Leadership Tips for Student Leaders

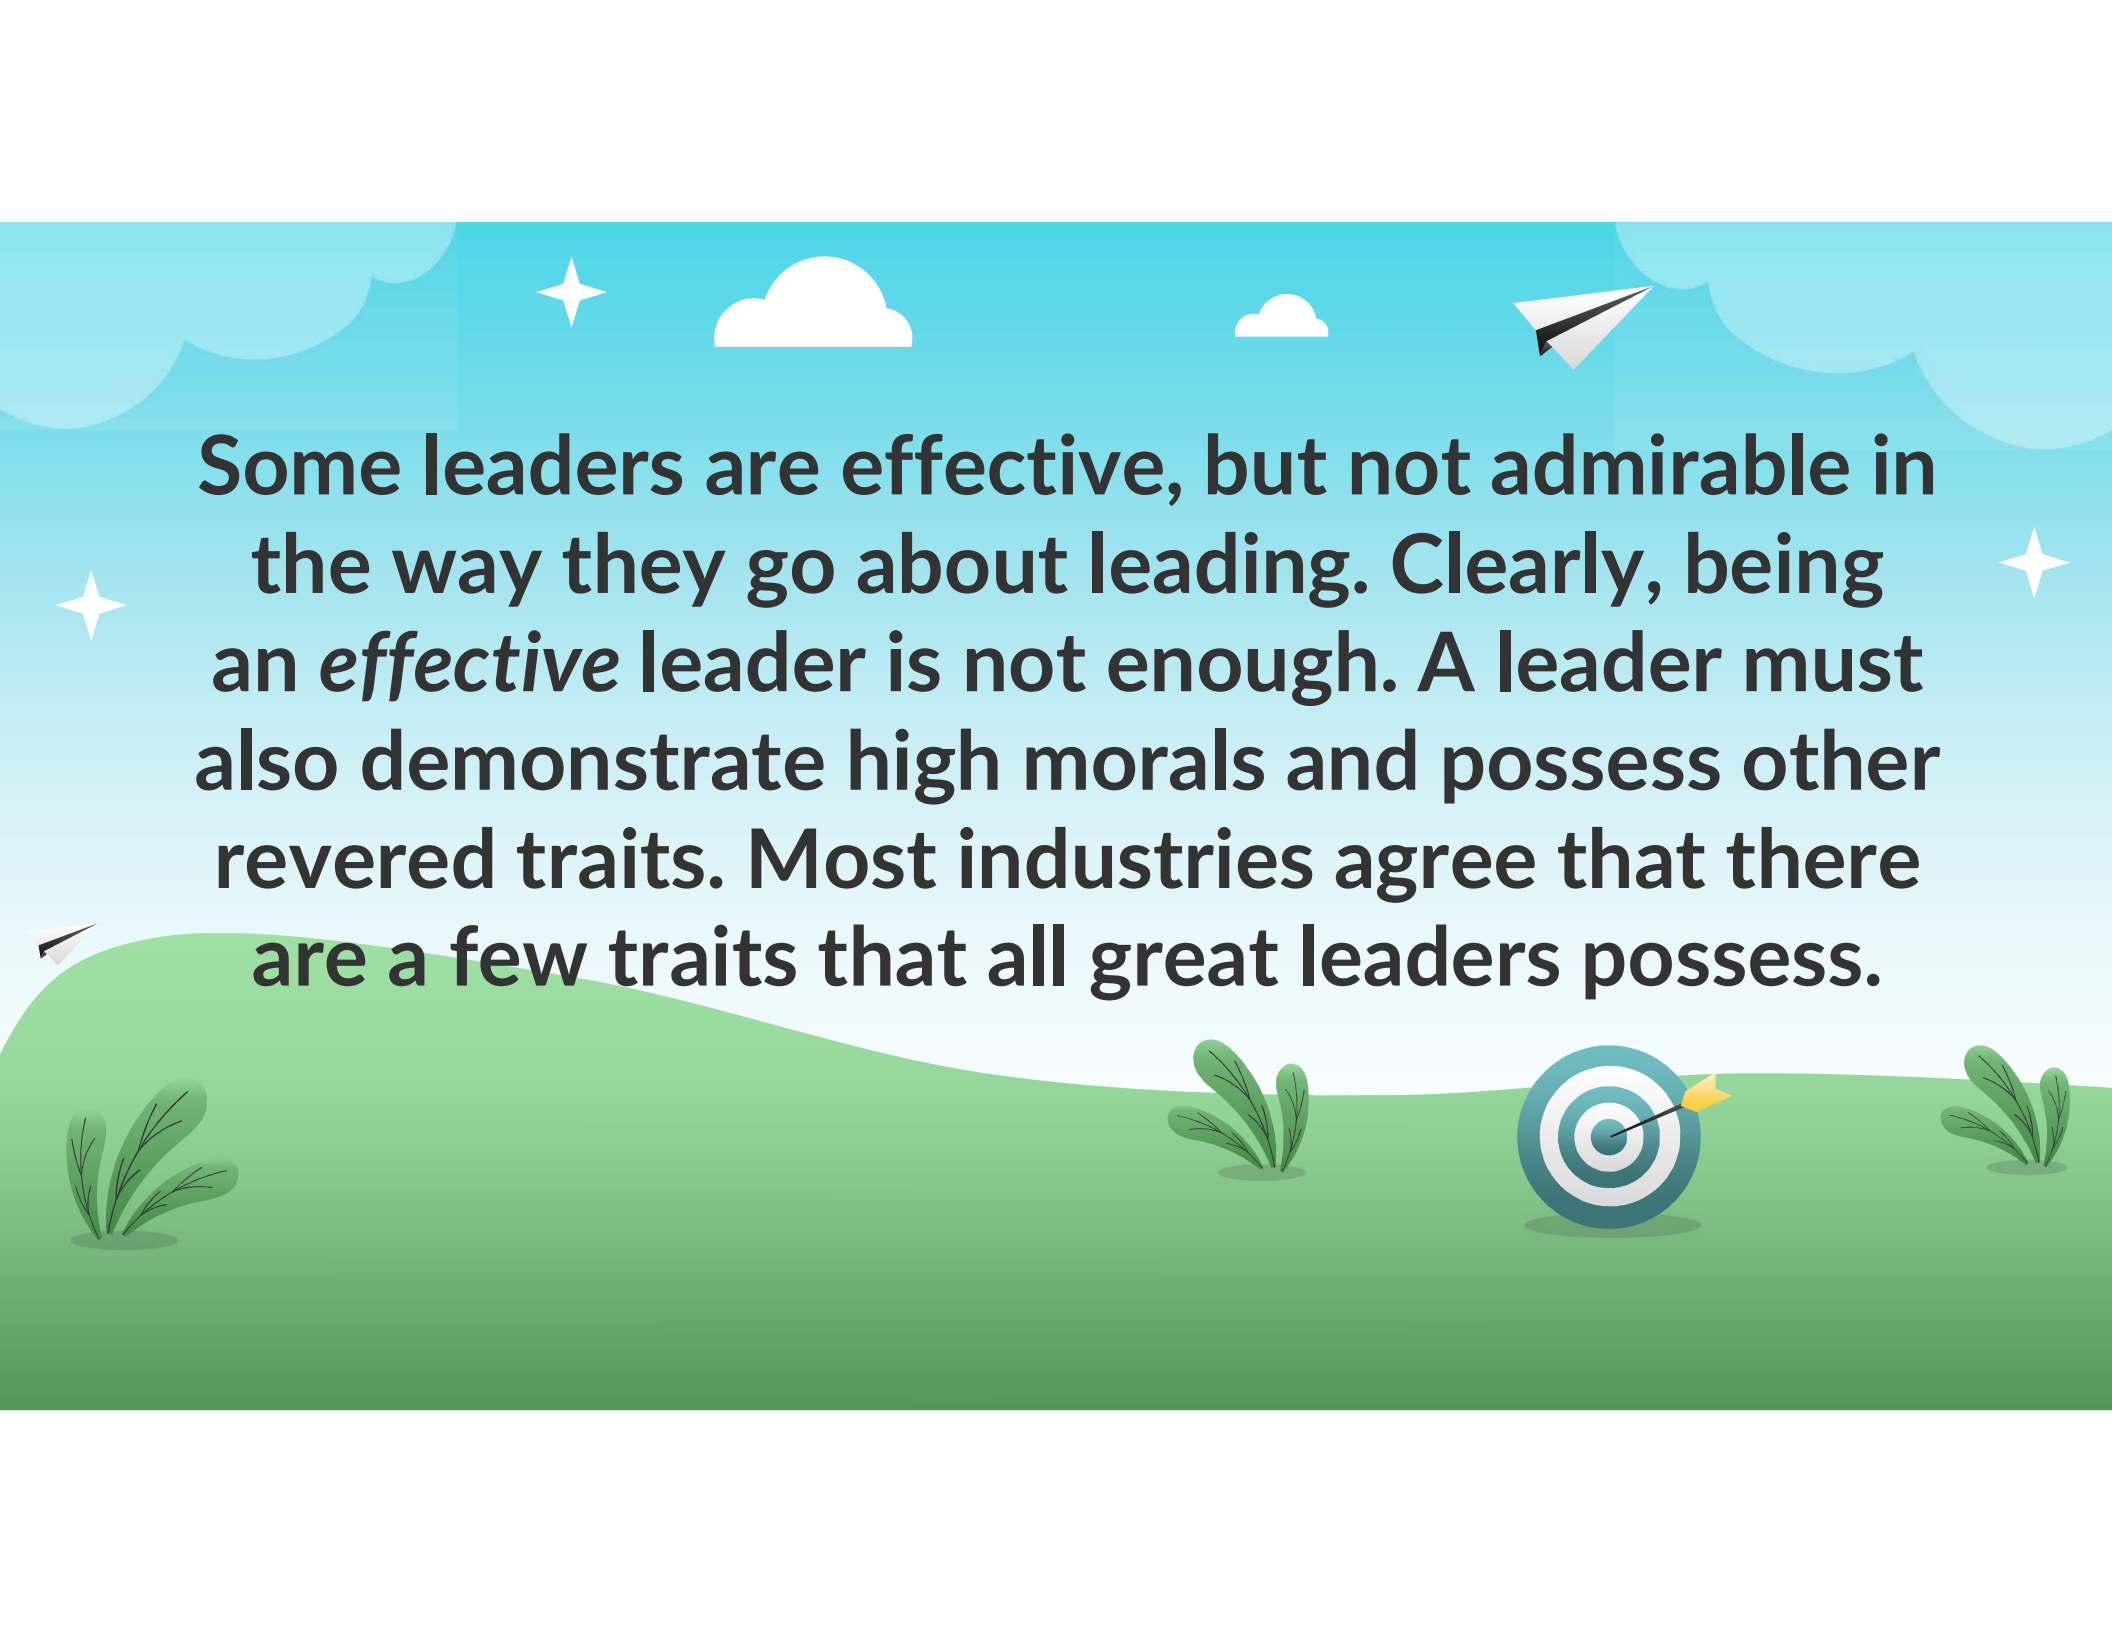

SSLC – November 15, 2023

Information taken from 10 Interesting Characteristics of a Student Leader

“In periods where there is no leadership, society stands still. Progress occurs when courageous, skillful leaders seize the opportunity to change things for the better.”

