Back to School Night

Thank you for joining us on Back to School Night to learn more about our new Academic Concentrations. If you were unable to attend, here is a copy of the presentation. This is the same presentation that students heard during their English class.

October 25: STEM Alliance Workshops in either Chemistry or Engineering for our STEM Concentration students

First week of November (date being finalized): Advocacy 101, a workshop presented by Westchester Youth Alliance and Westchester Children's Association for our Civics Concentration Students

November 15: Application Deadline (see below for more information)

Please see The Academic Concentration Enrollment Application if you are interested in applying for a concentration this year. Please email your completed application to Mrs. Fiorini (Erica.Fiorini@chufsd.org) by November 15, 2024.

Special Event:

Students considering the Humanities Concentration had the opportunity to attend a captivating performance by renowned storyteller Jonathan Kruk, who transported attendees back in time with historical tales that brought to life events and figures from our local area. Following the performance, students participated in an interactive workshop that encouraged them to explore the art of storytelling, challenging them to unearth their own stories and consider how to effectively share them with an audience.
