, a comprehensive schoolwide plan, and annual evaluation and revision of the plan.

An Overview of the Instructional Support Team Process

- Students who encounter challenges in the areas of academics, behavior, social skills, and/or emotional development may be referred to the Response to Intervention Committee for additional assistance.
- Once referred, a student's needs are identified through a data collection process.
- A committee meeting is held to develop an action plan.
- The interventions are implemented and progress is monitored.
- The RtI committee reviews the program monitoring to make decisions concerning the efficacy of the interventions being provided and need for further evaluation based on the success of the action plan and the degree of need of the student.

Parent Notification

In accordance with the Commissioner's regulations, the Elmsford Union Free School District provides services to its identified students no later than the beginning of the semester following the demonstrated need. The parent(s) or the guardian will be notified that his/her child will be scheduled for AIS services. The notification will be made in writing before the services commence, and will include a summary of the services being provided to the student as well as the frequency and duration of the services. This notification will also include the name of the contact person at the school.

Parents will be kept apprised of their child's progress through progress reports and parent conferences.

Documentation and Progress

Communication between school and home is a very important part of the program. Parents of students receiving AIS shall be provided with opportunities to meet with their child's AIS Specialist during regularly scheduled parent teacher conferences or during a mutually agreed upon time. Progress reports from AIS Specialist will be provided. In addition, AIS specialists will communicate regularly with the child's classroom teachers.

AIS Program Provided at the Carl L. Dixson Primary School

The kindergarten and first grade students that score in the lowest 20% on the iReady ELA assessment receive AIS for reading and writing 3 to 5 days a week in 30 minute sessions. The children are grouped according to the skills and strategies that they need to improve. The children work with an AIS provider in a small group setting.

The hybrid model for AIS can be utilized in place of in-person individual and small group meetings when necessary. AIS teachers and other AIS support staff meet with students using the Google Meet platform two to four times a week in 15 or 20 minute sessions. Students are supported based on the identified areas of need.

AIS Program Provided at the Alice E. Grady Elementary School

Skills Lab and A2i

The hybrid model for AIS can be utilized when in-person individual and small group meetings are not possible. AIS teachers and other AIS support staff meet with students using the Google Meet platform two to four times a week in 15 to 45 minute sessions. Students are supported based on the identified areas of need.

Skills Lab in grades 4 - 6 and A2i in grades 2-3 is a daily, 50 minute period, which allows students to work in small groups to improve math and ELA skills. In addition, this period will also provide enrichment opportunities to students that are already meeting or exceeding the benchmarks.

Skills Lab and A2i will begin each school year in September. Students will be grouped according to New York State test scores, iReady scores, diagnostic assessments, and teacher recommendations. Students will work with classroom, math, special education, and reading teachers in a small group setting. The students will be progress monitored throughout the year. Teachers will meet to discuss students' progress and address student group placement. Group placement may change to better address student needs.

Use of Testing Information – Grades 7-12

1. Local assessments: Administered in all core areas to determine student growth.

2. New York State Regents Examinations:

Students in New York State must pass required Regents examinations with a score of 65 or better. Most Regents examinations are offered every January, June and August.

AIS Programs Provided in Alexander Hamilton High School