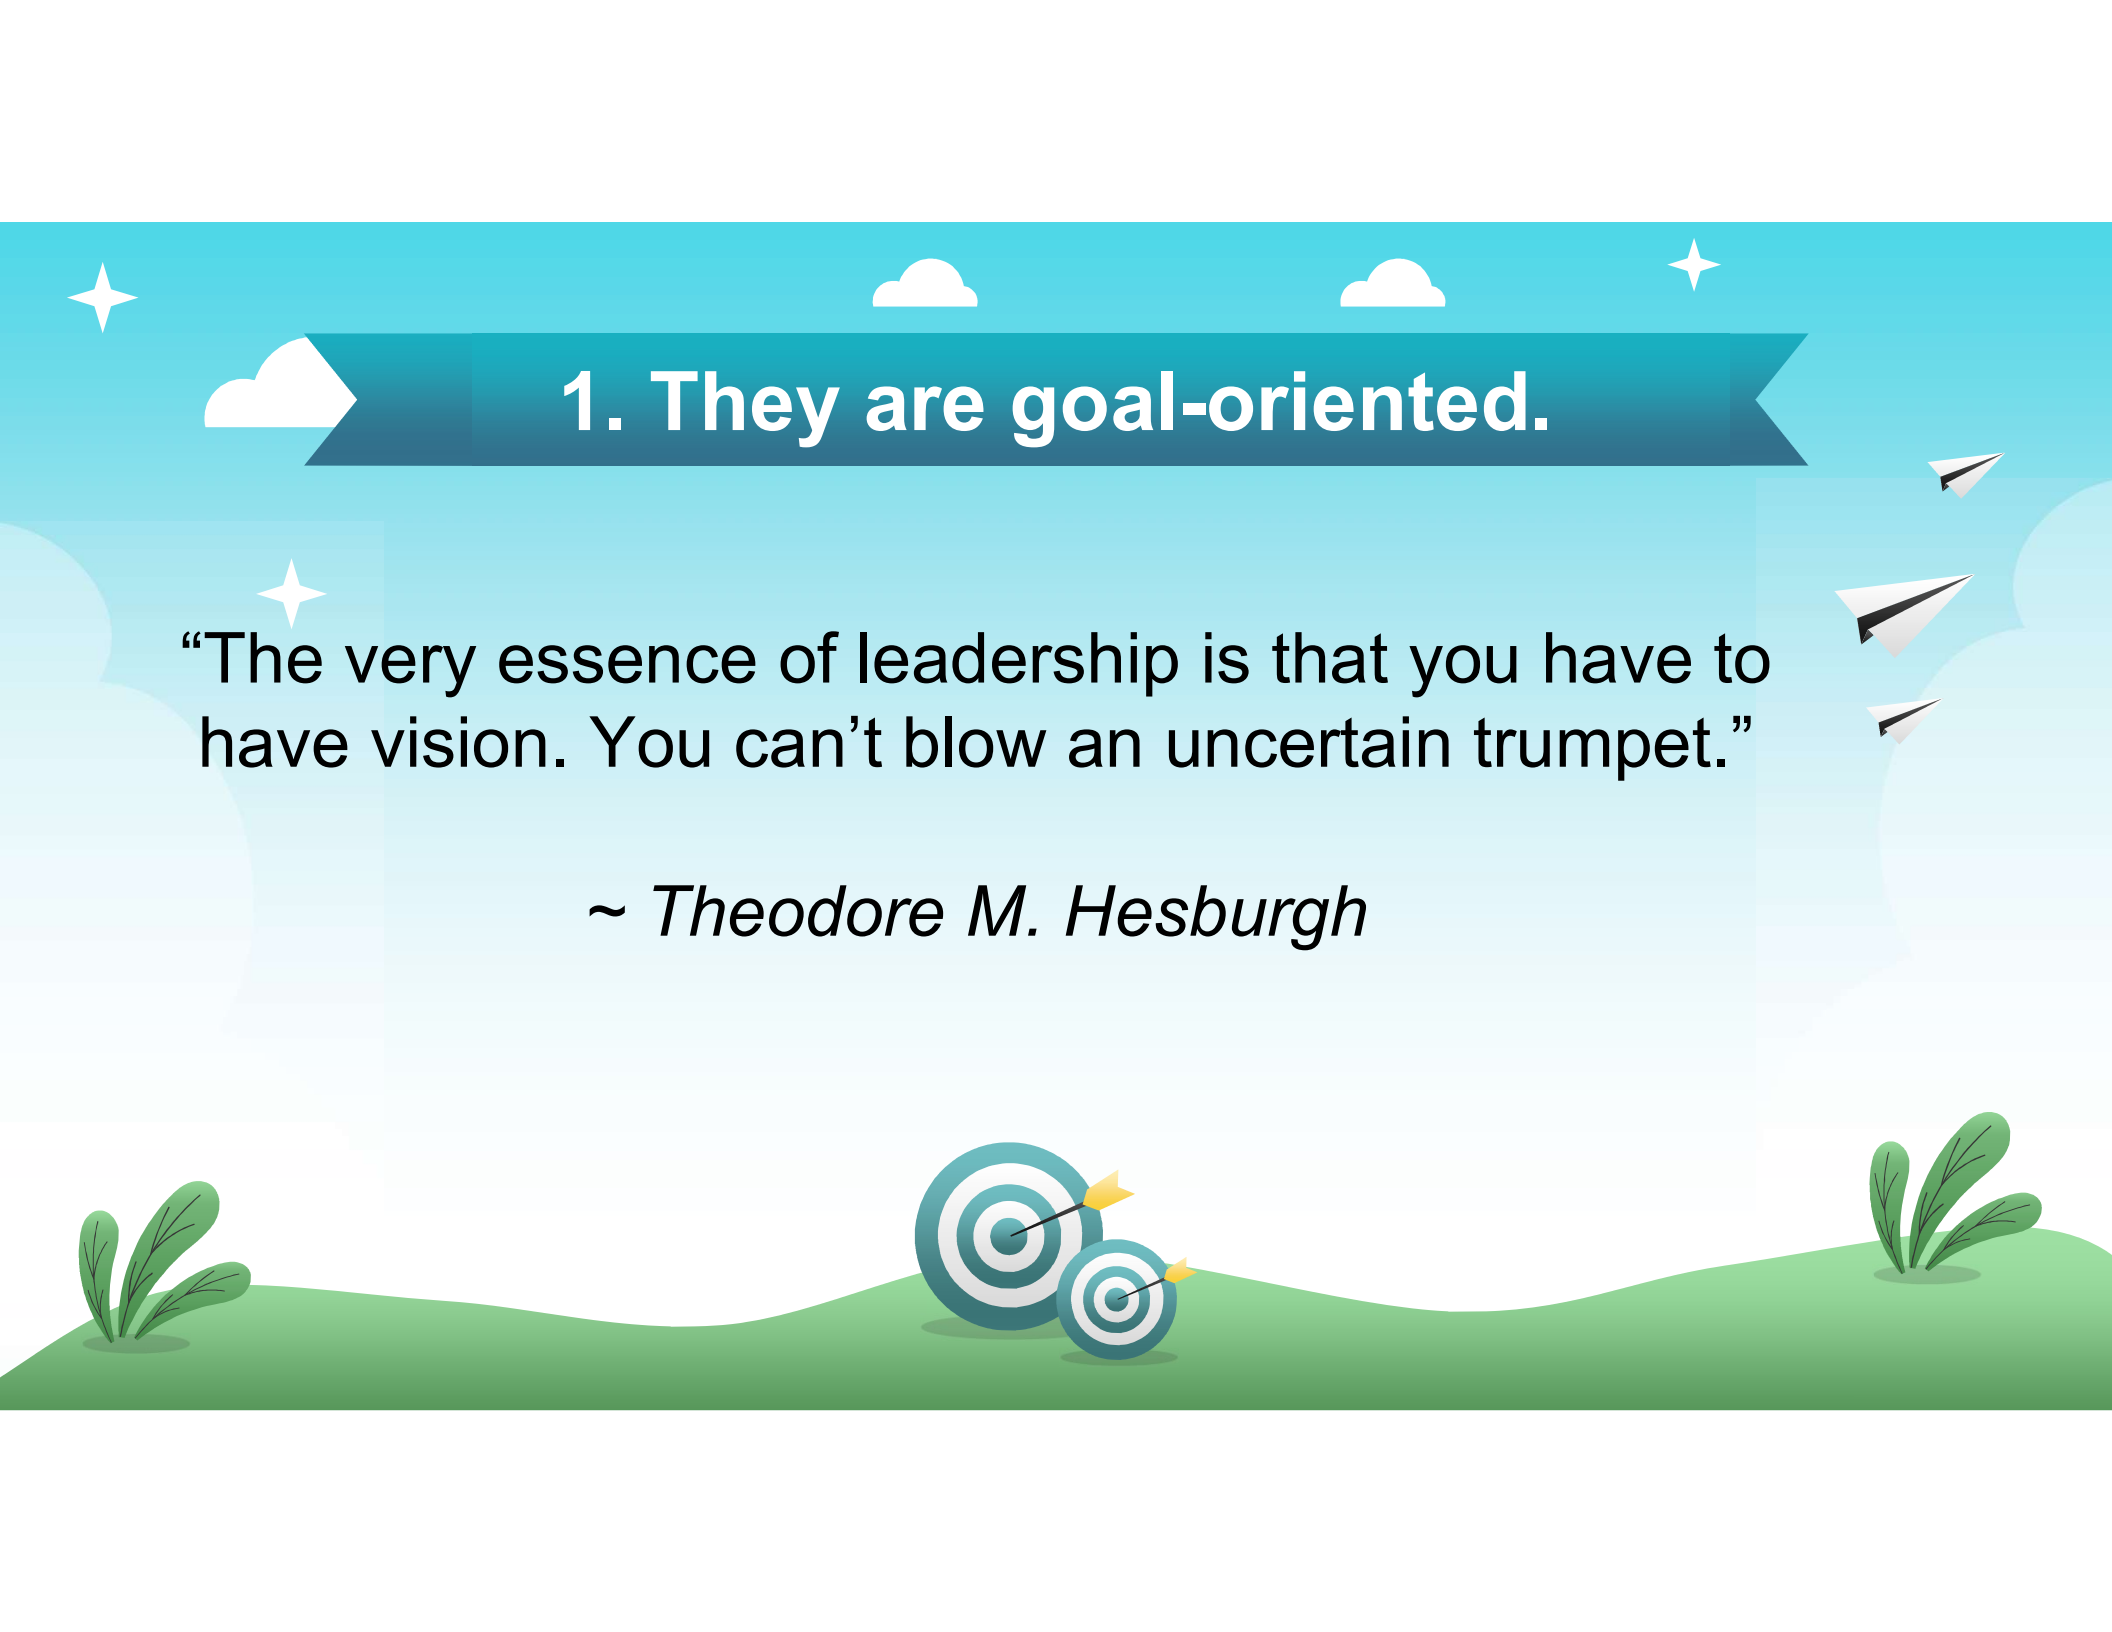

Some leaders are effective, but not admirable in the way they go about leading. Clearly, being an effective leader is not enough. A leader must also demonstrate high morals and possess other revered traits. Most industries agree that there are a few traits that all great leaders possess.

1. They are goal-oriented.

“The very essence of leadership is that you have to have vision. You can’t blow an uncertain trumpet.”

~ Theodore M. Hesburgh

Student leaders thirst for personal success. They recognize the goals set by the teacher, but intrinsically set their own goals.

2. They are honest.

“To be persuasive we must be believable; to be believable we must be credible; to be credible we must be truthful.”

U.S. Journalist Edward R. Murrow

The class knows the honest student leader will always do their work ethically. The honest student leader will not go along with cheating, in individual or group assignments.

3. They are hardworking.

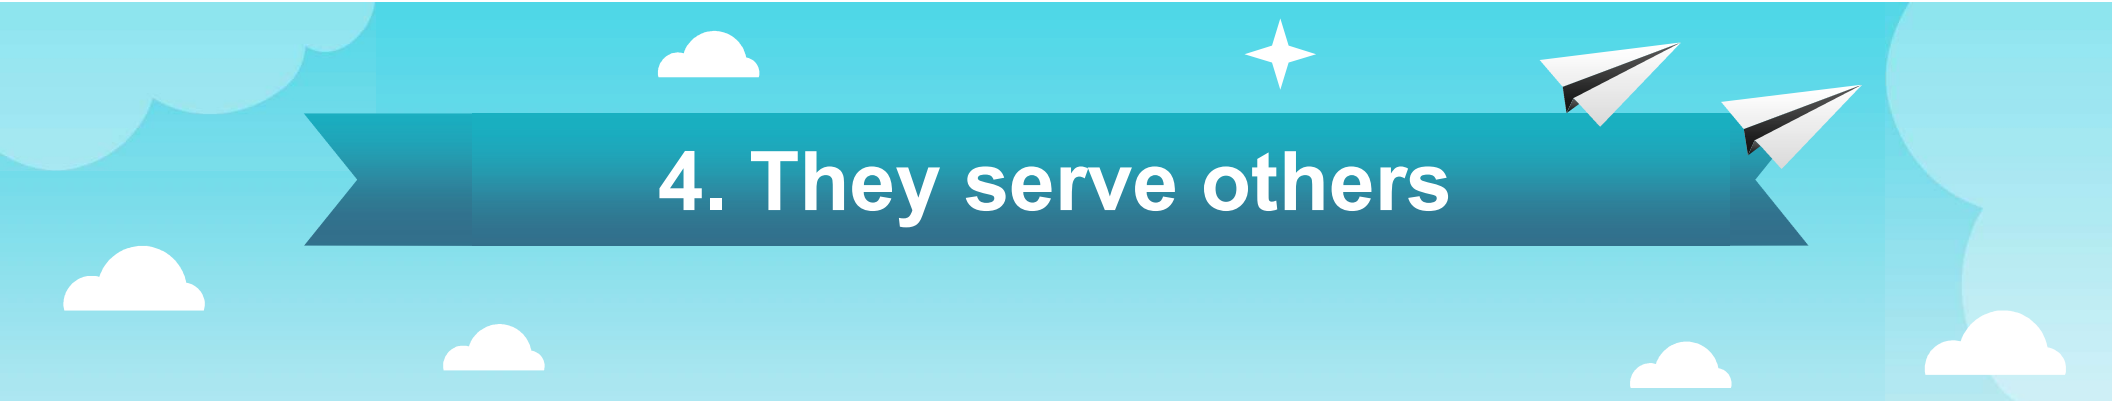

“A person always doing his or her best becomes a natural leader, just by example.”

~ Joe DiMaggio

Hardworking student leaders inspire their classmates to do more.

4. They serve others

★ Everybody can be great... because anybody can serve. You don't have to have a college degree to serve. You don't have to make your subject and verb agree to serve. You only need a heart full of grace. A soul generated by love. ★

~ Dr. Martin Luther King

An illustration on the right side of the slide shows several hands of different colors (red, orange, yellow, green, blue) reaching up to hold a white paper airplane. The background is a light blue sky with white clouds and stars. The ground is a green field with small green plants.

Student leaders are willing to go out of their way to serve those in need.

Student leaders do not stand idly
by but demonstrate kindness and selflessness.

5. They are good listeners.

Do not listen with the intent to reply. Listen with the intent to understand.

~ Unknown

★ Student leaders listen to the thoughts and concerns of others and show genuine interest in what others have to say.

6. They are good communicators.

“The most important thing in communication is to hear what isn’t being said.”

~ Peter Drucker

Student leaders recognize that others may not perceive the world as they do.

They use this understanding as a guide
in their communication with others.

7. They are good decision-makers.

“The most difficult thing is the decision to act. The rest is merely tenacity.”

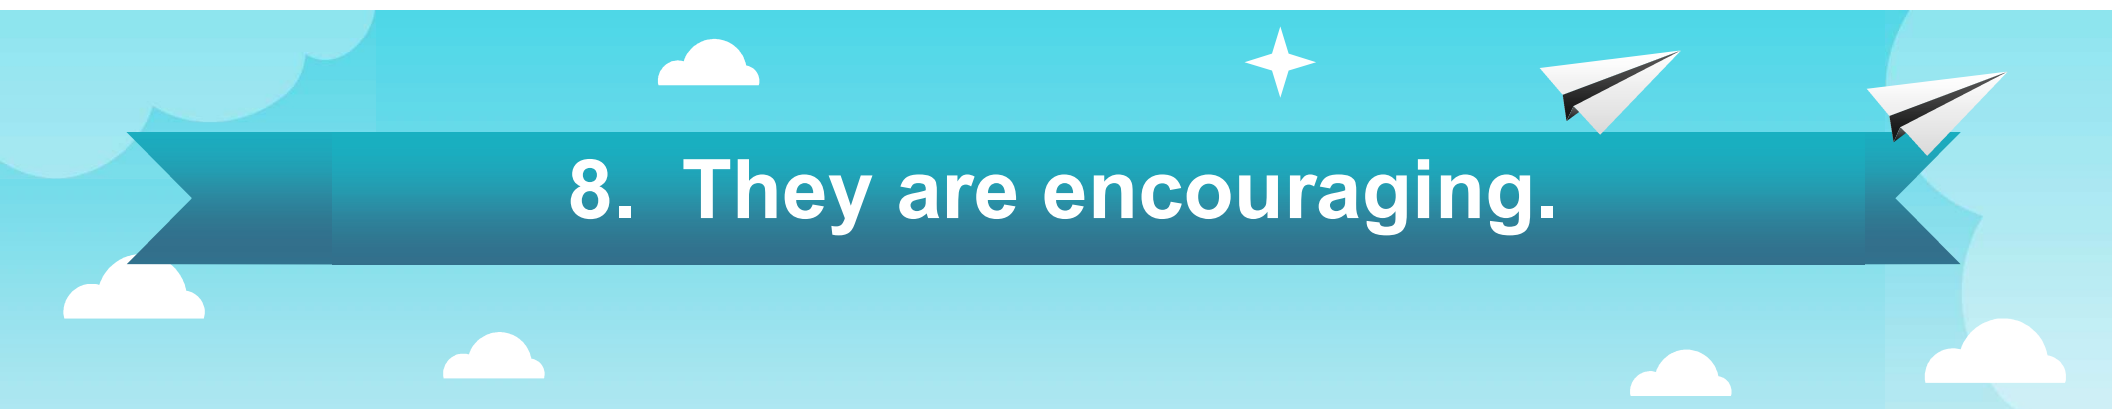

~ Amelia Earhart

★ Student leaders take time to consider the best course of action.

They have a deep sense of responsibility and can work under pressure.

8. They are encouraging.

“I think one of the keys to leadership is recognizing that everybody has gifts and talents. A good leader will learn how to harness those gifts toward the same goal.”

~ Ben Carson

Student leaders recognize everyone's strengths and weaknesses. They are able to allow the strengths to shine and minimize the weak areas.

9. They are positive.

Being positive isn't pretending that everything is good – it's seeing the good in everything.

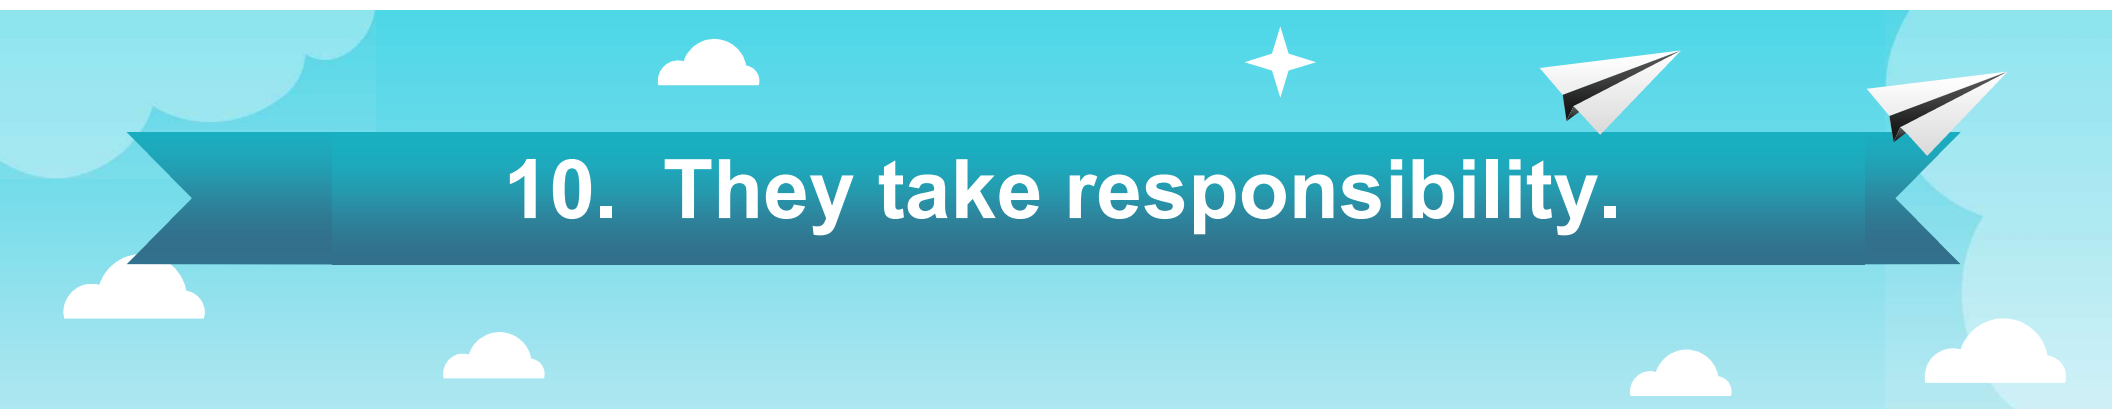

~ Unknown

Student leaders are laser-focused on accomplishing the goal. They work with others to empower them to accomplish their goals.

10. They take responsibility.

“Leadership consists of nothing but taking responsibility for everything that goes wrong and giving [others] credit for everything that goes well.”

~ Former US President Dwight D. Eisenhower

Student leaders do not pass blame to others but take responsibility for their part. They use the opportunity to learn from mistakes, make corrections, and move on. They do this with humility, recognizing the efforts of everyone.

You are the leaders of tomorrow!

Continue to seek opportunities to grow your leadership skills in healthy ways so that you can become the good, effective leaders our world needs.
